

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

Newton Free Library

VOL. XXXIV.—NO. 41.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1906.

TERMS, $2.00 A YEAR.

A HIGH GRADE GENUINE

CIDER VINEGAR

of known purity, made exclusively by us, and in the largest and most modern cider and vinegar plant in New England.
New England Agents for "Duffy's 1842" Apple Juice sold in pints and quarts by the Best Grocers.

Telephone 977, Richmond
HAYNES-PIPER CO. INC., 17 Lewis Wharf, BOSTON, MASS.

Back Bay Veterinary Hospital

332 NEWBURY ST., BOSTON
THE BEST ORDERED AND EQUIPPED HOSPITAL FOR ANIMALS IN BOSTON
Operations a Specialty
Outside calls given prompt attention. Animals boarded during the summer months.
JAMES WILLIAM TOBIN, M.D.V.
Successor to LYMAN & LYMAN
Telephones: Hospital, 2200 Back Bay
Residence, 2747-3 Back Bay
163 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston

FERGUSON'S
WHITE SEAL
BREAD
A Triumph
In Modern Bread Making
Made of the finest flour and pure, rich milk, in a modern, sanitary bakery. You will notice
The Real
Old Home Flavor
J. G. & B. S.
FERGUSON
853 to 869 ALBANY ST.
BOSTON

METROPOLITAN STORAGE WAREHOUSE CO.

134 Mass. Ave., Cambridge, Near Harvard Bridge Building Absolutely Fireproof
An inspection of the building AND OUR PRICES will interest all in want of storage.
All Cambridge cars over Harvard Bridge stop at the warehouse. Tel. 612 Cambridge.

NATIONAL HORSE & CARRIAGE MART

JUNCTION 6th, MAIN AND HARVARD STS.
CAMBRIDGEPORT
HORSES and PONIES For Sale or Exchange
FINE CARRIAGES, HARNESS and SADDLERY For Horses and Ponies
at Prices Never Before Quoted for the Quality
PONY TEAMS a SPECIALTY
All Newton Cars by Harvard Square pass Mart
MOSES COLMAN & SON
Tel. 1803-3 Cambridge

CHARLES A. HASKELL

Best Companies Life Insurance Lowest Rates
Also Fire, Accident and Automobile Insurance
176 FEDERAL ST., BOSTON Tel. Main 2776

ANTIQUE FURNITURE
Old China, Engravings, Books, Etc.
Bought for Cash
OLD CURIOSITY SHOP
526 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge.
Telephone 984-2. L. LEMON.

PENSIONS
SPANISH WAR VETERANS
Who have incurred disease or injury in the service and line of duty, and the widows of the same who have died as a result of disease or injury incurred in the service should call or write to ELMER C. RICHARDSON, Authorized Pension Agent, 37 Tremont St. Boston, Mass.

HOUSES FOR SALE

AND
TO LET
IN THE Newtons
SEE MY LISTS

JOHN T. BURNS
363 Centre St.,
NEWTON, MASS.
TELEPHONE CONNECTION

HOUSES To Let and For Sale

APPLY TO Newton Real Estate Agency
431 Centre Street
A. B. Turner & Co.
INVESTMENT BONDS.
Real Estate Mortgages Placed.
24 MILK STREET,
BOSTON.

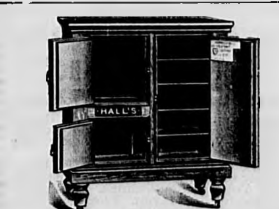

CARBONOL

FOR
BROWN TAIL MOTH ITCH
Carbonol diluted with water allays the irritation and cures the eruption caused by the Brown Tail Moth.
Ask Your Druggist for It.
25c., 50c., 75c. per bottle, $1.50 per gal.

WHEN NEXT ORDERING FLOUR
WE SUGGEST YOU BUY
JOHN ALDEN FLOUR
The first trial makes
A FIRM FRIEND.

Brookline Riding Academy

VILLAGE SQUARE, BROOKLINE
Tel. 1270 Brookline
Open from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. for Riding and Leaping Lessons and Military Drills
Ladies Taught Either on Side Saddle or Cross Saddle
First-class saddle horses to let by the hour, day and month; horses boarded and trained.
R. CLASEN, Proprietor.
G. LEGRADY, Instructor.

HALL'S REFRIGERATORS
37 sizes with Slat Shelves in Oak and soft wood. Sanitary and cleanable removable pipe, trap, ice rack and shelves. Pure, cold, dry air. Needs the least amount of ice. Always up-to-date.
Over 35 years' experience building refrigerators.
When you buy insist upon having the "HALL".
Catalogue Free
A. D. HALL & SON
Manufacturers
Charlestown District, Boston, Mass
Telephone Connection

AUTO-MOBILE

Mud Guards, Hoods, Gasoline Tanks and all Sheet Metal Work used in connection with Automobiles.
Promptness with reasonable prices guaranteed.
E. B. BADGER & SONS CO.
63-75 Pitts St., Boston, Mass.

HALL CLOCKS
PRATT
53 Franklin Street, Boston

Newton.

—Insurance of ~~any kind~~ Newton ti Main. Hugh Campbell, Newton. ti
—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hammett of Sargent street are at Nantucket for the summer.
—Mr. Gardner T. Viets of Hunnewell avenue is in Provincetown, Mass., for a brief stay.
—Get your trunks repaired at John A. Masons, 312 Washington St., Tel. 187-2 North. ti
—Mr. A. H. Gould and family of Bellevue street will spend the summer at New London, N. H.
—Mr. Frank Dunlap Frisbie leaves today for Chautauqua, N. Y., where he will spend the summer.
—Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Frisbie of Center street will spend the summer at North Woodstock, N. H.
—F. M. Dutch has bought the market at 246 Washington street and will sell provisions very low for cash.
—Miss Nellie C. Grace has returned to her duties at the local postoffice after a vacation trip through the Provinces.
—Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Howard of Waverley avenue have opened their summer home at Hyannisport, Mass.
—Thomas E. Yates & Co., practical plumbers, successors to M. C. Higgins, 348 Centre st., Telephone 714-1 North. ti
—Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Cummings of the Evans attended the Commencement exercises at Dartmouth College last week. The class of 1896 of which Dr. Cummings was a member, celebrated its tenth annual reunion.

Business Locals.

We have ideas in decoration that are at once novel and artistic and will cost no more than the commonplace. Rough & Jones Co., Newton, Painting, Decorating and Upholstering.

SHORT & GRAHAM Undertakers

431 CENTRE STREET
NEWTON
Tel. Newton No. 105-1
Competent person in attendance day and night. Lady Assistant.

Boston Safe Deposit Trust Company

87 Milk Street - Boston
This Company has been in active business for over thirty years, and offers you every facility for the transaction of your banking business.
It will receive your bank account subject to check and pay you interest.
It will assume the care of your property, collecting dividends, interest and every class of income.
It is authorized by law to act under Trusts of every description.
During your life it will serve you as Agent or Attorney in any business affairs, and at your decease will act as Executor and Trustee of your estate.
Inquiries will receive careful attention.

WE SELL WE RENT

Electric Fans

The same current which furnishes the perfect light runs the electric fan at a trifling cost. Ask for our Fan Man.

Electrical Dept.
N. and W. GAS LIGHT CO.

HON. ALONZO R. WEED,
Appointed Gas Commissioner by Gov. Guild.

At the weekly meeting of the Governor's Council yesterday, Governor Guild sent in the name of Hon. Alonzo R. Weed, ex-mayor of Newton to be a member of the board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners to succeed Samuel W. George of Haverhill. The nomination of Mr. Weed was a complete surprise to his many friends in this city who were unaware that his name was being considered for this important post.
Governor Guild says that he is solely responsible for the appointment of Mr. Weed, and after the appointments were made to the council, Private Secretary Gettemy sent out the following comment upon the appointments:
"Governor Guild, at this afternoon's meeting of the executive council, nominated the Hon. Alonzo R. Weed of Newton to be gas commissioner to succeed the Hon. Samuel W. George of Haverhill. Governor Guild has long been of the opinion that there should be an infusion of new blood in the Gas Commission, and as Mr. George's term happened to be the first to expire since the Governor took office this is the first opportunity which he has had of making a change in the personnel of the commission. The Governor desires it to be understood that his decision not to reappoint Mr. George is in no way a reflection upon that gentleman's character or personal integrity, and his selection of Mr. Weed is due to a desire to place upon the board a man of broad knowledge and, as the Governor believes, ability to cope with the problems that come before the commission in a spirit which will command for that body the confidence of the public."

Newton.

—Mrs. Wm. L. Lowell of the Hollis has returned from Buena Vista, Vermont.
—Mr. George H. Safford of New York is visiting his mother Mrs. H. G. Safford of Boyd street.
—Mr. Andrew B. Cobb and family of Centre street will spend the summer at Sunapee, N. H.
—Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Wing of Hunnewell avenue spent the Fourth at Sandwich, Mass.
—Mr. Oliver M. Fisher and family of Church street will visit at Potter Hill, N. Y., this summer.
—Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Tucker of Church street are with the Appalachians at Crawford's N. H.
—Mrs. S. E. Lowry and her son Mr. W. E. Lowry attended the commencement exercises at Mt. Hermon school.
—The Misses Florence Burnham and Olive Kendall of this city, left Tuesday for an extended visit in northern Massachusetts.
—Mrs. George G. Baell of Newtonville avenue has gone to Irvington-on-Hudson to spend the summer with her daughter, Miss Fitts.
—Miss Catherine L. Shirley of Church street left Saturday for Meredith, N. H., for a few weeks. Later she will go to North Woodstock for several weeks.
—Miss Eunice Miller of Washington street has been elected to the position of Latin teacher in the Revere High School.
—Miss Sara Linn of Ashtabula, O., is spending the summer with Miss Miller of Washington street.
—Miss Mabel P. Whitman of Maple avenue, who recently returned from Milwaukee, where she has been a teacher in the public schools, is spending part of her vacation at Asbury Grove.
—Mr. H. W. Johnson a former well known resident of Hunnewell hill, died at Pasadena, Cal., last week Friday after a severe illness. He is survived by a widow and one son, Mr. H. Sparks Johnson who left for California only the day before his father died.

—The many friends here of Mr. Hilary Robert Bygrave, son of Rev. Hilary Bygrave, formerly a resident on Maple avenue, will be interested to learn of his marriage to Miss Olive Hayden Reed of Belmont, the ceremony taking place in the Belmont Unitarian church June 26. Rev. Mr. Bygrave officiated assisted by Rev. George H. Reed.
—J. J. Cody, Jr., of Adams street, a member of Cambridgeport Gymnasium Association won a gold watch as first prize in the running hop step and jump at an athletic meet held by the A. O. U. at Worcester Oval on July 4th. Mr. Cody was successful over Mr. Thomas F. Kiely of Ireland, worlds all around champion, both competing from scratch. Cody's jump was 45ft 2in, Kiely's 43ft.

Depositors Are Reminded That THE NEXT QUARTER DAY

—IS—
JULY 10
AT THE
NEWTON SAVINGS BANK
Money deposited on or before that day will then begin to earn dividends. See Bank's regular advertisement in another column.
A. J. BLANCHARD, Treasurer.

Conducting a Newspaper

Frederick H. Howland of the Providence Tribune addressed the Warren (R. I.) Men's Club a few evenings ago. Among other things he said: "A newspaper is a business proposition. It is getting out a product and selling it for money. Its conduct is governed by the law of supply and demand. No paper can succeed on any other basis, and no paper that is not successfully conducted on these principles can exert that influence which every good paper wishes to exert. News is its raw material; its finished product is news that has been gathered, arranged, according to its true proportions, printed in its proper place and, where its importance warrants it, explained."
He then described the departments of a newspaper and told how important the business management has become. In this connection he said "the business manager is the keystone of the arch. A newspaper has become such a complicated organism that no one man can possibly keep track of the details of all its departments."
Mr. Howland spoke of the practical side of newspaper work, but said: "I do not know of any business where the practical and ideal come into such close contact." The value of the news department was touched upon, and also the modern editorial page. Its scope and influence were contrasted with the ancient editorial pages. Regarding this phase of newspaper work, the speaker said: "The readers of the old time papers looked to the editorial pages for their opinions on all leading topics of interest; nowadays they look to it to have the more important news of the world explained to them, the various sides of controverted questions presented to them, so that they can easily reach their own conclusions, which quite often differ from the conclusions of the editorial writer."
The speaker referred to the importance of honesty and the difficulty that any newspaper man will find in keeping his position or making the most of his opportunities if he is not honest and reliable. He said that a newspaper man's daily training taught him to gauge the true proportions of the facts and that in doing so it was inevitable that he should acquire the capacity to size up persons. Said he "such and such a man might be an extremely important person in his own estimation, but there would be nobody in a newspaper office of his community from the office boy up who would have any illusions about him. Their knowledge of his shortcomings would often be concealed out of consideration for his feelings, but the value of his words and his actions would be known with absolute accuracy."
Speaking of the importance of keeping in touch with the man in the street, he said that it was necessary for a paper to be conversant with every-day interests and that the man in the street could make or unmake a paper. "Not the least important qualification of a newspaper man," said he, "is that he have a sense of humor and to bear in mind at all times Rule 5, 'Don't take yourself too damned seriously.'"— Press and Printer.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

Published every Friday at 10 Centre Place, - Newton, Mass.

Entered as second-class matter.

$2.00 per Year. Single Copies, 5 cents.
By mail free of postage.All money sent at sender's risk.
All checks, drafts, and money orders should be made payable toNEWTON GRAPHIC PUBLISHING CO., J. C. BRIMBLECOM, Treas.

TELEPHONE NO. 77-3.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed
Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all news-stands in the Newtons, and at the South Union Station, Boston.All communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.Notices of all local entertainments
to which admission is charged must be paid for at regular rates, 25 cents per line
in the reading matter, or $1.00 per inch in
the advertising columns.

Political news is of the usual hot weather variety, although it is pretty certain that Congressman Weeks will be unopposed for the Republican nomination and might as well be unopposed for reelection so far as results are concerned. Mr. Seward W. Jones is making a campaign for the Republican nomination for the Governor's council in the new district which extends from Ashby to Lynn and from Newton to Lowell. Mr. Jones' services to the party during the past decade particularly have been of such character that the Republicans should be delighted to honor him with this office. He has proved himself a campaign manager par excellence for Congressman Powers, Congressman Weeks and Lieut. Governor Draper, and the friendships formed during those strenuous days ought to be valuable in the present contest. So far there has been no organized opposition and it is possible that Mr. Jones may be honored with the nomination without a contest.

No better opportunity will ever be given for a thorough thrashing out of the school house problem of Nonantum than that which was possible last Monday evening, with every member of the aldermen present and decks cleared for action from the usual amount of purely routine business. It is a great pity that courtesy to a dilatory real estate owner, who failed to submit his figures at the time agreed upon, prevented a settlement of this interesting question. It will be impossible to obtain such a full attendance at the meeting of July 16th.

Newton is really waking up in the matter of celebrating the National birthday. Heretofore it has been left for Newton Centre alone to do the honors for the entire city, but this year the newly born Nonantum Improvement Association came upon the Fourth of July stage with a creditable exhibition of patriotism, which ought to be a lesson to the other villages.

We have received many kind words on the quality of newspaper the GRAPHIC is now publishing and wish to assure our friends and patrons that no effort will be spared to maintain and to improve the present high standard of the "best and strongest paper in the city."

Whist lovers are awaiting the coming of the American Whist Congress at the Hotel Somerset, Boston, next week with keen anticipation. It is eight years since Boston has been favored with the greatest event of the year in whist circles.

Newton never looked more lovely than the present summer days. The foliage and grass are in splendid condition, thanks to the frequent rains, and each leaf and flower seems to vie with each other in beauty and attractiveness.

The exodus of Newtonians this year to seashore and mountain seems larger than ever and has begun early and promises to continue throughout the season.

Our readers who wish the GRAPHIC sent to them at their summer homes will be gladly accommodated if the address is telephoned or mailed to this office.

About Town

These are crimson ramble days, and the Newton verandas are aflame with color.

The special meeting of the aldermen on Monday evening came very near being a farce.

Have you noticed the beautiful fawn at the Norumbega Zoo?

The new electric car line to Riverside is a great convenience to canoeists.

The band concerts at the Newton Club are much appreciated by the High School youth, who greatly enjoy the dancing numbers. Good taste, however, should teach them not to dance to the strains of the Star Spangled Banner.

Crystal lake is an ideal place to exhibit fireworks and Newton Centre makes the most of its opportunity.

Substantial work is being done on the abolition of grade crossings at Newton Centre, and the residents of that peaceful village will be glad when the upheaval has subsided.

Expressions of approval are heard from all sides on the prospective candidacy of ex-mayor Weed for representative to the General Court. If other places were as careful in their selection of representatives as Newton, there would be no bribery investigations of our Legislature. This may sound Pharaical, but it is the truth.

Our readers will miss the kindly comment and good natured satire of legislative matters in the weekly letters of Colonel Bliss.

Work has begun upon the spire of the new Unitarian church at West Newton. It will add greatly to the appearance of the building.

New Firm

The business of the late M. C. Higgins, the well known plumber has been taken by Thomas E. Yates & Co., practical plumbers with eighteen years' experience in the business, and formerly employed by Buerkel & Co. and A. E. Touchet, of Boston. The Messrs. Yates will continue the business at the same place, 348 Centre street and on the same lines as formerly, giving careful attention to all kinds of plumbing work at reasonable prices.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A special meeting of the aldermen last Monday evening was as near a farce as meetings of that honorable body ever reach, for a session of about fifteen minutes sufficed for the transaction of business, after Alderman Hunt had stated that he did not care to discuss the matter of school house site at Nonantum until a later meeting. Every member of the board was present during the evening, altho Alderman Webster who came all the way from Cataumet to attend the meeting did not arrive until a few minutes after the board had adjourned.

The appointment of Charles Scipione as a Constable was confirmed. The following communication was referred to the Committee on Public Works, after Alderman Day had stated that it had been thought best to bring this matter up as early as possible in order that work might be commenced to place it in condition for athletic purposes.

"Hon. Edgar W. Warren,
Mayor of Newton,
City Hall, West Newton, Mass.

Dear Sir:—
The Committee in charge of the proposed purchase of the Claffin homestead through private subscriptions has acquired at a cost of $20,000 the first instalment of the property. This instalment consists of 279.881 feet—about 6.1-2 acres of land in Newtonville, having a frontage of 480 feet on Elm Road and 521 feet on Lowell Avenue, and having an average depth from Elm Road of about 500 feet.

This Committee desires to convey this land to the City, to be held for the purposes for which its purchase has been made, namely, for use as a Newton High School Athletic Field and for such other uses as may from time to time have the joint approval of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen, the School Committee and the Newton High School Athletic Committee.

We ask to be informed whether the Mayor and Board of Aldermen will on behalf of the City accept this Field. If the gift is accepted, we will cause appropriate deed of conveyance to the City to be submitted to the City Solicitor for approval and delivery.

Meantime we are proceeding with the subscriptions required to effect the purchase of that portion of the Claffin homestead which fronts on Walnut Street and extends back to this first instalment.

Yours respectfully,
E. B. Haskell and others.
For the Committee."

The following protest of the School Committee to the Manning lot for the proposed Nonantum School was filed: Ordered,

That this Committee having been informally notified that the public works committee is still favorably considering the Manning lot as the site for the proposed new school house in Nonantum, desires to report to the Board of Aldermen that it disapproves of the Manning lot. In the opinion of this committee the lot does not meet the educational needs of the Nonantum section: It is not large enough to permit of any play ground, a much needed adjunct to a new school building in Nonantum, and it is directly on a busy thoroughfare. The Committee is informed that on the Stearns property nearly three times as much land can be bought at a somewhat less total cost. The purchase of the Manning lot seems to this committee neither desirable nor necessary.

11 members present—to voting for passage of order—Mr. Carter not voting. Mary E. Sherwood, Secretary, School Committee.

Notice of hearing before Railroad Commission July 5 on matters of pole relocations in Newton Highlands Square and of desertion of Joseph M. Daley from the U. S. S. Chicago were placed on file.

Petitions of Jacob Klegman to transfer junk license from Pine to Watertown street, of C. H. Keefe for a wagon license, of John Stevenson and M. J. Quinn for wagon and liquor transportation licenses, of D. F. Kearney and A. L. Moriarty to transport liquor were referred to the Committee on Public Franchises. Petitions of American Express Co. and of Cornelius F. Driscoll to transport liquor were granted without reference.

Hearings were ordered for July 16 on petitions of the Telephone Co for pole locations on Groveland st. of the Gas Light Co for poles on Needham st., Waltham st., and Highland av., and on Sept 10 on petition of the Norumbega Park Co to keep gasoline.

The report of the Committee on Public Works adhering to its previous recommendation for purchase of the Manning and Burke lots for school purposes at Nonantum was received.

An order assigning hearing July 16 on altering location of Union street was adopted and the board at 8.04 P. M. adjourned.

Mrs. Blackfan Dead.

Mrs. Margaret Blackfan, aged 66, died Friday at the Newton hospital, where she had been taken for treatment. Mrs. Blackfan was the wife of Joseph Blackfan of Wellesley. She was born in England. The remains were taken to Washington for burial in the Glenwood cemetery.

Ross - Simpson.

Mr. Malcolm C. Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah A. Ross of this place, and Miss Ethel M. Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simpson of Waltham, were married at the home of the groom last Friday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edwin F. Small and was witnessed only by immediate friends and relatives.

Duane - Hayes.

In the presence of a number of relatives and intimate friends Miss Julia A. Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hayes of Crescent square, and Mr. David J. B. Duane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Duane of West Newton, were married last Sunday evening. The ceremony took place at the parochial residence of the Church of Our Lady, and was performed by Rev. Fr. James F. Kelly.

Mr. Duane is well known as a semi-professional baseball player. The young people received numerous gifts.

Newton Club.

The popular outdoor promenade concerts of the Newton Club were brought to a successful close last evening. Again the grounds were well filled by many of the best known residents of this city as well as by guests from Boston and Brookline. A band gave an excellent program of selections from well known operas. The concert numbers were interspersed with dancing. The grounds were brilliant with colored electric lights. Previous to the concert there were a number of dinner parties at the clubhouse.

Asphyxiated.

Inhaling gas by mistake at a house where she was visiting on Lake avenue, Newton Centre, Mrs. May E. Pitman, wife of Fred H. Pitman of Somerville, died from asphyxiation last Thursday. Medical Examiner George L. West was called to investigate the case, and he pronounced death due to an accident. She was 32 years old. Mrs. Pitman was born in Portland, Me., a daughter of Irving J. Brown. The remains were taken to Somerville, where the funeral was held. The burial was in Beverly cemetery at Beverly.

Star Route Abolished.

A "star" mail route, the last in this city, was discontinued under peculiar circumstances at Newton Upper Falls last Saturday evening. Because no one could be found to transport the mails from the Eliot railroad station on the circuit branch to the Upper Falls postal station at a satisfactory price the work was on Monday morning turned over to the Newton street railway system.

This primitive route was for many years conducted by the late George H. Chambers, one of the best known characters at the Upper Falls. Under his care the service was prompt and satisfactory. Venerable Mr. Chambers was content to carry the few mails a day back and forth from the station to the office for the sum of $550 a year. When he was found dead in bed at a ripe old age a few weeks ago no one could be found willing to take up the work of carrying the mails. The work was temporarily assumed by his son, Charles W. Chambers of Circuit avenue.

The postoffice department advertised for bids but none of those received were considered by the authorities in the department at Washington, much less accepted. The lowest bid was around $900, while the price paid to the late Mr. Chambers had for many years been $550 annually.

Several persons were urged to make what the department would probably consider a reasonable bid but no one would do so. It was thought by some that the department would not consider any movement to discontinue the old star route, and that someone might just as well receive a good, round sum annually for doing the work. The railroad station is situated less than a mile away

AMERICAN LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY

53 STATE STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

CAPITAL - - - - - $1,000,000
SURPLUS EARNINGS - - - - - $1,700,000

TRANSACTS A GENERAL BANKING AND TRUST COMPANY BUSINESS

INTEREST ALLOWED ON DEPOSITS SUBJECT TO CHECK. SPECIAL RATES ON TIME DEPOSITS

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

C. F. Adams, 2d	A. G. Bullock	William A. Gaston	Francis Peabody, Jr.
F. L. Lathrop Ames	Samuel Carr	Elmer P. Howe	Royal Robbins
Hobart Ames	N. W. Jordan	David P. Kimball	F. L. Saltonstall
Edwin F. Atkins	Gilbert Clapp	John Lawrence	Frank W. Stearns
Frederick Ayer	Gordon Dexter	Lester Leland	Eugene V. R. Thayer
Charles S. Bird	William R. Driver	S. E. Peabody	Charles W. Whittier
George W. Brown	F. C. Dumaine
	Eugene N. Foss

N. W. JORDAN, President
CHARLES L. BURRILL, Vice President
JAMES H. PERKINS, Vice President
EDWARD A. COFFIN, Treasurer
CHARLES H. BOWEN, Secretary
GEORGE W. AURYANSEN, Asst. Sec'y

AUTOMOBILE GARAGE

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT

Repairs on Steam, Gasolene and Electric Carriages

Agents for YALE and NORTHERN

FRED J. READ, Washington Street, Newtonville

Tel. 479-6 Newton

from the postal station at the Upper

Falls. The work of transporting the pouches could easily have been accomplished as a side line by anyone having a horse and wagon. The late Mr. Chambers conducted it as a side issue for many years, although he practically made his living from the proceeds of the route. After trying for some weeks to find someone willing to carry a few mails a day as some price near the amount paid the late Mr. Chambers the department finally decided to abandon the overland route. This was done on Saturday night.

Beginning on Monday morning the pouches for Newton Upper Falls arrived at Newton Highlands by train. From there they were taken to the Upper Falls on the electric. It is stated that the mails will be received at their destination as quickly as before, and that the department will make a saving of several hundred dollars a year by the new arrangement.

MLLE. CAROLINE

Before sailing, is having a

Reduction Sale

TRIMMED MILLINERY

486 BOYLSTON STREET, BOSTON
In the Block of Brunswick Hotel

FOUR FAST TRAINS

TO

New York

VIA

Boston & Albany R. R.

"Springfield Line"

Lv. SOUTH STATION as follows:

0.15 a.m. "DAY EXPRESS." Buffet

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Due

New York 3.15 p.m.

12 O'CLOCK "LIMITED." Pullman

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 5.30 p.m.

4 O'CLOCK "LIMITED." New Parlor

Cars and Vestibuled Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 8.30 p.m.

11.15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." Pullman

Sleeping Cars and Day Coaches

Boston to New York, without change.

Due New York 8.45 a.m. Similar service returning from New York on the same schedule.

Send for copy of "Springfield Line"

folder, and see what the Boston Journal has to say of the parlor cars on the "1 o'clock Limited."

City Office, 380 Washington Street.

A. S. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt., Boston.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, SS.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of

Amos C. Judkins late of Newton in said County deceased.

Hathaway Drop Instep Shoe

The most desirable shoe for persons troubled with flat feet. Does away with all plates. Send for Catalogue A.

SOLD ONLY AT

F. E. HATHAWAY & SON

52 Merchants Row, near Faneuil Hall, Boston

ARE YOU

LOOKING

FOR

COMFORT?

You can't be comfortable if you're thirsty. So indulge in a glass of our wholesome and delicious Soda Water

occasionally. The comfort received is worth the trouble of going for it.

Always cold at

ARTHUR HUDSON

265 Washington Street, - Newton

Nonantum Square

WARM

You should get outside, either in a cool willow chair on the piazza, or in a hammock under a shady tree.

APROPOS

We are selling at very low prices, willow chairs and rockers, hammocks, swings, crex rugs, in fact, all the essentials for keeping cool these warm days.

Call and see our large stock.

BEMIS & JEWETT

NEWTON CENTRE and

NEEDHAM

SUNBURST SKIRTS.

and HAND BUTTON-HOLES

Made at Miss INWOOD'S

Accordion Plating Rooms

31 and 33 WINTER STREET.

Take Elevator in Bailey's Store.

We promptly obtain U. S. and Foreign

PATENTS

Send model, sketch, or photo of invention for free report on patentability. For free book

How to Secure a Patent, write to Patents and TRADE-MARKS

CASNOW & CO.

OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE

WASHINGTON, D. C.

VINELAND UNFERMENTED GRAPE JUICE

A Life Giving Drink.

25 and 45c.

C. P. ATKINS,

Centre Street - Newton.

Telephone Operators for Immediate Employment

Young ladies 18 to 25 years of age and good education as students of telephone operating. Moderate salary during one month of practice. If satisfactory GOOD POSITIONS ASSURED. Apply between 2 and 4 P. M. except Saturdays, to New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., Employment Bureau, No. 15 Milk St., Boston.

Members of the Master Builders' Association,
16 Devonshire Street.
(Established 1836.) (Incorporated 1894.)
(Connected by Telephone.)

JOHN FARQUHAR'S SONS,
INCORPORATED.

Roofers and Metal Workers.

Dealers in All Roofing Materials.
Slate, Copper, Tin, Tile, and Composition
Roofing, Skylights, Cornices, Gutters,
Conductors, etc.

Special attention given to repairs of all kinds of Roofing.

Office, 20 and 22 East Street, Boston, Mass.

Wharf, 60-72 Washington Ave., Boston, Mass.

Directors: Samuel Farquhar, Pres.; Joseph
Farquhar, Treas. and Supt.; Frank C. Far-quhar, Sec'y; Rollin Farquhar.

MADISON BUNKER, D. V. S.
Veterinary Surgeon.

Residence, 28 Park Street
NEWTON, MASS.

Telephone Connection.

A. PHILIP LARSON.
Horse Shoer.

Carriage Smith and Wheelwright
Carriage Painting.

Satisfaction guaranteed and work done
promptly 389, Watertown Street, Newton.

GEO. F. THOMAS, M. D.

SPECIALIST OF LOWELL, MASS., desires to inform sufferers from Piles that they may secure immediate relief and permanent cure by his specially devised patient treatment in which he is eminently successful. Results being in every case without use of surgeon's knife. His cure is tried, no matter how severe or long standing. Consultation and examination free.

Hotel Pelham, BOSTON

74 Boylston Street.

Office Hours: 1 to 5 daily, except Sundays

HARRIS E. JOHNNOT,
Electrician and Contractor,

390 Centre St., Newton.

Telephones: { Office, 232-5 } Newton { Residence, 330-1 }

GEO. W. BUSH
FUNERAL and FURNISHING
Undertaker

COFFINS, CASKETS, ROBES,

and every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand.

Elmwood Street, Newton

ROBERT F. CRANTICH
(Successor to L. H. Crantich)

House, Sign, and Ornamental Painter

Paper Hangings in Great Variety.
Work promptly done.

Walnut St., - Newtonville

Second door from Central Block.

$30,000 TO LOAN

On first mortgages only. Boston and suburbs. Dwellings houses preferred. Interest usually 5 per cent; easiest and best way to pay for your home; is your mortgage due or soon to become due? A $300 loan requires $27.50 per month, $10 being credit on loan.
Call for circulars. MERCHANTS CO-OPER-ATIVE BANK, 19 Milk Street, Boston.

DO NOT

the burglaries which
are happening all the time suggest anything
to you? Burglary, theft
and larceny insurance
the only protection. HINCKLEY &
WOODS, Insurance of all kinds, 32 Kilby Street, Boston. Telephone Main 1467 and 468.

UP IN VERMONT

That's the place
for a real vacation

Lake-side camps, farm and village homes,
$4 to $10 a week, first class hotels in Green Mountains and on shores of Lake Champlain.
Fishing, yachting, automobile driving,
pure air, pure water, delightful scenery.
This region is reached via White River
Junction and Central Vermont Railway by three fast trains daily, including
"New England States Limited," the crack
daytime train between Boston and Montreal.
Booklets and information. T. M. HANLEY,
N. E. P. A., 360 Washington St., Boston.

THEATRES

Tremont Theatre—Despite the torrid weather and the outdoor attractions which are interesting Bostonians, Harry Bulger and his company of funsters in Henry W. Savage's all-summer production at the Tremont, "The Man From Now", by John Kendrick Bangs, Vincent P. Bryan and Manuel Klein, continue on their merry way, and they are now well on in the second month of great success. The Tremont as a summer theatre is famous throughout the country for with its two dozen of exits; the entire house may be thrown open and the ventilating apparatus keeps the air always cool and pure. This condition makes it enjoyable for the auditors and easier for the players to live up to their reputations as laugh makers, and that is one of the reasons why the success of the present attraction has been so positive. Summer prices are prevailing and this, too, is an inducement for playgoers. Mr. Bulger, ever popular in Boston, has scored a more positive success for himself in this vehicle than in anything he has appeared in for years, and he is enjoying his work as he never before enjoyed any play written for him.
His associates, too, are enjoying life to all outward appearances, and it is quite probably that they will continue to please right up to the closing day in August. Regular matinees are being given on Wednesday and Saturday.

Keith's Theatre—Coming to Keith's the week of July 9 is one of the best balanced companies of vaudeville entertainers that have appeared at that popular playhouse this season. Prominent on the bill will be the Dainty Dairy Maids, ten clever singing and dancing girls from "The Isle of Dreams." The young women are pretty, are clever dancers, and know how to look their way into the good graces of the audience. Even those who think they do not care for acts of the acrobatic order will be agreeably surprised if they witness the performance of the Allisons, a double quartet of clever artists who have been imported for the Keith circuit from Europe.
Some of the others in the surrounding show are the St. Onge Brothers, two of the cleverest comedy and trick bicyclists in the business; Ben Welch, Hebrew comedian and mimic; Arthur Deagon and company, in the comedy sketch,
"The Perfect Man"; Tom Brown and Siren Navarro, colored entertainers, in character specialties; the Buckeye State quartet of vocalists and funmakers, and Grace Childers, exhibiting a clever little canine. Everybody who is visiting Boston nowadays drop in to see the Pa-dettes woman's orchestra and seems the more one hears them, the more popular they become. Every week Mrs. Nichols has a new program of popular music, each one apparently more pleasing than the preceding, most of them being of the popular variety. The kinetograph will exhibit an entire new list of comedy and interesting motion pictures.

Castle Square Theatre—The patrons of the Castle Square Theatre have been anxiously awaiting the promised revival of "The Bohemian Girl." This famous old opera stood first in the list voted for by thousands of theatre goers at the opening of the Castle Square season, and there have naturally been many questions as to the date of its production. It will be given during the coming week, and the preparations for its revival promise an exceptionally popular and artistic series of performances. The opera itself is as tuneful as it is famous.
Written by the famous composer Balfe more than half a century ago, it has been sung the world around to the enthusiastic appreciation of all music lovers. It is some years since "The Bohe-mian Girl" has been given in Boston, and its long absence combined with its great popularity will be certain assurance of crowded houses at the Castle Square next week. Its famous songs,
"I dreamt I dwelt in marble halls,"
"The heart bowed down," "The fair land of Poland," "Then you'll remember me" and a dozen others—all will be done full justice to by the singers. Clara Lane will sing the title role, and the cast will include J. K. Murray, George Tal-man, George Shields, Otis B. Thayer, and Hattie Belle Ladd. After "The Bohemian Girl," "Iolanthe" and "Faust" will each be revived for a week at the Castle Square.

Norumbega Park—Norumbega Park
keeps well to the fore in point of popularity among all the summer amusement resorts and it is a striking fact that although the counter attractions are greater this summer than at any previous time in its ten years history, this woodland paradise with its beautiful Charles River, its shady nooks, its winding paths covered and shaded by heavy foliage provide a beauty spot enriched by nature that no other place can boast.
Norumbega Park is a popular rendezvous for all who wish to escape the noise and heat of the city and on the holiday, July Fourth, this delightful resort was filled with crowds who found attractions galore, plenty to interest and no end of amusements with an entire absence of the rush and turmoil that characterizes the city's celebration.
There are plenty of ways of celebrating this day but those who visit this resort on the Charles have the ideal one. This week for the first time this season there has been a change from vaudeville to musical comedy in the grand covered open air theatre and "Mr. Planet from Mars" is being presented. The baby animals in the zoological garden, the fuzzy-wuzzy porcupine, the tiny Java and Rhesus monkeys, the cute little beavers, and the dear little deer, are all growing more interesting every day and no visit to Norumbega Park is complete without seeing them. The restaurant with its fine cuisine and its orchestra concerts on the veranda, the canoeing and boating on the Charles, the launch trips, electric fountain, mysterious chalet, all continue to be very popular attractions.

Canoe parade.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, D. C., June 30, 1906.
Congress and the President are taking leave of each other in a much better frame of mind than could have been expected from their meeting last year.
There has been a conflict of strong personalities and both sides have won their points to a certain degree while the public on the whole has been the gainer.
The President has managed to force through certain legislation that he delivered was needed and that there was serious doubt if Congress would stand.
He has removed the postmaster from the realm of federal patronage and thus done more than any other president ever dared to do to antagonize the individual members who looked on these offices as the last remnant of the fast disappearing currency with which to pay political debts.

He has forced through the rate bill, and while they may be some features of the measure that could be improved and doubtless will be improved in time, it is vastly in advance of no legislation at all, and that was what was looked for a fortnight before congress met. The Free Alcohol Bill has gone through, promising to help the farmers of the whole country and to help the public greatly against one form of fuel extortion. The Statehood Bill has been a compromise but has brought satisfaction and dignity to two commonwealths and would have brought it to four but for the unreasonable opposition to the measure in Congress. The Pure Food Bill is a law and meat inspection has been added where it was sorely needed and where the public did not even suspect that the need existed.

Altogether it has been a most notable congress and one that will necessarily go down in history as a monument to the forceful personality of the executive aside from the personal triumph of the Peace Conference and numerous other smaller matters, any one of which would have been enough to make an administration notable.

While one is looking over the retrospect, it is as well to take note of the remarkable series of national scandals and exposures, all of which, the exposures at least, were more or less due to the fearless initiative of the President. It was the most deplorable series of public scandals that a nation has ever suffered, but it was infinitely better that the evils should come out than that they should eat at the national life in secret.

There were first of all the postal scandals. They were more than half suspected by those "in the know" before official attention was ever called to them.
But when they were once brought to the attention of the President, the word was passed that they were to be ferreted out without fear or favor and this was done, resulting in more than a score of prosecutions and half as many jail sentences while the end of the legal proceedings is not yet. But the Department itself is cleansed and chastened as a department seldom has been before.

The crop report exposures followed with remarkable swiftness resulting in an entire reorganization of that branch of the Department of Agriculture. The awakening of the public conscience was helped by the insurance exposures in New York which while not directly under federal supervision, were along the line of the same work. Then there were the inquiries into the Beef Combine by the Bureau of Corporations, resulting in the famous "immunity bath" lance and then the swifter and more remarkable exposures of the Neill-Reynolds report. Side by side with these were the investigation of the Bureau of Corporations and the Interstate Commerce Commission into combinations of the coal and oil carrying roads and these like the others will be followed by a series of prosecutions that have already been outlined and that promise to be very effective in their execution.

It may be stated that the good results coming from these investigations and prosecutions are more indirect than direct. The mere knowledge that the law was on its track was enough to force the dissolution of the Paper Trust. The coal roads have already begun an internal overhauling on their own account now that they find the public knows how how rotten were some of their conditions.

The suits against the Tobacco Trust have already resulted in some good to the industry at large and it may be taken for granted that no corporation managers are going to venture very far inside the penitentiary when they know that there is a watchful eye and a ready hand to shut the door on them if they trespass over the line.

The rumor on Friday that there was a possibility of Congress adjourning on Friday night, brought a crowd of visitors to the White House to say good bye to the President before the Cabinet meeting, and a special train was held in readiness at the Depot to take him to Oyster Bay even if it were late at night before Congress finished up the session.

The President has earned a good vacation if ever an executive has and while there is not the urgent need of it that there would be in the case of a man who was not about as delicate and fragile as a grizzly bear, Mr. Roosevelt himself will welcome the change and the chance to get once more to out of door life and to work off some of the flesh that has accumulated during the winter in Washington in spite of his constant tennis playing, walking and horseback riding. There will be an effort to keep just as much work from him as possible while he is at Sagamore Hill. But there is a certain amount of routine and special work that the President has to do even in summer, and the modest little executive office at Oyster Bay has been all fixed up in readiness for his coming and will in all probability see a considerable amount both of personal and public work done before the summer is over.

Mrs. Barnes Dead

Mrs. Louisa Pierce Barnes, who resided for many years at Newton Highlands and who, six years ago, came into considerable prominence by marrying Dr. Charles H. Barnes at the age of 75, died Tuesday morning at Milton.

Mrs. Barnes had property to the value of about $30,000 at the time of her marriage, but trouble developed over the money. The climax came in 1904 when the venerable bride sought and obtained a divorce from her youthful spouse on the ground of cruelty.

For a number of months afterward Mrs. Barnes was critically ill. She at that time made her home temporarily with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Greenwood of Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, and the late Mrs. Greenwood after many weeks nursed her back to something like her former health. The aged woman then moved back to the old homestead on Center street, near Walnut, and here she lived until shortly ago, when she moved to Milton.

To many of the old residents of Newton Highlands and Newton Center the woman was known for many years as Louisa Pierce. The community was astonished in 1900 by the news of her marriage to Dr. Charles H. Barnes, a man but half her age and who had boarded with her for a few weeks. Relatives sought to prevent the marriage but were unsuccessful as word was received from Newburg, N. Y., May 23, 1900, stating that the marriage had been quietly performed by a Baptist clergyman of that place.

Presently Barnes returned to Newton alone and opened the home. To all inquiries he replied that his wife was visiting relatives, was well and happy, and would return soon. He bought an automobile, dispensed himself about the town elsewhere.

By testimony in the subsequent divorce case, however, it appeared that she was confined under lock and key in a room in a flat occupied by Barnes' relatives in Newburg. Here she was kept, worn, sick, feeble and worried by the report constantly brought by her husband's people that her relatives were seeking to put her into an insane asylum.

In August Barnes brought her back, after having succeeded in getting possession of the homestead and all her other property except $1000, which William M. Noble, afterward her counsel, succeeded in preventing his getting.

Mr. Noble then sought to have a conservator appointed. Barnes was then in California, but he flew back to Massachusetts, and by threats and pleading cajoled his wife to flee with him.

After some months Barnes and his wife were discovered in a Providence hotel, where the entire Barnes family were domiciled. Mr. Barnes had Mrs.
Barnes apparently under absolute mental control. A communication was received, signed by Mrs. Barnes, requesting that the proceedings in court be stopped, and as she had again disappeared and could not be produced in court, the petition for a conservator was dismissed.

Nothing more was heard of Mrs.
Barnes nor her youthful husband until in March, 1902, Barnes had opened elegant offices in Los Angeles, and his wife was confined in a woodland adjoining a cottage at Ocean beach, where Barnes had established his parents as guardians.

Finally Mrs. Barnes was brought home and begged her friends to obtain a divorce for her, and a libel was filed in November, 1902, and hearings were had in the Middlesex court in 1903. The most sensational testimony was presented, showing cruelties and neglect of the most awful character.

Finally, in February, 1904, a decree nisi against the husband was entered, and this was made absolute the following August on a portion of her former property has been recovered through the exertions of her counsel Mr. Wm. M.
Noble of Newton Centre.

Miss Caroline A. Finneran of Boylston street, Boston, sailed for Europe on the fourth inst., and will return the last of August.

Fernald - Allen.

Miss Fannie Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Allen, and Mr. Edward C. Fernald, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Oliver Fernald, were married in the presence of only immediate friends and relatives last Friday at the home of the bride's parents at Newton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Granville Pierce of Townsend Harbor, Mass., a long time friend of the family.

—Automobile trucks a specialty at John A. Mason's, 312 Washington street.
Tel. 187-2 North.

Mr. Nickerson Dead.

Mr. Joseph Granville Nickerson, a well known resident of West Newton for many years, died after an illness of several weeks at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry C. Little, 112 Webster street, last week Thursday.

Mr. Nickerson was at one time widely known as an oil merchant. Retiring from business a number of years ago he had lived quietly since at West Newton.
He was born in Chatham, a son of Joshua Nickerson and a descendant of one of the oldest Cape Cod families.

For about two months he had been ill with endocarditis. Although every effort was made to save his life his condition became rapidly worse and he passed away Thursday. The funeral was private and the burial was in Mt. Auburn cemetery.

—Crosby's Restaurant, 19 School street, Boston, is a good place to dine. tf

Legal Notices

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, SS.
To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Harriet Louisa Blake late of Newton in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, certain instruments purporting to be the last will and testament—and a codicil of said deceased have been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Percy M.
Blake who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the tenth day of July, A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing post paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. MCINTIRE, Esquire,
First Judge of said Court, this nineteenth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, SS.
To the devisees under the will and all other persons interested in the estate of Margaret Anne, late of Newton in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, Henry H. Dodge administrator of the will annexed of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the order made in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, the whole of a certain parcel of the real estate of said deceased for the payment of debts, legacies and charges of administration, and for other reasons set forth in said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County, on the twenty-fourth day of July
A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. MCINTIRE, Esquire,
First Judge of said Court, this twenty-eighth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Albert Holden Cram late of Newton, in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are hereby required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

SALLIE T. CRAM, Executrix.

Address Shorncliffe Road,
Newton.

June 28th, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the
subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Lucy Dimmock Holmes late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are hereby required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

GEORGE L. HOLMES, Executor.

Address 18 Vernon St.,
Newton, Mass.

June 28th, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the
subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Barzillai Franklin Holmes, late of Newton in the County of Middsex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as
the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are hereby required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

MARY VOSE HOLMES, Executrix.

Address 18 Vernon St., Newton, Mass.

June 28th, 1906.

Class A. XXX. No. 14720.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS, TO WIT:

Be it remembered, That on the seventh day of June, 1906, Theodora M. Foster of Vermont, N. Y. hath deposited in this Office the title of a book, the title of which is in the following words to wit:

Echoing and Re-echoing. By Faye Huntington.

Boston: Lothrop Publishing Company, the right whereof she claims as author and proprietor in conformity with the laws of the United States respecting Copyrights.
Office of the Register of Copyrights.

HARBERT PUTNAM, Librarian of Congress.

By THORVALD S. BERGER, Register of Copyrights.

In renewal for fourteen years from July 20, 1906.

WHITE HOUSE COFFEE

comes very, very close to the perfection of the Ladies of the land. It's a substantial support and solace for the strenuous days of household drudgery; a panacea for the fatigues of society; a dainty delight in the privacy of the boudoir. It's wholesome and a healthful and vivify-
ing. White House
Coffee is truly the very finest Coffee the World provides.

Sold in the United States, Ontario, Bermuda and far-off Yukon. If you have trouble to get it, write us.

Sold in 1, 2, and 3
lb. cans, never in bulk.

DWINELL-WRIGHT COMPANY
Principal Coffee Roasters
Boston—Chicago

Physicians

CLARA D. WHITMAN REED, M. D.

Residence and Office, 140 Church
St., Newton, opp. Farlow Park.

Hours—Until 9 A. M. 1 to 3 and 7 P. M.
Telephone 46.

Expressmen.

A QUIET FOURTH

The Weather Conditions Discourage Noise

Full Account of Celebrations All Over the City—No Accidents of Any Importance

In many respects, Wednesday was a notable Fourth of July in Newton. In the first place, the weather conditions served to keep down the excessive ebullition of the small boy and his older brothers and it was the quietest night before we have ever experienced. Then again the fire department had but one call and that for a very trivial fire. But one accident, attributable to the Fourth was reported, and last but not least, Newton really celebrated the day with enthusiastic programs at Newton Centre and Nonantum and with a notable exhibition of fireworks at the Brae Burn Country Club. Detailed reports of the various events of the day follow:—

NEWTON CENTRE.

Threatening weather put no damper on the celebration of the Fourth at Newton Centre. The fun began in the morning and lasted until late in the evening, a wide range of events being provided.

One of the principal features of the morning was a baseball game between the married and single men. This took place on the playground off Center street and brought out some of the old-time players and an enthusiastic gallery of spectators. The married men were captained by George F. Spaulding and the single men by T. B. Plimpton. There was no lack of brilliant plays, but the single men proved to be the victors after a hard struggle by a score of 12 to 9. The teams were lined up as follows:

Single Men—Harwood catch, Walsh pitch, Paul 1st base, F. Ely 2d base, Clapp short stop, Blaisdell 3d base, T. B. Plimpton left field, Rand center field and Rowan right field.

Married Men—Andrews catch, Spaulding pitch, Wales 1st base, Walworth 2d base, Rising short stop, Powers 3d base, Bowen left field, Rand center field and Dewing right field.

Woodman took his life in his hands by consenting to umpire the contest. One of the star plays was the catch made by Rand, the former Harvard player, in deep center field for the married men.

On the playground sports for the boys followed. Principal among the events was the sack race, won by Hugh Richardson; the three-legged race, won by Forbush and Fessenden, and the 100-yard dash won by Forbush. The prizes were handsome cups.

A number of widely known tennis players gave some exhibitions of their work on the courts of the Newton Center Squash Tennis Club, Chestnut terrace, in the afternoon. Among the participants were Seaver, the state champion; Wright, one of the state champions in doubles, and Niles, the Harvard crack. The scores were as follows:

Singles—R. C. Seaver beat C. G. Plimpton, 6-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Doubles—N. W. Niles and I. W. Wright beat C. F. Johnson and H. C. Johnson, 8-6, 6-8, 8-6.

The courts were too wet for championship playing, but these players nevertheless put up an excellent exhibition before a good sized gallery.

Fireworks from a float in the center of Crystal Lake, together with band concerts, attracted many hundreds of residents and visitors to the shores of the lake throughout the evening. The fireworks display was one of the best seen here in a number of years. Precautions were taken so that the entire collection of rockets and set pieces were not accidentally set off simultaneously as they were a year ago. The band gave an enjoyable concert of popular selections.

The expenses of the all-day celebration were met by popular subscription. The arrangements were carried out by a committee headed by George W. Pratt and which also included Allen Hubbard, Arthur C. Walworth Jr., C. B. Gordon, M. E. Cobb, T. B. Plimpton, A. W. Armstrong and W. H. Rice.

NONANTUM.

Nonantum did itself proud in its celebration of the Fourth. With a monster bonfire which was touched off at midnight on the "night before" the day was ushered in appropriately at the very start. Working jointly in carrying out the lengthy program, the Nonantum Village Improvement society and the Nonantum Boys' club provided an excellent entertainment.

There was more noise in Nonantum than in the other villages of Newton combined. The big bonfire was followed by a flag raising at 8 A. M. in front of the clubhouse of the Improvement society. The flag was thrown to the breeze by Miss Helen Doherty, 8 years old. In well chosen words, Mr. James A. O'Donnell delivered the oration, telling of the significance of the occasion and complimenting the people of the district upon their patriotism. Complimentary remarks were also made by President William J. Doherty of the organization, and Mr. J. W. Blakeney of the committee of arrangements. The speakers were warmly applauded by a big gathering which had assembled for the flag raising.

The school children of the district then assembled in front of the clubhouse and for half an hour sang patriotic songs. Many of the spectators joined in the choruses. This made one of the prettiest features of the program.

A baseball game was played on the Allison Playground between the Clintons and the Newtons, the former aggregation winning by the one-sided score of 6 to 1. Sports for the children followed on the playground. Cash prizes ranging from $3 down to $1 were offered, and the various events were hotly contested.

Joseph Gildea was one of the stars of the athletic events. He won the 100-yard dash in 10 2-5 sec., a most creditable record. He took the cash prize of $3 for this event, while the second prize of $2 went to Daniel Cleary.

The three-legged race afforded, perhaps, more amusement than any of the other contests. This event was won by Lavash and Boisclair. Cleary and Gildea came in a close second. No time was taken in this event. The first prize was $2 and the second $1.

In the afternoon there was a free-for-all race over a course of 100 yards. Many boys of the district entered this event, which was won by Joseph Gildea in 11 sec. Louis Tabaldi second.

The married and single men then played a baseball game. In many ways it was the most interesting baseball contest ever played in Nonantum. The official scorer finally gave up the task of trying to figure out a complete score, but it suffices to say that the married men came away the victors, 20 to 14.

The program here was brought to a close in the evening by a large display of fireworks from the playground. The committee of arrangements was divided as follows: W. S. Bowen refreshments, J. W. Blakeney athletics, J. W. Murphy baseball, George Johnson fireworks, Alderman William J. Doherty flag raising, Dr. A. E. Mayell advertising and subscriptions. The committee members were warmly congratulated upon the success of the celebration, which was considered one of the best ever given in the district.

WOODLAND GOLF.

The 18-hole and 36-hole handicap tournament on Wednesday brought out a large field of players on the Woodland Golf Club course. In spite of the heavy rain in the forenoon there was some clever playing. Paul F. O'Donnell won the honors in the 18-hole event, with the best gross score of 85. The prize for the best net was awarded to J. A. Lebonite, who made a score of 85-13-72. In the 36-hole competition the best gross score was made by J. G. Anderson, in 163-87-86. The best net was 150, made by A. Knight.

BRAEBURN GOLF.

Percival Gilbert made the best gross score of 82 and J. Gould the best net of 77 in the holiday cup competition Wednesday at the Brae-Burn country club. Among the other contestants who made creditable scores were the following: F. L. Richardson, W. H. Burr, N. E. Paine, W. B. Herriek, H. A. Stiles, T. W. Sprague, J. L. Kendrick, J. P. Gray, G. H. Converse, L. Righter, L. J. Gilmer, D. Chester, A. E. Burr, N. E. Stiles, S. A. Shannon, George H. Bond, J. J. Mitchell and H. Jewett.

HIGHLANDS GOLF.

On the course of the Newton Highlands Golf Club, Wednesday, the finals of the three classes of the match play tournament started the Saturday previous were played. The play was warmly contested. Gerald H. Noonan won in Class A, Dr. Frank E. Withee in Class B, and P. Tewksbury in Class C. In the afternoon there was a medal, handicap event. This was won by P. Tewksbury with a net score of 74. The best gross score was that of 89 made by G. H. Noonan. Among the contestants in this event were W. P. Kerr, E. E. Bird, Dr. F. E. Withee, George H. Mellen, A. M. Tewksbury, J. E. Peckham, W. S. Drowne, W. D. Hoffman and S. E. Thompson.

FIREWORKS.

Many novel set pieces marked the display of fireworks given at the Brae-Burn Country club Wednesday evening. The display took place on the edge of the golf course adjoining the clubhouse, and was one of the best seen in this city in many years.

One large set piece spelled out in huge letters of red high in the sky the familiar first rule of golf, "Replace the Turf." This was received with much applause and amusement, but the star feature came when a figure of a golfer, nearly 20 feet high, was thrown into the air. This figure assumed an upright position and showed a rather stout man ready to drive the ball from the first tee.

Making a clumsy swing with his driver the man missed the ball. Dropping his stick and turning part way around apparently in disgust the inexperienced golfer shot out a volley of rockets, flames and bombs from his mouth. The spectators quickly realized that this was meant to represent the unprintable phrases which inexperienced golfers are sometimes prone to use after making a mistake at a critical moment. The figure of the man shook with anger and finally exploded into a shower of stars. This piece was one of the largest and most complicated shown.

The display lasted nearly two hours. The final piece spelled out the word "Adeau" in mammoth letters. The exhibition was watched by a gathering of several hundred members and guests, many coming out from Boston especially to witness the display. During the afternoon and evening there were numerous private dinner parties at the clubhouse.

While helping celebrate the Fourth at Nonantum Wednesday afternoon, George Terrio, 14 years old, living on Dalby street, received a scalp wound by being hit by a stone thrown by another boy. He was attended by Dr. A. E. Mayell, who found it necessary to take several stitches to close the wound. The boy was taken to his home. It is expected that he will rapidly recover.

An effigy was found hanging from the top of the flagpole in the Hyde school yard, Newton Highlands, Wednesday morning. The figure was well made up, but whom it was supposed to have represented is yet a mystery. It was pulled up to the top of the lofty pole during the night by boys. It was removed Wednesday morning.

No little comment was caused in West Newton Wednesday when William L. Haynie, a painter, displayed British and Cuban flags from his house, 22 Columbus place. The presence of these flags and the absence of any national flag caused considerable feeling. It was later stated that Mr. Haynie did not display the flags in any spirit of disrespect to the stars and stripes.

The fire department was called out but once on Wednesday, when box 117 was pulled in because a telephone pole on Channing street was aflame. The damage was trifling, the fire being caused by a roman candle igniting a bird's nest on the pole.

Only one accident was reported during the day, John E. McKenzie of High street, Upper Falls, aged 15, son of Officer McKenzie of the police force, while setting off some cannon crackers about 7 A. M. in some way set fire to two six inch crackers which he was carrying in an inside coat pocket. Before he could get them out the explosion came and he was severely burned on the breast and arm. His wounds were dressed by a local physician.

The round-up of Fourth of July celebrations in the municipal court Thursday morning was smaller than in the last few years. For profanity Charles F. Quinn and John Shea were fined $5 each, Shea being given until next week to pay. Herbert Lambert and Joseph Bonifant, for disturbance of the peace, were fined $5 each. It was alleged that they were fighting each other on Watertown street about 4 a. m. yesterday.

No Insurance.

The summer home of Mr. and Mrs. English Sparrow and family, situated in a telephone pole at the corner of Washington street and enter place, was destroyed by fire about 9 last night. The blaze was started by a sky rocket set off by some Italians who were celebrating the Fourth of July. An alarm from box 117 brought out the fire apparatus, but the firemen were unable to save the home of the Sparrow family. The home was a total loss, there being no insurance. In fact the members of the family were rudely awakened when the rocket shot through the floor and had time only to escape with their lives.

The dwelling was situated under a cable box belonging to the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. After the home had been shattered by the rocket it caught fire. This alarmed the patriotic Italians nearly as much as it did Mr. and Mrs. Sparrow and the little Sparrows. One of the Italians ran to box 117 and pulled in an alarm. When the firemen came with several pieces of apparatus they had some difficulty in locating the fire. By the time they discovered it high up on the telephone pole the nest was a wreck and the cable box was scorched. A stream from a hand chemical quickly put out the fire. This was the only alarm of fire sounded in this city during the Fourth or the night before.

An Elopement.

Cupid has been shooting his darts more freely than usual in the Nonantum district, and another elopement became known this week to the parents and friends of a young couple who have lived in that district for several years.

The young people were Miss Margaret Feeley, 18 years old, whose home has been on Watertown street, and Mr. Benjamin Richards, 23, who lived on Cook street. After outwitting the young woman's mother they slipped away to Boston last Friday and were married by Charles A. Fehyl, a justice of the peace, at his residence, 449 Shawmut avenue.

Possibly the young people expected some difficulty in having the ceremony performed because of the youthful appearance of the bride. At any rate they took the precaution to secure a certificate from Rev. Fr. A. S. Malone, an assistant at the Church of Our Lady, stating the date of the prospective bride's birth and showing that she was a few months more than 18 years old.

Miss Feeley and Mr. Richards had been keeping company for some months, but as the young woman's mother is said to have objected to their being married on account of the girl's age no arrangements for the ceremony had been made so far as known by the parents.

Miss Feeley is well known in Nonantum. Mr. Richards had also lived in that district for sometime, and was employed as a tire maker. Last Friday it became known to the young woman's mother that a marriage license had been issued, and the mother then learned of the proposed wedding for the first time.

Her daughter was at the time visiting a sister, Mrs. Jeffrey Perry of Chapel street, this city. The girl's mother, it is stated, immediately went to her married daughter's house and brought Miss Feeley home. The girl went to her room, and, it is said, the door was locked on the outside, the mother taking possession of the key. While the latter was engaged in changing her clothes, it is stated, a younger daughter who knew of the plan for the wedding secured the key and liberated Miss Feeley.

Mr. Richards was outside the house. When Miss Feeley finally appeared the two hastened to Boston and were married by Mr. Fehyl. That evening they returned to Nonantum and went to the home of Mrs. Perry on Chapel street, where they announced that they were bride and groom.

Hudson's Soda.

An up-to-date soda fountain, artistic in its appointments, with which are combined scrupulous cleanliness and the daintiest service of pure fruit syrups and cool temperance drinks, is an ornament to any store. Such a fountain has been recently installed in the drug-store of Arthur Hudson, 265 Washington street.

It is of the variety known to the trade as a counter fountain, the most convenient for dispenser and customer alike, and for costliness and beauty surpasses any to be found in this city.

Fashioned from an ingenious combination of Italian, Carrara, Brescia and American Tennessee marble, with two handsome onyx columns, each bearing five draft arms, it presents a striking appearance. Each of the columns, placed midway on the service counter, is surmounted by a bronze statuette lamp, fitted with clouded glass bulbs and a glass bead shade, the effect when lighted adding materially to the appearance. No less than 23 syrup taps of an approved pattern, supply the needs of the thirsty. These are conveniently arranged within easy reach of the dispenser, while below them are handy receptacles for bottled goods, constantly cooled by ice, as well as a clean and commodious washing and draining system.

Back of the main fountain is a large refrigerating closet, also of variegated marble, with heavy glass doors and polished nickel trimmings, where are kept a widely assorted stock of summer beverages, ready for immediate use. This closet is topped with a massive plate-glass mirror, framed to harmonize with the store fixtures, and at each side are two handsome all-glass cabinets for the display of goods.

The entire fountain is equipped with every modern convenience for efficient service. With its array of silver-nickled fittings, shining glassware and dainty doilies, it is a sight to attract the least thirsty individual. Above all there is a tempting air of cleanliness about the fountain and its surroundings.

Mr. Shattuck Hurt.

Mr. B. F. Shattuck of West Newton sustained a broken leg and Mrs. Shattuck received several cuts and bruises in an automobile accident in Dedham last Sunday afternoon. With Mr. David E. Woodward and Miss Lucy W. Fudge of Danvers, Mr. and Mrs. Shattuck were riding in their large touring car at the time.

They were on the summit of Nickerson's hill on Common street when the chauffeur gave the lever a quick turn in some way caused a tire to burst. The car turned a complete somersault, pinning all the passengers except the chauffeur, who had jumped, underneath. After being pulled out from beneath the machine a passing automobile took Mr. Shattuck to the office of Dr. A. H. Hodgson of Dedham. Later he was moved to his home in West Newton, where he was attended by Dr. Hunt of this city. The automobile was badly damaged.

City Hall Notes.

The June mortality report of the board of health shows 30 deaths for the month and a rate of 9.58 per 1000 as against 12.82 for the same month last year. 11 cases of diphtheria, 14 of scarlet fever, 1 of typhoid fever and 48 cases of measles were reported during the month.

SANITARY CLEANSING—Essential to Good Housekeeping.

The most inexpensive article for cleansing and disinfecting where absolute cleanliness and purity are desired and where troublesome places are to be kept clean, sweet and wholesome. Use freely about all sources of decaying matter and offensive odors. Keep drainage pipes clean, clear and disinfected. Look for above Trade-Mark on all packages. At all dealers. 10c. 25c. 50c. $1.

A FEELING OF SECURITY

Whether at home or abroad, there's a feeling of security when you have your valuables stored in the vaults of

The First National Bank of West Newton

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES COST ONLY FIVE DOLLARS FOR ONE YEAR

Money Placed on Interest

July 10, 1906

West Newton Savings Bank.

Office Hours, 8.30 to 12 and 1 to 3. Saturday 8.30 to 12.

Applications for Loans by mail on request.

WE WILL SAVE YOU MONEY ON YOUR Oculist's Prescriptions

GET OUR ESTIMATE BEFORE ORDERING YOUR GLASSES. OUR SPECIALTY is Accurate Lens Grinding and Frame Fitting. THOS. W. SPENCER CO., Opticians. 2 PARK SQUARE, BOSTON

=COMFORT=

CAN BE HAD THIS SUMMER BY USING A

Gas Range

QUICK, CLEAN COOL ECONOMICAL

NEWTON & WATERTOWN GAS LIGHT CO.

THE ENGLISH TEA ROOM

160 B TREMONT STREET, BOSTON

An attractive Lunch Room for ladies and gentlemen where home cooking will be daintily served from 11 to 3. Afternoon Tea 3.30 to 5.30

P. P. ADAMS'

BIG DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT STORE

NEWTON SOUVENIR LETTER

The Newest Thing Out.

EMINENTLY PRACTICAL and needs only to be seen to be appreciated and become universally popular.

A Beautiful Souvenir of

Eight Half-Tone Views

of interesting points in the City of Newton in a sealable cover, perforated for opening and inner pages provided for correspondence, all for the trifling sum of 10c.

This souvenir must commend the attention of everybody.

P. P. ADAMS, 133 to 139 Moody St., Waltham

When a man is dishonest, he generally gets what he deserves in the long run as well as a lot of other things he don't deserve in the meantime.

The knocker quickly sours the milk of human kindness.

Removal Sale

Great Reduction in Prices on Entire Stock of Pictures

BIGELOW & JORDAN 11 Bromfield St., Boston

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, ss.

To all persons interested in the estate of Austin H. Mitchell, late of Newton, in said County, deceased:

WHEREAS, James L. Richards and Eugene H. Smith, the executors of the will of said deceased, have presented for allowance the first and second accounts of their administration upon the estate of said deceased:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge, in said County, on the twenty-fourth day of July, A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said executors are ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day at least, before said Court, and by mailing post-paid a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. McINTIRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this fifth day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

If Every Woman Who Keeps House

will furnish the family with Hathaway's Celebrated Cream Bread for just one day she will stop baking, and baking bread this hot weather is no joke.

Ask your grocer today for this superior bread. Price 10c. Winner Bread for 5c is the best ever.

C. F. HATHAWAY & SON

CAMBRIDGE AND WALTHAM

ASK YOUR GROCER

Newtonville.

—Mr. George Hammond is visiting relatives in Springfield.

—Mr. John P. Eustis has been granted a patent on a bath tub seat.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. Bradshaw are making arrangements to move to West Newton.

—Mr. W. C. L. Nichols is expected home next week from a vacation at Bath, Me.

—Miss Frances Lane of Brooks avenue has recovered from an illness of several weeks.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. Newton N. 112-3.

—Mr. E. E. Saunders of Newtonville has moved here with his family and will reside on River street.

—Daniels & Howlett Co., Morse Building, Newtonville, painting, decorating, hardwood finishing and wall papers.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden and family of Walnut street sailed this week for Europe, where they will pass most of the summer touring the continent.

—Mrs. Alfred M. Russell and her son, Arthur, with Mrs. Elizabeth Stanley of California street, this week went to Cottage City, where they will spend the month.

—The Christian Messenger, the publication of the Newtonville religious societies, has discontinued publication until after the vacation season. The Messenger has been a bright and newsy publication this year and it will be missed by many.

—Mr. Albert Perry Walker will deliver a lecture in the Old South series, on "The Story of the Carolinas and Georgia" this summer at the Old South Meeting House in Boston. These lectures are held on Wednesday afternoons during July and August.

—A dog owned by Mr. H. E. Currier of Austin street was killed about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning by being run over by an automobile owned by Dr. Hunt. It is stated that the accident was no fault of the driver of the machine, but that the animal ran after the automobile and went under one of the wheels. The dog was highly prized as a pet.

—Union church services here were inaugurated for the summer on Sunday, when the Universalist, Central Congregational and Methodist Episcopal societies held services in the latter edifice. The sermon was preached by Rev. J. T. Stocking, pastor of the Central church. This arrangement will be followed during the present month, and in August the services will be held in the Central church and Rev. A. L. Squier, pastor of the Methodist church, will be the preacher.

—An unusually large cluster of brown tail and gypsy moths were found early this week on a large maple tree on Bowers street, opposite the residence of Mr. John F. Payne. They were destroyed. It is believed that had they remained unseen for a few more days they would have spread rapidly to the other shade trees in the vicinity and become a source of much annoyance. The moths were under a strip of burlap which had been placed about the tree as a protection against the pests.

West Newton.

—Mrs. F. E. Nowers and family of Washington street are passing several weeks in Halifax, N. S.

—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stacy have returned to this place and will occupy the Hall house on Henshaw street.

—Miss Mary Taaffe of Washington street and Miss Minnie McBride of Cherry street are spending the week at Scituate.

—Mrs. J. T. Judd of Winthrop street is entertaining her mother and sister from Dallas, Tex., who are here for several weeks' stay.

—Mr. F. M. Dutch of this village has bought a market at 246 Washington street, Nonantum Square, Newton, and will sell provisions very low for cash.

—Mrs. William Pettigrew of Auburn street leaves this week for her summer home at West Sandwich, N. H. Her son Mr. Frank Pettigrew will open his hotel in that town.

—Miss Mary M. Higgins of Elm street who is a teacher in the schools has returned to her home in Foxboro. Miss Katherine L. Gilles will spend her vacation in Fitchburg.

—Among the recent graduates of the Framingham Normal School were Misses Fannie M. Katelle, Mabel Lawrence, Emily E. Magne, and Bertha A. Morash of this place.

—Mr. Michael Noone, janitor of the Davis school, reports that sometime within the last few nights unknown persons have entered the building and done considerable mischief. The police are making an investigation.

—Mr. Arthur F. Luke's schooner yacht, Corona won the beautiful $500 cup offered by Vice Commodore Clark by winning the Eastern Yacht club's ocean race from New London to Marblehead last Sunday and Monday.

—A baseball game was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon on the Allen field between the Border A. C. and the Orioles, but the latter team failed to put in an appearance. A large number of spectators were disappointed. It is expected that the game will be played off later.

—An agent of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals and patrolman Martin J. Neagle were called Tuesday to investigate a case of alleged neglect to horses owned by Reuben Zelnetsky of Border street. The attention of the society to the alleged neglect had been called by a neighbor, it is stated.

—Miss Mary V. Healy of Curve street, who was severely injured by being hit by an automobile while crossing Washington street near the engine house last week, is resting as well as can be expected at the Newton hospital. Principal among her injuries was a broken leg, but she also sustained internal injuries and severe bruises. She will doubtless be confined to the hospital for several weeks.

—Merchants here suffered losses of slot machines several nights ago when a number of machines were broken open and the contents stolen, apparently by the same persons. Sgt. Burke and patrolman David Neagle found a machine which had been wrecked Saturday night opposite Morse's restaurant at 1236 Washington street. The parts were scattered over the sidewalk. They were gathered up and taken to police headquarters. Later in the evening the parts of another wrecked machine were found in front of Guzzi's store at 107 Elm street. These were also gathered up and turned over to the police.

West Newton.

—Mr. C. D. Davis is at his summer home Linekin, Me.

—Mr. F. H. Phippen of Border street is in Plymouth for a few weeks.

—Miss Sarah Wilkins is spending the summer with relatives in England.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lowry and family of Shaw street are at Falmouth.

—Miss Ethel Stone of Fairfax street is enjoying an outing at Lebanon, N. H.

—Mrs. Emma F. Sprague is making improvements to her estate on Perkins street.

—Mr. Harry Burrage has joined his family at Marion where they are for the summer.

—Miss Clara E. Wyman of Webster street is spending the summer at Lynnfield, Mass.

—Mrs. M. C. Brown, who has been visiting friends here has returned to her home in Maine.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Dodd and family of Prince street left on Wednesday for Digby, N. S.

—Mrs. L. P. Stone who is at Sugar Hill, N. H., will remain there during the month of July.

—Mrs. A. K. Tolman and Miss Tolman of Hunter street are at Quincy for the month of July.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Whitten of Chestnut street are at Soo-Nipi Lodge, New London, N. H.

—Mr. Richardson and family moved here Tuesday and will make their future home on Cherry street.

—Mr. Carl A. Anderson moves soon into the Upham house, he recently purchased, on Webster place.

—Mr. M. C. Hayes and family of Fairfax street leave this week for their summer home in Scituate.

—Mrs. Francis E. Nowers and family of Washington street are spending their vacation in Halifax, N. S.

—Mr. Henry L. Fairbrother is having an automobile house built near his residence on Greenwood avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Garrison of Chestnut street are spending the summer season at Plymouth.

—Dr. N. Emmons Paine is having a new house built on the Commonwealth avenue side of his property.

—Mr. William W. Wells is making improvements to his stable adjoining his residence on Watertown street.

—Mr. John P. Davis returned early this week to his home on Cherry street after a vacation spent in Buffalo.

—Mr. E. Hayward Ferry and family of Berkeley street left Saturday for their summer home at the shore.

—Mr. John T. Haffey and family are moving from Watertown street to the Carter house on Henshaw street.

—Mr. William Hamilton Lincoln is among this year's graduates from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

—Mr. Harry A. Burnham, who is spending a part of the week with friends here, will join his family in Berlin, Vermont.

—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Andrews are back from their wedding trip and are occupying their future home on Sterling street.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Leonard and family of Forest street sailed this week for Europe, where they will spend the next three months.

—The engagement is announced of Miss Alice Moulton, a popular Wellesley young woman, and Mr. G. Howard Frost of West Newton.

—A young man, over sixteen years of age, can secure a good position by application to the District Manager, Telephone Bldg., 437 Cherry St.

—Mr. L. G. Neville and family who moved here recently from California are occupying the Smith house they recently purchased on Highland avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Leonard of Shaw street have returned from Norwood, N. Y., where they went to attend the wedding of Mr. Leonard's sister.

—Mr. Edward Gateley of River street has returned from Georgetown University where he has been the past year and with his mother has gone to Old Orchard Beach.

Hunt-Duff.

Miss Elizabeth G. Duff and Mr. Howard O. Hunt, both of whom resided on Washington street, West Newton, were married in the presence of only immediate friends and relatives Tuesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edwin F. Snell, pastor of the Lincoln park Baptist church.

Hicks-Pickering.

Miss Dora H. Pickering of River street, Weston, and Mr. Harvey L. Hicks of Lowell avenue, Newtonville, were married Tuesday at the residence of Rev. Edwin F. Snell of West Newton. After a brief trip Mr. and Mrs. Hicks will reside in Newtonville.

Stewart-Roy.

Miss Bertha L. Roy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Roy of Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls, and Mr. Joseph R. E. Stewart of South Framingham, a brakeman employed on the Boston & Albany railroad, were married Tuesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Leopold A. Niles, an intimate friend of the family.

Deagle-Deagle.

At the parochial residence of the Church of Our Lady, Tuesday, Miss Mary S. Deagle and Mr. Joseph Deagle, both of Newton, were married by Rev. Fr. James F. Kelly, assistant pastor of the church. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few intimate friends.

New Mail for Newton.

An outward mail at 10 P. M. from the Newton office will be inaugurated probably early in September. Postmaster George H. Morgan of the main office at Newton Center yesterday afternoon received word from the Washington authorities that an increased allowance will be made at that time for clerk hire to the postoffice in this city.

It is believed that the greatest benefit will be derived by a late mail from the Newton postal station. Collections will be made just before 10 P. M. from the principal boxes in wards 1 and 7 so that letters mailed before that hour will catch this outgoing mail. The innovation will doubtless be of much benefit to business men and the residents generally. Just what boxes will be collected has not yet been determined. Postmaster Morgan has been considering such a movement for several months, and he yesterday expressed pleasure over having his recommendation approved by the department.

Francis R. Albrecht of Newton Upper Falls will later receive the appointment of clerk. He will be added to the office force under Supt. Farwell at the Newton office.

At present the last outgoing mail leaves the main office at Newton Centre and the several postal stations in various parts of the city at 8 P. M. This and the present midnight collection will be continued.

Police Paragraphs.

Patrolman W. E. Fuller found Van G. Smith, 12 years old, living in Cambridge, wandering about Newtonville yesterday afternoon. The boy said he had started to walk from Cambridge to Natick. He was tired and footsore and had no money. He was taken to police headquarters and given something to eat. This morning he was returned to Cambridge.

Thieves entered the clubhouse of the Newton Golf club on Center street sometime between Tuesday afternoon and Thursday afternoon and stole a valuable yellow leather golf bag, the property of Mr. Charles A. Haskell of Sargent street. The bag had been placed in Mr. Sargent's locker and the door was forced open. The police are making a search for the person responsible for the loss.

Real Estate.

Through the office of Alvord Bros. & Co., the following sales of real estate have recently been made: Two lots of land on Wachusett road, Chestnut Hill, containing about 22,000 feet, by the Trustees of the Newton Boulevard Syndicate to Mrs. Mary E. Cumming who with Ralph C. Henry will commence at once to erect two attractive houses from plans by Guy Lowell, 305 Lake Avenue, Newton Highlands, from Edward W. Kent, of Colorado Springs, to Dr. J. G. Schroeder. This estate consists of a single house and about 18,000 square feet of land, the whole assessed for $8500.

Agreements have been signed through the same office for the sale of the Pinkham house at 20 Oakwood road, Newtonville, consisting of a single house and 10,000 square feet of land, taxed for $5500. The new owner will not take possession until September.

Gloucester Trips.

Many people who have been waiting for a chance to go down the far-famed "North Shore route" to picturesque Cape Ann and rock-bound Gloucester and return in the same day can be gratified now that the round trips for the season have been resumed. The steamships of the line have been put into first class order and are now running daily and Sunday, same as formerly, from Central wharf at the foot of State street elevated station stairs. This means that greater crowds than ever will learn what a delightful trip is afforded for the low round-trip price. Fine new illustrated souvenir folder free.

Souvenir Letter.

The Newton Souvenir letter is the latest outcome of the postal craze and Mr. P. P. Adams has made it a decidedly unique and handsome affair. It is in the form of a booklet, with opportunity for address on the cover and with gummed and perforated edges, similar to the letter sheets sold by the post office some years ago. Inside are eight photo views of Farlow Park, Channing church, Eliot church, Church of Our Lady, Nurses Home, Newton Hospital, Mr. Ida School, Hunnewell club and a scene on the Charles river. The inside covers can be used for letter writing and the whole affair after sealing can be mailed for two cents. Mr. Adams has a novelty in the Souvenir letter which must be seen to be appreciated.

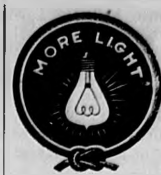

Fogwell-Heald.

Miss Lillie Heald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Heald of Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls, and Mr. Clarence K. Fogwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fogwell of Washington street, West Newton, were married last evening. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Clifford G. Twombly, rector of St. Paul's church, Newton Highlands.

Auburndale.

—Mr. W. W. Cole and wife have been spending a few days at Shirley Hill House, N. H.

—Mrs. E. A. Yarnall and family are enjoying the summer months in the suburbs of Manchester, N. H.

WM. H. COLGAN

HIGH GRADE

Electrical Construction

ELECTRIC REPAIRS OF ALL KINDS

Tel. West Newton 310

John Adams Dead.

By the death of John Adams last Friday in Westboro, this city lost one of its best known railroad men. Death came after a long illness, the primary cause of which was brights disease. Mr. Adams had been removed to the Westboro insane hospital only two days previously from the Newton hospital. It is thought that the journey to Westboro, although made with every precaution, hastened the man's death.

Mr. Adams was born in Northbridge and at an early age entered the employ of the old Boston & Albany railroad. He was popular and by strict attention to business quickly rose to the position of conductor. This position he held more than a score of years. The last 10 years of his service he was conductor on a number of the fast through trains running between Boston and Albany. He made his home for many years on Melrose street, Auburndale.

It was about a dozen years ago that his wife died shortly after the birth of a daughter. The child lived to be 9 years old, when it was one day found dead on the barn floor, having fallen from the loft while at play. This is believed to have affected the father's mind, for he never seemed the same afterward.

Booming afflicted a few years ago with brights disease, he was forced after a few months to give up employment. About four months ago his condition became so serious that he was removed to the Newton hospital, and although he was given every possible care it was long feared that he could not live but a short time.

Early last week it was believed that venerable Mr. Adams was becoming mentally unbalanced, and on Wednesday an examination to determine his sanity was made by City Physician Edward R. Utley and Dr. Putnam, his family physician, who ordered removal to Westboro.

Many of the present railroad men living in this city and vicinity owe much to the late Mr. Adams. He was always willing and anxious to render assistance and to advise a new man. Through his kindness many young men who entered the employ of the railroad company rose quickly to responsible positions.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Wants.

WANTED—A boy 16 to 18 years old in a Boston Trust Co. to learn the business. High school graduate preferred. Apply to Arlington, P. O. Box 388, Boston, Mass.

SALESGIRL wanted—Apply at Hersom's, 388 Centre St., Newton.

SEAMSTRESS, experienced and reliable, would like to make engagements by the day to sew at $1.50 per day and car fares for the month of July. Address, Miss M. T. Donahue, 30 Washington St., Newton, Mass.

WANTED—Table boarders during July and August, references exchanged. Apply to Mrs. Sargent, 15 Clifton Place, Newtonville.

EXPERIENCED seamstress would like engagements by the day during July and August. 37 Carleton St., Newton.

To Let.

TO LET—In Newtonville, Steam-heated apartment of four rooms and bath, in brick block, opposite Depot; rent $25.00 per month; also, one store in block, rent $20.00 per month. Apply to R. C. Brigham, 416 Newtonville Ave., Newtonville, Mass.

For Sale.

LOOK at this! Lot of land 30 x 90, opposite 101 Derby St., West Newton, ten minutes from Moody St., Waltham. Make me an offer. Geo. M. Spiller, 19 Mystic Ave., Somerville, Mass.

AUTOMOBILE for SALE—A Stanley Surrey '04. Inquire at 27 Walnut St., Newtonville.

List Your Property

WITH

ALVORD BROS.

79 Milk Street, Boston.
Phone, Main 1001.
67 Union Street, Newton Centre.
Phone, Newton 50, 181-2.
730 Washington Street, Newtonville.
Phone, Newton No. 348.

Mr. C. S. NORRIS,

Who has for many years been favorably known to buyers of good clothing in Boston, has been engaged in our

Men's Clothing Department,

Where he will be pleased to see his friends for business or otherwise.

Macullar Parker Company

400 Washington Street
BOSTON

NORUMBEGA

The Famous Resort at Auburndale. Best Trolley Ride in New England.

Opens Daily at 10 A. M. "Nature's Own Most Beautiful Resort"

Grand OPEN AIR THEATRE. World's Largest Seating 3,000. At 3.30. Eve. at 8.00. OPERA, MUSICAL COMEDY, VAUDEVILLE. Be Sure to Visit the Animal Nursery—Baby Monkey, Baby Beaver, Baby Deer, Baby Porcupine and Baby Wolves. Among the New Features this season, The Chariot Landing with New Launch Service for trips down the river.

Zoological Garden, Restaurant, Chaiet, and Hosts of New Amusements. Canoeing and Boating. Telephone 227-5 Newton West to have seats reserved at the theatre. FOLLOW THE FLAG MARKED "N"

Notice of Change of Corporate Name.

We, Henry A. Inman, Moderator, and Alfred L. Barbour, Clerk, of First Baptist Church of West Newton, Mass., a Corporation organized under the laws of Massachusetts, located in West Newton and subject to the provisions of Chapter 36 of the Revised Laws, hereby give notice that said Corporation, by a two-thirds vote of its members present and voting at a meeting called for the purpose, and by the authority of the Commission of Corporations afterwards given upon due public notice and hearing, pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 108 of the Revised Laws, changed its name, and adopted the name of Lincoln Park Baptist Church of West Newton which shall hereafter be its legal name.

HENRY A. INMAN, Moderator.

ALFRED L. BARBOUR, Clerk.

March 14th, 1906.

Our Special Bargain

This full size No. 7 Range, handsome, smooth, plain castings. Newest pattern, with double mantel shelf—

$34—

Never sold at less than $40. We are headquarters for all the leading makes of New England Ranges.

CASH OR CREDIT

PLIMPTON HERVEY CO.

"Easy to Reach"

21 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON

Near Haymarket Square

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of George Moulton of Newton in the County of Middlesex deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same to the undersigned, who is the executor, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

ALBERT L. HARWOOD, Executor.

Address 84 Beacon St., Newton Centre.

June 25, 1906.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, ss. To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Herbert V. Hall late of Newton in said County, deceased, Intestate.

WHEREAS a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Ralph W. E. Hopper of Chelsea in the County of Suffolk without giving a surety on his bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge, in said County, on the tenth day of July, A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. MCINTIRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of June in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, ss. To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Charles Francis Howell late of Newton in said County, deceased, Intestate.

WHEREAS a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Ellis Howell of Newton in the County of Middlesex, without giving a surety on his bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Lowell in said County of Middlesex, on the seventeenth day of July, A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. MCINTIRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twenty-eighth day of June in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

MOON

AUTOMOBILES, being the latest cars on the market, embody the best features of other cars and eliminate their objectionable qualities.

35 H. P.—5 Passengers—$3000

You cannot be sure that you are getting the best car on the market for $3000 until you have examined the Moon.

PROMPT DELIVERY GUARANTEED

WRITE or TELEPHONE for DEMONSTRATION

BOSTON MECHANICAL CO

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

ADAMS, W. Poynter. Motor-Car Mechanism and Management. SUZ.A21
 AMES, Fisher. The Game of Bridge; with the Laws of Bridge. VOW.A513
 AUBIN, Eugene. Morocco of To-Day. G796.A89
 BAEDER, Karl. Southern France including Corsica: handbook for travellers. G39.6B8
 BOND, Francis. Gothic Architecture in England. WF15.B6
 An analysis of the origin and development of English church architecture from the Norman conquest to the dissolution of the monasteries.
 BROWN, Alice. The Court of Love. B81236
 COLLINGWOOD, Herbert Winslow, ed. The Farmer's Garden: health, happiness and money out of the soil. RIA.C69
 COLTON, Arthur. The Belted Seas. C722b
 HANKS, Chas. Stedman. Camp Kilauea and Camp Life. VDA.H19 Practical information for campers.
 HARWOOD, Wm. Summer. The New Earth: a recital of the triumphs of modern agriculture in America. RG.H26
 HOLT, Hamilton, ed. The Life Stories of Undistinguished Americans as told by themselves. E9.H74
 HOPPIN, Jas. Mason. The Reading of Shakespeare. Y.SJH
 HUNT, Albert Bradley, ed. Houseboats and Houseboating. SOHB.H
 INGERSOLL, Ernest. The Life of Animals: the Mammals. PG.147
 LINCOLN, Jos. Crosby. Mr. Pratt. L6386m
 LOVETT, Jas D'Wolf. Old Boston Boys and the Games they played. F84.B.L94
 MCADOO, Wm. Guarding a Great City. JB.M11
 The Police Commissioner of New York City, 1904-6, describes the inner workings of the New York police system.
 MUNSTERBERG, Hugo. Science and Idealism. BFL.M92
 Lectures delivered this spring at Yale University.

Real Estate and Insurance

FOR CHOICE BUILDING LOTS

FARLOW HILL

AND ELSEWHERE IN

THE NEWTONS.

APPLY TO

W. S. & F. EDMANDS,
 429 Centre St., Newton. Gray's Bldg., Newton Cas
 178 Devonshire Street Boston.

NEWTONVILLE

REAL ESTATE

We Make a Specialty of

NEWTONVILLE PROPERTY

Fire Insurance

Turner & Williams

Opp. Depot NEWTONVILLE

Established 1857. Telephone 2957.

EDWARD F. BARNES,

Real Estate Agent and Broker.

Expert Appraiser, Notary Public

MONEY TO LOAN ON MORTGAGES

Insurance Agent and Auctioneer Member of the Real Estate Exchange.

31 State St., Boston. Brackett's Block, Newton.

REAL ESTATE
ROBINSON
 NOTARY PUBLIC
 143 AUBURN ST. AUBURN, MASS.
 AUBURN, MASS.

Schools and Teachers.

L. EDWIN CHASE

TEACHER OF

Violin and Mandolin

BEST METHODS

47 Richardson St., Newton

A. H. HANDLEY

MUSIC FOR ALL OCCASIONS

23 Richardson Street
NEWTON

Dentists.

DR. S. F. CHASE,

DENTIST

Devotion Building, Washington Street, cor. Walnut, Newtonville.
 Careful and thorough operating in all branches.
 NEW METHOD FOR ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

PALMER, Frederick. Lucy of the Stars. PR1861
 PRICE, Lillian Louise. Lads and Lassies of other Days. JP311
 Stories of early colonial days before the War of Independence.
 RANDALL, Lida E. A Little Journey to Norway and Sweden. JG48.R15
 SCARRITT, Winthrop Eugene. Three Men in a Motor Car; or a summer tour in France and Switzerland, followed by some observations on kindred topics. G30.S28
 SHAW, Thos. Clovers and how to Grow them. RHLC.S
 SMITH, John Thos. A Book for a Rainy Day; or recollections of the events of the years 1766-1833. ES6523.S
 STEALEY, Orlando Oscar. Twenty Years in the Press Gallery: a history of important legislation from the 48th to the 58th Congress. K83.H.S7
 TCHAIKOVSKY, Modeste. The Life of Peter Ilich Tchaikovsky, 1840-53, by his brother. VV.T78.T
 WARD, Mrs. Humphrey. Fenwick's Career. W215f
 WILLIAMSON, Chas. N and Alice M. Lady Betty across the Water. W677la
 WRIGHT, Carroll Davidson. The Battles of Labor. HF.W93
 WRIGHT, Mabel Osgood. The Garden, You and I; by Barbara. RIS.W93
 ZUEBLIN, Chas. A Decade of Civic Development. JW.Z83

Literary Notes

The midsummer number of Suburban Life contains a combination of practical and entertaining articles on subjects relating to the suburban home and out-of-door life in general. The leading, and perhaps the most important, article of this number is entitled "Houses Built of Solid Stone," and in view of the great interest in the use of cement for house building, it is likely to prove of more than passing consideration. Another valuable contribution is from the pen of J. Horace McFarland, and is entitled "The Camera in Summer." Written in Mr. McFarland's humorous vein, the amateur camerist is shown the reason for many of his non-successes in picture making. Another delightfully humorous article in this issue is written by Mr. Edward H. Forbush on "The Farmer Versus the Crow." This is told in the form of a debate, the crow pleading for himself in the first part of the article, the farmer stating his case in part two, and the crow putting in a rebuttal. This unique article is supplemented by a poem, written by Holman F. Day, "The Song of the Scarecrows." The grotesque illustrations will provoke many a laugh. The articles on the various breeds of dogs that have already appeared in Suburban Life have received much valuable comment, and in this number a paper on the collie, written by the noted dog expert, Harry W. Lacy, is likely to prove as interesting as the preceding articles, the collie being one of the most popular breed of dogs for the suburban home.

The July McClure's is a good, hearty and satisfying literary meal—some good articles on new things the world is doing, some important ones on vital topics of the day, and a good share of brisk and entertaining stories; the whole well served with attractive illustrations, many in colors.

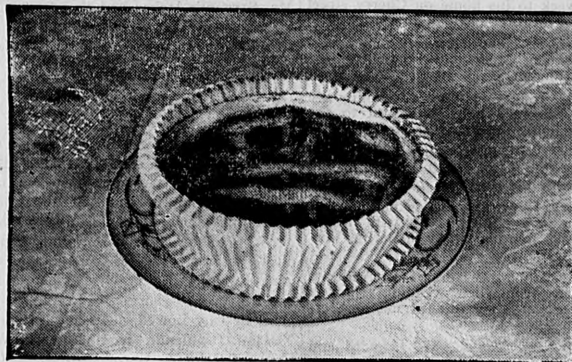

Ray Stannard Baker's "New Music for An Old," describing Dr. Thaddeus Cahill's marvelous instrument for producing music by electricity, the dynamophone, is full of suggestion and interest for both the musically and scientifically inclined. We have had many superficial descriptions of the San Francisco earthquake, but Henry Anderson Latler's record of experiences and the impressions in "My Sixty Sleepless Hours" written on the spot, and at the time of the fire, touches the real heart of the event. The beginnings of the corrupt methods that resulted in the recent insurance scandals are interestingly shown by Burton J. Hendrick in the third instalment of the "Story of Life-Insurance" in which he tells the career of Henry Baldwin Hyde, the founder of the Equitable. The ninth instalment of Carl Schurz's "Reminiscences of a Long Life" contains some interesting impressions of Mazzini, the Italian patriot, and Kossuth, the Hungarian. Kipling's sturdy and imaginative stories of Old England continue with the life of Parnesius, the Roman legionary, telling how he was given command of the forces on the Great Wall and fought successfully "The Winged Hats" (the Danes). Non-motorists and perhaps experts as well will have their first motoring sensations brought back to them vividly and amusingly by Julian Street's "My Enemy—the Motor." James Hopper has a story of the Philippines, "Caybigan" which is full of color and power. "The Generous Mr. Dean," by Abby McGuire Roach, is an amusing character story with a little moral in its tail and "The Still of Ballywan," by Stella F. Wynne, is full of fine Irish wit. At the Top of the Road," by H. B. Going and "The Home Wind," are poems worth reading and remembering. Andre Castaigne's pictures for the Kipling tale are stories in themselves, so full they are of information and the spirit and flesh and life of the time.

Recreation for July.

The variety of pleasurable and profitable reading afforded by this always breezy magazine is such as to amply bear out its claim of being "devoted to everything the name implies." In "One of the Crowd," by Roscoe Brumbaugh, the reader is shown how many New Yorkers spend their Sundays on the fishing banks. Another handsomely illustrated article, far removed in theme from the foregoing yet equally as interesting, is "Camping in the High Sierra," by Madeline Z. Doty; it has to do with all the trips of the celebrated Sierra Club of California. "Yachting in the Northwest," by F. M. Kelly, is a superbly illustrated article which will appeal to all lovers of boating, and for the men and women who like to take long hunting and fishing trips in the wilderness James Leddy Pequino's "Guides, White and Brown," will have much interest; the photographs are of typical wilderness guides. Two other stories of interest to sportsmen with experience in wilderness life are "An Outing in Acadia," or Nova Scotia from a Canoe, by Allen J. Henry, and "The Wilderness Virgin," by Sid Howard, narrating the author's experiences on a trout-fishing expedition to an undiscovered forest lake. "Hill-Country Homing Places," by Howard Green, is intended to incite Americans to save for themselves summer retreats in the forests that yet remain, and suggests a feasible clubbing plan. Two very good informational articles on fishing are "Bass-Fishing in Wisconsin," by Don Cameron, and "A Matter of Muscalonge," by Harry L. Means. "An American Sport for Americans," by G. M. Richards, will surely increase the interest in the ancient and excellent game of lacrosse; the illustrations, from photographs of a game between the varsity teams of Columbia and Pennsylvania, have a deal of "go" in them. "The Art of Camping," by Charles A. Bramble, is to be a series of practical articles, and the first two chapters appear in this number. "To Grand Lake by Team," by J. W. Copeland, relates a trip in a camping wagon in Colorado, and "The Athens World's Athletic Meet," by Milton E. Towne, and "The Camping Launch," by W. R. Bradshaw, are relatively of interest to followers of athletics and of boating.

—Crosby's Restaurant, 19 School street, Boston, is a good place to dine. tf

MORAVIAN PUDDING.

Pare and core half a dozen apples or enough to fill a small pudding dish. Make a syrup of one cup each of water and sugar, one teaspoon of lemon juice and a few gratings of the yellow peel; put in the apples and cook very carefully, turning over so that the cooking will be uniform and the apples remain whole. Place the apples in the pudding dish, fill centre of each with jam and boil the syrup down until it is quite thick, then pour over the apples. Put strips of the paste across the top in lattice fashion and lay one round the edge to give the top a finish, and cover ends of the strips. Bake until the paste is crisp, drop a candied cherry over spaces in the top and the pudding is ready to serve.

This is sort of a compromise between a pudding and a pie and the quality of the dish will depend largely upon the apples; those which cook quickly and have a subacid flavor are the best, although they easily over cook and fall to pieces if not watched. Test apples and potatoes when cooking with a small steel skewer and never with a silver fork, which will break them.

Rev. E. J. Young.

Dr. Edward J. Young, who was well known for over fifty years as a preacher and scholar, died last Sunday morning at his home, 519 Main street, Waltham, Mass., at the age of seventy-seven. He was born in Boston, April 1, 1829. He was the son of Dr. Alexander Young, formerly minister at the New South Church, which stood on Church Green, now at the centre of business in Summer street. He began his ministry in 1845. He studied in Harvard Divinity School, under Dr. Andrews Norton, the Dexter professor of sacred literature, whose chair was afterward occupied for eleven years by his son Edward, the subject of this notice. He, in the home of his father in Boston, throughout his childhood and early manhood was brought into close relations with Channing and his contemporaries and successors. The life of Boston in those days was unlike anything to be found now. The ministers knew each other familiarly, exchanged pulpits frequently, and enjoyed the freedom of social intercourse in their own houses and the houses of their parishioners and friends, which has been banished by business and what we call civilization.

Dr. Edward J. Young was graduated from the Chauncy Hall School in 1839, from the Boston Latin School in 1844, and from Harvard in 1848. During the next two years he was an usher in the Brimmer School and the Public Latin School, and prepared boys for advanced standing in college.

He attended Harvard Divinity School from 1850 to 1852, and then went to Germany, where he studied at the University of Goettingen and of Halle. He was there from 1852 to 1856.

Returning to this country in 1857, he became the pastor of the Channing Church, Newton, and served until 1869.

During the next eleven years he was Haneock professor of Hebrew, and Dexter lecturer of Biblical literature. From 1880 to 1892 he was pastor of the First Parish Church, Waltham, when he retired from active work.

In 1899 he was married in Newton to Mary C. Blake, who died Oct. 21, 1901. He inherited the scholarly, quiet tastes of his father and the traditions of conservative Unitarianism which gave to the early life of our churches in Boston a singular charm little appreciated in these days of hustling and bustling. Dr. Young was interested in all historical matters, and was expert in everything relating to the annals of New England and Unitarianism. He was a fellow of the American Academy, secretary of the Massachusetts Historical Society, a member of the American Oriental Society, and for several years was the president of the Society for the Promotion of Theological Education. For many years he was secretary of the Ministers' Club at Boston, composed of preachers and scholars representing four different denominations. While he held to the conservative side as a Unitarian theologian, he believed most heartily in the doctrine of liberty. When Andover became more liberal than it had been, he was asked why, with his many agreements with the Congregational theologians, he should not become one of their number. He replied that he would not sign a creed, no matter how liberal it was, and for that reason he preferred to stay where he was. Since his retirement from active service in a parish he has supplied many pulpits, and greatly enjoyed a life of leisure and scholarly employment. His interest in the human life around him was unbounded. Wherever he went, he immediately began to open relations with the people with whom his duties brought him into contact. His ministrations were, therefore, so personal that hundreds will miss his genial presence and ministrations.—The Christian Register.

Mr. Anthony Dead.

Mr. Andrew V. S. Anthony, aged 72, who had been employed both in Boston and New York as a wood engraver, died from heart trouble Monday morning while visiting his son-in-law, Dr. Henry P. Perkins, 30 Margin street, West Newton.

Mr. Anthony was one of the few remaining old time wood engravers. A score of years ago he was widely known among the wood engravers of Boston. With the decline of that method of engraving for illustrative purposes a number of years ago he removed to New York. Mr. Anthony had come to this city for a stay of a number of weeks with his son-in-law and family.

The funeral was held yesterday morning at Mt. Auburn. The remains were cremated.

Accident.

Mr. James J. Firth, employed as a driver of a milk wagon for Mr. Michael Shanahan of this place, fell from a westward bound electric car on Washington street, near Highland street, at 9 Monday evening and was badly injured. He sustained a dislocated shoulder and numerous cuts and bruises to his face and body. He was attended by City Physician E. R. Utley. The following day he was able to leave the station house.

Bad Fall.

While working high up on the four story building being constructed at the corner of Center and Richardson streets Monday afternoon, William Walk of Roxbury and Michael Farrar of this city, fell to the ground. Walk sustained a compound fracture of an arm, but Farrar escaped with only minor injuries. The men were attended by Dr. Butfield, after which they were removed to the Newton hospital. Later in the week Farrar practically recovered, but Walk, it is believed, will be confined to the hospital weeks. Both men were employed as masons.

Gowns Suits Skirts

Cleansed or Dyed

AND Refinished Properly
Replated Like New
New Goods Platted

Carpets Dyed Solid Colors

Many Wilton and Axminster Carpets become faded when very little worn. We have made a great success of dyeing them in Reds Greens Browns and solid colors.

Also PORTIERES DRAPERIES FURNITURE COVERINGS &c
 Lace Curtains Cleansed Blankets Cleansed and Rebound
 Turkish Rugs Cleansed in the Right Way
 Cloves Real Laces Ostrich Plumes and Ties Cleansed or Dyed as desired

LEWANDOS

CLEANSERS DYERS LAUNDERERS

17 Temple Place BOSTON 284 Boylston Street

Cambridge 1274 Massachusetts Avenue Roxbury 2206 Washington Street
Watertown 1 Galen Street (Delivery in the Newtons)TELEPHONES { 555 555 557 Oxford } Connect all Offices
{ 72 Newton North }

BUNDLES CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED IN BOSTON AND SUBURBS

THE
Henry F. Miller
Piano

Are highly prized because of their proven durability, lasting sweetness of tone and reliable actions.

Every instrument is absolutely guaranteed by the makers and permanent satisfaction is a certainty when once a HENRY F. MILLER PIANO is placed in the home.

Our prices are not high, but are the lowest offered for pianos of the best possible quality.

Where Quality is the desideratum,

we especially invite buyers to see and hear our NEW SCALE grands and uprights, and get our prices and terms.

Warerooms, 395 Boylston St.,
BOSTON.

Established 1863.

Always Under One Management.

WOODLAND PARK HOTEL

AUBURNDALE, MASS.

Rooms singly or en suite, with or without private bath.

Special Rates for the Winter Months.

FREDERICK WILKEY, Proprietor.

BOWN, NORRIS & CO.

HOUSE PAINTERS, DECORATORS AND PAPER HANGERS

Shop, 245 Washington St., Nonantum Block, Newton, Mass.

JOBBER PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO. Post Office Box 49.
Shop Tel. 175-3 Newton North. Residence Tel. 86-3 Newton North

Partridge

Photographer

and...

Frame Maker

Boston and Vicinity.

Newtonville Studio, Opposite Depot

BOSTON, 30 Huntington Ave.

BROOKLINE, 27 Harvard Street.

ROXBURY, 2832 Washington Street.

Tel. to all studios.
Newtonville Tel. No. 283-2 Newton North.

DEATH

It Will Kill All Your Bugs.
 We WARRANT it. Sold Everywhere. We Mail
 it for 50 Cents.

BARNARD & CO.,
 7 Temple Place, Boston

Pomroy Home for Orphan Girls

24 HOVEY ST., NEWTON

Depends entirely upon public support

Invites inspection

Solicits contributions of money, food, clothing

CHARLES A. HASKELL, Newton, President

OLIVER M. FISHER, Newton, Treasurer

WALL PAPERS

ALL GRADES OF

Imported and Domestic Papers

Retailing at Lowest Wholesale Prices

Low rent in the heart of the wholesale district enable us to sell our goods at 25 per cent. lower than any Wall Paper Store in Boston.

WM. MATTHEWS, Jr.

163 Milk St., Boston

Tel. 1139-1 Main

Lawyers.

LAW OFFICE.

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM.

WINFIELD S. SLOCUM.

City Solicitor of Newton.

Rooms 1103, 1104 Carney Bldg.,

43 Tremont St., BOSTON, MASS.

Residence, Newtonville.

E. E. WAKEFIELD, Jr.

Counselor at Law

BOSTON 6 Beacon St., Room 610

NEWTONVILLE 28 Austin St.

Tel. Hay. 1007

JOHN IRVING,

FLORIST

Flowers, House Plants, Funeral Designs

Flowers for Weddings and Parties.

Pearl St. - - - - - Newton

Telephone Connection

Police Paragraphs.

W. H. Furdon, George J. Hannon and Frank W. Lairivee have been appointed special policemen to serve until Dec. 31. Yesterday patrolmen A. M. Fuller, James Mullin, Quilty, Cronin, Farrell and Dalton left for a fortnight's vacation.

Police headquarters now has a mascot for the first time in several years. The animal is a playful brown French bulldog, which was found in Newton Lower Falls several days ago by patrolman Joseph Seaver. The animal was turned over to Capt. John Ryan. Unable to find an owner the police are holding the dog, which in the meantime is enlivening the routine at headquarters. Several days ago Capt. Ryan had the dog out for exercise when the animal espied a cat walking on a picket fence. The dog gave chase. As he cleared the fence he left his collar hanging on one of the pickets. The animal has become a great pet among the patrolmen.

Frederick Boiser of Knowles street, Newton Centre, was arraigned in the municipal court Monday on the charge of drunkenness and assault upon his wife, Emily. He pleaded not guilty to both counts. Dr. Anderson testified to having attended Mrs. Boiser and finding her body badly bruised. The case was continued until today to allow Boiser an opportunity to engage counsel and to secure a number of witnesses. On the charge of assault he was held in $800 bonds and on that of drunkenness in $300.

Little Abram Kligman, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Trackman of Pine street, West Newton, had a headache last week. It was caused by receiving a clip in the back of his head with a hammer. In the municipal court Monday Mrs. Fannie Connors, a neighbor, was fined $5 for doing the hitting.

The Trackman and Connors families have been neighbors for a number of years. Although a picket fence separates their yards the families occasionally get into disputes. Several times in the last year or two their troubles have been aired in the local court.

When Mrs. Connors was arraigned before Judge Kennedy Monday on a charge of assault with a hammer on the Trackman's little nephew some interesting testimony was brought out.

It showed that Mrs. Connors was in her own yard last Thursday engaged in knocking some of the pickets off the fence adjoining the Trackman residence. Little Abram Kligman stood on the other side watching her. Mrs. Connors' own little boy came out of the house after a short time and she told him to "go chase the Jew." Abram became frightened at this command and started to run. As he went past the fence Mrs. Connors, it was alleged, leaned over the obstruction and hit him a clip on the head.

When the boy appeared in court he had a big lump on his head. He told the court that he had "for two days such a headache." No one doubted his word.

Judge Kennedy gave Mrs. Connors a severe reprimand and imposed a fine of $5. She was represented by counsel, and although she was emphatic in her opinion that she should appeal from the fine she eventually took the advice of her lawyer and let it stand.

Mrs. Connors was then arraigned upon another serious charge, for which a fine of $20 was imposed. She was given until July 16 to pay.

For the second time within a few weeks Clarence Hogbroom, who says he is a chauffeur for Mr. George H. Chapman of Brookline, was arraigned Tuesday in court on a charge of overspeeding an automobile in this city. It was alleged by the police that the young man sent the machine around a curve on Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, at a rate of more than 17 miles an hour last Sunday. Testimony brought out the fact that when he was stopped by the police he told the latter that they did not know much about the automobile laws.

Judge Kennedy gave the young man a severe reprimand. He imposed a fine of $20. Hogbroom then said that he had been given only $10 with which to pay a possible fine.

Judge Kennedy gave him until Thursday to get the rest.

Vacation Schools.

The Nonantum Vacation School will be opened on Monday morning, July 9, at 8:30 o'clock in the Jackson School, Watertown Street, Nonantum. There will be a six weeks session of the school. The departments will be in charge of the following teachers:

Woodwork—Mr. Joseph E. Owens.
Basketry—Mr. M. Hollander, Miss Cora E. Bigelow.
Sewing—Mrs. S. L. Blue, Miss Grace P. Gillette.
COOKING—Miss Edith Hamilton, Miss Edith Emery.
Primary Class—Miss Helen V. Mason, Miss Amelia Gunther.
Kindergarten—Miss M. Louise Randall, Miss Nellie E. Terrell.
Games—Miss Mary V. McGrath.
Lillian A. Young, Supervisor.

Mrs. Robinson Dead.

Mrs. Cyrene Robinson, aged 74, widow of Thomas Robinson, died Monday morning at her late home, 146 Hammond street. Death came suddenly and was due to heart trouble. Mrs. Robinson was born in St. Stephen, New Brunswick, but had resided in this city for a number of years.

Mothers' Rest.

The branch home of the Mothers' Rest Association at Needham was on Saturday afternoon opened for the first time to the public. Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather a good sized delegation of residents of Newton Centre and vicinity inspected the latest quarters. The guests were informally received by a number of the officers of the association, and conducted over the building. The structure is a typical old time farmhouse, situated at the corner of High street and Glendale avenue, having plenty of room both inside and outside for the future occupants. The association members inspected numerous buildings in various localities before selecting this one, and the visitors Saturday were unanimous that a wise choice had been made.

Associated Charities.

The Associated Charities held its last meeting of the season on Thursday afternoon of last week. The only anticipated problem during the summer months is that of the widows and deserted wives thrown out of employment by the custom of so many families leaving town and closing their houses for the summer.

Men are very generally at work if they care to be. There was some discussion of the liabilities of employees in case of accidents. The president, Mr. Ensign, quoted a speaker at Commencement at Harvard, who argued that the amount of compensation should be graded by statute.

Mrs. E. W. Howe gave a very interesting account of the School Garden by the Social Science Club, and invited all present to visit the hundred little gardens laid out on the Potter lot on Jackson Road, and see for themselves what is being done. The hours devoted to the work are from 3 to 5 on Tuesday and Friday afternoons, the children coming in classes of twenty-five.

The secretary asked for contributions to her Emergency Fund.

Weed for Legislature.

Ex-Mayor Weed of Newton is coming to the legislature next year to take the place of Lowell in that city's delegation, and Newton people feel that he will prove a satisfactory man in every way. None of the Newton delegation in some years, with the exception of Sen. Dana, have been of the warm blooded variety, and it is not claimed that Mr. Weed has any special qualification in that line, but that seems to satisfy the Newton people and that after all is the main consideration.—Practical Politics.

Newton Centre Tennis

The club tournament of the Newton Centre squash tennis club is nearing the final round. Rivalry between the various contestants is keen. The tournament is attracting unusual interest among the members. In the singles two matches of the semi-final round were played off this week, as follows:

E. Ray Speare beat H. F. Wales, 10-8, 4-6, 6-4.
R. L. Dana beat T. B. Plimpton, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

In the first round of the doubles two matches were played, the winners being Wales and H. C. Johnson and Walworth and Parker. The scores were as follows:
Wales and H. C. Johnson beat C. F. Johnson and Dana, 11-9, 6-1.

Walworth and Parker beat Pratt and Plimpton, 2-6, 6-0, 8-6.

Canoe Parade

Thrice called off because of threatening weather, the last time on Wednesday afternoon, the long looked forward to floral parade of canoes on the Charles river was this week indefinitely postponed. On the last two Saturdays rain interfered with holding the parade, which was to start at Waltham and finish at Auburndale. The novel affair was finally set for the afternoon of the Fourth, and again arrangements were made by many of the regular devotees of canoeing to have picturesque craft in line. The parade was to have been under the auspices of the Canoeists' Illumination association.

It is now the intention of some of the most enthusiastic members of the organization to have the parade sometime in August. It is believed that it would do much toward a still farther development of interest in the sport. The boathouse owners are also anxious to have the affair take place.

On Wednesday afternoon someone posted a notice in the spirit of fun on one of the Auburndale boathouses announcing that the parade had been postponed until "Dec. 25." Some of the canoeists say they may be able to pick out a pleasant day by that time. Newton centre tennis Business follows the crowd. In other words, business makes business. Get the people coming to your store, whether it is to buy, to look, or only to ask for souvenirs. At all events, keep the store looking busy.

Newton.

—Mrs. E. L. Waitt is at Megansett for a few weeks.

—Mr. Charles Pike of Boyd street is confined by illness.

—Anything in the carpenter line by McLean. Tel. 384-4 N. 11

—Mr. Leslie Burgess is home from a visit with Holyoke friends.

—Mr. Charles Howell is seriously ill at his home on Faxon street.

—Miss Edith Wyman of Center street will pass the summer at Bar Harbor.

—Mr. D. H. Roblee is making arrangements to erect a garage on Brooks street.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Varney of Morse street have taken a cottage at Winthrop Beach for the summer.

—Prof. and Mrs. H. E. Clifford and family have opened their cottage at Megansett for the season.

—Mr. F. A. Bronkie, who resides in the Charlton, has returned from a brief visit with relatives at Manchester, Conn.

—George A. Coleman began his duties in a new position with the Bethlehem steel works at Eastman, Penn., on Monday.

—Misses Olive Forknall and Martha Audsley left Saturday for West Harswell, Me., where they will pass several weeks.

—Mrs. C. E. Eddy and family have returned to their home on Franklin street after a few weeks spent at East Gloucester.

—Mr. Donald Nicholson has returned from Brown University and will pass the summer with his parents on California street.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Towne of California street left this week for a trip of several weeks to the various lake resorts in Maine.

—Physical Instructor L. F. LaRose of the Y. M. C. A. has gone to Chicago, where he will spend a month's vacation as a guest of relatives.

—Misses W. S. Ball and her daughters, Misses Margaret and Adelaide Ball, of Tremont street, have gone to Auburn, Me., where they will pass the summer.

—The wedding is announced of Miss Ethel A. Fisher and Mr. Edgar F. Brackett at Providence. Both young people are well known here, where they formerly resided.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Fearing and their son, Graham, who reside at the corner of Park and Tremont streets, have gone to their summer home near Christmas Cove, Me., for the season.

—Mr. Leslie B. Wood of Pond avenue spent the Fourth in Brockton as a guest of his brother, Mr. Herbert Wood, a reporter on the Daily Enterprise of that city, who formerly resided in Newton.

—Miss May Ryan, one of the operators employed in the Newton North telephone exchange, left on Saturday afternoon for Fitchburg, where she will spend a two months' vacation with relatives.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Hubbard and family of Hollis street will go next week to Brant Rock for several weeks' vacation. Their daughter, Miss E. Florence Hubbard, recently returned from a visit to Philadelphia.

—Mr. Harry S. Johnson, who with Mrs. Johnson has been the guest of Mr. Frank G. L. Hadden of Tremont street for a few weeks, left Monday for his home in California. Mrs. Johnson will remain here for another month.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Parkhurst of Emerson street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

—Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Holmes and family have moved from Williams street where they have resided for some time, to Copley street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Newman, who were recently married, held their first "at home" on Monday evening at South Lunenburg, Vt., entertaining a large number of guests with an informal program. Mrs. Newman was formerly Miss Lillian F. Bennett.

—Miss Catherine Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Tucker of Church street, who was graduated from Vassar this season, has gone to Silver Bay, Lake George, N. Y., where she will attend the international college associations' convention as a delegate from her institution.

—Patrick McCarthy, the aged resident of Washington street, who attempted suicide last week by cutting his throat with a razor, is slightly improved at the Newton hospital. The quick work of the hospital physicians and nurses undoubtedly saved the aged man's life, for it is now thought that he will recover. Mr. McCarthy had become despondent because of long illness.

—A quiet wedding of two Brighton young people took place several days ago at the residence of Rev. George S. Butters, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, when Miss Annie D. Pardy became the bride of Mr. William J. Clark. Both resided for sometime on Montferm avenue, and the wedding came as a surprise to their friends. Miss Pardy is well known in this section.

Auburndale.

—Mr. C. A. Brown of Walcott street has taken a cottage at Plymouth for the summer months.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith have engaged the Russell cottage at Kearsarge, N. H., for the vacation season.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Newell and family are now sojourning at their cottage at Fishers Island, N. Y.

—Miss Alice Hayes of Framingham is visiting relatives here for several weeks, having arrived on Monday.

—Mr. and Mrs. John D. Lamond and family of Woodbine street have gone to Manomet for the remainder of the summer.

—Mr. M. M. Holsworth, who has been passing a few weeks visiting various points of interest, returned to Auburndale on Monday.

—Principal C. C. Bragdon of Lasell will remain in Auburndale throughout the summer. He plans to return again to California shortly after the reopening of the seminary in the early autumn.

CROQUET

THE ever popular family recreation, especially the vogue this year. Naturally our assortment of croquet sets is most complete and attractive. We have sets for the novice and the expert; for the tiniest yard and the broad lawn of the summer residence.

We invite you to select from the finest stock in the city.

$1.50 AND MORE

A FULL LINE OF KODAKS AND ALL SUPPLIES

J. B. HUNTER & CO.

60 Summer Street BOSTON, MASS.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. P. B. Fiske and family left town on Monday for York Beach, Me., where they will remain throughout the season.

—Mrs. George P. Baldwin, Mr. H. A. Pemberton and Miss Gladys Pemberton left this week for Menanaut, where they will pass the rest of the summer.

—Through a request of the church committee of the Auburndale Congregational society the resident clergymen of the church have arranged to respond to calls for pastoral service, such as up on the sick, attendance at funeral services, etc., while the society is without a permanent pastor. This committee includes Revs. E. E. Strong, F. N. Peloubet and S. W. Dike.

—The Congregational society has made an estimate that the expenses of the society the present year will aggregate $7000. As there are no rentals of pews in this church this sum will be met by weekly pledges.

—Last Sunday saw one of the largest crowds of canoeists on the Charles river here this season. A remarkable feature of the day was the fact that although the crowd was an exceptionally large one there was not one accident reported. It was something unusual to have no one seek the drying facilities of the Metropolitan park police station at Weston bridge. The quick work of the park police in several instances saved inexperienced canoeists from tipovers, however.

—Miss Jennie F. Williams is visiting relatives in Salem for several weeks.

—Miss A. Kathleen Gillis, one of the nurses at the Newton hospital, on Monday left for a two weeks' vacation which she will spend with relatives in Nova Scotia.

—While riding a bicycle on Woodbine street Monday afternoon Arthur Littlefield of Wellesley collided with a baker's wagon and was thrown. He sustained numerous cuts and bruises but was soon able to proceed home. He lost control of the machine while riding at a fast clip and ran into the rear end of the wagon.

—The adjourned annual meeting of the Driving and Automobile club of Greater Boston was held last Saturday afternoon at the Auburndale inn. Owing to the rainstorm there were but about a dozen members present. Little other business than the annual election of officers took place, the following being chosen: Mr. William H. Hutton pres., Mr. Herbert A. Kenney sec. and Mr. Benjamin Dellham treas. After the business session the members enjoyed a social hour and luncheon.

Newton Centre.

—Postmaster George H. Morpan's family will go next week to Brant Rock for a stay of several weeks.

—The Bartlett residence on Sumner street has been closed, the family having left for several weeks' vacation.

—Mr. Arthur W. Rayner of Lake avenue left this week for Europe where he will pass the summer making a business trip.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Merrill and family of Lake terrace this week opened their cottage at Craigville, Cape Cod, for the rest of the season.

—Letter Carrier M. J. Barry of the main postoffice left on Monday for a fortnight's vacation which with his family he will spend at Peterboro, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Richardson and family have moved from Knowles street to Wellesley, after having lived here a little more than a year.

—Union church services for the Congregational, Methodist Episcopal and Baptist societies were inaugurated here last Sunday. Services were held in the Baptist church. The sermon was preached by Rev. L. J. Birney. There was a large congregation.

P. P. ADAMS'

Big Dry Goods Department Store

Summer Goods

Latest Styles Popular Prices

Ladies' Waists

Blue Chambray Peter Pan Waists 75c
White Lawn Peter Pan Waists $1.00
White Madras " " 1.25
White Linen " " 2.50
White Linen, Pink or Blue Collars and Cuffs Peter Pan Waists.....2.50
Black and White Check.....1.50
White Lawn Polka Dot Collar and Cuffs Peter Pan Waists.....1.25
New white lawn lace insertion button back and short sleeves 1.00
New white lawn lace insertion embroidered front waists.....1.50
New black lawn lace insertion and embroidery.....1.25
Small lot Mohair and Panama Waists to close at.....1.25

Kimonas and

Dressing Sacques

Figured Muslin Short Kimonos 39c, 50c
White lawn Short Kimonos.....$1.00
Figured Muslin Dressing Sacques.....50c
Figured Muslin long Kimonos.....69c
Fancy Crepe long Kimonos.....1.98

Children's Dresses

Girls gingham Dresses, ages 2 to 5 years.....25c, 39c
Girls gingham, chambray and percale Dresses ages 4 to 12 years.....$1.00
Girls Chambray Dresses ages 6 to 12 years.....1.25

Ladies' Wrappers

and Wash Suits

New figured Muslin Wrappers.....75c
New Black and White Check.....$1.00
New Cadet Percale.....1.25
New Check House Dress.....1.00
New white ground.....1.00
New Cadet.....1.25
New white lawn Shirt Waist Suit.....2.50
New white lawn Shirt Waist Suit.....3.98
New white lawn Shirt Waist Suit.....6.98
New Blue Chambray Shirt Waist Suit.....3.98
New Linen Lawn Shirt Waist Suit.....3.98
New Gingham Shirt Waist Suit.....2.98
New White Linen Eton Suit.....3.98
New White Linen Pony.....4.98
New White Linen Prince Chap.....4.98

Ladies' Dress Skirts

New Black and Navy Panama Skirts.....$9.98
New Black, Navy and Grey Sicilian Skirts.....5.98
Small lot Black, Navy and Grey Mohair Skirts.....2.98
New Cream Mohair Skirts.....2.98
New Grey Panama and Sicilian Skirts.....4.98
Misses Black and Navy Mohair Skirts.....2.98
Ladies white Duck and Linen Skirts.....1.25
Ladies white linen Skirts $1.98, 2.98, 3.98

Ladies' Petticoats

Good quality Gingham.....50c
Best A. F. C. Gingham.....69c
Best white Seersucker.....$1.00
Good black Mercerized.....75c
Good black Mercerized.....$1.00
Extra black Mercerized.....1.50
Good black Heatherbloom.....1.98
Best black Heatherbloom.....2.98
Best Taffeta Silk.....4.98

Ladies' Outing Suits

New Grey Plaid Panama Prince Chap Suits.....$18.50
New Grey Plaid Panama Eton Suits.....17.50
New Taffeta Silk Eton Suits.....27.50
Small lot Taffeta Silk Shirt Waist Suits.....6.98
New Black and Navy Panama Suits.....17.50
New Grey Eton Suits.....12.98

Ladies' Coats

Covert Coats.....$3.98 to $12.98
Silk Coats.....4.98 to 18.98
Grey Mix Coats.....3.98 to 9.98
Black Coats.....4.98 to 12.50
32 inch Mohair Coats.....9.98
Crevette Rain Coats.....9.98

Children's Coats

200 Girls Coats ages 2 to 12 years.....$1.25 to $9.98

LEGAL STAMPS GIVEN WITH EACH PURCHASE

We pay $2.50 in goods or $2.00 cash for each full book of Legal Stamps. Come and see for yourself. Money refunded if not satisfied.

P. P. ADAMS

133-135-137-139 Moody Street WALTHAM

Better than any other.
Different than any other.
Richer than any other.
More food value than any other.
Is it any wonder that Creamalt is the favorite bread of Greater Boston?

Fresh every day at your grocers.

The Geo. G. Fox Co.
BOSTON

Newton Centre.

—Mr. Philip Brackett of Hillsboro terrace left last Saturday for a fortnight's sojourn at Chatham.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. Newton N. 112-3.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Goddard of Beacon street are at the Sunset Hill House, Sugar Hill, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fearnside and family of Homer street have returned from a visit at Jaffrey, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Coolidge and family of Grey Cliff road have opened their residence at Magnolia for the summer.

—Alderman E. B. Bowen and family sail on the Ivernia next Tuesday, for a two months automobile tour of England and the continent.

—Mr. Charles F. Breitza of Langley road has moved to New York and has taken up his duties as assistant engineer on the board of water supply.

—Mrs. E. D. Burr and children of Beacon street have opened their summer home at Peterboro, N. H. Rev. Dr. Burr will join his family later.

—Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity church, will preach next Sunday at the Nahant church where the summer colony of that North shore resort worships.

—Mrs. E. D. Hopkins and Miss Alice C. Hopkins are passengers sailing tomorrow on the steamer Romanic to attend the Christian endeavor convention held July 28 at Geneva.

—Dr. Henry Waters this week left his position as house surgeon at the Newton hospital and began his new duties here. He will hereafter practice in conjunction with Dr. May.

—Miss Dorothy Williams is visiting Miss Edna Stevens of Wellesley Hills, who formerly resided on Summer street. The past few months Miss Stevens has been attending the Whittier school at Merrimac.

—A baseball game scheduled for Wednesday morning on the Newton A. A. grounds between the All Newtons and the Watertowns was called off on account of rain, much to the disappointment of a large number of fans.

—Services at the new Mothers' Rest Home, Highlandville, will be conducted on Sunday, July 8th at 4 P. M. by the Rev. E. D. Burr. There will be special music, and it is hoped that many may avail themselves of the cordial invitation to attend.

—Rev. Dr. E. D. Burr delivers a lecture on "The Two Lord Baltimore and the Founding of Maryland," in the Old South Meeting House, Boston, in the course held Wednesday afternoons during July and August.

—Mrs. Fanny Kellogg Bachert, a former well known singer who a few years ago retired to private life in New York, has been passing a few days here as a guest of Mrs. Frederick Ayer. Mrs. Bachert will soon leave for Marblehead, where she will pass the rest of the summer.

—A valuable Boston terrier owned by Mr. E. J. Smith of Lake avenue is missing. The dog had been taken to the home of a friend, Mr. E. S. Drowne of Somerville, a few days ago, and on Tuesday it disappeared. It is thought that the animal ran away because it was anxious to get back to its home here.

—Early last Sunday morning a severe rainstorm caused a number of washouts in numerous side streets running on a grade in this section. On Saturday afternoon the storm broke off a large limb of a tree on Parker street near Ridge avenue. For some time the limb hung on a slender electric wire, until it was removed for fear that it would fall and injure someone.

—Rain put no damper on the successfulness of the annual picnic of the Unitarian Sunday school pupils, held last Saturday afternoon. It had been planned to have the affair in the woods at "Coach's cave," between Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill, but owing to the rainstorm the scene was shifted to the entertainment rooms of the church. Fourteen poor children from Rev. Mr. McDaniels' parish, Boston, were guests of the local little folk, and the visitors were royally entertained. The program included speaking, singing, games and refreshments. A game of indoor baseball was one of the features. In the basement hammocks were provided. The picnic was one of the most novel ones ever held here. The arrangements were in charge of the Sunday school teachers and Rev. Mr. Brown, the pastor.

Newton Highlands

—Kenneth S. May is enjoying a vacation at Buttonwood, N. H.

—Mr. H. H. Cummings and family are summering at Moultonville, N. H.

—Mrs. Dr. Guiler has been visiting friends at Philadelphia, Pa.

—Mr. Glazier of Winchester street is visiting at Westboro, Mass.

—Mrs. L. Boyd of Allerton road is at Baileys Island, Maine, for a few weeks.

—Miss Pritchett and Miss Keiser of Lakewood road are in Philadelphia, Pa.

—Officer Otis W. Gray is again on duty after enjoying his annual vacation.

—Miss Florence Ogden of Fisher avenue left this week for the Isles of Shoals.

—On account of the showery weather our village was rather a quiet place the fourth.

—Mr. Charles A. Marsh of Pawtucket, R. I., is visiting at his home on Lake avenue.

—Mrs. S. J. Kendrick of Lake avenue is visiting relatives at Woodford's, Maine.

—Mrs. Robbins and family of Lake avenue will spend the summer months in Maine.

—Mr. Charles R. Marsters returned home this week from a month's trip to Nova Scotia.

—Mr. and Mrs. Austin Saunders of Kimball terrace are in Dublin, N. H., for a few weeks.

—Miss Nellie of Walnut street has returned home from Scituate where she spent her vacation.

—Mr. Geo. H. Wooley and family of Hyde street are in the White Mountains for a few weeks vacation.

—The property numbered 38 Bowdoin street has been transferred from Annie M. McKenzie to George A. Watkins.

—Mrs. R. Whight and Miss Mabel Greenwood of Centre street are spending their vacation at Peaks Island, Maine.

—Mr. G. R. Masters of Boston has taken the King house on Lake avenue corner of Hyde street for the summer.

—Mr. H. M. Briscoe and family of Lake avenue left Saturday for a few weeks stay at North Woodstock, N. H.

—Don't forget to take flowers to the Railroad station every Tuesday morning between 8.30 and 8.45 for the Flower Mission.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. 112-3. Leave calls with H. S. Hiltz, Elton station. Tel. Newton S. 212-40.

—Mr. Lamphier and family of Walnut street are in Atlantic City, N. J., this week, later they will visit Chicago and return home in about two weeks.

—The family of C. B. Lentell, roadmaster of the B. & A. R. R., leave today for Cottage City where they will occupy their private residence for the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Borden of New Bedford who have been visiting Mrs. Borden's mother Mrs. Crane on Lake avenue have returned to their home.

—Mr. T. J. Bowes who has been an assistant at the railroad station for the past year has taken a similar position at Ashland, Mass. Mr. Frank Griffin of Holliston takes Mr. Bowes place.

—Mrs. E. P. Hooker who has been the guest of Mrs. Robbins of Forest street left this week for Middlebury, Vermont. Miss E. B. Hooker of Plymouth, N. H., is spending her vacation with Mrs. Robbins.

—Mrs. Louisa Pierce Barnes died Tuesday morning last at her home on Centre street after a long illness. Funeral services were held at her late residence yesterday afternoon and the interment was in the Newton Cemetery. Rev. E. D. Burr conducting the funeral services.

Auburndale.

—Mr. A. H. Wiggins and family are at Cushing, Mass., for the summer.

—Miss Helen Williams is visiting relatives in Newburyport, having left here on Wednesday.

—Mr. Harry Lawrence is entertaining Mr. Joseph L. Converse of North Adams for a week.

—Miss Helen M. Leighton left Tuesday for a visit of several weeks with relatives in Holyoke.

—Miss Jones of the Newton hospital office staff left Tuesday for a week's vacation with friends in Melrose.

—Mrs. Harry Wilson and Miss Annie F. Dixon of 82 Crescent street sail July 10th on the steamship Ivernia for a three months sojourn in England.

—Prof. Amos R. Wells, accompanied by Mrs. Wells and Miss Elizabeth Wells, sail tomorrow on the Romanic from Boston to attend the second world's convention of the Christian Endeavor to be held at Geneva, July 28. Rev. F. E. Clark will preside.

—The field meeting of the Appalachian Mountain Club is being held this week at the Crawford House, White Mountains. Auburndale has three representatives, Mr. Frank E. Morse and Mr. Walter R. Kattelle from Saint's Rest and Mr. E. G. Chamberlain from the opposite section of the village. Other parts of Newton are also represented.

—An unknown dog was found in the Auburndale freight yards Thursday morning with both hind legs crushed, having been run over by a train. The police went to the yards to bury the animal, but found that a brakeman had put the dog out of misery and buried it. The latter said that when he found the dog a little Boston terrier, which had been seen a few hours before playing with it was licking its wounds.

Upper Falls.

—Mr. Alec Dresser of High street, who has been to Peaks Island, Me., has returned much benefited by his trip.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Churchill, watchmaker, from Waltham have moved into Mr. Howes' house on High street, formerly occupied by Mrs. Currie.

—Richard, the 7 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Meskell of Newton Upper Falls, died Friday at the Newton hospital. The burial was in Newton Cemetery the following day.

—Mrs. Ella Jordan of Portland, and Miss Jordan, who have been in New York visiting the past two weeks, have been the guests of Mrs. Jordan's father, Mr. Joshua W. Sawyer of High street.

—Mr. Robert Jordan, who finished his course of study at Pratt's Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y., and is returning to his home in Portland, was the guest of his grandfather last week, Mr. J. W. Sawyer of High street.

—The house on Oak street, the former home of Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Sherman, now of Eastport, Me., has been sold to Mr. William Warren, of Chestnut street, who will move his family into it after some repairs are made.

—The many friends of Mr. L. P. Everett and young daughter Madeline, who have been seriously ill the past two months have gone to Wells Beach, Me. Miss Grace Sawyer, Mrs. Everett's sister, will remain with them during their stay.

—Rev. O. W. Scott and Mrs. Scott have gone to Northfield for the month of July. Rev. Mr. King will fill his place on next Sunday. Services will be held in the schoolhouse through July and August, while the church is being repaired.

—In spite of frequent showers all day, the Fourth was quite lively, if the noise of cannon and fire crackers make it so, for there was a continuous banging all day and the night before. It cleared off at five in the afternoon, making it all right for the display of Japanese lanterns illuminations and fireworks in many places in the village.

Waban.

—Mr. Vico Isola of Beacon street left last week for a summer camp.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Spencer and son Roland went last week Saturday to Rockport, Mass.

—Mr. Lewis H. Bacon of Chestnut street returned this week from a short trip in New Hampshire.

—Mr. W. H. Gilmore and family of Crofton road left last Saturday for Squam Lake where they will spend the summer.

—Mr. Wm. McConnell and family took possession of their recently completed bungalow on Pine Ridge road, last week.

—Mr. L. W. Luellian is occupying the J. H. Pillsbury house on Beacon street during the building of his new residence on Carlton road.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. 112-3. Leave calls at Rhodes' Drug store. Tel. Newton S. 237-3.

—Rev. Wm. Hall Williams, formerly rector here, arrived in Boston from Fort Worth, Texas, last Friday. He has accepted a parish at Hingham for the summer.

—Miss Sibyl Stone of Nehoiden road went Wednesday night with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Hill, formerly of Waban, to Monhegan, Me.

—Mr. W. M. Buffum of Beacon street and Mr. Howard W. Lamkin of Chestnut street, members of the First Corps Cadets, leave Friday for the annual encampment at Hingham.

—The Rev. Mr. Harding of St. Mark's church, Philadelphia, preached at the Church of the Good Shepherd last Sunday morning a powerful sermon on "the true charity." Next Sunday the last service until the first of September will be held.

—An excellent exhibition of fireworks was given on the Pine Ridge road field in the evening, purchased by subscriptions among the east siders. During the display the H. R. Stetson's kept open house and some sixty friends enjoyed the rockets and bombs from the piazza. Punch was served.

—In spite of the inclement weather the married men's ball game was played on the morning of the Fourth on the Plainfield street field. The game was close but neither as exciting or humorous as last year's. The monotony was broken once by a wonderful one-handed running catch by Crain in left field which took the crowd. The final score stood 12-10, Oakes' team winning. Batteries: The Warbuns, Boson and Comer, The Waybuns, Lane (Walker) and Merrill.

Boy Lost.

Tony Tosno, living at 35 Cottage place, West Newton, reported this morning that his nine-year-old boy disappeared from home at 4 P. M. yesterday and has not been seen since. He asked the police to assist in the search for the lad. When last seen the boy wore a light suit and small, black cap.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Murphy of Wildwood avenue, West Newton, are parents of a 12-pound boy, born yesterday. Last evening a number of West Newton friends presented Mr. Murphy with a loving cup.

Mr. James E. Levesque, aged 63, died Wednesday after a long illness at his home, 99 Dally street. The funeral took place today, the burial being in Calvary Cemetery at Waltham.

One of 57 Sizes

Just add a little coal and it serves

SMITH & THAYER CO.
234-236 Congress Street
BOSTON, MASS.
N. Y. Office, Flatiron Bldg.

In Memoriam.

Mr. Amos C. Judkins of Central avenue, Newtonville, died on June 4, after a short illness at the Newton Hospital. Deceased was a native of Norway, Maine, where he was born 69 years ago. In 1866 he came to Boston and established himself in the wagon business, continuing in the same about 34 years. Six years ago, he changed to easier business in which he continued till his death.

During the 31 years he had lived in Newtonville, many changes had been wrought in that section of the city. Always ready with his time, money, strength and energy, he has done more perhaps for the improvement of his ward than any other one man. During the hard working years of which the Congregational church stands as a record, he was one of the building committee, doing good work as such, and also rendering valuable aid in the necessary negotiations of church property. He was the first man who paid on the spot his contribution towards the money for the church lot. His pledge towards the first thousands that assured the beginning of the building, was as promptly paid. Through his energy the uninviting section of land on Crafts street was converted into the fine residential quarter it now is. It was through his contribution and his soliciting of others that we have the foot bridge over the railroad.

In his youth, as a strong, ambitious, kind hearted, country boy, he early became the staff of a feeble father, which devotion was never lessened until his father died in his arms. When he made a home for himself, he gave to those dear to him, a beautiful devotion, born of unselfishness, willing self sacrifice and the purest love. Truly is the home of his loved ones left unto them desolate. He leaves a widow and one daughter, both of whom were in Europe ready to sail for home at the time of his death. The remains were placed in the receiving vault at the Newton cemetery until his family returned from abroad. The funeral services were held June 24 at the Cemetery chapel.

NO BLANKS IN VERMONT.

Every Visitor Draws a Prize in the Shape of a Brown Complexion and Renewed Health.

"No summer visitor to Vermont draws a blank," writes an enthusiastic admirer of the Green Mountain State who is passing the summer at St. Albans Bay, on Lake Champlain.

"Every stranger within her gates who perseveres is certain to secure a mild meerschaum brown complexion; to experience rare enjoyment in doing nothing or everything except deep-sea fishing, and to go home with a storage battery fully recharged with ozone. One ticket—a Central Vermont excursion ticket—admits to the combined shows, and all who desire can remain to witness the state's autumn glories, which bring to a close the season's varied attractions. Do not forget the date and place—this summer and Vermont. For further particulars see or write T. H. Hanley, New England passenger agent, Central Vermont Ry., 360 Washington st., Boston.

Union Services.

Union services of the Baptist, Unitarian and Congregational churches of West Newton will be held during July and August in the Baptist and Congregational churches. In the Congregational church on July 22, July 29 and Aug. 19th and 26th with preaching by Rev. E. H. Harrington D. D., Rev. Julian C. Jaynes, Rev. Edward S. Tead, and one speaker to be announced, and at the Baptist church on Aug. 5 and 12th with Rev. Henry J. Patrick D. D. and Rev. H. M. King D. D. of Providence as the ministers.

Telephone Connection

Henry F. Cate,
Successor to STEPHEN F. CATE,
Undertaker.

Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable
Washington and Chestnut Streets,
West Newton.

WE WANT YOU

TO DO Business WITH US

Baker & Humphrey

(Successors to Henry N. Baker)
ALL KINDS OF INSURANCE
12 PEARL STREET, BOSTON
Telephone (Main 3843
Newton No. 192-2

Fire Insurance

Rowe & Porter
12 Central Street,
BOSTON,
Tel. Main 1321-2

WARD'S WRITING PAPER
AND ENVELOPES
BLANK BOOKS
LEATHER GOODS
SAMUEL WARD CO.
57-63 Franklin St. BOSTON

P. E. WALTNER & CO.

Tailors
Franklin Bldg., 17 Milk Street
Near Washington
BOSTON

New Spring Styles
Low Prices
Large Assortment
P. E. Waltner for the last several years head cutter for W. C. Brooks.

RUSSIAN IMPORTING COMPANY
are showing a handsome line of articles suitable for Wedding Gifts, not only in copper, brass, bronze, and silver, but also an unusual assortment of hand-made drawn work linen, which is not to be duplicated in this country.

355-357 Boylston St. Boston,
Tel. 2481-4 Back Bay
KRANICH & BACH PIANOS took gold medal at Mechanics Fair in Boston in 1897 and '98 on their unequalled uprights and grands. Finest tone and best to wear. Also the first class H. W. Berry and fine Keller & Sons. Special bargains on slightly used Kranich & Bachs. Also second hand pianos at low prices. Also the finest Small Miniature Kranich & Bach Grand. Terms easy and prices reasonable. H. W. BERRY, No. 646 Washington street, Boston.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.
MIDDLESEX, SS.
To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Peter Martin late of Newton in said County, deceased.
WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by George J. Martin and Rose Elizabeth Dunphy who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executors therein named, without giving a surety on their official bond.
You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-fourth day of July A. D. 1906 at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be on one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, CHARLES J. McINTIRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this fifth day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.
F. M. ESTY, Asst. Registrar.

PEARMAN & BROOKS

Members of the Boston and New York Stock Exchanges
Stock and Bond Brokers.
Orders by Mail Promptly Executed
Correspondence Solicited
STOCK EXCHANGE BUILDING
SUMNER B. PEARMAIN
Good Bonds and Mortgages on hand for immediate delivery
53 STATE ST. BOSTON
L. LORING BROOKS

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

Reading Room

VOL. XXXIV.—NO. 42.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1906.

TERMS, $2.00 A YEAR.

A HIGH GRADE GENUINE

CIDER VINEGAR

Telephone 972, Richmond

HAYNES-PIPER CO. INC., 17 Lewis Wharf, BOSTON, MASS.

of known purity, made exclusively by us, and in the largest and most modern cider and vinegar plant in New England.
New England Agents for "Duffy's 1842" Apple Juice sold in pints and quarts by the Best Grocers.

JOHN ALDEN FLOUR

INSPIRES CONFIDENCE THE MOMENT YOU SEE THE PACKAGE — IT LOOKS JUST RIGHT.
INSIDE THE BARREL OR SACK YOU WILL FIND A SPECIAL LINING AND INSIDE THIS,
JOHN ALDEN FLOUR
LOOKING EVEN BETTER THAN ITS PROTECTIVE COVERS.

IT IS YOUR DUTY TO YOURSELF TO ASK YOUR GROCER
FOR THIS FLOUR.

Back Bay Veterinary Hospital

332 NEWBURY ST., BOSTON
THE BEST ORDERED AND EQUIPPED HOSPITAL FOR ANIMALS IN BOSTON
Operations a Specialty
Outside calls given prompt attention. Animals boarded during the summer months.
JAMES WILLIAM TOBIN, M. D. V.
Successor to LYMAN & LYMAN
Telephones: Hospital, 2200 Back Bay
Residence, 2747-3 Back Bay
163 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston

FERGUSON'S
WHITE SEAL
BREAD
A Triumph
in Modern Bread Making
Made of the finest flour and pure, rich milk, in a modern, sanitary bakery. You will notice
The Real
Old Home Flavor
J. G. & S. S.
FERGUSON
853 to 869 ALBANY ST.
BOSTON

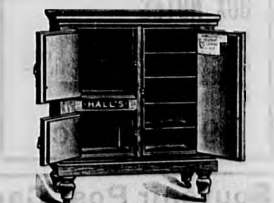

NATIONAL HORSE & CARRIAGE MART
JUNCTION 6th, MAIN AND HARVARD STS.
CAMBRIDGEPORT
HORSES and PONIES For Sale or Exchange
FINE CARRIAGES, HARNESS and SADDLERY For Horses and Ponies
at Prices Never Before Quoted for the Quality
PONY TEAMS A SPECIALTY
All Newton Cars by Harvard Square pass Mart
MOSES COLMAN & SON
Tel. 1603-3 Cambridge

A. B. Turner & Co. Brookline Riding Academy
INVESTMENT BONDS.
Real Estate Mortgages Placed.
24 MILK STREET,
BOSTON.

VILLAGE SQUARE, BROOKLINE
Tel. 1270 Brookline
Open from 8 A. M. to 6 P. M. for Riding and Leaping Lessons and Military Drills
Ladies Taught Either on
Side Saddle or Cross Saddle
First-class saddle horses to let by the hour, day and month; horses boarded and trained.
R. CLASEN, Proprietor.
G. LEGRADY, Instructor.

CARBONOL

FOR
BROWN TAIL MOTH ITCH
Carbonol diluted with water allays the irritation and cures the eruption caused by the Brown Tail Moth.
Ask Your Druggist for It.
25c., 50c., 75c. per bottle, $1.50 per gal.

HALL'S REFRIGERATORS
37 sizes with Slate Shelves in Oak and soft wood. Sautary and cleanable removable pipe, trap, ice rack and shelves.
Pure, cold, dry air. Needs the least amount of ice. Always up-to-date.
Over 35 years' experience building refrigerators.
When you buy insist upon having the "HALL."
Catalogue Free
A. D. HALL & SON
Manufacturers
Charlestown District, Boston, Mass.
Telephone Connection

AUTO-MOBILE
Mud Guards, Hoods, Gasoline Tanks and all Sheet Metal Work used in connection with Automobiles.
Promptness with reasonable prices
guaranteed.
E. B. BADGER & SONS CO.
63-75 Pitts St., Boston, Mass.

HALL CLOCKS
PRATT
53 Franklin Street, Boston

Newton.

—Let McLean figure on your hard wood floors. Tel. 384-4 N.
—Miss Charlotte H. Barnes of Boyd street was confined by illness for several days this week.
—Automobile trunks a specialty at John A. Mason's, 312 Washington street.
Tel. 187-2 North.
—Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hall of Waverly avenue went to Beach Bluff last week for a month's stay.
—Mr. Herbert Whitcomb of Center street left this week for Megansett, where he will remain for several weeks.
—Mr. James H. Maher has returned to New York after a visit to his parents.
Mr. and Mrs. James Maher of Washington street.
—Mr. Henry F. Wellington and family of Newtonville avenue left this week for Bridgton, Me., where they will spend the next fortnight.
—Mr. Kirk W. Hobart of Sargent street left last week for North Hadley, Quebec, where he will spend a vacation
of a number of weeks.
—Mr. A. W. Rees and Mr. Wilfred J.
Bernier have purchased the provision business of Wellington Howes & Co at 400 Centre street. These young men are well known in the city and their numerous friends wish them success in their new venture.
—Mr. Austin M. Beattie of New York is visiting his cousin, Mrs. J. B. Ward of Emerson street. Mr. Beattie is a member of the quartet which has been making such a furor in David Belasco's new play, "The Girl from the Golden West."
—Mr. Alvin R. Bailey of Richardson street has been elected secretary of the Veteran Association of the Fifth Massachusetts Regiment for the ensuing year.
This regiment was one of the first to respond to Lincoln's call for troops in April, 1861. The new officers were elected at a reunion held in Wakefield.

Business Locals.

We have ideas in decoration that are at once novel and artistic and will cost no more than the commonplace. Hough & Jones Co., Newton, Painting, Decorating and Upholstering.

SHORT & GRAHAM Undertakers

431 CENTRE STREET
NEWTON
Tel. Newton No. 105-1
Competent person in attendance day and night. Lady Assistant.

MISS MacCONNELL
(Formerly with Madame May & Co.)
ELECTRO TONIC FACE TREATMENT.
Manicuring, Chiropody, Shampooing,
Toilet Articles.
Moles, Warts and superfluous hair removed Parlor: Newton Bank Building, Room H.
Tel. 848-2.
'KRAKAUER.'
A Piano with a Human Voice.
'BEHNING.'
Models of the Piano Makers' Art.
LINCOLN & PARKER.
211 Tremont Street, up one flight.
opp. Hotel Touraine, Boston.

ANTIQUE FURNITURE
Old China, Engravings, Books, Etc.
Bought for Cash
OLD CURIOSITY SHOP
526 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge.
Telephone 854-2. L. LEMON.

PENSIONS
SPANISH WAR VETERANS
Who have incurred disease or injury in the service and line of duty, and the widows of the same who have died as a result of disease or injury incurred in the service should call or write to ELMER C. RICHARDSON, authorized Pension Agent, 37 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

SUMMER COMFORTS

With the Electric Flat
Iron you can do your ironing in any room in the house without raising the temperature of the room.
Because it is heated internally by Electricity, it is free from dirt of whatever character.

Economical Simple Convenient

We leave you two weeks' trial without any obligation whatever on your part to buy.

Electrical Dept.
N. & W. Gas Light Co.

Newton.

—Miss Pickles' permanent address will be 38 Thornton street.
—Mrs. W. H. Short and son are at Whalom Lake, Leominster, for the remainder of the month.
—Mrs. A. S. Heard and Miss Heard of Waverly avenue are spending the summer at Temple, N. H.
—Mr. and Mrs. George O. Almy of Jefferson street left yesterday for several weeks' stay at Green Harbor beach.
—Rev. A. L. Hudson of Channing church was a speaker at the Unitarian conference this week at the Isle of Shoals.
—Rev. Henry P. Dewey of the Pilgrim church, Brooklyn, will preach at the morning service at 10.30 at the Eliot church Sunday.
—Mr. and Mrs. Louis M. Alexander of Boyd street are the parents of a son, born Thursday. Both mother and baby are doing well.
—The one-day old daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. James McConnell of this city died Sunday. The burial was in the Newton cemetery Monday.

Schley - Rowe.

The recent wedding in this city of two residents of Gowanda, N. Y., both physicians in the state hospital at that place, became known Wednesday by the return of a marriage license.
The groom was Dr. Robert M. Schley, who was born in Atlanta, Ga., a son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Schley of that city. The bride was Dr. Alice E. Rowe, who was born in Worcester, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rowe.
The ceremony was performed June 28 by Rev. Jay T. Stocking, pastor of the Central Congregational church at Newtonville.
The license states that the groom is 29 years old and the bride is 42. Neither have been married before. It is stated that the two physicians had been engaged for sometime, and as both had occasion to be in the vicinity of Boston recently, they took advantage of the opportunity to come out to Newton and be married.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Messrs. Alfred W. Rees and Wilfred
J. Bernier have opened a new store at 400 Centre St., Newton, under the firm name of REES & BERNIER.
They will carry a full line of Groceries, Provisions, Meats, Fish and Oysters, and Fruit and Vegetables.
Both are well known in Newton and have had years of experience in the market business. Customers will receive the best of attention.

TO LET NEWTON

10 room colonial residence situated on a first-class street, convenient to everything.
Hardwood floors and open plumbing. Stable and several thousand feet of land.
Rent $70.00
11 room house on Hunnewell Hill, all improvements. Would make a beautiful home for anyone. Rent $85.00
8 room single house with all improvements.
Laundry in basement. In a capital location.
Rent $37.50
2 modern flats in first-class locations very convenient to electric, stores, etc. Hardwood floors and open plumbing, rent each $30 per month
7 room cottage with improvements, convenient and in a good location.
Rent $28 per month
2 half houses with 6 rooms each.
Rent for $13 each
2 four room flats, have just been remodelled and put in first-class condition.
Rent for $10 each

CALL AND SEE THE REST OF MY LISTS

Also a Few Exceptional Bargains For Sale

JOHN T. BURNS
363 Centre St., Newton, Mass.
TELEPHONE

Boston Safe Deposit —AND— Trust Company

87 Milk Street - Boston

This Company has been in active business for over thirty years, and offers you every facility for the transaction of your banking business.

It will receive your bank account subject to check and pay you interest.

It will assume the care of your property, collecting dividends, interest and every class of income.

It is authorized by law to act under Trusts of every description.

During your life it will serve you as Agent or Attorney in any business affairs, and at your decease will act as Executor and Trustee of your estate.

Inquiries will receive careful attention.

Drowned While Bathing

While bathing with a number of companions at Hampton Beach, N. H., yesterday afternoon, Clifford Bailey, aged 14 years, son of Patrolman and Mrs.
Horace A. Bailey of Newton Centre, was taken with a cramp and was drowned. The body was soon recovered and late yesterday afternoon the lad's father left for that place to take charge of the remains. The body will be brought home for the funeral.
The boy left for Hampton Beach only the day previous for a vacation of a fortnight. He was the oldest of seven children and last month was graduated from the Mason grammar school. It is stated that he was one of the brightest pupils of the large class. The boy was well known among the young people at Newton Centre. For about two years the family has resided on Warren street, but previously lived for a number of years at Ward and Irving streets. The boy was for sometime a choir boy at St. Paul's Episcopal church at Brockton.

To Confirm Weed

A meeting of the executive council will be held at the State House this afternoon. The meeting was made necessary to confirm certain appointments made on Thursday of last week.
This meeting will be of especial importance to Newtonians, as one of the nominations which will be considered will be that of Ex-Mayor Alonzo R. Weed of this city as gas commissioner. Mr.
Weed was nominated for that position by Gov. Guild last week to succeed Mr.
Samuel W. George of Haverhill. The indications are strong that the nomination of Mr. Weed will be confirmed.
The friends of Mr. George made a hard fight for his reappointment. While some of them have continued this fight by opposing the confirmation of Mr. Weed, they had not up to yesterday afternoon succeeded in securing any member of the council to stand against the governor's appointee.

Track Walker Sent Away

A Polish track walker with unusual paraphernalia, who said his name was John Smith, was arraigned in the municipal court Thursday on a charge of violation of the railroad law.
Inspector Frank B. Fletcher testified that he found the man walking on the Boston & Albany circuit road near the Eliot station in this city, Wednesday afternoon.
Judge Kennedy asked the man what his real name was, and the prisoner stuck to the assertion that it was John Smith. He brought his outfit into the dock. It included a woman's faded parasol with fancy ruffles around the edge, a battered dinner pail, a peculiar spike which the police say looked like a jimmy,
a big overcoat and a felt hat.
The hat was apparently of the vintage of many years ago. During the testimony the prisoner busied himself with trying to remove spots from the hat with his handkerchief.
He was sent to the state farm. He took along his outfit.

Stones in Switches

The police yesterday afternoon received complaint that boys have in the last few days caused no end of annoyance by wedging stones between the switch rails near the Crafts street tower on the main line of the New York Central road.

The complaint was made by the switch tower crew. The authorities have started an investigation to find out who are the responsible boys.

About two years ago a boy was caught wedging stones in the rails after similar complaints had been received.
The boy proved to be deaf and dumb.
He was told how dangerous his fun might prove and then freed.

It is believed that it has been only by the greatest of good luck that a serious accident has not occurred, as several times the switches have refused to work. Numerous fast trains pass over these switches daily.

Cow Holds Up Train

A cow held up a train on the Newton circuit road near the Newton Centre station shortly after 5 yesterday afternoon.

The train was an outward bound passenger train and the cow walked onto the track and refused to budge in response to repeated whistling by the engineer. Finally the train crew gave chase to the animal, and after getting her off the track tied her to a post at the edge of a field. The train was then started up again and the delayed "commuters" were taken to Newton Centre and the other stations beyond.

A single, sensible plan put into effective operation is worth more than a thousand wild cat schemes that never materialize.

A HOT OLD TIME

In Prescott Street Newtonville

The heavy rain on the morning of the 4th did not seem to check the enthusiasm of the people living in that part of the street east of Central Avenue. The young people were up early and, clad in costumes, paraded up and down the street, visiting the various houses and causing much excitement and fun. After the parade a delicious cup of coffee, with doughnuts, such as "mother used to make," was served at the Thayer's and Martin's. Open house was the order of the day, with the usual good things to eat and drink.

At six o'clock P. M., there was served on Mr. Kellogg's lawn a bountiful spread especially prepared for the occasion by the ladies.

In the evening a grand and brilliant display of fireworks took place, lasting an hour and a half. Following the fireworks more refreshments were served and then there was dancing by the light of the moon. Right here we desire to make mention of a skirt dance by Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Thayer, which was very much enjoyed by all who happened to be around when it took place. Everybody was just boiling over with patriotism, and the festivities did not cease until close on to the midnight hour.

Fire

Fire was discovered in the vacant 2-1-2 story dwelling house owned by Carlton E. Nickerson at the corner of Waban street and Carlton road, Waban, shortly after midnight Sunday morning. Neighbors sent in an alarm from box 56, but the flames had gained such a headway that the firemen were unable to save the structure from being gutted. The loss was placed at about $2000, and was covered by insurance.

It is thought that the fire was of incendiary origin, although rats and matches, in the opinion of the firemen, may have been responsible for the blaze.

Fire caused by children playing with matches on a sofa in the house of John Nolan, 95 Pearl street, caused an alarm to be sounded from box 17 about 10 Monday morning. There was a quick assembling of apparatus, but the fire was out before the firemen arrived. There was no damage.

Wife Beater Fined

It took more than two hours to try the cases of assault and battery and drunkenness charged against Frederick Boiesner of Newton Center in the municipal court Saturday. Upon a promise to come home by 10:30 each evening and to let liquor alone the charge of drunkenness was placed on file, but for assault and battery upon his wife Emma he was fined $10. He paid.

Mrs. Boiesner, when called to the stand, said she would not testify against her husband. As she started to leave the stand she fainted and fell to the floor before anyone could catch her. After being attended by Mrs. Ella Mason, matron at police headquarters, she recovered.

Dr. Andrews testified that last Sunday he was called to the Boiesner house about midnight and found Mrs. Boiesner with severe bruises on her neck and body. Mrs. Anna Johnson, a neighbor, corroborated this testimony. She had been called to the house by Henry Mallis, a boarder, who also summoned the police when he heard, as he believed, Mr. and Mrs. Boiesner having an altercation. Sgt. Thomas C. Clay and Patrolman Bailey and Mills testified to having gone to the house about midnight Sunday. They found Boiesner in the attic. According to Sgt. Clay he smelled of liquor and appeared under its influence. Mrs. Boiesner was in a room on the second floor and in addition to the bruises described by Dr. Andrews and Mrs. Johnson Sgt. Clay saw bruises on her face.

Boiesner was called to the stand. He said they had been married 16 years. He said that at 3 Sunday afternoon he went on a car ride. Near the Brookline reservoir he met a Jew, whose name he did not know, who gave him two bottles of beer. This he drank, he said. Then he returned to Newton Center and went to a clubroom, where he remained until 11. When he returned home, he asserted, his wife assaulted him. Boiesner was represented by counsel, who asked for his discharge. Judge Kennedy placed the drunkenness case on file, and Boiesner will report to the court again on Nov. 3. Boiesner quickly paid a fine of $10 for assault and battery and hurried away.

Light Sentence

After having been followed about eastern Massachusetts by the police for nearly a month, Giuseppe Colletti, a laborer living in the Nonantum district of this city, early Tuesday morning surrendered himself to the police.

Taken to the session of the municipal court a few hours later he was arraigned before Judge Kennedy on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon on Carmen A. Coogi, June 17, at the latter's home on Quirk court, Nonantum.

The fact that Colletti surrendered possibly lightened his sentence. Found guilty of having committed the assault

he was sentenced to three months in the house of correction. He appealed and was held in $600 for the superior court.

The police say that the assault occurred while a christening was in progress at Coogi's house on the evening of Sunday, June 17. Testimony Tuesday morning brought the allegation that Colletti was inside the house when Coogi came in and passed an insulting remark. He invited Colletti outside to fight afterward, it was asserted, and the two started out. When they had but just got out of doors Colletti stabbed Coogi through the back with a pair of carpenter's dividers. The point punctured the Italian's lung and he has been dangerously ill since. He is yet unable to leave his bed.

Colletti disappeared that night. Sgt. Burke was detailed on the case. He traced the accused Italian to Quincy a day or two later, but found that he had left that city. He was then followed to several Massachusetts cities and finally practically all trace of the man was lost. Colletti gave the police considerable surprise by surrendering himself. When arraigned in the municipal court the technical charge was that he committed the assault with a knife. Colletti was represented by Counsel Thomas Spellman, who asserted that the complaint was a faulty one because the weapon was a pair of carpenter's dividers and not a knife. He asserted that the dividers was not a dangerous weapon.

When Colletti appealed a sentence of three months to the house of correction, which was considered by the spectators in the court room as a light sentence, Judge Kennedy gave him some instructions as to securing bondsmen. The Italian's counsel said he could secure a well known Quincy quarryman as a bondsman. Judge Kennedy explained that any bondsman must be known to be a reliable one and not anyone who would be liable to decamp.

The bonds were fixed at $600.

Mr. Johnson Dead

News was received by his friends in this city this week of the recent death in the Southern California hospital at Highland, Calif., of Mr. Hosea W. Johnson, formerly of Newton. Death came after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Johnson was for many years a well known Boston business man. He was 59 years of age.

Hosea W. Johnson was born in North Brookfield. For upward of 30 years he was connected with the Eureka Silk company of Boston. Three years ago he moved with his wife from this city to South Pasadena, Calif. Besides a wife he is survived by one son, Henry S. Johnson, who resides in Azusa, Calif.

Heavy Shower

A severe thunder shower, one of the worst experienced in this city for many months, struck Newton about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Torrents of rain fell and caused washouts on numerous streets in the outlying districts of the city. The lightning played havoc, and at Newton Centre struck in two places.

John Andrews of Brighton, employed in the work of depressing the railroad tracks at Newton Centre, was standing beside a derrick on Langley road, near the Newton Centre station. A bolt struck the top of the derrick, flew down one of the guy wires and rendered Mr. Andrews unconscious. The wire broke short off. Mr. Andrews was picked up by fellow workmen, who were able to revive him after a few minutes. His arm was considerably burned.

At about the same time a bolt struck the house of Mr. Arthur C. Badger on Chase street and toppled off a large section of the chimney. In the woods near Oak Hill the lightning also struck, it did little damage.

The electrical display was one of the most vivid seen here for some months.

Police Paragraphs.

Acting under advice from the American society for the protection of the Flag the police stopped the sale of the last issue of Colliers Weekly in this city last week. Objection was made to the magazine because the cover design bore a representation of the national flag. The new-dealers were allowed to sell the magazine, however, by removing the cover.

Edward Sherlock, convicted of assault and battery on Abram Lyons on the night before the Fourth, was Saturday fined $10 in the municipal court. Sherlock testified that while he was walking on Center street, near Pearl, with his wife, Lyons came up and poked a revolver in both their faces. An altercation ensued.

Police headquarters Tuesday lost its mascot, a brown French bull dog which was found by patrolman Seaver at Newton Lower Falls a few weeks ago. The animal was claimed by Mrs. Charles Atherton of Jamaica Plain, who recognized her dog Hinkey-Dee through a news item published in a newspaper.

The dog was taken in charge by Capt. John Ryan after effort to find an owner had been unsuccessful. Capt. Ryan then advertised on his own account. Monday he secured a license and bought a new collar for the animal, which had become a great pet among the men at headquarters.

Mrs. Atherton said the dog was stolen from her house about a month ago. Its name was Hinkey-Dee.

Literary Notes

Many readers of William Sage's new novel, "The District Attorney," have asked the publishers whether or not the principal characters were drawn from life. While the author claims originality in the conception and development of his characters, it is true that some of them were suggested by living personages. The District Attorney is not William T. Jerome, but was suggested by a certain Western public prosecutor who has been somewhat more successful than Jerome in putting dishonest politicians in jail. Old Sam Haverland, the hero's father, was suggested by a prominent financier whose business methods are at variance with the teachings of the religion which he professes more or less sincerely. Haverland's political associate, Cadwell, was suggested by a man of wealth whose attempts, by the corrupt use of money, to break into the United States Senate have been notorious, and who within the last few days has been ignominiously beaten.

After a prolonged trip abroad, Mrs. Anne Warner French, the author of the inimitable Susan Clegg stories, has returned to St. Paul, Minn. Her new book, "Susan Clegg and Her Neighbors' Affairs," went into a second edition on publication, and promises to rival in popularity the original Susan Clegg book, "Susan Clegg and Her Friend, Mrs. Lathrop." One of the best bits in the new book is Susan's inspection of an automobile which stopped in the country town where she lives. Gazing at the license number, 898, on the back of the car, she exclaimed: "It's a brand-new one, for the price tag's still hanging on the back."

Arthur Stringer, the author of "The Wire Tappers," has retired for the summer to his Lake Erie fruit farm at Cedar Springs, Ontario. Like most amateur farmers, Mr. Stringer does not find his fruit-raising a source of any great revenue. He explained this not long ago by pointing out the difference between the so-called gentleman farmer and the every-day farmer. "For it's very simple," said the author over a dish of his Eumelan black grapes. "The first sells what he can't eat, and the other eats what he can't sell."

Lillian Whiting is in the Southwest at work on her new book, "The Land of Enchantment." Interpreting, as it will, the scenic grandeur and the up-to-date conditions of life in Colorado and Arizona, this book is expected to meet a demand hitherto unsupplied in the literature of travel, for the general reader searches almost in vain for any consecutive account of the great Southwest of any date later than in the early eighties. While special magazine papers have been written, and while books on some one feature of this fascinating region have been issued, there is no one work which has aimed to interpret these lands in their more complete aspects of both scenic wonder and social life. "The Land of Enchantment" will be fully illustrated, and is announced by Little, Brown, & Co., for early fall publication.

E. Phillips Oppenheim's American publishers, Little, Brown, & Co., Boston, announce new printings of "A Millionaire of Yesterday" and "The Man and His Kingdom," two of his older stories that have been in constant demand since Mr. Oppenheim's latest book, "A Maker of History," achieved such popularity. Little, Brown, & Co., have also added to their list, "Enoch Strone" and "A Sleeping Memory," two of Mr. Oppenheim's earlier novels and new editions of these books will be brought out in the near future. This publishing firm controls all of the Oppenheim novels now issued in this country.

To the many interesting recollections of the great Rebellion has been added "Letters from a Surgeon of the Civil War," written by John G. Perry, who served with the famous Twentieth Massachusetts Volunteers. These letters have lain untouched during the intervening years, but have now been edited by Martha Derby Perry, author of "God's Light as It Came to Me." They have just been published with appropriate illustrations by Little, Brown, & Co.

A young lady entered a Toronto retail book store a short time since and inquired from the gentlemanly clerk (a married man, by the way) if they had a book suitable for an old gentleman who has been married fifty years. Without a moment's hesitation the clerk reached for a copy of Parkman's "A Half Century of Conflict."

MARRIED.

SCHLEY—ROWE—At Newtonville, June 28, Dr. Robert M. Schley and Dr. Alice F. Rowe, both of Gowaunda, N. Y., by Rev. Jay T. Stocking.

DIED.

SWAIN—At Newton Centre, July 8, Abram O. Swain, aged 68 years, 7 months.

GOGES—At Newton Upper Falls, July 8, Annie Goges, daughter of Joseph Goges, aged 2 months, 6 days.

WALK—At Newton hospital, July 8, William Walk of a Concord St., Dorchester, as result of accidental fall, aged 55 yrs.

CONSELINE—At Auburndale, July 10, Bridget A., wife of James Conseline.

AMERICAN LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY

53 STATE STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

CAPITAL $1,000,000
SURPLUS EARNINGS $1,700,000

TRANSACTS A GENERAL BANKING AND TRUST COMPANY BUSINESS

INTEREST ALLOWED ON DEPOSITS SUBJECT TO CHECK. SPECIAL RATES ON TIME DEPOSITS

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

C. F. Adams, 2d
F. Lothrop Ames
Hobart Ames
Edwin F. Atkins
Frederick Ayer
Charles S. Bird
George W. Brown

A. G. Bullock
Samuel Carr
Gilmer Clapp
Gordon Dexter
William R. Driver
F. C. Dumaine
Eugene N. Foss

William A. Gaston
Elmer P. Howe
N. W. Jordan
David P. Kimball
John Lawrence
Lester Leland
S. E. Peabody

Francis Peabody, Jr.
Royal Robbins
P. L. Saltonstall
R. Paul Snelling
Frank W. Stearns
Eugene V. R. Thayer
Charles W. Whittier

N. W. JORDAN, President
CHARLES L. BURRILL, Vice President
JAMES H. PERKINS, Vice President

EDWARD A. COFFIN, Treasurer
CHARLES H. BOWEN, Secretary
GEORGE W. AUKYANSEN, Asst. Sec'y

AUTOMOBILE GARAGE

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT

Repairs on Steam, Gasoline and Electric Carriages

Agents for YALE and NORTHERN

FRED J. READ, Washington Street, Newtonville

Tel. 479-6 Newton

P. P. ADAMS'

Big Dry Goods Department Store

Vacationists' Accessories!

SPECIAL LOT
NOTE PAPER

Fine finish, plain or ruled, in pound packets, (about 100 sheets) usual 19c packets, at only

10c

Envelopes to match, per bunch only

5c

SOUVENIR
POSTAL CARDS

Fine collection of Views of Waltham, all the Newtons, Wellesley, Historical Lexington, Cambridge, Actors and Actresses, etc., etc. Plain, Colored and Tinselled

1c to 5c

WALTHAM
SOUVENIR LETTER

Eight interesting views in the City, enclosed in a beautiful, sealable cover with letter pages provided

10c

SOUVENIR LETTER PADS

Containing about 50 sheets of fine Paper and 8 Souvenir Cards with handsome cover. Special for tourists or the ladies' desk.

10c

SPECIAL
BOX NOTES

In Parchment, Linen, Crepe de Chine, Irish Lawn or Cream finish, ruled or plain with Envelopes of latest cut. Unusual values at 9c to 50c

SPECIAL
WRITING TABLETS

In papers of extra fine finish, all sizes, ruled or plain. Writing Pads in specially selected values

5c to 12c

Souvenir Post Card Albums, 10c to 50c

Newton Souvenir Letter, Beautiful, 10c

THE TOURISTS' GUIDE, Embracing Route of the Minute Men from Boston to Lowell, Apr. 19, 1775—many illustrated points of historical interest and Charles Fernald's story of Paul Revere. Call and get a copy—Gratuitous.

Store closes Tuesdays at 1 P.M. during July and August. Double Legal Stamps all day Monday and Tuesday until 1 P.M.

P. P. ADAMS, 133-139 Moody Street —Best Store in the Old Bay State—

THOMAS W. LAWSON

with his usual shrewdness, has installed a
"WINCHESTER"

heater in each of his numerous buildings on his estate "DREAMWOLD," Egypt, Mass. If Mr. Lawson and his architects, are satisfied with the merits of the "WINCHESTER" heater, do you not consider it worth specifying on either your steam or hot water heating contracts? Samples may be seen at our office.

Smith & Thayer Co.

234-236 Congress Street, BOSTON, MASS.

GEO. W. MILLS,
Undertaker

18 years experience Highest References
Cliffin Bldg., 817-819 Washington St., Newtonville
Telephones. Office 112-3, Residence 176-8 N. N.

GEO. H. GREGG & SON,
Undertakers

Established 1865
ALL THE NEWTONS
Masonic Building, 298 Walnut St., Newtonville
Telephone Newton North, 64-23-4.

J. S. Waterman & Sons, FUNERAL UNDERTAKERS
and EMBALMERS.

2226 and 2228 Washington Street.
Adjoining Dudley Street Terminal.
All modern improvements under one roof, including offices, sales rooms, morgue, dressing rooms and chapel.
Tel. Roxbury 72 or 73.

Established in 1848 by Franklin Smith
A. L. EASTMAN
UNDERTAKER

251 Tremont St., cor. Seaver Place, Boston
Only the Best Appointments.
Embalmers and Assistants in attendance day and night. Telephone 680 Oxford.

ORIENTAL TEA
COMPANY.

Sole Importers of Oriental Male Berry Java (best coffee known.) Tea and Coffee to suit every purse and every taste retailed at wholesale prices. Goods always uniform, always pure. Extra choice goods a specialty. Signs of the Big Tea Kettle, Seabury Sq., Boston.

SUNBURST SKIRTS.

and HAND BUTTON-HOLES
Made at Mrs. INWOOD'S

Accordion Pleading Rooms

81 and 83 WINTER STREET.
Take Elevator in Bailey's Store.

We promptly obtain U. S. and Foreign

PATENTS

Send model, sketch or photo of invention for free report on patentability. For free book, How to Secure TRADE-MARKS write Patents and

CASNOW & CO.

OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Hathaway Drop Instep Shoe

The most desirable shoe for persons troubled with their feet. Does away with all plates. Send for Catalogue A.

SOLD ONLY AT
F. E. HATHAWAY & SON
52 Merchants Row, near Faneuil Hall, Boston

Schools and Teachers.

L. EDWIN CHASE
TEACHER OF
Violin and Mandolin
BEST METHODS
47 Richardson St., Newton

A. H. HANDLEY
MUSIC FOR ALL OCCASIONS
23 Richardson Street
NEWTON

FRANCIS MURDOCK,
Insurance Agent,
Bank Building, Newton, Mass.
INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT
placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies
Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord, Mass.

CROQUET

THE ever popular family recreation, especially the vogue this year. Naturally our assortment of croquet sets is most complete and attractive. We have sets for the novice and the expert; for the tiniest yard and the broad lawn of the summer residence.

We invite you to select from the finest stock in the city.

$1.50
AND MORE

A FULL LINE OF KODAKS AND ALL SUPPLIES

J. B. HUNTER & CO.

60 Summer Street
BOSTON, MASS.

Auburndale.

—Mr. Robert Marshall is visiting relatives in Camden, Me.

—Mr. A. W. Kellaway has the foundation for a new house on Auburn place.

—Mr. John Connolly of Lexington street has accepted a position in Cambridge.

—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Leonard of Woodbine street left this week for a trip of several weeks.

—Miss Jennie Martin, clerk in charge of the local postoffice, left Monday for a week's vacation.

—Mrs. Mary H. Cole of Fern street has returned from a month's visit at Shirley Hills, N. H.

—Mr. W. K. Corey, who has been spending his vacation at Nantucket, returned Saturday evening.

—Rev. Dr. E. E. Strong conducted the Bible study meeting held Sunday at the Congregational church.

—Mrs. William Plummer returned from a several weeks' vacation at Nantucket on Saturday evening.

—Miss Marion Mason of Holyoke arrived Monday as a guest of Miss Estelle Chasman for a fortnight.

—Mrs. Henry Wilson of Crescent street sailed Tuesday for Europe, where she will remain during the summer.

—Miss Gladys Leonard of Wethersfield, Vt., has been the guest of her cousin, Miss Helen Butterfield of Pine street.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. H. Strongman of Central street are out of town for several weeks, visiting various places of interest.

—Rev. F. N. Peloubet left Monday for his summer residence at Waterville, Me. Mrs. Peloubet joined him there the last of the week.

—Miss Ruth Farley of Central street is expected home in a few weeks from Europe, where she has been making an extended trip.

—Miss Alice Adams of Hancock street has left for a vacation of several weeks which she will spend in visiting various vacation points.

—Rev. Frank C. Haddock of Central street left Monday to join his family at their summer home on one of the islands off the Maine coast.

—Miss Alice A. Jones of the office staff of the Newton hospital returned the latter part of this week from a vacation spent with friends in Melrose.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. Franklin Spooner of Aspen avenue left this week for Yarmouth, N. S., where they will be situated for the remainder of the summer.

—During the absence from Auburndale of Mrs. Corey, Miss Florence Alchin will be the soloist the remainder of this month at the Congregational church.

—Dr. and Mrs. George A. Bates of Central street left town on Monday for their summer home in Harpswell, Me., where they will be located until early autumn.

—Dr. Harris B. Haskell of Woodland road has taken quarters in Boston for a fortnight, after which he will spend a few weeks in traveling about the various vacation resorts.

—Miss Ella M. Starr has left for Westbrook, Me., where she will pass the summer. She expects to return in the early autumn to the home of her aunt, Mrs. John Matteson.

—Miss Abbie Loring of Weston returned the middle of the week from Carlsbad, Germany, where she has been passing several months. Miss Loring is much improved in health.

—During the summer months Miss Ella B. Smith of Vista avenue has charge of the religious publication, the Greeting, which is issued weekly in the interest of Auburndale affairs.

—Mr. E. B. Wildman, who was recently transferred from the local postal station to that at Newton Upper Falls, will, it is expected, remove to that place as soon as he is able to secure a house.

—Miss Frances Leonard is visiting relatives in Jersey City Heights, having left Auburndale Monday afternoon. She will next week leave that place for a trip of several weeks among the Catskills.

—Miss Nancy Leadbetter of Weston, who was severely injured in a carriage accident near the Woodland Park Hotel a number of weeks ago, will soon be able to leave the Waltham hospital. Although her condition did not improve rapidly for several weeks, it is stated that she is now convalescing finely. Miss Leadbetter is well known here.

Newton.

—Mrs. John Van Buskirk is visiting relatives in the Bronx, New York.

—Mrs. Justin Whittier of the Hollis is at Osterville for several weeks.

—Mrs. John Whittmore has gone to Clifton for a stay of several weeks.

—Mr. Robert Young of Oakleigh road is spending a few weeks in Franklin, N. H.

—Mr. William Coleman of Emerson street has returned from York Beach, Me.

—Mr. Robert C. Morrill is having an addition made to his residence on Pierce avenue.

—Mr. Paul Ryan is registered at the Hotel Eastham, North Conway, for several weeks.

—Mrs. George F. Jewett and family of Bellevue street have returned from a sojourn at Nantucket.

—Miss Katherine Raymond is visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dunbar of Clifton Heights for several weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Fearing and family of Park street have gone to Maine for the remainder of the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Lovely and family have taken the Flint cottage at Clifton for the remainder of the season.

—Mr. C. M. Yerxa of Morse street is making arrangements to build a camp at Lake Annis, near Springfield, N. B.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Smith and family of Fairmont avenue are installed in their summer home at Sandwich for the season.

—Work was started this week on additions one and two stories high to the dwelling of Mr. J. E. Tredeau on Dalby street.

—Miss Gladys Forbush of Church street has been spending part of the month in Kittery, Me., as a guest of Miss Hope Conant.

—Miss Caroline Lowe of Eldredge street, who has been passing a few weeks in Portland, has now gone to New Ipswich, N. H.

—The national colors belonging to the Nonantum police station are being given an overhauling and will be put in thorough repair.

—Supt. J. Isaac Farwell of the local postoffice left Sunday for Connecticut, where he will pass his annual fortnight's vacation visiting relatives.

—Mr. Harold Stanton of Washington street, who was graduated from Dartmouth a few weeks ago, will remain in Paris throughout the summer.

—Mr. William H. Partridge of Pembroke street has been made chairman of the finance committee of the state prohibition campaign committee.

—Sometime during the last few nights thieves entered the house of Mrs. Waldo F. Whitton on Bacon street and stole a picture and a sole leather bag.

—Mr. Carlton L. Ellison of Vernon street left Saturday for western Massachusetts, where he will spend the next few weeks visiting vacation points.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur C. Rice and Miss Rice of Peabody street have taken apartments at the Mount House, North Conway, for several weeks' outing.

—Mr. Justice Dana of the Superior Court was duly qualified last Monday by Governor Guild. Judge Dana leaves next Wednesday for a six weeks' trip to Europe.

—Mr. E. E. Hayward of Marlboro street is building a bungalow for his own occupancy at Stony Beach, Nantasket. He expects to be occupying the structure next week.

—Miss Louise Brackett, has closed her season with a dramatic company and returned to Newton for the summer, visiting her mother, Mrs. Jennie M. Brackett of the Charlton.

—Mrs. E. A. Daley of Morse street has gone to Bangor, Me., where she will pass the remainder of the summer as a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Ratary, formerly of this city.

—Mr. Charles B. Huestis, a former captain of police in this city, was in the city for a brief visit this week renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Huestis now conducts a farm at Pembroke.

—The police ambulance has been placed in the repair shop for its annual overhauling, and in the meantime the ambulance work is being done for the department by George W. Bush's stable.

—Miss Catherine L. Shirley of Church street, who has been passing a few weeks in Meredith, N. H., will leave that place in a few days for North Woodstock, where she will remain for several weeks.

—On Marlboro street, Mrs. Anna L. McNamara is having the foundation put in for a two and a half story dwelling for her own occupancy. It will be at 21 feet in size. The estimated cost is $7,000.

—Master Michael Mooney, a 14-year-old boy living on Pearl street, was badly scalded while in a Nonantum square lunch room. After being attended by Dr. F. W. Webber he was taken to his home. He will quickly recover.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Green and family of Emerson street have moved to the Higgins house on Thornton street. The house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Connors of Avon court.

—Dr. F. Raymond Stubbs of Centre street came up from Harwichport, where his family has the William H. Davis cottage for the summer for several days this week. He will return again today. Dr. Stubbs will soon begin work on building a tennis court at his summer home.

—Mr. W. R. Dewey is to have work started at once on the erection of a handsome two and a half story frame dwelling on Franklin street for his own occupancy. The structure will be 31 by 30 feet in size and the estimated cost according to the architect's plans is $14,000.

—Rev. George S. Butters spent a few days the first of this week with his family at Megansett. Rev. Mr. Butters plans to spend the entire month of August at that resort. During his absence the pulpit of the Methodist Episcopal church will be supplied by Rev. W. B. C. Mercey, who was a neighbor of Rev. Mr. Butters for 12 years while they both had pastorates in Somerville and Fitchburg.

Newton.

—Mr. and Mrs. Eben H. Ellison are at their summer home at Duxbury.

—Mr. John T. Beale and son sailed Tuesday on the Ivernia for a visit to England.

—Mrs. Sterling Elliot of Maple street is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. A. Roff of Troy, N. Y.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Soule and family have opened their cottage at Duxbury village for the season.

—Mrs. Alfred W. Rees of Emerson street with her family, has gone to Antigonish, Nova Scotia, for a few weeks.

—Mr. P. O. Baldwin, private secretary to Congressman Weeks has returned from Washington and is now passing a few weeks in Wellesley.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Roff of Troy, N. Y., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter last Tuesday. Mrs. Roff was formerly Miss Elsie Elliot of this place.

—Mrs. Fred A. Hubbard, Miss E. Florence Hubbard and Master G. Whittier Hubbard of Hollis street left Monday for Brant Rock, where they will remain at the Brant Rock House for three weeks. Mr. Hubbard will pass a few days each week with them.

Newton.

—While crossing Adams street near his home about 2 P. M. Sunday, Edward English, living at 236 Adams street, was struck by an automobile owned by C. H. Bartlett of Norwood and knocked down. Mr. English sustained numerous bruises about his head. He was attended by Dr. O'Donnell and taken to his home. The occupants of the automobile stopped and offered to render any assistance possible. It is believed that in a few days Mr. English will recover from the effects of the accident.

—Miss Toby Claude, the famous little English soubrette, who has created such a sensation in her recent appearance in Boston as star support with Mr. Jefferson DeAngelis in "Fantasia," is the guest of Mrs. M. F. French of Waverly avenue. Miss Claude has the reputation of being the smallest actress on the American stage. Her first appearance in America took place 5 years ago when she was the feature of the "Belle of New York" at the New York Casino. Since then she has been throughout the U. S. as an independent star in "The Chinese Honeymoon," "The Cadet Girl," Miss Claude thinks Newton a charming place and America altogether fascinating.

Reception

A reception was held last Friday evening in the new building of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company on Cherry street to Supt. of Construction J. H. Cameron and Chief Clerk Clarke of the fourth suburban district, both of whom were married a week previously. The affair brought out about 150 telephone employees from the exchanges in this city, Brighton, Wellesley, Waltham and Boston. In behalf of the gathering Mr. George Owen, superintendent of the right-of-way department, presented Mr. Cameron a dinner set. District Manager Horton S. Allen presented Mr. Clarke a silver tea set. Both made brief speeches, in which they thanked their friends for the testimonial of esteem. Complimentary speeches followed, among the speakers being Manager P. W. Fuller of this city.

Boston Elevated Railway Co.

SURFACE LINES.

Subject to change without notice.
WATERTOWN SQ. TO SUBWAY—6.04 a. m., and intervals of 15 and 30 minutes to 11.37 p. m. SUNDAY—6.04 a. m., and intervals of 15 and 30 minutes to 11.37 p. m.

NEWTON AND WATERTOWN TO ADAMS SQ. (Via Mt. Auburn)—5.23 a. m., and intervals of 8, 15 and 30 minutes to 11.18 p. m. SUNDAY—6.39 a. m., and intervals of 15 and 30 minutes to 11.18 p. m.

WATERTOWN SQ. TO SUBWAY. (Via North Beacon St. and Commonwealth Ave.)—5.57, 6.02 a. m., and intervals of 8 and 15 minutes to 11.07 p. m. SUNDAY—6.52 a. m., and intervals every 15 minutes to 11.07 p. m.

NIGHT AND EARLY MORNING SERVICE—12.13, 12.42, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30, (5.30, 6.30 Sunday) a. m. Return leave Adams square 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35, (5.35, 6.35 Sunday) a. m.

Elevated trains run between Sullivan Square and Dudley street via the subway from 5.30 a. m. to 12.13 night.
O. S. SERGEANT, Vice-Pres.
July 14, 1906.

Legal Notices

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Arnold Scott of Newton in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth: George D. Scott of New York in the State of New York; and to all whom it may concern.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Fauny C. Coburn of said Newton, to register and confirm her title in the following described land with the building thereon situate in said Newton bounded:

A certain parcel of land comprising lots numbered nine (9), twenty three (23), twenty four (24) and twenty five (25) on a plan of the said land, made by Alexander Wadsworth in June 1845, and recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Book of Plans 13 Plan 52, said lots beginning on Park Street at a corner of land formerly of Dana, now of Scott, and running south on said Park Street and then East on Franklin Street, formerly Eliot Street, in curving lines, one hundred and eight and 3/10 (108.3) feet, three hundred and ten and 4/10 (310.4) feet, one hundred and fifty and 9/10 (150.9) feet, and thirty five (35) feet to Waverly Avenue, formerly called Waban Avenue, thence North on said Waverly Avenue two hundred and sixteen (216) feet to land formerly of Dana, now of Scott; thence West on said land of Scott four hundred and twenty one (421) feet nine (9) inches to the point of beginning; said lot nine (9) containing 3,675 square feet, said lot twenty three (23) containing 17,600 square feet, said lot twenty four (24) containing 25,325 square feet, and said lot twenty five (25) containing 23,021 square feet, be the same more or less.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in said County of Suffolk, on the sixth day of August A. D. 1906, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid you will be deemed to have waived your objection to the petition, and the petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, LEONARD A. JONES, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixth day of July in the year nineteen hundred and six.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
CLARENCE C. SMITH,
Recorder

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Lucy Holmes, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust of giving bonds, and appointing May Vose Holmes of Newton his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

GEORGE L. HOLMES, Executor.
Address of Agent in Vernon St., Newton, Mass.
June 28th, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Benjamin Franklin Holmes, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust of giving bonds, and appointing May Vose Holmes of Newton his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

MARY VOSE HOLMES, Executor.
Address in Vernon St., Newton, Mass.
June 28th, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Benjamin Franklin Holmes, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust of giving bonds, and appointing May Vose Holmes of Newton his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

MARY VOSE HOLMES, Executor.
Address in Vernon St., Newton, Mass.
June 28th, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Benjamin Franklin Holmes, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust of giving bonds, and appointing May Vose Holmes of Newton his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

MARY VOSE HOLMES, Executor.
Address in Vernon St., Newton, Mass.
June 28th, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Benjamin Franklin Holmes, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust of giving bonds, and appointing May Vose Holmes of Newton his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

MARY VOSE HOLMES, Executor.
Address in Vernon St., Newton, Mass.
June 28th, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Benjamin Franklin Holmes, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust of giving bonds, and appointing May Vose Holmes of Newton his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

MARY VOSE HOLMES, Executor.
Address in Vernon St., Newton, Mass.
June 28th, 1906.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, ss.
To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Amos C. Judkins late of Newton in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Mary F. Judkins who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-fourth day of July A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. MCINTIRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this third day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

F. M. ESTY, Asst. Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, ss.
To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Peter Martin late of Newton in said County, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by George J. Martin and Rose Elizabeth Clunney who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executors therein named, without giving a surety on their official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-fourth day of July A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. MCINTIRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this fifth day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

F. M. ESTY, Asst. Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, ss.
To all persons interested in the estate of R. M. Mitchell, late of Newton, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, James L. Richards and Eugene Smith, the executors of the will of said deceased, have presented for allowance the first and second accounts of their administration upon the estate of said deceased:

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge, in said County, on the twenty-fourth day of July A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed.

And said executors are ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. MCINTIRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this fifth day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

V. E. ROGERS, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, ss.
To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Charles Francis Howell, late of Newton in said County, deceased, intestate.

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Ella Howell of Newton in the County of Middlesex, and said petitioners pray that they be appointed administrators of said estate, without giving a surety on their official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Lowell in said County of Middlesex, on the seventeenth day of July A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. MCINTIRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twenty eighth day of June in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

W. K. ROGERS, Register.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of George Mills late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust of giving bonds, and appointing May Vose Holmes of Newton his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

ALBERT L. HARWOOD, Executor.
Address 834 Beacon St., Newton Centre, Mass.
June 25, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Lucy Holmes, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust of giving bonds, and appointing May Vose Holmes of Newton his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

GEORGE L. HOLMES, Executor.
Address of Agent in Vernon St., Newton, Mass.
June 28th, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Benjamin Franklin Holmes, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust of giving bonds, and appointing May Vose Holmes of Newton his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

MARY VOSE HOLMES, Executor.
Address in Vernon St., Newton, Mass.
June 28th, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Benjamin Franklin Holmes, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust of giving bonds, and appointing May Vose Holmes of Newton his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

MARY VOSE HOLMES, Executor.
Address in Vernon St., Newton, Mass.
June 28th, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Benjamin Franklin Holmes, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust of giving bonds, and appointing May Vose Holmes of Newton his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

MARY VOSE HOLMES, Executor.
Address in Vernon St., Newton, Mass.
June 28th, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Benjamin Franklin Holmes, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust of giving bonds, and appointing May Vose Holmes of Newton his agent, as the

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

Published every Friday at 10 Centre Place, - Newton, Mass.

Entered as second-class matter.

$2.00 per Year. Single Copies, 8 cents.
By mail free of postage.
All money sent at sender's risk.
All checks, drafts, and money orders
should be made payable to

NEWTON GRAPHIC PUBLISHING CO.,
J. C. BRIMBLECOM, Treas.

TELEPHONE NO. 77-3.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed
Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all
news-stands in the Newtons, and at the South Union Station, Boston.

All communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

Notices of all local entertainments
to which admission is charged must be paid for at regular rates, 25 cents per line
in the reading matter, or $1.00 per inch in
the advertising columns.

The good work done by ex mayors Weeks and Weed in the matter of expenditure of the metropolitan water district bears fruit this year in a reduction in our annual assessment for that purpose of over $4,000, the figures being $10,- 699.51 for 1905 and $6,234.22 for the present year. The result was brought about by changing the basis of assessment to include a larger percentage for the amount of water consumed. Another satisfactory reduction in expense is that in the metropolitan sewer district where the elimination of an excessive charge made by Boston for pumping sewage, brings Newton's assessment down from $64,430.93 for 1905 to $58,- 372.99 for 1906. Let the good work continue.

While the appointment of ex mayor Weed to the Gas Commission is an excellent one from the public standpoint, from the fact that Mr. Weed is so thorough in his investigations and so sound in his conclusions, his friends deplore the fact that he is to lose his pre-scent opportunity for future political service in other and more congenial fields.

Candidates for representative to the General Court are becoming numerous with the announcement that ex mayor Weed will not be in the field. If Newton gets the three representatives to which it is entitled, there will be one less disappointed.

About Town

In various parts of the city Wednesday morning the sewer department employees found numerous catch basins stopped up as a result of the storm of Tuesday afternoon. It required many hours work to clear them out.

A small child crying bitterly for its mother in a wagon driven by gypsies at Chestnut Hill Wednesday morning caused a resident of Hammond street to believe that a kidnapping was taking place in that aristocratic suburb. The police started an investigation but were unable to find any child missing anywhere in the vicinity. It was believed that the wagon was one belonging to a camp of gypsies who regularly make their headquarters near Newton Centre and are known to be peacefully inclined.

A young deer was seen for more than half an hour Wednesday morning about Chestnut Hill. The animal was a handsome buck and its presence attracted unusual excitement among the early risers in that vicinity. It was first seen about 6.30 by a Brookline patrolman and at that time was standing on the lawn of one of the magnificent estates on the Newton side of the line. The patrolman started towards the deer, but the animal took flight and started away on the run.
After a few minutes it appeared again on another estate, and for an half an hour was followed by coachmen, milk-men and others from one place to another.
Finally, frightened probably at the increased number of spectators, it dashed off into the woods and was not seen again. It is thought the deer was one of the several recently seen upon several occasions in Wellesley.

2500 children yesterday enjoyed a Read fund picnic. No unusual crowd assembled in Nonantum square, however, for this was a Salem Read fund picnic and not a repetition of the time-honored
Newton institution.

CLAFLIN GUARD NOTES.

At the officer's meeting held at Regiment Headquarters last Thursday evening a report was made on the Ottawa Trip. Everything is in perfect readiness for one of the greatest trips that ever left the Old Bay State, and it is safe to say that ever will leave it again for sometime to come. No expense has been spared by the committee that has charge of the arrangements to insure perfect arrangements in the matter of accommodations, feeding, etc.; and as a matter of fact the Canadians are on the tip of expectancy only waiting for the chance to show their world renowned hospitality.

Last Monday evening a drill in close order was held, followed by a long drill in Guard Duty. This part of the Militia work is always the most severely criticized and with the fact in mind Capt.

Guilford has been giving a good deal of attention to this really very important branch of the service, and has the satisfaction of knowing that the Clafin Guard will "have the goods" when they are called upon.

Chelsea has always been voted a "slow" town but there is nothing slow about the new $45,000 armory that is in the course of construction over there and it is an excellent demonstration of the "Esprit de Corp."

Fall Caused Dead.

William Walk, aged 55, the workman who fell from the Center street apartment house last week and sustained severe injuries, died Friday in the Newton hospital. Mr. Walk resided at 2 Concord street, Dorchester, and is survived by a wife and son. With another workman he fell from a high elevation, having lost his balance. The two men were hurried to the hospital, where it was found that Walk was the only one who received serious injuries. Besides a compound fracture of the arm he sustained a severe shock which caused internal injuries to develop in a few days.
The funeral was held Sunday at his late home and the burial was in Cedar Grove cemetery, Boston.

Police Paragraphs.

The local street railway company made complaint to the police this morning that boys are in the habit of kicking over lanterns placed along the tracks at Newton Upper Falls during repairs. The police will make a search for the responsible boys. It is believed that the names of some of them are known.

Capt. Gilbert Manson Dead.

Capt. Gilbert Manson, aged 58, a retired sea captain, died Wednesday in the Newton hospital, where he had been taken a short time before for treatment.
In recent years he made his home at 513
Broadway, South Boston.

Davis-Gallan.

—Mr. William F. Davis, a traveling salesman residing at 290 Watertown street, West Newton, and Miss Jessie
M. Gallan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
John Gallan of Arlington, were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward S. Tead.
The groom is a son of Mr. Charles O.
Davis. After a trip the couple will reside in this city.

HARRY BULGER

In "The Man From Now," at the Tremont Theatre, Boston.

Norumbega Park.—Norumbega Park has been popularized not a little this season with the new song written especially for it describing the attractiveness of a visit to that picturesque resort on the beautiful Charles, and the singing orchestra stationed on the veranda of the restaurant always makes a point of playing it just as the crowds are coming from the open air theatre at the close of the afternoon and evening performances and are pouring out of the park on the electric to carry them to various points in the Newtons, Wellesley, Needham, Natick, South Framingham, Waltham, Cambridge and into Boston. The song has a catchy air and the words are easily remembered, so it is no wonder that patrons carry the air and the words away with them as they go homeward and nearly every car has its individual chorus of happy trolley trippers giving vent to their enthusiasm in the Norum-bega song. An added charm is lent to the tune because the orchestra members are all singers and alternate in singing and playing the chorus.

If one wishes to know what real pleasure is in summer outdoor amusement life he should select someone who has never been to Norumbega Park and plan for a visit to this picturesque woodland resort on the banks of the Charles over the delightful boulevard and listen to the expressions of surprise and watch the face which has enjoyment written all over it more forcible than words.

It is a well known fact that the majority of the patrons of Norumbega Park are those who have been going there steadily for several years. The ever increasing patronage comes from those who are being taken there for the first time and had not the least idea that such a delight was in store for them so near at hand.

Among the many ways of passing an afternoon or evening at Norumbega Park is in boating or canoeing on the Charles, by watching the numerous animals in the zoological garden which is said to equal any park collection in the country, walking about the well gravelled paths bordered with flowers and shrubs with frequent views of the river, or enjoying the high class vaudeville programme or the merry musical entertainments in the grand covered open air theatre. And there are the electric fountain, the Japanese village and various other interesting features.

Mothers' Rest.

Services will be held at the new Mothers' Rest home, corner High street and Greendale avenue, Highlandville, next Sunday at 4 P. M. There will be special music. All are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Swain Dead

After an illness of only a few days,
Mr. Abram O. Swain, for many years a well known manufacturer of tinware, died Sunday at his home, 2 Crescent avenue, Newton Centre, at the age of 68 years. Mr. Swain had lived in this city many years. In recent years his business had been located in Cambridge. He was a veteran of the civil war, but had never been connected with the local Grand Army post. Mr. Swain lived quietly and never took any prominent part in the affairs of the city or even in his own ward. He is survived by a wife, son and daughter.

Many former business associates and friends gathered to pay their last tributes at the funeral, which took place at the family home at 3 Tuesday afternoon.
The service was conducted by Rev. Edward M. Noyes, pastor of the First Congregational church, where Mr. Swain had regularly attended the services.
There were many floral tributes. The remains were taken to the Cambridge cemetery, where they were placed in a tomb. They were escorted by a number of local Grand Army men. The interment will take place later.

Police Paragraphs

The police were called to a Newton Centre house Wednesday afternoon to hunt in the cellar of a Beacon street house for a dog and after searching for some time found the dead body of the animal a short distance away in the street.

Mrs. John Mumford of 1111 Beacon street saw an unknown dog crawl into the cellar of her house late in the afternoon. The animal was apparently only just alive. Patrolman Bartlett searched the cellar without finding the animal.
Less than an hour afterward Patrolman Groth came across the dead body of the dog in the street opposite the house of John Murphy at 1103 Beacon street. It was buried by the city employees.

While the dog hunt was on it created considerable excitement in the neighborhood, for it was believed that the dog had crawled into the cellar to die.

Mrs. Consedine Dead.

Mrs. Bridget A. Consedine, wife of Mr. James Consedine, died at her home in Auburndale Tuesday. The funeral took place Thursday morning. At 8.15 there were brief services at the family home at 56 West Pine street, followed by high mass of requiem at St.
Bernard's church, West Newton. There were many floral offerings and a large gathering of friends and relatives assembled to pay their last tributes. The burial was in Calvary cemetery.

Gloucester Trips.

Many people who have been waiting for a chance to go down the far-famed "North Shore route" to picturesque Cape Ann and rock-bound Gloucester and return in the same day can be gratified now that the round trips for the season have been resumed. The steamships of the line have been put into first class order and are now running daily and Sunday, same as formerly, from Central wharf at the foot of State street elevated station stairs. This means that greater crowds than ever will learn what a delightful trip is afforded for the low round-trip price. Fine new illustrated souvenir folder free.

"Swing high, swing low Swing to, swing from—"

If for no other than the pleasure of swinging under the old apple tree, summer is the most delightful of seasons.
If you do not already own one, call on us for a

SWING

We have a large and varied selection of different makes and styles, all sturdy, strong, and as easy in movement as though they were ball-bearing.

Also Hammocks, Crex Rugs for the porch, and an excellent assortment of Willow Chairs and Rockers.

All at the most reasonable prices.

BEMIS & JEWETT

NEWTON CENTRE and NEEDHAM

Removal Sale

Great Reduction in Prices on Entire Stock of Pictures

BIGELOW & JORDAN
11 Bromfield St., Boston

JOHN J. HENRY & CO., AUCTIONEERS
50 Congress St., Boston

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by George J. Forstall and Garaphella Forstall, his wife, in her right to the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, Trustee under the will of Thomas Nickerson, said mortgage deed being dated March 1, 1902, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 2831, Page 573, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Monday, the sixth day of August 1906, at four o'clock in the afternoon, for breach of the condition of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, all and singular
the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and therein described as follows, namely:

"A certain parcel of real estate situated in that part of Newton, Massachusetts, called Newton Centre and being lots numbered one (1) and two (2) on plan showing land on Ward Street, Newton, by G. S.
Rice and G. E. Evans, dated November 9,
1896, duly recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds and bounded Westerly by Morseland Avenue (formerly Water Street)
one hundred fifty six and 73-101 (156.73) feet; Southwesterly by the curve at the junction of said Avenue and Ward Street thirty and 97-100 (30.17) feet; Southerly by Ward Street in three courses as shown on said plan sixty and 8-101 (60.8) feet; six and 93-100 (6.35) feet and eighty nine (89) feet; Easterly by lot three (3) on said plan one hundred and forty four and 2-10 (14.2) feet; North by land of Morse one hundred seventy four 72-101 (174.52) feet, containing 15,940 square feet. Being the same premises conveyed to said Garaphella Forstall by deed of William F. Harbuck, dated March 14, 1901, recorded with Middlesex
South District Deeds Book 2879, page 388;
This conveyance is made subject to the restrictions therein mentioned or referred to."

Said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions above referred to, and to all and all tax titles, unpaid taxes and assessments. $200. will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Further terms at sale.

BOSTON SAFE DEPOSIT AND TRUST COMPANY,
Trustee under the will of Thomas Nickerson, Mortgagee and present holder of said mortgage.

By CHARLES E. ROGERSON,
President.
July 11, 1906.

SPONGE CAKE WITH OREAM GARNISH.

Before making this cake butter a pan having a centre tube, then sprinkle with flour; turn the pan over and with one sharp rap shake out all the flour that does not stick to the butter. Beat the yolks of four eggs until they grow thick and light colored then gradually add one cup of fine granulated sugar and beat two minutes by the clock. Now stir in three tablespoons of water.
Put one and one-half level tablespoons of corn starch into a half pint measuring cup and fill the cup with flour that has been sifted light; sift again with one and one-half level teaspoons of baking powder, a quarter teaspoon of salt, and add to the other mixture. When well stirred together put in the whites of four eggs beaten until stiff and a teaspoon of lemon extract. Do not beat after the whites of the eggs have been carefully mixed in because it will tend to let the air out which has already been beaten in and upon which the lightness of the cake depends. Have the oven moderate and bake thirty to thirty-five minutes, according to shape of pan and slight variation of heat.
The crisp crust of a sponge cake is often as inviting as a frosting, so for a change just before serving slip three or four white curtains into the opening and surround the base of the cake with spoonfuls of beaten cream.

SANITARY CLEANSING—Essential to Good Housekeeping.

The most inexpensive
article for cleansing and disinfecting where absolute cleanliness and purity are desired and where troublesome measures are to be kept clean, sweet and wholesome. Use freely about all sources of decaying matter and offensive odors. Keep drainage pipes clean, clear and disinfected. Look for above Trade-Mark on all packages. At all dealers. 10c. 25c. 50c. $1.

A FEELING OF SECURITY

Whether at home or abroad, there's a feeling of security when you have your valuables stored in the vaults of

The First National Bank of West Newton

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES COST ONLY FIVE DOLLARS FOR ONE YEAR

THERE ARE MANY ADVANTAGES IN HAVING YOUR MORTGAGE HELD BY A BANK

Money to Loan

On Real Estate in Newton

West Newton Savings Bank.

Office Hours, 8.30 to 12 and 1 to 3.
Saturday 8.30 to 12.

Applications for Loans
by mail on request.

WE WILL SAVE YOU MONEY ON YOUR Oculist's Prescriptions

GET OUR ESTIMATE BEFORE ORDERING YOUR GLASSES
OUR SPECIALTY Is Accurate Lens Grinding
and Frame Fitting
THOS. W. SPENCER CO., Opticians, 2 PARK SQUARE, BOSTON

=COMFORT=

CAN BE HAD THIS SUMMER
BY USING A

Gas Range

QUICK, CLEAN
COOL
ECONOMICAL

NEWTON & WATERTOWN GAS LIGHT CO.

P. P. ADAMS'

BIG DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT STORE

NEWTON SOUVENIR LETTER

The Newest Thing Out

EMINENTLY PRACTICAL and needs only to be seen to be appreciated and become universally popular.

A Beautiful Souvenir of

Eight Half-Tone Views

of interesting points in the City of Newton in a sealable cover, perforated for opening and inner pages provided for correspondence, all for the trifling sum of 10c.

This souvenir must commend the attention of everybody.

P. P. ADAMS, 133 to 139 Moody St., Waltham

Hathaway's Log Cabin Bread (Malten),

is the richest and most nourishing bread that could be made. It is the height of goodness. Look for the band around every loaf. Price 10c at the grocer's.

C. F. HATHAWAY & SON

CAMBRIDGE AND WALTHAM

ASK YOUR GROCER

Newtonville.

—Mr. George Stafford of Walpole is visiting Mr. Herbert D. Lane for several weeks.

—Mrs. Arthur Soden of Park place has gone to Stockton Springs for several weeks.

—Mr. Harry Preston of Rockland, Me., is visiting his cousin, Mr. Norman F. Williams.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 87-89 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. Newton N. 112-3.

—Mrs. Arthur Clark of Plymouth is a guest of Mrs. Burton E. Pratt and family for a few weeks.

—Mrs. Benjamin Gibrath of Church-ill avenue has opened her summer home at Chatham for the rest of the season.

—Daniels & Howlett Co., Morse Building, Newtonville, painting, decorating, hardwood finishing and wall papers.

—Miss Caroline P. Jones of Turner street left this week for Goffstown, N. H., where she will pass the next few weeks.

—Mrs. Josephine W. Dwyer is entertaining Misses Alice E. Rowan and Katherine H. McDonnell of Hyde Park for a week.

—At their summer cottage at Hull, Mr. and Mrs. John Cutler of Walker street are entertaining a number of guests for a few days.

—Mr. Nathaniel H. Bryant and family of Walker street left this week for their summer home at Falmouth, where they will remain the rest of the season.

—Miss Emma Sylvester, who formerly made her home on Churchill avenue but who now resides in Winthrop, is spending the summer at North Woodstock, N. H.

—Mrs. C. V. Sladen of Lowell avenue has returned from Westley, R. I., where the choir boys of Grace church were in camp. Mr. Sladen is the choir master.

—Miss Constance Foster of Washington park has gone to the Cape to pass the remainder of the summer as a guest of friends. Miss Foster was graduated last month from Radcliffe.

—Miss Marion D. Bassett of Central avenue is a worker in charge of one of the large parties of children sent into the country this week under the auspices of the Boston Y. M. C. W.

—Mrs. Ephraim E. Nickerson and her three daughters, the Misses Nickerson, of Watertown street, have gone to Point Allerton for the remainder of the summer, where they are occupying the Nickerson cottage.

—Dr. and Mrs. William T. White, who were recently married at the home of the bride at North Ferrisburg, Vt., have arrived at their new home on Walnut street. They will be "at home" to their friends after Aug. 1.

—Mr. Frank Carmon of Madison avenue is filling an engagement with a band at Revere Beach this summer. Mr. Carmon has now practically recovered from a severe throat trouble which compelled him to spend last winter in Florida.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hagar came up from their farm at Marshfield Hills for a few days this week. They will return at once and will be at Marshfield Hills until October. Mr. Hagar has one of the best summer estates at that place.

Newtonville.

—Miss Ida Gammons of Parsons street is passing a week in Vermont as the guest of friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis O. Tilton of Highland terrace have returned from Swampscott, where they were registered at the New Ocean House for several weeks.

—The wedding is announced of Miss Clara M. Wing, who for sometime has resided at 757 Washington street, and Mr. Frederick M. Haggerty, a well known Waltham young man. For sometime Miss Wing had been employed in the Waltham watch factory. The ceremony was performed in the presence of only a few intimate friends and relatives by Rev. Richard T. Loring, rector of St. John's Episcopal church. Mr. Haggerty is an officer of the tribe of Red Men at Waltham and a member of the Waltham Cycle club. After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Haggerty will make their home in Waltham.

West Newton.

—Miss A. Louise Dix is visiting in Elms, Maine.

—Miss Alice Graham of Duxbury is visiting her cousin, Miss Grace Atwood.

—Mrs. G. W. Page left town the first of the week for an outing at Leicester.

—Miss S. A. Warren of Otis street will pass the rest of the summer in Europe.

—Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Elkins of 256 Highland street have arrived home from Europe.

—Mrs. George B. Davis of Temple street is at Linekin, Maine, visiting Mr. Chas. D. Davis.

—Miss Hastings of Temple street is at North East Harbor for a few weeks with friends.

—Mrs. George A. Walton will return next week from New York, where she is visiting relatives.

—Miss Ethel Fleu will return from Minot next Sunday, where she has been for a two weeks stay.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Dodd and family of Prince street are passing a few weeks in Digby, Nova Scotia.

—Mrs. C. L. Weaver of Chestnut street has recovered from an operation for appendicitis at the Newton hospital.

—Miss Jennie Hurd of Prospect street left Saturday for Hillsboro, N. H., where she will be the guest of friends for several weeks.

—Congressman Weeks spoke last Saturday at the annual picnic of the Republican Club of Worcester held at Lake Wachusett, Clinton.

—Mr. Alfred M. Russell, inspector in the health department, will leave this afternoon for a vacation which he will spend at Cottage City.

—Miss Josephine Colegrove leaves Monday for a vacation at her old home, Passaic, N. J. She will be the guest of her aunt Mrs. G. K. Rose.

—Mr. W. B. H. Dowse and family are enjoying an automobile trip in England. During his absence Mr. Dowse is making extensive improvements in his beautiful grounds.

—Miss Mary V. Healey of Curve street is still in a serious condition at the Newton hospital as a result of having been hit by an automobile over two weeks ago while crossing Washington street near the engine house. It is stated that Miss Healey will be unable to leave the hospital for many weeks.

Vacation Schools Opened

The vacation schools in this city were opened at Newton Centre and Nonantum Monday morning. There is at present every indication that this season will eclipse past ones in point of attendance and interest.

The sessions at Newton Centre are being held in the Mason schoolhouse, under the superintendence of Miss Morse. The sloyd classes are in charge of Mr. Sprague of Boston. Two classes are being held in the forenoon for the younger children, and two in the afternoon for the older pupils. In the four classes there is now a total of 95 pupils, and it is expected that by another week this number will be considerably increased. In cooking there are two classes in charge of Miss Howard of Boston, who has taught in the vacation school here for several years. One class consists of girls and one of boys. There are about 30 pupils in the classes. At present the boys seem to be giving the girls a good run in the art of cooking.

Upper Falls.

—Mr. N. Osborne of Elliot street is visiting his parents at Lynn.

—Mr. Walter Chesley's family have gone to Essen, N. H., for the summer.

—Mr. Alie Dresser of High street has gone to Raymond, Me., for a few weeks' stay.

—Eugene Fanning of High street is at the Crocker House, New London, Conn.

—Mr. Mick will supply Rev. Mr. Scott's place on Sunday at the Wade school house.

—Mr. A. P. Gulliver of Brockton, Mass., has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Gulliver of High street.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Kempton of Northfield, Vermont, have been the guests of Mrs. J. G. Kempton of Elliot street.

—Mrs. William Easterbrook and daughter have gone to South Weymouth to spend the week with her sister, Mrs. John Tufts.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mills of High street are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a little stranger. It is a daughter. Mother and child doing well.

—The one-day old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Maloney of Newton Upper Falls died Sunday. The burial took place in Holyhood cemetery, Chestnut Hill, Tuesday.

—Annie Gogges, the two-months old daughter of Mr. Joseph Gogges of 48 Mechanic street, Newton Upper Falls, died Sunday. The interment was in St. Mary's cemetery, Needham, Monday.

—About twelve members of the Pierian Club, went to Bass Point, on Saturday. They had a very enjoyable time, going down by boat, enjoying a fine shore dinner, and returning in the cars.

Nonantum.

—The new reading room at Nonantum has been opened at 345 Watertown street with Mrs. Hodgdon in charge.

Annual Lawn Party

From the present outlook, it appears that the annual lawn party of the Hospital Aid Society, on the Holy Ghost Hospital grounds, on Saturday, July 14, will be a great success. The fact that the proceeds will be used for the free bed fund will cause many to attend who will wish to aid so worthy a cause.

Besides Mayor Fitzgerald, of Boston, Archbishop O'Connell has been invited and it is expected that he will attend and speak. Both gentlemen will probably be introduced by ex-Mayor McNamee. A reception will be given them, the following acting as a committee: Dr. John E. Somers, of Cambridge; Frank Dooling, of Somerville; Frank H. Dillon, of Boston; Dr. John E. Dwyer, Dr. P. J. Finnegan, Dr. James A. Dow, Dr. Charles S. Morgan, Frank S. Carney and William J. O'Donnell.

The automobile rides for children are attracting much attention. Colonel A. A. Pope has donated a large touring car and is taking a great deal of interest in the whole affair.

Real Estate.

Alvord Bros. have rented the following: House on Dudley street, Newton Centre, for H. G. Pearson to C. S. Waldo. Suite in the "Marion," 457 Washington street, Newton, to A. T. S. Clay. Forbes house, 4 Ripley terrace, corner of Centre street, to E. S. Townsend. 59 Judkins street, Newtonville, to W. J. McCall of New York for Mrs. Mary F. Judkins.

The grand object of system is the saving of time, which represents the most valuable asset a business can have.

Keep your head cool, your feet warm, your heart clean and your conscience clear and there is no difficulty in life that you will not be able to overcome.

When you feel like telling your troubles write them on paper and then burn it.

The greatest mistake in business is carelessness, the next greatest, negligence.

That which you are doing today is most important. The tasks of tomorrow will take care of themselves.

Some men are so lazy even a vacation tires them.

Your friends often know things about you that you yourself never suspected.

Action may not always be happiness but there is no happiness without action.

The waves and the people at the seashore are alike. They roll in, in grand style and go away broke.

Caroline
MILLINERY
486 BOYLSTON ST.
BOSTON

Vacation Schools Opened

The vacation schools in this city were opened at Newton Centre and Nonantum Monday morning. There is at present every indication that this season will eclipse past ones in point of attendance and interest.

The sessions at Newton Centre are being held in the Mason schoolhouse, under the superintendence of Miss Morse. The sloyd classes are in charge of Mr. Sprague of Boston. Two classes are being held in the forenoon for the younger children, and two in the afternoon for the older pupils. In the four classes there is now a total of 95 pupils, and it is expected that by another week this number will be considerably increased. In cooking there are two classes in charge of Miss Howard of Boston, who has taught in the vacation school here for several years. One class consists of girls and one of boys. There are about 30 pupils in the classes. At present the boys seem to be giving the girls a good run in the art of cooking.

At Nonantum a good sized number of pupils were enrolled in the various classes. The sessions are being held in the Jackson schoolhouse on Watertown street. The session will last the next six weeks, and the various branches are in charge of the following teachers: Mr. Joseph E. Owens, woodwork; Mr. M. Hollander, Miss Cora E. Bigelow, basket making; Mrs. S. L. Blue, Miss Grace P. Gillette, sewing; Miss Edith Hamilton, Miss Edith Emery, cooking; Miss Helen V. Mason, Miss Amelia Gunther, primary class; Miss M. Louise Randall, Miss Nellie E. Terrill, kindergarten; Miss Mary V. McGrath, games; Miss Lillian A. Young, supervisor.

Autoists in Court

Two automobilists were arraigned in the municipal court Thursday morning for driving their machines on the wrong side of the Newton boulevard and one for overspeeding on the same thoroughfare.

Bert F. Upham of Boston was stopped by patrolman Martin Neagle while driving his automobile on the north side on July 7. He told the court he did not know that motor vehicles were not allowed on that side of the road, and his case was placed on file. Guy N. Greene, an employee of an automobile manufacturing company in Waltham, who was arraigned on a like charge, said he had seen the warning signs at another part of the boulevard but did not know they applied to the entire length of the road. His case was also placed on file.

Judge Kennedy then called the two men before him and told them to warn all their automobiling friends of the regulations which prohibit motor vehicles being driven on the north side of the boulevard.

Edward W. Fay of Southboro, convicted of making 26 miles an hour on Commonwealth avenue Sunday, was fined $10. He said he thought he was going within the speed limit.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Sarah H. Hovey, Ella F. Sauborn, Walter L. Sanborn and Edward R. Bennett all of Newton in the County of Middlesex; John T. Sanderson of Boston in the County of Suffolk, Trustees under the will of Sarah A. Fay late of said Boston, deceased; Mary C. Beecher of Brookline in the County of Norfolk, all in said Commonwealth; Phoebe A. Scott, Harriet P. Hollis, Adelle A. Cornell and Mary J. Whitman all of Philadelphia in the State of Pennsylvania; the heirs, devisees or legal representatives of Luther E. Beecher late of said Brookline, deceased; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court by George M. Weed of said Newton, to register and confirm his title in the following described land with the buildings thereon, being a certain parcel of land situated near Langley Road, formerly called Station Street, with that part of said Newton called Newton Centre, bounded:

Beginning at the Southeast corner of the premises at land now or late of Boston, thence running by said land, Northwest and running Northwesterly fifty and 68-100 (50.8) feet to land now or late of Scott; thence turning and running Northwesterly on said Scott's land in the County of Suffolk, thence running at an angle of 148 degrees 38 minutes and running Northwesterly on land now or late of John H. Sauborn thirty four and 65-100 (34.45) feet; thence turning at an angle of 68 degrees 13 minutes and running Northwesterly on land now or late of Elizabeth A. Clark ninety four and 14-100 (14.14) feet to land now or late of Fay; thence turning and running Southerly by said Fay's land fifty four and 81-100 (34.81) feet to the point of beginning.

The petitioner claims a right to pass and repass to and from said Station Street over a strip of land now or late of Elizabeth A. Clark twenty feet wide, bounded as follows: Southeast by said Fay's land and the land above described two hundred ten and 8-10 (210.8) feet; Southwesterly by said Scott's land; Northwesterly by other land of said Elizabeth A. Clark by a line parallel to and distant twenty (20) feet from said Fay's land and the land first above described; and Easterly by said Station Street.

And the petitioner also claims an easement in said last described strip of land as aforesaid as appurtenant to the first above described parcel of land.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in said County of Suffolk, on the sixth day of August A. D. 1906, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, LEONARD A. JONES, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of July in the year nineteen hundred and six.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
[SEAL] CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

WM. H. COLGAN
HIGH GRADE

Electrical Construction

ELECTRIC REPAIRS OF ALL KINDS

Tel. West Newton 310

THE ENGLISH TEA ROOM

160 B TREMONT STREET, BOSTON

An attractive Lunch Room for ladies and gentlemen where home cooking will be daintily served from 11 to 3. Afternoon Tea 3.30 to 5.30

To Visit Newton Centre

Rev. Dr. W. L. Watkinson, one of the most prominent of the Methodist clergymen in England, is one of a number of leading preachers of England and Scotland who will visit this country this summer and autumn. Dr. Watkinson will visit leading theological institutions in this country, and among them will be the Newton theological institution. He will be a guest here Oct. 9 to Oct. 12.

—Crosby's Restaurant, 19 School street, Boston, is a good place to dine. It

BORN

ALEXANDER—To Mr. and Mrs. Louis M. Alexander, 91 Boyd street, July 12, a boy.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Wants.

WANTED

Woodworker Accustomed To Machinery

Apply at GAMEWELL FACTORY, Newton Upper Falls.

To Let.

TO LET—A nicely furnished front room with modern improvements, suitable for one or two gentlemen, only within a minute's walk of electric, at 24 Pearl St., Newton.

TO LET—In Newtonville. Steam-heated apartment of four rooms and bath, in brick block, opposite Depot; rent $25.00 per month; also one store in block, rent $20.00 per month. Apply to R. C. Bridgman, 416 Newtonville Ave., Newtonville, Mass.

For Sale.

AUTOMOBILE FOR SALE—A Stanley 44 Surrey '04. Inquire at 27 Walnut St., Newtonville.

Macular Parker Company

Makers and Retailers of

Best Clothing

for Men, Youths and Boys, ready for immediate use and to measure.

Fine Haberdashery

(TO ORDER ONLY)

Ladies' Tailored Costumes

Garments cut and made by men tailors on our own premises.

Specialty—RIDING HABITS

400 Washington St. BOSTON

List Your Property

WITH

ALVORD BROS.

79 Milk Street, Boston.
Phone, Main 1001.
67 Union Street, Newton Centre.
Phone, Newton 50. 181-2
283 Washington Street, Newtonville.
Phone, Newton 50. 38

Mr. C. S. NORRIS,

Who has for many years been favorably known to buyers of good clothing in Boston, has been engaged in our

Men's Clothing Department,

Where he will be pleased to see his friends for business or otherwise.

Macular Parker Company

400 Washington Street BOSTON

NORUMBEGA PARK

The Famous World's Best Trolley Ride in New England

Opens Daily at 10 A. M.

"Nature's Own Most Beautiful Resort"

Grand OPEN AIR THEATRE World's Wonder Seating 3,000. Aft. at 3.30. Eve. at 8.05 OPERA, MUSICAL COMEDY, VAUDEVILLE

Be Sure to Visit the Animal Nursery—Baby Monkey, Baby Beaver, Baby Deer, Baby Porcupine and Baby Wolves.

Among the New Features this season, The Chautau Landing with New Launch Service for trips down the river.

Zoological Garden, Restaurant, Chalet, and Hosts of New Amusements, Canoeing and Boating. Telephone 227-3 Newton West to have seats reserved at the theatre. FOLLOW THE FLAG MARKED "N"

Our Special Bargain

This full size No. 7 Range, hand-crank, smooth, plain castings. Newest pattern, with double mantle shelf—

$34—

Never sold at less than $40. We are headquarters for all the leading makes of New England Ranges.

CASH OR CREDIT

PLIMPTON HERVEY CO.
"Easy to Reach"
21 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON
Near Haymarket Square

Pullman

Sleeping Car Service

TO THE

Adirondack Mountains

Buffer Sleeper leaves Boston 3.32 p.m.; Worcester 4.42; Springfield 6.24, daily except Sunday, via Boston & Albany and New York Central, for Lake Placid and intermediate points: due Childwold, 5.55 a.m.; Tupper Lake, 6.10; Saranac Inn, 6.48; Saranac Lake, 7.21; and Lake Placid, 8.10 a.m. Early morning breakfast from buffet. Close connection for the Northern Adirondacks.

Returning, Sleeper leaves Lake Placid, 8.05 p.m., daily except Saturday; due Boston 10.43 next morning. Dining car Springfield to Boston.

For additional train service, or illustrated literature descriptive of the Adirondacks, call on or address A. J. Carroll, Pass. Agt., 404 Main St., Springfield; J. E. Sweeney, 385 Main St., Worcester; E. M. Harris, 300 Washington St., Boston.

A. S. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt., Boston.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Albert W. Roberts late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

MARY E. ROBERTS, Adm.
Address Room 5, 30 Court St., Boston, Mass.
June 20th, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of John T. Lodge late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to John Lodge.

JOHN LODGE, Adm.
Address 322 Congress St., Boston, Mass.
IDA J. LODGE, Adm.
July 5, 1906.

MOON

AUTOMOBILES, being the latest cars on the market, embody the best features of other cars and eliminate their objectionable qualities.

35 H.P.—5 Passengers—$3000

You cannot be sure that you are getting the best car on the market for $3000 until you have examined the Moon.

PROMPT DELIVERY GUARANTEED

WRITE or TELEPHONE for DEMONSTRATION

BOSTON MECHANICAL CO.

Tel. 2620 Os. 20 Park Square Motor Mart BOSTON, MASS.
H. E. WHITING, Mgr.

THEATRES

Keith's Theatre—The ideal form of summer amusement is that which does not require any great brain exertion on the part of the theatregoer to be able to enjoy it to the fullest extent. Such seems to be the policy of the Keith management for the quality of the programs presented during the summer season would be difficult indeed to equal. The vaudeville program announced from "the model playhouse" for the week commencing July 16 is a strong and unusually well balanced one, containing several European attractions and others who will be making their debut. Prominent in the latter will be Gus Edwards School Boys and Girls, who present a clever bit of musical comedy entitled, "Primary No. 23." The scene is laid in a schoolroom and the youthful players are all clever singers, dancers and comedians. The children have been well taken care of for the special feature for their amusement will be Coin's Dogs, a troupe of clever canines who present a little sketch of the pantomimical order. The surrounding show is a notable one and includes Jehan Bedini, skilful European juggler, and his funny assistant, Arthur, who have but lately returned from a successful tour of Europe; Josselyn trio of aerial acrobats; Wat LeRoy and Winnie Woodford, clever conversational comedians; Josie and Willie Barrows, pleasing singers and dancers; Bean and Hamilton, skilful jumpers, and Brown and DeLoris, singing cartoonists. The Fallettes woman's orchestra will have an entire new program of popular selections and the usual new list of comedy and interesting motion pictures will be exhibited in the kinetograph.

The fiftieth consecutive performance at the Tremont Theatre of Harry Bulger and his associate players in Henry W. Savage's all-summer production, "The Man From Now," was given last Wednesday night, and the indications now are that it will be well over the hundred mark before the attraction leaves Boston and goes to other cities in search of a portion of the success which has been its share in this city. Messrs. Bangs, Bryan and Klein have been at work upon the play, and as a result several new scenes and considerable new dialogue has been introduced. Mr. Bulger has had several new verses provided for his two songs, "There Isn't Any Thing That Can't Be Cured," and "College Chums," and an entire new song is now being written by the authors which will soon be put into the production. The success with which Mr. Bulger has met in Boston has been most flattering. He assuredly has one of the most congenial roles he has essayed in several years. He is a comedian of known ability and has a natural delight in his work which nothing can stifle. His supporting cast is an unusually strong one, including such wellknown players as Miss Helen Hale, one of the most popular young women who annually visit Boston; Miss Frances Demerest, Miss Hattie Arnold, Walter Lawrence, Miss Tongue, John Keefe, George O'Donnell, Charles Meyers and William P. Murphy, together with the most bewitching chorus that has ever appeared in Boston. The song hits are numerous and there is a swing and dash to the music which gives it a vogue which cannot be questioned. The Summer prices are now prevailing. Matinees are given on Wednesday as well as Saturday.

Castle Square Theatre—Although "Iolanthe" is not so often sung as "The Mikado" or "Pinafore," it is nevertheless one of the most popular and most fascinating of all the Gilbert and Sullivan operas. Its revival at the Castle Square Theatre next week will therefore be awaited with interest. The libretto of "Iolanthe" is as brilliantly humorous as it was twenty years ago, and Sir Arthur Sullivan's music is in the same vein that have made "Patience," "The Pirates of Penzance" and the other operas famous. There are, to be sure, frequent references to British politics and British customs in the dialogue, but an American audience is so quick to catch a transatlantic joke that they have lost nothing of their favor by being brought across the ocean. There are fairies as well as human beings in "Iolanthe" and their absurd commingling affords no little quaint and vivacious humor. There are also Earls and other lords, and even a private in the British army who sings one of the funniest solos in the entire opera. The cast will include Clara Lane, J. K. Murray, Harry Luckstone, George Tallman, Harry Davies and all the other leading members of the summer opera company, together with a chorus of forty singers, and an enlarged orchestra under the leadership of Alexander Spencer. "Faust" will follow during the week of July 23rd.

A Favorite Wedding Tour

A tour among the Green Mountains of Vermont and through Lake Champlain and the Thousand Islands of the St. Lawrence River, is a delightful summer experience, affording the tourist an opportunity to view some of the grandest mountain, lake and river scenery on the American continent. At the Central Vermont Railway office in Boston they say this is getting to be a favorite trip for bridal parties and in this respect is even more popular than the "tour" to Saratoga or Washington, which was once the proper thing. Several "happy pairs" were fitted out during June for this ideal wedding journey.

FOR THADDY'S SAKE

By....
Marshall
Saunders

Copyright, 1905, by Marshall Saunders

He was a young dog, but he looked like an old one. Wearily shuffling along the street, he stared hungrily at the grocers' tempting windows. Oh for a taste—not of the hams and the tongues, but of the salted herring, the creamy codfish, the glistening heaps of smelts in their wicker baskets!

All winter he had supported himself in the most miserable of ways. Now spring was coming, and he was tired out—so very, very tired.

The dogs of this Canadian city knew that he was a stranger and had fought him continuously. There were certain streets, the best streets for pickings, that he dared not enter. The shopping streets were not good ones for scrap boxes and barrels of rubbish, and he had become hungry—very hungry—and, stopping short, he sat down on the frosty pavement and looked disconsolately about him.

No home, no master—and he had been brought up like a baby! These well dressed persons contemptuously avoided the place where he sat. He was dirty, and there were sore spots on him where he had been bitten. Ladies drew their skirts aside; children started back in fright from his lean and shaggy form. One little girl called him a sheep. Another said, "Look, mamma, at the funny wolf!"

Poor, sad eyed dog! He was almost at the end of his power of endurance, but he did not know it. He thought he would lie down here on the hard pavement in sight of the delicious morsels in the windows, and when he was rested he would move on, on in his endless quest for food.

He curled himself up in a ball, his tired eyes were just closing—closing in a sleep which if begun would never have ended—when he was roused by an exclamation: "Hello, dog! You look beat out!"

He raised his head. A tall lad was standing over him, an overgrown lad with twinkling eyes, a thin jacket and bare hands thrust into his pockets to keep them warm.

The dog attempted to get on his feet. This was the first kind word he had heard for many a day, but, strangely enough, his legs doubled under him whenever he tried to stand on them.

"Blest if he isn't played out," pursued the boy. "Can't you stand up, dog? Come, try again!"

The animal did try again; his lip curled back in a feeble dog smile, but the strength was all gone out of his limbs, and, gazing up helplessly into the lad's face, he seemed to say, "It's of no use—better let me alone."

"Cricky!" observed the boy. "Isn't he queer looking? I believe he's an Indian dog. Some old Micmac from the camps has brought him into the city and deserted him. They often do when food is scarce out there. Poor brute! He hasn't been able to pick up much of a living in the streets, and he's starving to death. How much of the useful have I about me?" And he drew one red hand from his pocket. "Three cents—not a fortune; still enough to buy sodas. I say, mister," and he entered a nearby grocery, "give me 3 cents' worth of crackers."

The grocer tossed the boy a bag, and he slipped out to the dog.

"Here, old man, eat some." The dog put out his pink tongue and licked feebly at the crackers. What was the matter with him? He wanted to eat them, yet he could not.

"I'll tell you what, dog," said the boy briskly. "You're most at the end of your tether. You want hot stuff inside you. Come on home with me. If you stay here it's all up with you. A policeman will catch you; then it's a shot in that wolfy head of yours and the bottom of the harbor. I'll help you."

The dog was absolutely unable to move, and the boy bent over him. "Confederation! What a smell! I guess you don't know what the inside of a bath looks like. However, I'd be dirty, too, if I'd never been washed, and I'm not going to see a dog go under, if he doesn't smell as sweet as a rose. Here you go!" And, taking the weary beast in his strong young arms, he flung him over his shoulder and went staggering up the hill.

Every boy that he met jeered at him, and to every one he flung a saucy answer. In their hearts, he knew, they were sympathizing, and if it had not been close upon mealtime he would have had a following of approving scoffers.

When he reached the outskirts of the city he began to talk to the dog.

"Do you see that little cottage yonder, with the yard about as big as a pocket handkerchief? That's where I live. Once we used to have a larger home, but, like you, I've come down in the world. Father's dead—only step-ma and me left, dog. If it weren't for her I'd take you right in the back yard, but it wouldn't do, dog; it wouldn't do."

The dog, of course, made no response. In a weary heap he lay over the boy's shoulder. He was in good hands, and he was content.

"I'm going to take you to the dumps, dog," said the boy, "and in case you're a stranger and don't know what the dumps are I'll just explain that it's the common where the ashes from the city are dumped. I'll find you a nice warm heap and cover something over you. Here we are; don't make a noise." And, cautiously skirting the yard of the cottage, he made his way over the soft, yielding heaps of ashes to a spot some distance from his home.

"There"—and he gently laid the dog down—"that's a nice bed for you! Now for a roof to keep out the rain," and he looked anxiously about. "Cricky, there's a packing case!" And, springing up, he ran like a deer to the place where a large wooden box was protruding from a heap of rubbish.

"And some sheets of tin," he went on joyfully—"just the thing to keep the rain out—and an old barrel for a front hall, by which you can enter your mansion, dog," and, dragging his spoils after him, he came back to the place where the starving animal lay.

"Cold, eh?" and he laid his hand on the dog's back. "No, you're not shivering. You must be an Indian dog—think I'll call you Koojemook. That's all the Micmac I know, and it means 'Get out!' I guess that's what people have been saying to you all winter. Now, isn't that snug?" And, carefully toppling the box over the dog, he pulled off a couple of loose boards, fitted the barrel in the aperture, propped a coal hod and some battered tin cans beside it, and finally had a rain proof if not very elegant, kennel.

The dog made no show of pleasure, except that his brown eyes followed the boy wherever he went. The look in those eyes was enough. The boy understood him.

"Now, Koojemook," said the lad at last, "I must run over to the house, but I'll be back just as soon as I can pull the wool over step-ma's eyes. She's pretty cute, and it isn't easy to fool her, but I'll make a try. So long!" And, with a farewell tap on the box, he started off for the cottage.

"Is that you, Thaddy?" called a metallic voice as he was stamping his feet in the little back porch.

"Yes, ma'am," he said vigorously.

"You're late," went on the voice. "You've kept tea waiting."

"No, I'm not," said Thaddy, still stamping, "and I haven't—mustn't give up contradicting her," he went on under his breath, "or she'd down me." "You're getting careless," went on the voice, and, stepping into the kitchen, Thaddy found himself confronted by a small sized, black eyed young woman, who held a teasing fork in her hand.

"If you won't run me through, step-ma, I'll give you a kiss," said the boy, with an extra twinkle in his eye. The little woman lowered her fork. She had a sharp tongue, but she loved to be petted.

The boy's eyes were running approvingly around the room. "Good fire! Nice tea! Step-ma, how long has that fire been lighted? It looks fresh, and, upon my word, there is hardly a mite of ashes."

Before the woman could prevent him he had opened the stove door. "Now, step-ma, you're been sitting in this cold house without a speck of fire."

"I wasn't cold," she said stoutly. "I was by the window in the sun, and I had my big shawl on."

"That's what my Latin grammar calls a fraud pla," remarked Thaddy,

"I think I'll call you Koojemook."

sitting down at the table. "The end of your little nose is as red as a beet. Just you wait, though, till I get to be a man. I'll build fires big enough to roast you to death."

"Thank you," said the woman smartly.

Thaddy jumped up from the table. "Oh, have manners, boy!" he said roughly to himself. "Here you are sitting down to the table before your stepmother. You're losing all your politeness, and if you haven't politeness you'll never get on in the world." And he shook himself vigorously.

"You're a queer fellow, Thaddy," said his stepmother, spearing a piece of toast in the oven.

Thaddy bent his tall, ungainly form in an ungraceful bow. "Just what I think about you, step-ma."

The woman laughed. "Oh, well, we get on—you and I."

"Do I smell hot muffins?" asked Thaddy, working his nose.

"Yes, boy," said his stepmother, "and lots of 'em. I got reckless because we're so near the end of the flour barrel."

"Wouldn't that be a good time to get careful?" remarked Thaddy cautiously.

"The best of times," snapped the woman, "But, Jackadaisy, I get tired sometimes of being careful and just feel I must do something desperate. Here they are. They're only warmed over; they were baked this morning." And she emptied a small panful of smoking hot muffins in a plate on the table.

"Just wait till I get to be a man," said Thaddy, moistening his lips. "You shall sit eating hot bread from morning till night."

"And die of indigestion," said Mrs. Timbs dryly. "Sit down, Thaddy. I'm just going to light myself."

"Will you say grace, blackbird, or shall I?" asked the boy gravely.

"You do it this evening, Thaddy," said the woman wearily. "I'm too ugly to thank the Lord for anything."

"For what we are about to receive may the Lord make us truly thankful," murmured the boy reverently.

"Here's a bowl of soup for you," said Mrs. Timbs, getting up and going to the oven. "I must forget it."

"Where's yours?" asked Thaddy, peering over at her.

She smiled in a tired way and, leaning back in her chair, played with her piece of toast.

"I'm not hungry," she said at last. "If you'll excuse me, I'll run over to Mrs. Goldman's. She said she knew a woman who would give me fine sewing, and she was going to find out the address."

As soon as Mrs. Timbs left the room the boy tiptoed to the window. He watched her enter a cottage a short distance down the street; then, rapidly emptying the plate of muffins into his bowl of soup, he darted from the house in the direction of the famishing dog.

"Here, dog," he said, pushing in the bowl to the sick animal, who lay luxuriously on his bed of ashes; "I wish you were a few sizes smaller, but this will help to fill up."

It was dark inside the box, but the boy could hear the pleased and hurried lapping of the starving animal.

Sitting back on his heels, he stared across the dumps in a kind of comical dismay. "He's going to live, and now I've got two wolves to feed—one inside of me and the other inside of that dog—and step-ma's nose getting sharper and sharper from denying herself. I believe I ought to have this dog put out of the world. I'll tell a policeman tomorrow. Hello, boy, have you finished?"

The sound of lapping had ceased and there was a scratching inside the box. When the boy stretched out his hand for the bowl he found the dog had partly raised himself and was weakly pawing the air.

"Blest if he isn't trying to shake hands," muttered the boy. "Some one's taught him that. Very well, old fellow; you're powerful dirty, still I'll not refuse to shake a paw. Yes, it's all right. I'll not give you up to the police—not after that paw shake. Guess I wouldn't like any one to shoot the life out of me. Good night, now, but before I go listen to me and take another look at that brown cottage I pointed out to you. Don't you go near it. There's a lady in it with double barreled eyes and an awful mouth full of swords and ears that can hear a mile off. You're a goner if you venture near her. Dye hear?"

The dog did hear and understood. He curled himself up on his bed, and, hastily replacing his shelter, the boy ran back to the house.

When his stepmother returned he was at the sink, whisking cheerfully and washing his soup bowl.

"Was it nice, Thaddy?" asked Mrs. Timbs.

"Lovely, step-ma," replied Thaddy. "I guess if you just knew how that soup was appreciated you'd think you were the best cook in creation."

"I thought you weren't very fond of soup, Thaddy," she said suspiciously, "but I just had to make that because I had the bones."

"Step-ma," said Thaddy solemnly, "can't you believe me when I tell you that that soup went right to the spot?"

"Yes, I believe you, Thaddy. You've never told me a lie yet," she returned kindly.

Thaddy at once became dejected and stifled a heavy sigh as he put his bowl on the dresser and went to a cupboard for his schoolbooks.

"Isn't it too soon to work after eating?" asked his stepmother.

"No," said Thaddy soberly. "It isn't." "I should think you'd want to rest awhile if you've disposed of all those muffins," continued Mrs. Timbs, with a gesture toward the empty plate on the table.

The boy's eyes twinkled. "Strange to say, they make me feel more like work. I'm just crazy to get education enough to start in business."

"You'll get on, Thaddy," said the woman proudly, "if you keep up your steady ways."

"I'm going to get on," said the boy doggedly. "Work doesn't scare me. Fact is, I love it. Now, what has my brain got to get outside of tonight? Algebra, geometry, modern history and geography." And he piled his books up in front of his seat at the table.

His stepmother pushed the lamp nearer to him, and the boy, sitting down, was soon absorbed in his tasks.

Presently she heard him snickering.

"What's the matter, boy?" she asked, looking up from her darning.

"I'm reading about the Eskimos, step-ma. They're awful eaters. Two Eskimos will easily dispose of a seal at a sitting, and a man will lie on his back and allow his wife to feed him tidbits

Gowns Suits Skirts

Cleansed or Dyed
AND Refinished Properly
Replanted Like New
New Goods Planted

Carpets Dyed Solid Colors

Many Wilton and Axminster Carpets become faded when very little worn. We have made a great success of dyeing them in Red, Green, Browns and solid colors.

Also PORTIERES DRAPERIES FURNITURE COVERINGS & Lace Curtains Cleansed Blankets Cleansed and Rebound Turkish Rugs Cleansed in the Right Way Cloves Real Lace Ostrich Plumes and Ties Cleansed or Dyed as desired

LEWANDOS

CLEANERS DYERS LAUNDERERS

17 Temple Place BOSTON 284 Boylston Street

Cambridge 1274 Massachusetts Avenue Roxbury 2206 Washington Street

Waterdown 1 Galen Street, (Delivery in the Newtons)

TELEPHONES 555 556 557 Oxford 72 Newton North Connect all Offices

BUNDLES CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED IN BOSTON AND SUBURBS

WOODLAND PARK HOTEL

AUBURNDALE, MASS.

Rooms singly or en suite, with or without private bath.

Special Rates for the Winter Months.

FREDERICK WILKEY, Proprietor.

BOWN, NORRIS & CO.

HOUSE PAINTERS, DECORATORS AND PAPER HANGERS

Shop, 245 Washington St., Nonantum Block, Newton, Mass.

JOBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO. Post Office Box 49.

Shop Tel. 175-3 Newton North. Residence Tel. 56-3 Newton North

Partridge

Photographer
and...
Frame Maker

Boston and Vicinity.

BOSTON, 30 Huntington Ave.

BROOKLINE, 27 Harvard Street.

ROXBURY, 2832 Washington Street.

Newtonville Studio, Opposite Depot

Tel. to all studios.

Newtonville Tel. No. 283-2 Newton North.

Why Certainly

You Can Rid Your House of Water Bugs and Roaches if You Use . . .

Barnard's Water Bug and Roach Exterminator.

ITS WARRANTED. SOLD EVERYWHERE. BY MAIL $20.

BARNARD & CO., 7 Temple Place

Real Estate and Insurance

FOR CHOICE BUILDING LOTS

FARLOW HILL

THE NEWTONS.

W. S. & F. EDMANDS,

428 Centre St., Newton. Gray's Bk. Newton Co.

178 Devonshire Street Boston.

NEWTONVILLE

REAL ESTATE

We Make a Specialty of NEWTONVILLE PROPERTY

Fire Insurance

Turner & Williams

Opp. Depot NEWTONVILLE

Established 1857. Telephone 2957

EDWARD F. BARNES,

Real Estate Agent and Broker.

Expert Appraiser, Notary Public

MONEY TO LOAN ON MORTGAGES

Insurance Agent and Auctioneer Member of the Real Estate Exchange.

81 State St., Boston. Brackett's Block, Newton.

CLARA D. WHITMAN REED, M. D.

Residence and Office, 140 Church St., Newton, opp. Farlow Park.

Hours—Until 9 A. M. 1 to 3 and 7 P. M. Telephone 46.

Lawyers.

LAW OFFICE.

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM.

WINFIELD S. SLOCUM, City Solicitor of Newton.

Rooms 1103, 1104 Carney Bldg., 43 Tremont St., BOSTON, MASS.

Residence, Newtonville.

JOHN IRVING, FLORIST

Out Flowers, House Plants, Funeral Designs

Flowers for Weddings and Parties.

Pearl St. Newton

Telephone Connection

Pomroy Home for Orphan Girls

24 HOVEY ST., NEWTON

Depends entirely upon public support

Invites Inspection

Solicits contributions of money, food, clothing

CHARLES A. HASKELL, Newton, President

OLIVER M. FISHER, Newton, Treasurer

Dentists.

DR. S. F. CHASE, DENTIST

Danvers Building, Washington Street, corner Walnut, Newtonville.

Careful and thorough operating in all its branches.

NEW METHOD FOR ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

James Paxton & Co.,

CONFECTIONERS and...

CATERERS.

338 Centre St., Newton

ELIOT BLOCK.

Telephone, Newton North 68.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES—The office hours of the Secretary of the Associated Charities are from 9 to 10 every week day and Tuesday and Friday 10 to 12 A. M.

M. H. Martin, Secretary. Office Newtonville Square.

of blubber and flesh until he is unable to move."

"Pipe!" said Mrs. Timbs shortly.

"And the other evening," continued Thaddy, "I was reading that in some parts of India there is such a scarcity of food that many natives never know what it is to have a full meal. They do not starve to death, but they are always mildly hungry."

"I guess some white people know that feeling," observed Mrs. Timbs calmly.

Thaddy looked at her sharply; then his face flushed, and, abruptly closing his book, he laid his head down on his arm. "Oh, Lord, it's hard to be so poor!"

"It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth," said Mrs. Timbs calmly.

The boy flung up his head. "But what about women? Does the Bible say anything about yokes being good for young women who marry men older than themselves who die and leave a big boy to bring up?"

His stepmother smiled. "I guess I'd be lonely without you, Thaddy."

The boy pounded on the table with his fist. "You daisy—just you wait until I'm twenty-one. I'll take that yoke off your neck pretty quick. What are you laughing at?"

"Nothing much—just the notion of a daisy with a yoke on."

The boy laughed, too—laughed from pure youthfulness and light heartedness.

Finally he sobered himself. "I guess we can have a little fun if we are poor."

The woman smiled shrewdly at him; then, taking up his old sock, already a mass of darning, she added another to it.

After a time she heard him giggling again. "What's the matter now, Thaddy?"

"I'm reading about a fat king," he snickered. "Step-ma, when I get in business I'm going to fatten you up to 300 pounds."

"What has sent your thoughts to food this evening?" she asked curiously. "You seem bewitched."

"Oh, nothing," he replied, and, closing his books, he got up and went to the window.

"I think I'll go to bed," he said, drawing the curtain aside and looking earnestly out.

"What is there outside?" she asked, getting up and going to him.

"The moon and the ashes," said Thaddy calmly, "and the usual blue haze yonder where the men are burning rubbish. What a lovely smell it makes! If we were rich people the city wouldn't dare to burn old bones and rags behind our mansion. Good night, step-ma." And he abruptly ascended the small back stairway.

After he left Mrs. Timbs drew aside the curtain again. "There's a new heap of trash there," she said; "looks like a hut. Upon my word, I believe that boy has got another sick animal!" And she despairingly dropped into a chair.

"Have I got to starve myself again?" she went on. "First it was a lame cat, then a sick hen, then a blind rabbit. Deary me, I've got enough to bear without feeding another mouth! But if I don't do it, he will. He's as obstinate as a mule about a sick thing, and he's a growing boy and needs his food, while I've got my growth. Oh, dear, dear! I've got to do it, and I hate animals so!" And, with tears in her eyes, she locked the door, put out the light and went upstairs.

The starving dog, up betimes the next morning, had his eye at a large crack in the box, watching for the boy when he saw the yard gate of the cottage open and a woman come out.

It was very early in the morning and few persons were stirring. Thin lines of smoke ascended from some of the cottages where laboring men were preparing to go to their work.

The dog joyfully wagged his tail. The woman had a plate in her hand. She and the kind boy were in league to help him.

When she pulled aside the barrel, he could have fawned on her for very pleasure, but a look at her face restrained him.

"Here, brute—eat," she commanded, slipping the food on the ashes. Then, as he did eat, soberly and quietly, she commented on his appearance.

"Well, if you're not the ugliest and the dirtiest! If it wouldn't break Thaddy's heart I'd telephone to the S. P. C. to put you out of your misery. I wish you'd never been born!"

The dog's pricked ears gently drooped, his bushy tail lowered itself apologetically, but he went on eating.

"Glutton!" said the woman. "That's my breakfast and dinner—only soup meat and bread, but still a feast for a poor wretch who never knows what it is to have a full meal in this land of plenty. So much for genteel poverty. If I'd go to the poorhouse I'd live on the fat of the land. Ugh, you beast! You've eaten it all, and you'll be happy and comfortable all day, and I'll have a rat inside me. Now, don't you act hungry when Thaddy comes. I'll drag away the boards against this barrel, and he'll think you've been out foraging on the dumps. You needn't look for him yet. He sleeps like a top, and he'll not be up for two hours. And you needn't lick your lips. I'll not give you a drop of water. He can do it when he comes. Still, he might forget. Boys are careless, and it's dreadful to suffer from thirst. Water is cheap. I'll give you all you want." And, picking up an empty tomato can, she went to the house.

Koojemook did not altogether understand the affair, but he blinked his little, sly, kindly eyes at her, and when she returned he drank the water until his new friend began to make pointed remarks.

Then he stopped. "Go into your den, wolf," she said, and, throwing aside the can, she discontentedly made her way to the house.

Koojemook lay down and had another sleep until three hours later, when Thaddy came out of the cottage with a pile of books under his arm.

"Hist," said the boy, edging along in an apparently careless manner. "Not a word out of you. Step-ma's been watching me like a cat. Here's a crust of bread, the only thing I could get. What you don't want it? You've been out of your kennel, you rascal, and I told you to stay in. Here's your barrel door pushed aside. Oh, well, I don't care if you'll be a wise dog and don't hang about the cottage. I guess it's just as well for you to skidaddle round; then I won't have to take poor step-ma's food for you. Goodbye. I'll call on you later. Find you lie low." And Thaddy went whistling away.

After dark that evening Thaddy slipped out to say good night to Koojemook. "What! Not hungry yet?" he said, offering him a slice of ham that he had saved from his lunch. "This is fine for me. I'll leave your barrel door open so you can come out again tonight if you like."

Koojemook, looking gravely at him, made no explanation, and Thaddy ran happily back to the house.

The next morning the strange woman called again upon Koojemook and once more presented him with a heaping plate of food. This time she had a little milk for him that he, however, would not drink.

"I wonder where you were brought up," she said, staring at him with wide open eyes.

Koojemook preserved a discreet silence. Morning after morning the woman appeared at the same early hour, and morning after morning the dog listened calmly to remarks upon his appearance. He was old; he was sick; he looked like a wolf. Why didn't he die if he were going to?

These words coming from a person whose deeds were so highly to be approved of met with slight attention from the philosophic dog. Indeed, he began to like the woman. She fed him; the boy only gave him water. And every day after Thaddy went to school Koojemook took up his station on a nearby ash heap and attentively watched Mrs. Timbs' comings and goings about the back door and yard of her cottage.

When Thaddy returned home he slunk into his box.

"Oh, you old tramp!" said the boy to him one day. "I expect you go all over the city when no one is watching you."

Koojemook curled his lip. He had never been beyond the dumps. A winter of starvation and ill usage was not so easily overcome. And he had work to do nearer home when he was able for it.

On the morning of the tenth day of his entrance into the packing box he began an excavation behind it, working as steadily as his strength would allow.

"What are you up to now?" asked the boy, with a puzzled face.

He soon found out. Koojemook was making a burrow—roomy and comfortable and waterproof.

"Well!" said Thaddy in bewilderment. "I don't know what's the matter with that packing case, but if you don't want it, let it go." And he gayly scattered the box, the sheets of tin, the coal hod, the barrel and the oil cans to the four winds of heaven.

"Now there's nothing to attract step-ma's attention," he said. "It was too conspicuous an ornament to the dust-scape anyway." And he gave the last vestige of the box a gleeful kick.

Three more weeks went by, and the month was completed. Koojemook was now a fine, plump dog. His sores had been licked into cleanliness and health; the bad smell, thanks to his dust baths, was quite gone, and Mrs. Timbs, staring down at him one morning, said with something nearly akin to pride: "You're not bad looking now that you've got on your bones the ten pounds that have slipped from mine this month. But understand, dog, this is for Thaddy's sake, not yours."

Koojemook violently wagged his tail. It did not matter in whose name the kindness was done. He reaped the benefit, and he loved the outspoken woman.

"Step-ma's pretty cute," said Thaddy to him later in the day. "But she's not as cute as you and me, Koojemook. I notice that you always lie low when she's about. You're a good dog. Just wait till summer comes and I'm earning money. Then I'll acknowledge you. She has so much to worry her that I hate to mention you now, and she'd never believe that you support your self."

The dog discreetly acquiesced, and for a day or two longer things went on as they had gone before. Koojemook kept to his burrow, only emerging to watch Mrs. Timbs or to note with affectionate interest the comings and goings of the boy who had befriended him.

One night when the dog was sleeping soundly he suddenly woke, lifted his head and listened. Then, creeping out, he saw the boy, he sat on the top of it and stretched his neck in the direction of the town.

To ordinary hearing there were no sounds audible but the usual ones of the night—the subdued hum from the nearby city, the rolling of carriages, the sighing of the wind, the whirling of distant electric cars, the shouts of the men to the horses that were dragging loads of ashes to the outskirts of the dump. But Koojemook, with his mysterious dog sense, was aware of something else, and soon he set out running hurriedly in the direction of the city. [Note.—My father when hunting has had a hound come to him across a wood. The dog would come directly. He could neither hear nor see his master. The wind was not in the right direction to carry the scent. M. S.]

Away in the distance, beyond his sight, beyond his hearing, a stout seafaring man was making his way toward the city's rubbish grounds, and as he went he whistled a long, loud whistle, an uncivilized whistle, heard for the first time in this civilized city.

One or two pedestrians stared at him angrily and put their hands to their ears as they passed him, whereupon a policeman felt it his duty to remonstrate.

The bluff old captain gave him a resounding thwack on the back. "I'm up in Labrador, man, whistling for my sledge dogs. Can't you see them scuttling over the frozen ground to get their frozen fish?"

The policeman grinned and stood watching the sturdy, respectable old white haired, red faced sailor who was going on his way, still making the extraordinary racket with his lips.

After awhile the old man paused and drew a long breath. "Poor doggie, ye're not in the city. They've driven ye out to rat trap and scuttledom if ye're still alive." And he whistled more vociferously than ever.

He had now reached the long, desolate street on which Thaddy and his stepmother lived. Here the old sea dog put his fingers to his lips and blew a trumpet blast.

Suddenly his hand fell; his mouth opened; he stopped short.

"Ah, there ye be!" he said, with terrible calm. Then he walked on briskly.

Away ahead in the sickly gleam of a distant electric light was a bunch of yellowish white fur, nose on paws, body crouched for a spring.

"Alpatok!" roared the old man. The spring came; the furry whirlwind precipitated itself against his breast.

The old man, staggering back, clutched the dog with one hand and with the other raised his hat.

"Lord, I thank thee!" he muttered, with tears streaming down his cheeks. "My prayer is heard; my poor doggie is found."

There was no neat pavement out here with a stone curb; merely a rough sidewalk and a deep ditch. The seafaring man sat down on the ground and let his feet dangle over the ditch. Then he put one arm round the dog, who had thrown himself across his knees and lay there like a tired child.

"Boy," remarked the old man, "I doubt but ye've had hard usage."

The dog looked up into his eyes.

"Don't ye," said the old man hoarsely; then he raised his clinched hand toward the sky, "Lord, rain down fire and brimstone on the brutes that ill use thy creatures!"

"It don't come," he muttered, looking about him. "We've got to wait." Then he again directed his attention to his dog.

"Ye're fat, boy," he said, feeling his ribs. "Some one's been good to ye. Any one that's been a neighbor to Timothy Slocum's dog shan't suffer for it. Lead me to him, boy."

The dog sprang up. Pressing close to his master, looking up at him from time to time with eyes that shone in an unutterable devotion, he led the way, not to the cottage, but to his burrow.

"At the old tricks of the wolves, your forbears, to get out of the nipping winds," chuckled the old man. "Ye forgot the feather bed ye'd slept on here? But Alpatok, who's fed ye here? This dry fodder wouldn't keep ye." And he glanced contemptuously about him at the heaps of ashes.

Alpatok made no response. He merely kept on wagging his tail and staring at his adored master.

The old man surveyed the scattered cottages with a puzzled face. "It's likely it's some one in them that's been nourishing ye. Come on, Alpa, dog, lead me to him."

Alpatok did not budge.

"Well, ye're a wise dog, and doubtless ye've got a good reason," said the man, "and if ye won't stir, at least give a howl and bring him to me. Mayhap he's never heard your pretty tones, for ye can't bark on account of ancestral difficulties. Come on, sing, boy." And he threw his own head back as a sign to the dog.

Immediately there burst upon the night air a sound or a commingling of sounds the most melancholy and ear splitting, with also a hint of ferocity, that the residents of Common street had ever been treated to in the way of a dog's howl.

It was the cry of a wild beast, not of a domesticated animal, and, seeing lights spring into darkened cottages and windows suddenly opened, the old man chuckled mischievously.

"I doubt if ye've serenaded him before, Alpa. Now him as loves ye will seek ye."

The old man was right. Alpatok had never before had occasion to howl, but to the startled Mrs. Timbs and Thaddy, springing from sleep, there was presented an immediate picture of their strange pet in some sudden distress.

Thaddy rushed to the window. The night was not very dark, and he dimly made out a man's form beside the burrow. Flinging on only the most necessary of his garments, he tore out of the cottage.

His stepmother was not far behind him. The dog was in great trouble. Perhaps some one was trying to steal him, and with a strange, jealous feeling of ownership she hurriedly thrust her feet into her shoes, slipped on her dress, and, seizing her gray shawl, hastened after Thaddy.

"Oh, oh, oh!" called a voice from the shadowy group beside the burrow. "This is Kooje's master, and he's an Eskimo dog!"

The old man pulled off his hat. "Your servant, sir, not a dog."

Thaddy, excitedly hugging Alpatok, was not listening to him.

"Do you own this dog?" asked Mrs. Timbs briefly, addressing the old man.

"Yes, ma'am, him and his mother before him. She was one of my sledge dogs when I traded in Labrador after I give up the sea. She was half wolf, and if she'd been landed here she'd have fought her way or swum her way to me, and, if she couldn't have done that, she'd have been queen of this city. She saved my life once, and when I went to Newfoundland to live I took her with me. She died and left this pup. He's not like her. He's been brought up soft, and his hard side ain't developed yet."

"How did you lose him?" asked Mrs. Timbs sharply.

"Have ye got any enemies, ma'am?" asked the old man abruptly.

"Yes, a few."

"I've got a hundred—one of 'em, the worst one—swore he'd get even with me. He stole my dog, the pup I was bringing up like a child. If he'd 'a' shot him, I'd have forgiven him, but he brought him to this strange place, he let him loose in the streets. Then he come to me, says he: 'I've took your babydog. I've freed him in a foreign place, where he'll get a foreign welcome. Most likely he's lurching along to death of starvation and being bit to pieces by native dogs.'"

"Oh," said Mrs. Timbs, with a sudden indrawing of her breath.

Thaddy stamped on the ash heap. "I'd have killed that man."

The old captain looked earnestly at him. "That's the way I felt, boy. I raised my arm. I couldn't have done him, for he is young, and I am old, but I'd have tried. However, something come over me, ma'am," he said, again turning to Mrs. Timbs. "Did ye ever get aggravated and aggravated till ye felt as if there was seventy devils inside of ye, and just at the moment ye thought they'd have to break loose something come over ye—an awful calm, a kind of way up in the sky feeling, as if something said to ye: 'Poor soul, ye've hated all ye can; now give it up!'"

The woman's thin face flushed. "Yes, yes," she murmured. "I've felt that way against the men who ruined my husband and broke his health. I've suffered till I thought my heart would break; then I gave it up."

"And so did I," said Captain Slocum heartily. "The Lord sent a holy ransom into my wicked heart. My arm fell to my side. 'Look here, Dolsen,' I said to my enemy. 'Ye've afflicted me sore, but I forgive ye. I'm an old man, and ye've taken my only comfort from me, but maybe I was making an idol of a common clay dog.'"

"And what did he say?" asked Thaddy eagerly when the old man paused.

"He never said a word. He slunk away like a fox. But next day he come back. Says he: 'Slocum, you made a fool of yourself over that dog, but he's pretty tough. Maybe he's outlasted the winter. Step aboard my schooner, and I'll take ye to the place where I led me to my dog.'"

"And now I've got to give him up!" cried Thaddy, with a wail of dismay. "But, dear me," and he turned to his stepmother, "I feel so bad that I forgot you don't know. I found this dog on the street ever so long ago, and I've had him out here, and I felt so sneaky to deceive you, but I didn't want you to take your food to give him, the way you did the hen and the cat. You'll forgive me, won't you?"

"Yes, I forgive you," said the woman in a peculiar voice.

The boy, stooping over to caress the dog, was unconscious of her change of tone. Captain Slocum was not. He gave her a sharp look and for a second time noted her painful thinness, the weary droop of her shoulders.

"I'm keeping you out here," he said quickly. "That's your home, ain't it?"

"Yes," said Thaddy, "that's our house, and if we go in you'll take the dog away. Oh, Kooje, Kooje, or Alpatok, or whatever your name is, I don't want to give you up."

"Who are you?" asked the old man shortly.

The lad stopped petting the dog and stood up. "My name is Thaddeus Timbs, sir."

"What you do?"

"Go to school," said Thaddy proudly. "Want to get an education?"

"Yes, sir, I just do."

"That's right. I'd have got on better if I'd had one. This your sister?" And he again turned his keen eyes on Thaddy's stepmother.

"No, sir; my father's second wife. He's dead."

"Indeed!" said the old man, and his gaze went again to the tiny cottage. "Have a hard time to get along?"

Mrs. Timbs drew herself up stiffly, but Thaddy smiled a charming, boyish smile. "Yes, sir; in winter. Not so bad in summer when I'm earning wages running errands."

"How long have you had this dog?"

"A month last Thursday," said Mrs. Timbs quietly.

"Step-ma!" exclaimed Thaddy, and his astonishment was pitiable to see.

"Do you own this dog?" asked Mrs. Timbs.

There was a mystery here that Captain Slocum was anxious to clear up.

"My dog's grandfather was a wolf," he said, "and Alpatok has a wolf's appetite. Who's been feeding him?"

"She has," cried Thaddy, wildly pointing an accusing finger at his stepmother. "Oh, step-ma, step-ma, you had no little to give away."

"Who did you think fed him?" asked the captain.

"I—I thought he picked up stuff on the dumps and about the streets, sir," said Thaddy in a choking voice. "She's crept out and fed him to save my vitals. Just see how thin she is, and he stared in sorrowful distress at his slender young stepmother."

"Thaddy," she said, "there's a proverb about low down persons that clean their soiled linen before strangers."

"Forgive me, step-ma," stammered the boy, "but I don't know when I've had such a blow!"

"Is she a good cook?" asked Captain Slocum, with a motion of his head toward Mrs. Timbs.

"Yes," said the boy bitterly, "when she has anything to cook. Just wait till I'm a man. I'll pile her kitchen table with groceries to the ceiling."

The old sailor was a shrewd judge of character. He gave one more glance at the woman's face, then he said: "Will you take me to board with you? I'm getting too old to live alone."

She hesitated.

"Ask for my character down at Whitehall's shipping office," said the old man shortly. "They know me."

"It isn't that"—she hesitated—"but our house is small. We have few comforts."

"A man that's been used to a ship's bunk half his life don't want oceans of room."

Her face cleared. "I'll take you, sir. If you don't like us you can leave us."

"All right, it's a bargain," he said briefly. "Here's some earnest money." And he forced a roll of bills into her hand.

"Hurrah!" cried Thaddy, throwing an arm round Alpatok. "Now I'll not lose my dog. Will you tell me of sealing voyages, sir, and strange countries?"

"That I will," said the old man heartily. "I'll move my trunk out tomorrow. Come, Alpa, boy, down to the hotel with me."

"He doesn't want to leave us," cried Thaddy. "See him look at step-ma and me. Come on, Alpa, I'll run a little way with you," and, kicking up his heels in glee, he seized the dog by his shaggy neck and scampered over the ash heaps with him.

"You've been scripping yourself, ma'am," said the old man, turning to Mrs. Timbs, who was weakly crying over the roll of bills.

She made no response beyond slightly shaking her head.

"For those two," said the old captain, pointing to the boy and the dog. "And neither of them beauties nor thorough-breds."

She threw up her head. "Mixed blood in the best blood."

"I guess you're right," he said slowly. "But don't fret no more. I've got no kith nor kin but that dog, and them that is good to him, I'll be good to."

Mrs. Timbs' lip was trembling. "I didn't do it for a reward, sir. 'Twas for Thaddy's sake. But I think the Lord sent you to us. There isn't a bite in the cupboard, and tomorrow I was planning to take him from school, though I just hated to do it."

"And he's only your stepson," said the old man curiously.

"But he loves me," she replied softly.

The old man smiled. "Well, let him get an education. You're right there. Education and always education, otherwise you're bound to go lame legged through life. Good night, ma'am."

Captain Slocum went away, but the next day he arrived with his trunk. He is now installed in Mrs. Timbs' best room, and Alpatok is growing to be a huge dog, who walks with a firm and masterful tread the streets of the city that he once roamed as a starved and forsaken puppy.

MLLE. CAROLINE
Before sailing, is having a Reduction Sale

TRIMMED MILLINERY
488 BOYLSTON STREET, BOSTON
In the Block of Brunswick Hotel

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR

COMFORT?

You can't be comfortable if you're thirsty. So indulge in a glass of our wholesome and delicious Soda Water occasionally. The comfort received is worth the trouble of going for it.

Always cold at

ARTHUR HUDSON
205 Washington Street, - Newton
Nonantum Square

First-Class Dressmaker
would like engagement to go out by the day. Address L. L. BOWER, 47 Page Road, Newtonville.

VINELAND UNFERMENTED GRAPE JUICE

A Life Giving Drink.

25 and 45c.

C. P. ATKINS,

Centre Street - Newton.

Telephone Operators for Immediate Employment

Young ladies 18 to 25 years of age and good education as students of telephone operating. Moderate salary during one month of practice. If satisfactory GOOD POSITIONS ASSURED. Apply between 2 and 1 P. M. except Saturdays, to New England Telephone & Telegraph Co., Employment Bureau, No. 15 Milk St., Boston.

Members of the Master Builders' Association, 166 Devonshire Street.
(Established 1836.) (Incorporated 1884.)
(Connected by Telephone.)</

Madam, why don't you cut in half the discomforts of a hot baking day?

That most delicious of all bread CREAMALT (the oval loaf) enables you to do this.

Fresh from the ovens to your grocer each day—10c.

GEO. G. FOX CO.
BOSTON

Newton Centre.

—Miss Mary F. Buchanan is visiting relatives in Plymouth.

—Mrs. Hale of Gibbs street is visiting in Dover, N. H., for a few weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barbour of Summer street are in Maine for several weeks.

—Miss Charlotte Atwood of Framington is a guest of her cousin, Miss Pansy F. Small.

—Mr. W. H. Dowd has erected an automobile house near his residence on Pleasant street.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. Newton N. 112-3.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Henderson of Gibbs street have gone to Sebago, Me., for the rest of the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Tilton and family of Chesley road will spend the month of August at Long Island.

—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Temperley of Centre street are expected home in a few days from Poppon Beach, Me.

—Mr. George Perry left Wednesday for Augusta, Me., where he will be the guest of relatives for several weeks.

—Master Edward Sullivan has succeeded Master Langdon Pratt as special delivery messenger at the main postoffice.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Snelling and family of Elgin street are passing a month at their summer residence in Concord.

—Mr. S. P. Baldwin of Ripley terrace is entertaining Mrs. Arthur S. McDaniel and family of New York for a few weeks.

—The Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club has joined the United States Lawn Tennis association, which has headquarters in Boston.

—Dr. George E. May of Commonwealth avenue is this season one of the most prominent golfers frequenting the Brae-Burn course.

—Dr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Boutelle and family of Rice street have engaged a cottage at Waveland, Nantasket, for the month of August.

—Dr. and Mrs. William E. Huntington of Commonwealth avenue have taken a cottage at Marblehead Neck for the remainder of the summer.

—Miss Marion Chamberlain of Summer street has returned from a visit at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Widger at Clifton Heights.

—Dr. J. G. Schroder has bought the estate on Lake avenue which has been owned for some time by Edward W. Kent of Colorado Springs. The property includes a dwelling house and 18,000 square feet of land. It is assessed at $8500.

—Mr. Herbert D. Ward and his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward of Dudley street closed their house here Monday and went to East Gloucester, where they have taken a cottage for the remainder of the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Ward have summered at that resort for several seasons.

—Rev. Edward T. Sullivan, rector of Trinity church, will preach Sunday at the Nahant church. This edifice is the one in which many of the prominent members of the summer colony along the North Shore worship. The present season is the 75th year services have been held in the picturesque structure.

—Mr. George H. Williams, former assistant postmaster, who recently gave up his home on Warren street and moved temporarily to Institution avenue, has applied to the Boston postoffice for a clerkship under Postmaster Hubbard. Mr. Williams has for the last few months been a member of the office force at Newton Upper Falls.

—A live electric wire fell into the street at Langley road and Jackson street Saturday afternoon, and for a short time there was a display which nearly equalled the Fourth of July fireworks on Crystal lake. The antics of the live wire attracted a number of children, but luckily no one was injured. The break was quickly repaired.

—A syndicate of capitalists has bought considerable land in the vicinity of Boylston and Dudley streets, and it is stated that extensive building operations in that district will soon be begun. A permit has been issued Mr. F. H. Kennard to build a two and a half story dwelling which will be 40 by 50 feet in size, off Dudley street. The work of construction will be started at once. The contract for building has been given to I. W. Duff. The estimated cost of the dwelling is $15,000.

Newton Centre.

—Miss Mabel Sears of Chase street has returned from a visit at St. John, N. B.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Dodge of Orient avenue are passing a few weeks at Allerton.

—Patrolman Charles T. Bartlett has returned to his route here after a fortnight's vacation.

—Mrs. Margaret Wade of Dudley street is home from a vacation spent at Antrim, N. H.

—Miss Madeline Moore of Summer street will pass the rest of the summer traveling in Europe.

—Miss Harriet Loring of Beacon street is home from a few weeks spent with relatives at Portland.

—Miss A. Louise Williams of Trowbridge street returned Tuesday from a few days' stay at her old home at Fitchburg.

—Mrs. Peter Paty left Sunday for Londonderry, Nova Scotia, where she will pass the next few weeks with friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. Quincy A. Atwood of Commonwealth avenue have arrived at the Rangeley Lakes for the rest of the summer.

—Mrs. John Mick has returned from the Waltham hospital to her home at Oak Hill after undergoing a surgical operation.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. Henry Fitch of Summer street are passing a few weeks visiting various vacation points throughout New England.

—Prof. William Z. Ripley of Newton Centre, professor of political economy at Harvard, has recently been made an honor member of the Phi Beta Kappa society.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rogers of Cleveland will pass the next few weeks here as guests of Mrs. Rogers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alan McIntosh McIntosh of Marshall street.

—Postmaster Morgan's family will tomorrow close their home on Everett street for a few weeks' stay at Brant Rock. They had planned to go to that resort early this week.

—Mrs. Caroline C. Flint and family will move from Worcester to the house at 27 Crystal street, near Crystal Lake, which was owned for a number of years by Mrs. George A. Kendall.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Gammon and family of Ward street, who have been passing a few weeks at Atlantic City, have now gone to the Center Harbor, N. H., for the remainder of the warm weather.

—Word received early this week from Forest City, Me., states that Rev. Dr. Alonzo Bunker is rapidly improving in health. Dr. Bunker resides on Pleasant street and has been passing several weeks at Forest City, where he was taken ill.

—Rev. Dr. Everett D. Burr conducted religious services Sunday afternoon at the new home of the Mothers' Rest at Highlandville. The services were attended by a good sized delegation of visitors in addition to the occupants. Next Sunday Rev. Dr. Burr will conduct a union service in the First Baptist church here.

—Dr. Galusha Anderson of Newton Centre, who was formerly connected for a number of years with the Chicago University, has gone to his summer home at New Hampton, N. H. At that place he purchased the Child estate, one of the larger places, two years ago. During the remainder of the summer Dr. Anderson will conduct the Sunday services in the village church.

—The trustees of the Newton boulevard syndicate lands have sold some 20,000 square feet at the corner of Wachusett and Monadnock roads to Mr. J. T. Wilson of Nahant. Mr. Wilson buys the property for the purpose of building a modern house, which he will present to his daughter, Mrs. Henry P. Reed, of this city. For the past three months Mr. and Mrs. Richmond have resided at the Hotel Boulevard and are well known in Chestnut Hill.

—Agreements have been signed for the sale of the Hamilton Perkins estate on Chestnut Hill road. It is expected that the deal will be completed in a few more days. The property comprises a large frame house and stable. The buildings are assessed for $17,500, and the land, which comprises some 93,000 square feet, for $13,500. It is stated that the new owner will make extensive improvements and then occupy the place permanently. His name is withheld for the present.

—Mr. A. S. McDaniel of New York is visiting Mr. S. P. Baldwin of Ripley terrace.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bennett of Beacon street are passing a fortnight at Magnolia.

—Prof. George Burdett and family of Gray Cliff road are passing the summer at West Harwich.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Tilton of Chesley road have been making a short stay at Swampscott.

—Mrs. Frank Clement of Warren street has returned from a visit with relatives at Cleveland, O.

—Rev. Dr. Jesse Thomas and family of Warren street have gone to Narragansett for the rest of the summer.

—Mrs. Charles Peck of Paul street is visiting relatives in Albion, Me. Mr. Peck will leave for that place in a few weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Speare of Summer street have gone of their farm at Meredith, N. H., for the rest of the vacation season.

—Mrs. Reuben Stone of Pleasant street is passing a month at Chian China, Me. Later she will go to Albion, Me., for a few weeks.

—Alderman Edward B. Bowen of Summer street sailed this week for Europe, where he will spend a few months in traveling about the continent.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ward of Crescent avenue are expected home Sunday from Europe, where they have been passing several months touring the continent.

—Mr. Eugene W. Pratt of Trowbridge street came up from North Weymouth, where his family is located for the summer, on Wednesday afternoon. He will return to the beach tomorrow.

—Mr. George W. Pratt of Gibbs street is playing in the Canadian tennis championship tournament at Niagara, N. Y. this week. Later he will go to Duluth, Minn., by steamer and enjoy a fishing trip to Isle Royale.

—Mrs. Carpenter, for many years a missionary worker in Burma, and Japan, is on her way to this country. Mrs. Carpenter was called here by the serious illness of her brother, Mr. Marshall O. Rice of Summer street.

—Tuesday afternoon the relief committee of the Mothers' Rest held a meeting in the chapel of the First Baptist church and work for the next few weeks was planned out. The new home of the organization at Highlandville is already pronounced a success beyond the expectations of some of those interested in the movement.

—An interesting union meeting of the Congregational, Baptist and Methodist Episcopal churches was held in the First Baptist church last Friday evening. A pleasing address was made by Rev. Edward T. Ware, chaplain of the Atlanta university. A collection was taken up in aid of the institution and a snug amount of money was secured.

—The resignation of Miss Maria F. Wood, for 31 years a teacher in the sixth grade of the Mason school, will be received with regret by many parents and pupils in this district. Miss Wood was born here and received her early education in the various Newton schools. Many of the present parents living in Newton Centre received their early education in sessions taught by her.

—Prof. and Mrs. E. N. Donovan of Ripley terrace last week attended the ordination of Percival Rogers Bakeman, a brother of Mrs. Donovan. The ceremony took place in the First Baptist church, Chelsea, of which Rev. Dr. Bakeman, father of the young man, is pastor. The newly ordained clergyman is well known to a large circle of friends in Newton Centre. In September he will go to China as a missionary.

—Miss Nellie B. Goodnow, aged 38, who was well known to many Newton Centre people, died Wednesday evening at her home on High Rock street, Needham. A number of friends from here attended the funeral services held today. The burial was at Natick. Miss Goodnow was a sister of Mr. Eugene Goodnow, who for a number of years was one of the owners of a Beacon street livery stable in this ward.

—Many friends here this week greeted Mr. Arthur Washburn, who is spending a part of his vacation in Newton Centre renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Washburn was for nine years one of the clerks at W. P. Knapp's. He is now engaged in business for himself at Birmingham, Ala. Mr. Washburn went to that city partly for his health and is now much improved. He will spend a part of his vacation in his former home at Hillsboro, N. H.

Newton Highlands

—Mr. R. Ripley of Lake avenue is stopping at Potter Place, N. H.

—Mr. Sam Moulton has been spending a week at Plymouth, N. H.

—Kenneth L. May of Fisher avenue has gone to the White Mountains.

—Mr. J. T. Waterhouse has returned from a few days' outing in Maine.

—Mr. A. M. Curry and family have returned from a visit at Whitinsville, Mass.

—The Clark family of Erie avenue are at Nantucket, Mass., for a few weeks' vacation.

—Miss E. C. Burgess of New York is visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Burgess of Bowdoin street.

—Miss Ethel M. Charlton of Springfield is the guest of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Charlton at their home on Hartford street.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. 112-3. Leave calls at Rhodes' Drug store. Tel. Newton S. 237-3.

PEARMAN & BROOKS

Members of the Boston and New York Stock Exchanges

Stock and Bond Brokers.

Orders by Mail Promptly Executed
Correspondence Solicited

STOCK EXCHANGE BUILDING
SUMNER B. PEARMAN

—Mr. Wallace R. Hall, who recently graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has become assistant engineer in the New York Construction Company.

—The Union prayer meeting held in the Methodist church on Friday evenings at 7:45 o'clock will be in charge of the Rev. J. E. Charlton for the next three weeks.

—Mr. W. R. Marsh and family of Elizabeth, N. J., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Marsh of Lake avenue, left Thursday for a few weeks' stay at Duxbury, Mass.

—Miss Bertha O'Connor and her sister, Miss Jennie O'Connor, have returned from a visit to their sister, Mrs. Martell, who is spending the summer at North Haven, coast of Maine.

—For a few days last week Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Charlton were in Fitchburg. Mr. Charlton's old home and last Sunday morning the latter preached in the First M. E. church in Leominster.

—Next Sunday evening the Rev. J. E. Charlton will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church and will speak on the subject, "The Cause of Failure." The service is at 7:30 o'clock and all are cordially invited to attend.

—Mrs. Emma M. Rose has bought the house at 4 Allerton road owned for several years by Mr. James Wallis. The dwelling is a frame structure and is surrounded by 7550 square feet of land. The place is assessed at $6500.

—The residents of Floral street, between Walnut and Hyde are much pleased with the work that has been done by the city. A fine new roadbed and new concrete sidewalks make it one of the attractive thoroughfares of Newton.

—Every Tuesday morning between 8 and 8:45 A. M. the flower mission representative is at the railroad station ready to receive any flowers you may wish to send to the sick in Boston hospitals. No matter how small the contributions of flowers they all count and help fill the baskets and comfort the sick.

—Mr. and Mrs. Eleazar Thompson of Hartford street celebrated the 30th anniversary of their marriage on Tuesday, the 10th. A wedding breakfast was served at noon at the home of their son, Sanford E. Thompson, and in the afternoon relatives from Baltimore, Worcester and Medway came to bring their congratulations. Mrs. Thompson (nee Harriet N. Sanford) is the daughter of the late Rev. David Sanford, who was for 37 years pastor of the village church in Medway, Mass.

Waban.

—The Church of the Good Shepherd has been closed until the first Sunday in September.

—Mr. Clinton M. Hill and family of Windsor road returned Tuesday from a week's outing.

—Dr. Wm. H. Parker of Collins road came home from Gloucester Wednesday for a short stay.

—Mr. Vico Isola is laid up at the summer camp near Mt. Monadnock, N. H., with a severely sprained ankle.

—Mrs. E. L. Ziess and Miss Clara Lucille Ziess of Nehoiden road are at their summer home at Chatham, Mass.

—Miss Leslie Knott of Plainfield street is entertaining Miss Mabel E. Farquharson of New York city, this week.

—Mr. Willard Woodward of New York made a short visit with his family on Woodward street over last Sunday.

—Rev. and Mrs. James C. Sharp of Avalon road left Thursday for Chicago, where they will spend July and August.

—Mr. D. M. Hill and family of Pine Ridge road go Friday to Gloucester, where they will spend part of the vacation.

—The Edmund Winchester family of Pine Ridge road went this week Wednesday to Beechwood, Me., for the summer months.

—Mr. and Mrs. John H. Robinson of Windsor road leave Friday for Nantucket, where Mrs. Robinson will stay several weeks.

—Prof. J. H. Pillsbury and family of Beacon street went last week to their Waban School camp at Shore Acres, Harpswell, Me.

—Work on rebuilding Beacon street from Chestnut to Irvington is rapidly progressing. Broader concrete sidewalks are to be laid.

—Sergeant Wm. M. Buffum and Private H. W. Lamkin of the 1st Corps Cadets return today from their 9 days' encampment at Hingham.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. 112-3. Leave calls at Rhodes' Drug store. Tel. Newton S. 237-3.

—Two valuable dogs were struck by autos on Wednesday; one owned by Mr. M. Cummings being killed outright; the other, Mr. Wm. Buffum's "Booboo," being seriously injured.

—Miss Jessie G. Gould of Beacon st sails this week Saturday for Newport News on the five masted schooner, "Elizabeth Palmer," as the guest of Miss Heartson, a niece of the captain. They will return by rail through the South and Washington.

DIED.

MANSON—At Newton hospital, July 11. Capt. Gilbert Manson of South Boston, aged 58 yrs.

MARRIED.

DAVIS—GALLAN—At Arlington, July 11, William F. Davis of West Newton and Miss Jessie M. Gallan of Arlington, by Rev. Edward S. Teal.

PEARMAN & BROOKS

Members of the Boston and New York Stock Exchanges

Stock and Bond Brokers.

Orders by Mail Promptly Executed
Correspondence Solicited

STOCK EXCHANGE BUILDING
SUMNER B. PEARMAN

Good Bonds and Mortgages on hand for immediate delivery

53 STATE ST., BOSTON
L. LORING BROOKS

Goods Delivered Free of Charge at Residences in Newton

PRAY'S

Carpetings, Rugs, Draperies, Furniture

Combined with the largest stock of

Carpets, Rugs and Draperies

in New England, we are showing a new and comprehensive stock of

FURNITURE

You are assured harmony in furnishing, definite idea of total expense and lowest prices.

Everything for Interior Decoration Can Be Selected Under Our Roof.

In the Centre of BOSTON'S Shopping District.

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS CO., WASHINGTON ST., Opp. Boylston St.

One Block from Hotel Touraine.

Represented in Newton by Mr. E. E. STILES.

Established in 1849

EMERSON

SHORT GRAND

is as small as is consistent with perfect tone production

STONE

is not sacrificed to SIZE

Over 86,000 Sold!

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO CALL AND EXAMINE THIS INSTRUMENT AT OUR

Warerooms, 38 Huntington Avenue

BOSTON

Geo. L. Schirmer & Co., Agts.

Lower Falls.

—Mr. Ralph Beck is spending a few weeks' vacation in New York.

—Mr. Robert Jones has returned to Ohio after visiting Mr. Frank G. Morse.

—Mr. Frank Donlon is home from Providence, where he has been spending his vacation.

—Mrs. William Blood is recovering from an illness of several weeks at her home on Columbia street.

—Miss Mary Cunningham is expected home tomorrow from Revere, where she has been spending a two weeks' vacation.

—Miss Florence Benner is substituting in the local postoffice during the absence of Miss Nellie Early, who is spending a fortnight in Portland.

—Letter Carrier William J. Main will return Monday from Newport, R. I., and Manchester, N. H., where he has been spending a two weeks' vacation.

—At a novel wood sawing contest held Monday afternoon by a number of residents here the best time was made by Master Allen Connolly of Columbia street. Old telephone poles were used in the contest, which took place in a field off Columbia street. Master Connolly saved a pole in 1 min., 20 sec.

—Crosby's Restaurant, 19 School street, Boston, is a good place to dine, if

WARD'S

WRITING PAPER

AND

ENVELOPES

BLANK BOOKS

LEATHER GOODS

SAMUEL WARD CO.

57-59 Franklin St., BOSTON

BURGLARS

Are Busy
INSURE AGAINST LOSS AND DAMAGE
$7.50 for $1000

Rowe & Porter
12 Central Street,
BOSTON,
Tel. Main 1321-E

Telephone Connections

Henry F. Cate,

Successor to STEPHEN F. CATE.

Undertaker.

—ALSO—

Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable

Washington and Chestnut Streets,
West Newton.

WE WANT

YOU

TO DO

Business

WITH

US

Baker & Humphrey

(Successors to Henry N. Baker)

ALL KINDS OF

INSURANCE

12 PEARL STREET, BOSTON

Telephone: Main 3843
Newton No. 192-2

P. E. WALTNER & CO.

Tailors

Franklin Bldg., 17 Milk Street

Near Washington

BOSTON

New Spring Styles

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXXIV.—NO. 43.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1906.

TERMS, $2.00 A YEAR.

A HIGH GRADE GENUINE

CIDER VINEGAR

of known purity, made exclusively by us, and in the largest and most modern cider and vinegar plant in New England.

New England Agents for "Duffy's 1842" Apple Juice sold in pints and quarts by the Best Grocers.

Telephone 8772 Richmond
HAYNES-PIPER CO. INC., 17 Lewis Wharf, BOSTON, MASS.

JOHN ALDEN FLOUR

SPEAKS FOR ITSELF AND ALL IT CAN SAY IS—QUALITY! QUALITY! QUALITY—
BUT REALLY ISN'T THAT ENOUGH?
WE DO NOT EXPECT UNAPPRECIATIVE PEOPLE TO BUY THIS FLOUR.

CHARLES A. HASKELL

Best Companies Life Insurance Lowest Rates
Also Fire, Accident and Automobile Insurance
176 FEDERAL ST., BOSTON Tel. Main 2776

Back Bay Veterinary Hospital

332 NEWBURY ST., BOSTON
THE BEST ORDERED AND EQUIPPED HOSPITAL FOR ANIMALS IN BOSTON
Operations a Specialty
Outside calls given prompt attention. Animals boarded during the summer months.
JAMES WILLIAM TOBIN, M. D. V.
Successor to LYMAN & LYMAN
Telephones (Hospital, 2200 Back Bay (Residence, 2247-3 Back Bay
163 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston

FERGUSON'S WHITE SEAL BREAD

A Triumph in Modern Bread Making
Made of the finest flour and pure, rich milk, in a modern, sanitary bakery. You will notice
The Real Old Home Flavor
J. G. & B. S.
FERGUSON
853 to 869 ALBANY ST BOSTON

NATIONAL HORSE & CARRIAGE MART

JUNCTION 8th, MAIN AND HARVARD STS. CAMBRIDGEPORT
HORSES and PONIES For Sale or Exchange
FINE CARRIAGES, HARNESS and SADDLERY For Horses and Ponies at Prices Never Before Quoted for the Quality
PONY TEAMS A SPECIALTY
All Newton Cars by Harvard Square pass Mart
MOSES COLMAN & SON
Tel. 1603-3 Cambridge

A. B. Turner & Co. Brookline Riding Academy
INVESTMENT BONDS.
Real Estate Mortgages Placed.
24 MILK STREET, BOSTON.

VILLAGE SQUARE, BROOKLINE
Tel. 1270 Brookline
Open from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. for Riding and Leaping Lessons and Military Drills
Ladies Taught Either on
Side Saddle or Cross Saddle
First-class saddle horses to let by the hour, day and month; horses boarded and trained.
E. CLASEN, Proprietor.
G. LEGRADY, Instructor.

SUMMER COMFORTS

With the Electric Flat Iron you can do your ironing in any room in the house without raising the temperature of the room.

Because it is heated internally by Electricity, it is free from dirt of whatever character.

Economical Simple Convenient

We leave on two weeks' trial without any obligation whatever on your part to buy.

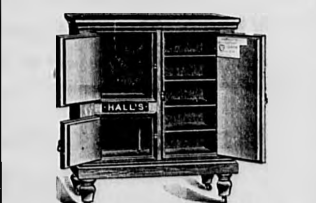

Electrical Dept. N. & W. Gas Light Co.

CARBONOL

FOR BROWN TAIL MOTH ITCH
Carbonol diluted with water allays the irritation and cures the eruption caused by the Brown Tail Moth.
Ask Your Druggist for It.
25c., 50c., 75c. per bottle, $1.50 per gal.

PENSIONS SPANISH WAR VETERANS

Who have incurred disease or injury in the service and line of duty, and the widows of the same who have died as a result of disease or injury incurred in the service should call or write to ELMER C. RICHARDSON, Authorized Pension Agent, 37 Tremont St. Boston, Mass.

HALL'S REFRIGERATORS
37 sizes with Slate Shelves in Oak and soft wood. Sanitary and cleanable removable pipe, trap, ice rack and shelves. Pure, cold, dry air. Needs the least amount of ice. Always up-to-date.
Over 35 years' experience building refrigerators.
When you buy insist upon having the "HALL."

Catalogue Free
A. D. HALL & SON
Manufacturers
Charlestown District, Boston, Mass.
Telephone Connellon

Mud Guards, Hoods, Gasoline Tanks and all Sheet Metal Work used in connection with Automobiles.
Promptness with reasonable prices guaranteed.
E. B. BADGER & SONS CO.
63-75 Pitts St., Boston, Mass.

HALL CLOCKS PRATT
53 Franklin Street, Boston

Newton.

—Miss M. P. Jones is at Castine, Me.
—Let McLean figure on your hard wood floors. Tel. 384-4 N. tf
—Mr. F. H. Howes and family are at Amisquam, Mass.
—Miss Louise Peterson of Park street will pass the rest of the summer at Chicago.
—Mr. George M. Warren of Arlington street is passing the summer at Edgartown.
—J. S. M. Holly and family will spend the rest of the summer at Falmouth Heights.
—Automobile trunks a specialty at John A. Mason's, 312 Washington street. Tel. 187-2 North. tf
—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Follett are at their summer cottage, Meredith, Lake Winnepesaukee.
—Miss Auldice Carrier of Hunnewell avenue is spending the month at North Conway, N. H.
—Mrs. S. F. Atwood of Park street has returned from a stay of a few weeks at Meganset.
—The union services during August at the Immanuel Baptist church will be in charge of Rev. W. C. B. Berry.
—Mrs. W. H. Keith and her daughter Miss Helen Keith, of Richardson street returned Monday from a visit of five weeks at Lee.
—Mr. and Mrs. Jesse C. Ivy of Fairmont avenue left this week for Center Conway, N. H., where they will remain for several weeks.
—Gallagher Bros., plumbers and gas fitters, with 15 years experience with M. C. Higgins are at 411 Centre st. Telephone 494-2 North. tf
—Mr. William H. Whitcomb of Dorchester is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Hubbard of Hollis street, who are passing a fortnight at Brant Rock.
—Mr. W. S. Higgins is having plans made for a two story frame dwelling which he will have erected during the next few months on Franklin street. The structure will be 48 by 30 feet in size. The estimated cost is $900.

Business Locals.

We have ideas in decoration that are at once novel and artistic and will cost no more than the commonplace. Hough & Jones Co., Newton, Painting, Decorating and Upholstering.

SHORT & GRAHAM Undertakers
431 CENTRE STREET
NEWTON
Tel. Newton No. 105-1
Competent person in attendance day and night. Lady Assistant.

Boston Safe Deposit Trust Company

87 Milk Street - Boston
This Company has been in active business for over thirty years, and offers you every facility for the transaction of your banking business.
It will receive your bank account subject to check and pay you interest.
It will assume the care of your property, collecting dividends, interest and every class of income.
It is authorized by law to act under Trusts of every description.
During your life it will serve you as Agent or Attorney in any business affairs, and at your decease will act as Executor and Trustee of your estate.
Inquiries will receive careful attention.

MISS MacCONNELL
(Formerly with Madame May & Co.)
ELECTRO TONIC FACE TREATMENT.
Manicuring, Chirophy, Shampooing, Toilet Articles.
Moles, Warts and superfluous hair removed Parlor: Newton Bank Building, Room H. Tel. 548-2.

'KRAKAUER.'
A Piano with a Human Voice.
"BEHNING."
Models of the Piano Makers' Art.
LINCOLN & PARKER.
211 Tremont Street, up one flight, opp. Hotel Touraine, Boston.

ANTIQUE FURNITURE
Old China, Engravings, Boots, Etc.
Bought for Cash
OLD CURIOSITY SHOP
526 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge.
Telephone 954-2. L. LEMON.

Newton.

—Legs of lamb 20c. Sirloin roast 20c. F. M. Dutch, 246 Washington St.
—Mr. Charles Hyatt of the Graphic office has been passing a few days on Cape Cod.
—Miss Sarah Leavitt of Pearl street is passing a few weeks with friends in Nova Scotia.
—Miss Florenna Chamberlain of Pearl street is passing a fortnight with friends at North Weymouth.
—Mrs. Francis E. Jennison of Channing street is visiting relatives at Green Harbor for a fortnight.
—Miss Mary A. Sloane of Pearl street is visiting at Green Hill, Nantasket Beach, for a few weeks.
—Miss Eve Viles has accepted a position as private secretary to Mr. John Craig, the well known actor.
—Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Rogerson of Willard street are spending the summer at the Clifton House, Clifton, Mass.
—Mr. and Mrs. A. Kempton Dean of Pearl street will leave town tomorrow for a two weeks' fishing trip in Maine.
—Mr. W. O. Delano left this morning for Oosterville, where he will be registered at the West Bay inn for several weeks.
—Mr. and Mrs. James Q. Wetmore of Pearl street are making arrangements to move soon to the Murdock house on Bacon street.
—Miss Elizabeth Mowry of Centre street is visiting relatives in Augusta, Me., for several weeks, having left this city Wednesday.
—Mr. Frederick Maguire of Charlesbank road will leave next week for a few weeks at the Y. M. C. A. camp at Lake Winnepesaukee.
—Rev. Henry P. Dewey, pastor of the Church of the Pilgrims, Brooklyn, preached before a large congregation Sunday morning at the Eliot church.
—Miss Cushman and her brothers have closed their home on Richardson street and gone to a farm near Mt. Wachusett for the rest of the summer.
—Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Green of Morse street will leave tomorrow night for Thomaston, Me., where they will be the guests of Mr. & Mrs. Green's parents for a fortnight.
—Hon. Henry E. Cobb and family of Bellevue street, who are passing the summer at Marion, have been entertaining a number of guests at their summer home this week.
—The Misses Annie Campbell, Kitty Campbell, May E. Cotter, Anna Baird and Anna Flanagan are spending the remainder of the summer months at Bar Harbor, Me.
—Mr. Herbert Hatch and Mr. C. Henry Clark of the Newton Savings bank office have leased the Reuben Ford house at Sea View, Marshfield, for the remainder of the summer.

Old Church Sold.

Papers were passed this week conveying the title to the present meeting house of the West Newton Unitarian church on Washington street, West Newton, to Mr. Charles E. Hatfield, president of the First National Bank of West Newton. It is said that Mr. Hatfield, who is a prominent member of the Players, Newton's exclusive amateur dramatic club, buys the property in the interests of that organization.
The building has been occupied by the First Unitarian Society in Newton, since its erection in 1860. The Society is now engaged in building a new church on Highland and Washington streets, West Newton, which will be ready for occupancy in the fall.

The Commissioners of the Massachusetts Nautical Training School have received a cable from Commander Low announcing the arrival of the Enterprise at Harve, France, on the 13th inst. All well on board.

REES & BERNIER
Have Opened a New Store at
400 Centre St., Newton
where they will carry a full line of PROVISIONS, MEATS, FISH, OYSTERS, FRUIT, VEGETABLES AND GROCERIES
With years of experience in the provision business in Newton, the firm can give their customers the best goods, the best service and the most reasonable prices in the city.

TO LET NEWTON

10 room colonial residence situated on a first-class street, convenient to everything. Hardwood floors and open plumbing. Stable and several thousand feet of land.
Rent $70.00
11 room house on Hunnewell Hill, all improvements. Would make a beautiful home for anyone.
Rent $65.00
8 room single house with all improvements. Laundry in basement. In a capital location.
Rent $37.50
2 modern flats in first-class location, very convenient to electric, stores, etc. Hardwood floors and open plumbing, rent each $30 per month
Rent $28 per month
2 half houses with 6 rooms each.
Rent for $13 each
2 four room flats, have just been remodelled and put in first-class condition.
Rent for $10 each

CALL AND SEE THE REST OF MY LIST
Also a Few Exceptional Bargains For Sale
JOHN T. BURNS
363 Centre St., Newton, Mass.
TELEPHONE

Local Base-ball Gossip.

The Newton Centre A. C. baseball team has been organized after several weeks of making arrangements for the purpose of playing a series of three match games with the strong Atlantics of East Boston.

The Newton Centre aggregation Saturday took the first game of the series, trouncing the Noddle Island delegation to the tune of 9 to 2. The game was played on the Cedar street grounds and was witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd of rooters. Among the spectators was a good sized delegation which accompanied the visiting team. Desmond and Walters proved a strong battery for the Newton Centre team from the start. They were well supported. It was evident that they had the fine points of the game down very cleverly, and it is expected that this battery will prove a hard proposition for the opposing team in the two remaining games. In the first inning each team scored a run, but the visitors were shut out after that until the last inning when they squeezed in one more run. In the meantime the home team piled up runs continuously making no less than five in the sixth.

Newton Centre made a total of nine runs, 14 hits and one error. The Atlantics made two runs, four hits and four errors.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. and the Volunteers of Waltham played a 10-inning game Saturday afternoon. The contest took place on the Cabot park grounds and was a veritable pitchers' battle. It was finally ended with the 10th inning because of approaching darkness. Part of the time the visitors had a fair lead and part of the time the home team would have the advantage. The result was in doubt up to the last minute.

Nelson, Hanson and Wharton proved a strong battery for the Y. M. C. A's, and Healey and Dugan were equally as good for the Volunteers. The Y. M. C. A. team was credited with seven hits and five errors, and the Watch City delegation with six hits and three errors. One of the features which brought out warm applause was the hitting of Wharton of the Y. M. C. A. team. He made three fine hits of the four times he went to the bat.

"Come tell me mighty players are there any more at home like you?" sang the baseball fans at Newton Upper Falls after the Florodoras of Winthrop trounced the Newton Upper Falls, 9 to 1, Saturday afternoon. Before a large gathering of enthusiastic spectators the game was played on the Eliot street grounds. The Florodora A. A. delegation took the lead in the third inning and held it throughout the rest of the game. The first two innings were the best played, and neither team scored a point. Upper Falls got its only look in along in the sixth inning, when Ryan made the only run for the home team.

The features of the game were the fielding of Doleman and Anderson and the pitching of Brennan for the winners. Estelle excelled for the losing team.

Attempted Hold-Up.

While walking up Litchfield street, Brighton, about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. Walter Nally, the 24-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Nally, of 27 Boyd street, came near being the victim of a holdup. He had just left the home of Miss Mabel McKay, upon whom he had been calling during the evening, and had gone only a short distance from the dwelling when an unknown man stepped in front of him, flourishing a knife and making a threat to kill him if he made an outcry.

Mr. Nally took to his heels and ran along Litchfield street toward the electric car line. An electric happened to be passing when he reached the end of the street. Boarding this on the jump he found a policeman of division 14, Boston, on the car. To the patrolman he told the story of the attempted holdup. Summoning assistance the patrolman went back to Litchfield street, but a long search for the unknown man proved fruitless. The police of Brighton, Newton and Watertown were notified to be on the lookout for the man Mr. Nally secured a good description of him.

Three times within a fortnight the railroad station at Newton Lower Falls has been broken into, the last break having occurred Wednesday evening. The break Wednesday was made between 6:15 and 6:35 o'clock, during a brief absence of the agent and baggage-man. When the agent returned he found the ticket office door open, and it had apparently been pried open. Once before the door had been found open and a few days later another attempt was made to enter the place. A total of about $15 in bills, was taken. It is thought that each time the thieves were frightened away by persons returning to the station unexpectedly.

Eight steers escaped from the Brighton Abattoir shortly after 2 this morning and after being rounded up near the Newton Armory and taken back to Brighton they escaped the second time and returned to this city. Taken back to Brighton again by a force of 20 employees they were finally safely housed about 5:30 o'clock.

Crimsoning of the High Seas

By PERCIE W. HART

Copyright, 1905, by American Press Association

THE regular pacing of the sentry from side to side upon the level deck showed more than anything else that the huge floating mass of machinery and guns was lying at anchor in a sheltered haven. With one eye and one ear alert for possible disturbance of his present quiet, the marine utilized his other eye and ear for matters of a personal and private nature. Up forward a crowd of jackies were sporting themselves in accustomed fashion. One couple had on boxing gloves, and their own agility, combined with the criticisms of surrounding mates, promised skill of no mean order in this form of manly exercise. A little apart from the rest and slightly screened from the full effect of the sun by an iron ventilating shaft two strangely diverse types of humanity lay stretched out upon the deck side by side. One was a big, dark complexioned Irishman, with the grime of coal dust worn into the very fibers of his skin; the other, an undersized, ruddy cheeked youth, showed indications of genteel upbringing in every move that he made. To the uninformed their uniforms appeared to be identical, but there were certain earmarks and signs which showed their ratings to the nautical mind—the former as a coal passer, the latter as a member of the gun's crew. The Irishman was at the moment merely sleeping—passing away an idle hour after the fashion of all animals and many men. His companion was reading, apparently with deep interest, from a copy of the "Hud" in the original, for among the very lowest ranks in our navy, and unlike that of any other nation, you may find what you least expect.

An individual rather short and stout in figure came puffing up the steep ladder leading from the berth deck. Without pausing to watch the glove contest, now in its final and most exciting round, he slowly made his way aft.

"Halt!" This abrupt command came from the lips of the sentry, whose single watchful eye and ear had sufficed.

"Hello, Billy," commented the intruder genially, completely unabashed by the other's show of dignity. "I want to speak with the captain for a minute or so. I've got a little scheme that—"

At this juncture it chanced that a tall and rather elderly looking officer came out from an adjacent cabin.

"Master Tallor Todds, sir," spoke out the sentry, bringing his piece to the salute. "Something he wants to show you."

"Eh, Todds! To show me?" remarked the captain somewhat wearily. Then motioning with his right hand he bade the other follow him.

Carefully holding what appeared to be some sort of an article of wearing apparel between his two pudgy hands, and poising it in midair as if he feared that even the soft contact of his own person might result in mutual injury, the visitor obeyed his commanding officer's gesture and trotted along behind him.

A big man-of-war vessel of the old fashioned type was a veritable village afloat, but a modern specimen of the same class is a city. On the broad and open deck of the old time frigate, where cattle roamed the spar deck and motherly hens raised their families in the longboats, was felt the freedom of village life, but not so on the monster modern ironclad. Here is well represented the compact and busy city. Does not the ever present trolley bring the coal from bunker to furnace and carry ammunition to the guns? The machine shops are well equipped factories in every sense of the word. Electric light wires and water mains run in all directions, and cement paved decks are laid wherever they may seem to be necessary.

Both villages and cities, moreover, possess craftsmen of various kinds, and such useful individuals are never lacking from a warship's complement. In the bygone days sailmakers, riggers, carpenters and spun yarn weavers were absolutely essential. These have been succeeded in our present generation by stokers, pipe fitters, boiler-makers and electric linemen, but many of the other old callings continue to flourish in spite of the evolution from wooden hulls to steel ones and from shanking out the reefs in sails to piling on coal in the furnaces. Among those ship's craftsmen who have thus survived the era of change, and almost as important in these days of well fitting though simple uniforms as in those of cruder shape and lavish adornment, is that of the master tailor. It may take nine shore tailors to make a man, but one on shipboard often turns out very creditable specimens.

Obadiah Todds (so was he entered upon the books of the United States battleship Rhode Island) had scarcely been inside the captain's cabin two minutes before he emerged therefrom hurriedly and very red in the face. The sentry grinned derisively, but Todds never even scowled back at him.

"Foolish, is it?" he muttered as he returned to his quarters forward. "Foolish and nonsense! Well, maybe it is, and then, again, maybe it isn't. Now, if he had said that there was no money available for supplying them at the moment I'd feel different. However, I may get a chance to try the thing before long, and then we'll see."

And he carefully placed the big bundle of cloth out of harm's way and betook himself to his ordinary duties. Obadiah Todds was a product of New England, a section of country which has brought to light more ingenious contrivances for aiding and supplementing the work of man than any other similar stretch of territory upon the whole globe's face. As became one of his blood, Obadiah was an inveterate inventor. His very latest scheme had just been most emphatically denounced by his captain. But still—following the blood strain which has given us sewing machines, typewriters and thousands of other similarly useful articles in spite of much more serious obstacles than their simple denouncement by an official—Obadiah cherished his project as tenderly as ever.

"I really believe that our whole company has gone crazy upon the subject of improvement in the latest improved modern methods of naval warfare," remarked Captain Beresford somewhat irritably to his aid, who had just entered the cabin. "The ship's tailor is the latest enthusiast. He has just been to see me about having the men supplied with a crazy kind of bullet proof coat that he has had patented. Had a model of the thing with him too. Lot of big steel spangles like, sewed on thick felt. Something on the idea of old chain armor, only Todds' variety of it looked more like fish scales than anything else. It's true enough, as he says, that the men about the superstructure are well high unprotected, but how on earth can you ask the enemy to fire only small arms at that particular spot? And Todds is just about the fifteenth today so far! One of the gunner's mates proposed a kind of an auger arrangement that was to be fitted upon the head of the shell, so that it would drill clean and clear right through one side of a ship and out the other. And then there has been Brownson with a wild and weird species of vernier for the range finders, and Lopilcourt with something else. Anybody would think that I was the assistant secretary of the navy by the way they come after me."

And Lieutenant Mortimer discreetly kept in his pocket the diagram of a new and marvelous fleet evolution which he had spent the night hours of many weeks in formulating and conversed upon strictly nonprofessional topics with his chief.

Now, the specific order of the navy department had so decreed that the gallant United States battleship Rhode Island should be one of a fleet dispatched to contest the enemy's passage. After many weary days of watchful cruising one of the fast little dispatch boats came scurrying back to the main body with the news that there was a big bank of smoke to windward. Almost immediately strings of colored flags began going up and down upon the signal halyards of the American vessels, tall black arms wigwagged from the bridges like inspired scarecrows and little steam launches darted hither and thither through the fleet. The rather straggling procession of warships lined up with much greater accuracy of interval and its course changed so as to head directly toward the suspicious bank of smoke.

Some little while after another small craft, an unprotected cruiser this time, came back to report the enemy as actually close at hand. The diminutive warship's flag signals were scarcely necessary to establish this last fact, however, for one of her two stubby masts was among the missing, and a portion of her superstructure had been cleared away with all the nicety of which a chance shot at long range is capable.

"The percentage of shattering as against incised wounds will be very large," argued Hughes in a gleeful tone of voice. "With one or two good cases involving the complete severance of the carotid artery, I—" To judge from their conversation at the mess table one might almost imagine that the chief surgeon and his assistant regarded the coming action as one especially designed to increase their store of professional knowledge.

"Did you see Hutton when you were aboard the Midget this morning?" queried Mortimer of Lopilcourt as he passed the latter a desired sauce cruet.

"Yes," replied the one addressed.

"Poor chap looked awfully white around the gills, and so were all of his people, in fact."

"Senseless, I suppose?" interrogated the other.

"Yes," answered Lopilcourt. "Those beastly little torpedo craft just throw themselves about like snappers upon the tail of a kite. It was all I could do to hold on, calm as it is today. Hutton has lost one of his men already. Thrown against the edge of the gun shield. Horrible! Another poor fellow was so battered up that I took him with me to the flagship for treatment. Whatever possessed Hutton to give up his comfortable berth with us and apply for that command?"

"He always was a torpedo enthusiast, even when we were at Annapolis together," replied Mortimer.

"By the bye, somebody told me that he was married on the very day we sailed?" queried Lopilcourt curiously. "Is it true?"

"Yes," replied the other, somewhat stiffly. "The date had been fixed before hostilities were reckoned upon, and it was carried out accordingly. I was his best man. He married my cousin, Lily Rodman."

"You don't say so!" ejaculated Lopilcourt. "Gad! How romantic! I remember having seen Miss Rodman that was. They must make a fine looking couple, for she certainly is a devilish handsome girl."

The well trained stewards flitted noiselessly about supplying the wants of their uniformed superiors, for it was now twilight, and no battle could well be fought until the morrow.

It is good to see men eat heartily at any time. It is especially good to see leaders of other men eat heartily just before coming dangers. The account of it, passed along from the steward of the officers' mess to the marine corporal, and so from boatswain's mate to able seaman and loblolly boy, will have almost as much effect upon the common enemy as the great armor piercing projectiles now reposing so peacefully in their casings far down below the water line.

"I heard an awfully good story when I was west last summer," began Smithers in his usual inane fashion. "It seems—er—that there had been a cyclone quite recently. Most astounding things, those cyclones. Er—I was assured by any number of reputable citizens—er— But I'll tell you the story—er—and you can judge for yourselves. You see—"

"What weight of broadside per minute do you figure that the enemy can actually throw, sir?" queried Brownson in a portentous tone of voice. Brownson, it may be remembered, was the same individual who believed that he could give lessons regarding the proper verniers for range finders to the whole ordnance bureau.

"I'm sure I don't know," replied Lieutenant Beresford, "but I'd very much like to hear the rest of Smithers' cyclone story."

"Signal from flagship calling captains' conference at once, sir," announced an orderly, entering the mess room hurriedly and saluting as he spoke.

The lieutenant rose from the table, with a sigh. "Save some of that roast duck for me," were his parting words to the head steward.

The night set in dark and overcast. The air was heavy with the feel of an approaching storm center. While in no sense of the word quiet and subdued, the watch below were not nearly so boisterous as usual. There was considerable letter writing and some reverential Bible handling, but for most part the men utilized their hammocks as soon as they could be swung. The searchlights of the two hostile fleets kept flashing here, there and everywhere as they watched with jealous vigilance for signs of any untoward movement on the part of one another. In the early portion of the first morning watch the officer of the deck on board the Rhode Island was hanging over the taffrail, gazing somewhat mechanically at the gorgeous phosphorescent swirl of the wave crests, when a sea hail from close at hand aroused him.

"Alo! there! Is Lieutenant Mortimer on deck?" was the cry.

Instantly the quartermaster swung his great reflector around so that its light bore upon the point from which the voice proceeded. There, within biscuit throw, framed in the circle of the searchlight's brilliancy and standing out in startling contrast against the surrounding blackness, was a small, half submerged craft—a floating infernal machine—a devourer of whole ships—a torpedo boat. Puny and despicable enough she looked as, tossed like a wooden chip upon the waste of waters, she danced about in never ceasing movement. Upon her tiny bridge a tall figure wrapped in a dripping sea cape stood erect.

Beresford slammed down hard on a lever and shouted a dozen orders.

"Is that you, Ned?" replied Mortimer, for the watch officer was none other, in astonished tones.

"Yes, it's Ned—Ned Hutton," again spoke the other.

"What are you heading that way for?" began Mortimer. "You're sure not going back to—"

"Yes, we are to try to surprise them in the rear before daylight," answered Hutton. "Now look out, I'm going to

(Continued on Page 6)

AMERICAN LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY

53 STATE STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

CAPITAL $1,000,000
SURPLUS EARNINGS $1,700,000

TRANSACTS A GENERAL BANKING AND TRUST COMPANY BUSINESS

INTEREST ALLOWED ON DEPOSITS SUBJECT TO CHECK. SPECIAL RATES ON TIME DEPOSITS

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

C. F. Adams, 2d
F. Lothrop Ames
Hobart Ames
Edwin F. Atkins
Frederick Ayer
Charles S. Bird
George W. Brown

A. G. Bullock
Samuel Carr
Gilmer Clapp
Gordon Dexter
William R. Driver
F. C. Dumaine
Eugene N. Foss

William A. Gaston
Elmer P. Howe
N. W. Jordan
David P. Kimball
John Lawrence
Lester Leland
S. E. Peabody

Francis Peabody, Jr.
Royal Robbins
P. L. Saltonstall
R. Paul Snelling
Frank W. Stearns
Eugene V. R. Thayer
Charles W. Whittier

N. W. JORDAN, President

CHARLES L. BURRILL, Vice President

JAMES H. PERKINS, Vice President

EDWARD A. COFFIN, Treasurer

CHARLES H. BOWEN, Secretary

GEORGE W. AURYANSEN, Asst. Sec'y

AUTOMOBILE GARAGE

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT

Repairs on Steam, Gasolene and Electric Carriages

Agents for YALE and NORTHERN

FRED J. READ, Washington Street, Newtonville

Tel. 479-6 Newton

One of 57
Sizes

Just add a little coal and it serves

SMITH & THAYER CO.
234-236 Congress Street
BOSTON, MASS.

N. Y. Office, Flatiron Bldg.

THE
Henry F. Miller
Piano

Are highly prized because of their proven durability, lasting sweetness of tone and reliable actions.

Every instrument is absolutely guaranteed by the makers and permanent satisfaction is a certainty when once a HENRY F. MILLER PIANO is placed in the home.

Our prices are not high, but are the lowest offered for pianos of the best possible quality.

Where Quality is the desideratum,
we especially invite buyers to see and hear our NEW SCALE
grands and uprights, and get our prices and terms.

Warerooms, 395 Boylston St.,
BOSTON.

Established 1863.

Always Under One Management.

Expressmen.

C. G. NEWCOMB'S
Newton & Boston Express.

Newton Office, 402 Centre Street.

BOSTON OFFICES:

15 Devonshire Street, 105 Arch Street.
174 Washington Street, 77 Kingston Street.

65 Kingston Street

Order Box at C. M. Hyatt's Stall, 2
Faneuil Hall Market, Telephone Newton
North 600, Boston 1578

FURNITURE AND PIANO MOVING.

HOLMES' BAGGAGE EXPRESS.

You can always find one of Holmes' Express men at their stand, NEWTON BAGGAGE ROOM from 6.30 A. M. to 8.30 P. M., where a call may be left, or leave orders at G. P. Atkins, Grocer or Newton Business Exchange, 340 Centre St.
Telephone connection.

Furniture and Piano Moving
also Crockery and Pictures carefully packed for transportation.

General Jobbing of every description promptly attended to.

Residence, 159 Adams St., Newton, Mass.

First-Class Dressmaker
would like engagement to go out by the day. Address L. L. BOWER, 47 Page Road, Newtonville.

PATENTS

We promptly obtain U. S. and Foreign patents for inventions of all kinds.
Send model, sketch or photo of invention for
free report on patentability. For free book,
"How to Secure TRADE-MARKS," write
to—

CASNOW &
OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE
WASHINGTON, D. C.

SUNBURST SKIRTS.

and HAND BUTTON-HOLES

Made at MME. INWOOD'S

Accordion Plaiting Rooms

31 and 33 WINTER STREET.

Take Elevator in Hall's Store.

ZEPP'S
DANDRUFF
CURE

Your hair can be positively freed of all dandruff by using one bottle. See. Finest Hair Dressing of the age. Sold by all Barbers and Druggists.

T. NOONAN & CO., Props.
38 Portland Street, BOSTON.

Advertise in the Graphic

GEO. W. MILLS, Undertaker

18 years experience Highest References
Chaffin Bldg., 817-819 Washington St., Newtonville
Telephones, Office 112-3, Residence 176-5 N. N.

GEO. H. GREGG & SON, Undertakers

Established 1865
ALL THE NEWTONS
Masonic Building, 296 Walnut St., Newtonville
Telephone Newton North, 64-2-4.

J. S. Waterman & Sons, Funeral Undertakers and Embalmers.

2998 and 2998 Washington Street.
Adjoining Dudley Street Terminal.
All modern improvements under one roof, including offices, sales rooms, morgue, dressing rooms and chapel.
Tel. Roxbury 72 or 73.

A. L. EASTMAN UNDERTAKER

261 Tremont St., cor. Seaver Place, Boston
Only the Best Appointments.
Embalmers and Assistants in attendance day and night. Telephone 660 Oxford.

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY.

Sole Importers of Oriental Male Harry Java (best coffee known.) Tea and Coffee to suit every purse and every taste retailed at wholesale prices. Goods always uniform, always pure.
Extra choice goods a specialty. Sign of the Big Tea Kettle, 80 Collyer Sq., Boston

COMFORT?

You can't be comfortable if you're thirsty. So indulge in a glass of our wholesome and delicious Soda Water
occasionally. The comfort received is worth the trouble of going for it.

Always cold at
ARTHUR HUDSON
265 Washington Street, - Newton
Nonantum Square

Hathaway Drop Instep Shoe

The most desirable shoe for persons troubled with their feet. Does away with all pains. Send for Catalogue A.

SOLD ONLY AT
F. E. HATHAWAY & SON
82 Merchants Row, near Faneuil Hall, Boston

Schools and Teachers.

L. EDWIN CHASE TEACHER OF Violin and Mandolin

BEST METHODS

47 Richardson St., - Newton

A. H. HANDLEY MUSIC FOR ALL OCCASIONS

23 Richardson Street
NEWTON

GARDEN HOSE

Auburndale.

—Mr. George Lothrop of Foxboro is visiting Mr. Harry Kemble.

—Mr. Walter P. Thora, the druggist, has returned from a short trip.

—Extensive improvements were this week made to the express office of George W. Keyes.

—Mr. and Mrs. Willis F. Hadlock of Lexington street are at Nantux, Long Island, for a stay of two weeks.

—Mr. C. W. H. Strongman returned Saturday evening from a pleasure trip through the towns west of here.

—Dr. Chessman P. Hutchinson of Central street is expected home Saturday from a 10 days' pleasure trip.

—Mrs. L. E. Brown of Wolcott street is at the Stevens homestead, Plymouth, for the remainder of the summer.

—Letter Carrier H. A. Preston left Tuesday for a vacation of a fortnight, which he will spend in various places.

—Dr. Wilbur F. Hall of Central at left Monday evening for Bath, Me., where he will spend a vacation of several weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodman have engaged a cottage off Auburn street. Mr. Woodman is employed in the Newton hospital.

—While visiting at Manchester, N. H. Miss Anna Gordon of Auburndale addressed a large gathering of children on Sunday school work recently.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Davidson of Hancock street are passing a few weeks visiting vacation places. They left Auburndale early this week.

—Mrs. E. E. Johnson and family of Studio road are passing a few weeks out of town, during which they will visit a number of summer places.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Goodrich and family of Central street left Monday for Waterville, Me., where they will spend the remainder of the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Sederquist of Cheswick road have gone to their summer home at Swampscott, where they will remain until the early autumn.

—Mr. and Mrs. John G. Simonds of Central street have closed their residence for a trip of several weeks, during which they will visit various summer resorts.

—Mr. and Mrs. George M. Fiske of Walcott street this week went to their summer home at Cliff Island, Me., where they will remain the rest of the season.

—It will be of interest to many friends of Rev. J. K. Browne, who formerly resided on Hancock street, to learn that he is making arrangements to soon leave for Turkey, where he will resume work as a missionary.

—Mr. W. G. Chesley had work started early this week on an apartment house on Commonwealth avenue. It will be a two-apartment structure and will be 27 by 41 feet in size. The estimated cost is placed by the architects at $4500.

—Mrs. C. W. Hubbard and family this week closed their home at Weston and went to their summer place at Isle au Haute, near Stonington, Me., for the remainder of the summer. Mr. Hubbard recently sailed for Europe where he will remain until early autumn.

—Miss Helen M. Crane and Miss Anna M. Farrington on Wednesday closed their home on Maple street for a fortnight's stay at Garvin's hill, Chichester, N. H. Later they will go to Wells River, Me., for the month of August. Miss Crane is a sister of William H. Crane, the well known actor.

—The record of the Woodland Golf club course was lowered to 67 last Saturday by Mr. Tom McNamara, the Woodland professional, in a practice round with Mr. E. Floyd Jones of the Commonwealth Country club of Chestnut Hill. Mr. McNamara shaved his own previous best record for the course by four strokes.

—Despite the warm weather there was a good sized congregation present Sunday at the Congregational church, when the sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Blackmar of Winter Park, Fla. At the annual meeting in the evening he made a brief address. This evening the prayer meeting will be led by Rev. Dean A. Walker.

—Mrs. Francis N. Peloubet of Woodland road left with her family on Monday to join Rev. Mr. Peloubet at their summer home, Waterville, N. H. Rev. Mr. Peloubet has been located there for a week or two. During the summer he will preach occasionally before congregations of summer residents in various churches in the resorts in that vicinity.

—Prof. and Mrs. A. R. Wells and Miss Wells have sailed on the Romanic for Geneva for a stay of several months abroad. They will attend the world's Christian Endeavor convention at Geneva, where they will join a number of other Auburndale people who are passing a few months abroad. These include Miss Alice Adams, Miss Harriet Hunt, Mr. Albert Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton, Dr. Cooley and Dr. F. E. Clark.

—Crosby's Restaurant, 19 School street, Boston, is a good place to dine, if

Newtonville.

—Mr. Arthur E. Loring is visiting relatives in Cohasset this week.

—Mr. Charles C. Clapp of Chesley avenue was a recent guest of relatives in Brockton.

—Mr. D. C. Heath Jr. of Highland avenue will pass the next two months touring Europe.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wakefield and family have moved from Austin street to Highland avenue.

—Miss Fannie Lane of Brooks avenue is able to be out again after an illness of several weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. DeVignier are installed in a cottage on the north shore for the rest of the season.

—At their cottage at Hull, Mr. and Mrs. John Cutler of Walker street this week entertained a party of friends.

—Miss Nellie Spellman left Tuesday for Cottage City, where she will be the guest of Miss Elizabeth W. Turner for a fortnight.

—Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Needham of Lowell avenue are at Casco Bay, Me., for several weeks, where they have taken a cottage.

—Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Mallett have closed their house on Washington park and gone to Nyack, N. Y., for a few weeks' vacation.

—Mr. Edward J. Cox and family this week closed their home on Brooks avenue and went to Morris Cove, New Haven, for the rest of the summer months.

—Mr. James E. Seaving is having plans made for a large addition and a number of alterations to his residence on Harvard street. The improvements, it is estimated by the architect, will cost $2000.

Lower Falls.

—Mr. Austin Early is home for the summer.

—Miss Nellie Came is visiting relatives at West Newton for a few weeks.

—Mr. Ralph Beck has returned from a pleasure trip of several weeks to New York.

—Mrs. Ralph Barron and family have gone to Derigo Island, Me., for a month's stay.

—Mr. Frederick Curtis and Miss Helen Curtis are passing a few weeks at Swampscott.

—Mr. Frederick C. Leslie is expected home today from a week's visit with relatives in Maine.

—Mr. George Armitage has accepted a position with the Adams Express company in one of its Boston offices.

—Miss Nellie Early has returned from a visit with friends at Portland, Me., and has resumed her duties at the local postoffice.

—Mr. George H. Bell of Boston, formerly of this place, has been spending a few days here renewing former acquaintances.

—Miss Elizabeth Healy left Wednesday for Pawtucket, where she will be the guest of her uncle, Mr. Henry Sawyer, for a few weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Dolan of Concord street are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. John W. Shannon and family of Muskegon, Mich., for the remainder of the summer.

—Master Philip McLean of this place now holds the caddies' record on the Woodland Golf club course, having made the course in the recent caddies tournament in 82 strokes.

—Letter Carrier William J. Main returned to his route in this district Monday after a two weeks' vacation. Part of his vacation he spent in Newport and part in Manchester, N. H., with relatives.

A Wild Tale.

Because it was believed that he could be better educated and cared for in a home, Malcolm L. Collins, 14 years old, who had lived for some months with an uncle, Daniel Collins at 316 California street, Nonantum, was last Saturday turned over to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children by the local police.

The boy told a wild tale of harsh treatment by his uncle to the Newton police and to the officers of the society. He showed some bruises on his body and said that his uncle had severely beaten him time and again, burned his chest with a hot poker and once strung him up with a rope hitched around his ankles.

Acting under the orders of Chief of Police Mitchell, patrolman McNeil of division 3 of this city made an investigation of the case. As a result of this investigation the police placed no credit in the sensational stories told by the boy. They nevertheless had him turned over to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children with a suggestion that he be placed in the House of the Angel Guardian on Vernon street, Boston.

The boy told the officers of the Society on Monday that his mother died four years ago and that his father passed away a year ago last March. Since that time, he added, he had wandered about, but most of the time had made his home with an uncle in Nonantum, the man whom he charged with having terribly punished him.

About a fortnight ago the boy was found swimming in a stream near Nonantum by Samuel Gove, the 16-year old son of Mrs. B. T. Gove of Church street. The boy listened to the lad's tale. Taking pity upon him he took him home. Mrs. Gove fed the lad and gave him some clean clothes. The boy remained at the house for a little less than a fortnight. He said that he had secured employment in Watertown and each morning he would go away after breakfast and return late in the afternoon.

It was later found by the police that the boy had not been working, but had put in his days playing about the streets and fighting with other children. In fact, it is believed by the authorities here that the boy received about all his bruises in fights with other lads.

Tuesday the story of the boy's parents was investigated. It was found, it was stated, that the lad's father did not die a year ago last March, but that he moved to Woonsocket, R. I., where he followed the same vocation which he had followed in this city, that of a plumber. It is said the boy ran away from his home in that place.

At one time the lad had been an inmate of the Working Boys Home at Newton Highlands. The lad's uncle stoutly denied, when asked by a reporter if they were true, the tales of fierce punishments alleged to have been inflicted by him. Chief of Police Mitchell says that he believes there is no case upon which to prosecute the uncle, for he is confident that the boy did not tell the truth.

Woodland Closed Series.

The neighborhood tournament on the course of the Woodland Golf Club at Auburndale Saturday, the last of the spring fixtures, attracted a large following of enthusiastic golfers. There were 73 entries, an unusual number for a midsummer tournament.

Players found going on the Woodland course very satisfactory, and some good scores resulted. I. W. Small of Winchester went around in 79, 42 out and 37 in, and took the gross prize. His 70 net was the best made, the net trophy going to C. H. Anderson of the home club. Anderson scored 81, 9, 72.

J. G. Anderson of Woodland made an 80 gross, taking a 6 on the first. The next best gross was C. H. Anderson's 81, and following him was W. E. Stiles of Brae-Burn, who made an 82.

A number of players were disqualified for using the eighth tee while driving to the first hole. The two tees are quite close together, and when there is a congestion at the first, it had been a custom, which was recently forbidden by the tournament committee, under penalty of disqualification, to use the eighth.

Messrs I. W. Small of Winchester, J. G. Anderson of Woodland, C. H. Anderson of Woodland, W. E. Stiles of Brae-Burn, and W. G. Pfeil of Woodland made the five best gross scores. Among the other well known players who made creditable scores were the following: Messrs A. H. Dorsay, J. A. McLeod, E. R. Rooney, Henry Haynie, C. C. Briggs, A. M. Lane, F. A. Edmunds, A. T. Gutcheon, W. G. Clark, T. A. Ashley, C. E. Sprague, J. A. Wilson, W. C. Church, W. K. Farrington, H. S. Tripp, H. L. Dexter, Jr., George N. Hersey, John E. Oldham, C. E. Newall, J. F. Dunneavy, G. H. Fernald, C. L. Pierce, C. B. Lord, J. A. LaBonte, G. F. Weston, H. T. Bond, A. A. Hunt, P. D. Cody, J. H. Dodge, R. W. Newall, R. L. Chipman, C. O. Skinner, A. V. Dille, R. E. Lord, J. P. Arnold, A. E. Burr, W. H. Hollbrook, W. H. Davies, H. B. Curtis and E. Mortimer.

Real Estate.

Alvord Bros. have leased for the trustees of Boston University to Mary C.

Haskell the estate No. 550 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre.

Alvord Bros. have sold the Smith estate, in Newtonville, situated in California and Nevada streets, and Linwood avenue, consisting of an attractive frame dwelling of eighteen rooms, stable of five stalls, poultry house, silo and 33,000 square feet of land, all taxed on $19,150. The title passes from Charlotte C. Smith to Maria Damiano.

Legal Notices

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by George L. Forristall and Graphelia Forristall his wife, in her own right, to the Newton Savings Bank, dated September 23rd, 1897, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds Book 2597, Page 5, for breach of the condition therein contained and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises, on Monday, the thirteenth day of August, 1906, at four o'clock in the afternoon all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:—

All that lot of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Newton in the County of Middlesex, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, called Newton Highlands, and bounded as follows, viz:—

Easterly by Bowdoin Street, Seventy-five (75) feet; Southerly by land now or late of Endicott, One hundred and thirty (130) feet; Westerly by land now or late of Crafts about Seventy-five (75) feet; and Northerly by a line distant Seventy-five (75) feet southerly from Forest Street and parallel with said Street. One hundred and thirty (130) feet. Containing 9750 square feet.

Being the same premises conveyed to the said Graphelia Forristall by deed of Edmund H. Tarbell, dated May 21st, 1895, and duly recorded Book 2370, Page 315, and said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions therein contained.

Said premises will be sold subject also to any outstanding tax titles of record, and to any unpaid taxes and assessments.

$500, at time and place of sale.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK, Mortgagee,

By ADOLPHUS J. BLANCHARD, Treasurer.

Boston, July 18, 1906.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Henry A. Barker to Nathan L. Eastman, guardian of Mary E. Hovey, dated September 5, 1894, and recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Book 2303, Page 415, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises hereinafter described, on Monday, the thirteenth day of August, A. D. 1906, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: all that parcel of land, with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Newton in the County of Middlesex, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, called West Newton and bounded: Beginning at the Northwestern corner of the granted premises on the Easterly side of Prospect Street at a point one hundred and fifty-six and 1/2 feet Southerly from the corner of Washington Street; thence Easterly at right angles to the line of Prospect Street one hundred feet by land of said Barker to a corner; thence Southerly by said Barker's land sixty-five feet; thence Westerly by land of Ridgway one hundred feet to Prospect Street; thence Northerly by said street sixty-five feet to the point begun at: Containing sixty-five hundred square feet of land.

Said premises are to be sold subject to unpaid taxes and assessments, if any.

Two hundred dollars ($200) will be required in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

EMILY J. TANTER, Assignee and present holder of said mortgage.

Lawrence Bond, attorney, 1940 Old South Building, Boston, July 16, 1906.

JOHN J. HENRY & CO., AUCTIONEERS

50 Congress St., Boston

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by George L. Forristall and Graphelia Forristall his wife, in her right to the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, Trustee of the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, said mortgage deed being dated March 1, 1902, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 2591, Page 553, will be sold at public auction upon the premises hereinafter described, on Monday, the sixth day of August, 1906, at four o'clock in the afternoon, for breach of the condition of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and therein described as follows, namely:—

"A certain parcel of real estate situated in that part of Newton, Massachusetts, called West Newton, and being lots numbered one (1) and two (2) on plan showing land on Ward Street, Newton, by G. S. Rice and G. E. Evans, dated November 3, 1894, duly recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds and bounded Westerly by Morseland Avenue (formerly Water Street) one hundred fifty six and 1/2 (156 1/2) feet; Southwesterly by the curve at the junction of said Avenue and Ward Street thirty and 9/10 (30 9/10) feet; Southerly by Ward Street in three courses as shown on said plan sixty and 8/10 (60 8/10) feet; six and 1/2 (6 1/2) feet; and eighty nine (89) feet; Easterly by lot thirty (30) on said plan one hundred and forty four and 2/10 (144 2/10) feet; North by land of Morse one hundred seventy four 3/10 (174 3/10) feet, containing 25,980 square feet. Being the same premises conveyed to said Graphelia Forristall by deed of William F. Harbuck dated March 14, 1901, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds Book 2579, page 398. This conveyance is made subject to the restrictions therein mentioned or referred to."

Said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions above referred to, and to any and all tax titles, unpaid taxes and assessments, $200, will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Further terms at sale.

BOSTON SAFE DEPOSIT AND TRUST COMPANY, Trustee under the will of Thomas Nickerson.

Mortgagee and present holder of said mortgage.

By CHARLES E. ROGERSON, President.

Address 32 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

JOHN J. LODGE, J. Adm.

July 5, 1906.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Arnold Scott of Newton in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, George D. Scott of New York in the State of New York; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Fanny C. Coburn of said Newton, to register and confirm her title in the following described land with the buildings thereon situate in said Newton bounded:

A certain parcel of land comprising lots numbered nine (9), twenty three (23), twenty four (24) and twenty five (25) on a plan of William Kendrick, made by Alexander Wadsworth in June 1845, and recorded with Middlesex So. Dist. Deeds, Book of Plans 13 Plan 52, said lots beginning on Park Street at a corner of land formerly of Dana, now of Scott, and running south on said Park Street and then East on Franklin Street, formerly Elliot Street, in curving lines, one hundred and eight and 3/10 (108 3/10) feet, three hundred and ten and 4/10 (310 4/10) feet, one hundred and fifty and 9/10 (150 9/10) feet, and thirty five (35) feet to Waverly Avenue, formerly called Waban or Moore Street, thence North on said Waverly Avenue two hundred and sixteen (216) feet to land formerly of Dana, now of Scott; thence West on said land of Scott four hundred and twenty one (421) feet and nine (9) inches to the point of beginning; said lot nine (9) containing 25,475 square feet, said lot twenty three (23) containing 17,300 square feet, said lot twenty four (24) containing 23,255 square feet, and said lot twenty five (25) containing 25,720 square feet, be the same more or less.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in said County, on the twenty-fourth day of July, A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

Witness, LEONARD A. JONES, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this ninth day of July in the year nineteen hundred and six.

Attest with Seal of said Court, CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Sarah H. Hovey, Ella F. Sanborn, Walter L. Sanborn and Edward R. Benton all of Newton in the County of Middlesex; John T. Sanderson of Boston in the County of Suffolk; Trustee under the will of Sarah A. Fay late of said Boston, deceased; Mary C. Beecher of Brookline in the County of Norfolk, all in said Commonwealth; Phoebe A. Scott, Harriet B. Hollis, Adelle A. Cornell and Mary J. Whitman all of Philadelphia in the State of Pennsylvania; the heirs, devisees or legal representatives of Luther F. Beecher late of said Brookline deceased; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas a petition has been presented to said Court by George M. Weed of said Newton, to register and confirm his title in the following described land with the buildings thereon, being a certain parcel of land situate near Langley Road, formerly called Station Street, in that part of said Newton called Newton Centre, bounded:

Beginning at the Southeastern corner of the premises at land now or late of Benton, thence running by said land of Benton Southwesterly fifty and 18/100 (50 18/100) feet to land now or late of Scott; thence running and running Northwesterly on said Scott's land twenty seven (27) feet; thence turning at an angle of 148 degrees 38 minutes and running Northwesterly on land now or late of John H. Saurin thirty four and 1/2 (34 1/2) feet; thence turning at an angle of 68 degrees 13 minutes and running Northwesterly on land now or late of Elizabeth A. Clark ninety four and 1/2 (94 1/2) feet to land now or late of Fay; thence turning and running Southerly by said Fay's land fifty four and 81/100 (54 81/100) feet to the point of beginning.

The petitioner claims a right to pass and remove to and from said Station Street over a strip of land now or late of Elizabeth A. Clark twenty feet wide, bounded as follows: Southeasterly by said Fay's land and the land above described two and ten and 8/10 (210 8/10) feet; Southerly by said Scott's land; Northwesterly by other land of said Elizabeth A. Clark by a line parallel to and distant twenty (20) feet from said Fay's land and the land first above described; and Easterly by said Station Street.

And the Petitioner also claims an easement in said last described strip of land as aforesaid as appurtenant to the first above described parcel of land.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in said County of Suffolk, on the sixth day of August, A. D. 1906, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted.

And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, LEONARD A. JONES, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of July in the year nineteen hundred and six.

Attest with Seal of said Court, CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Margaret B. Blackman late of Newton in said County, deceased:

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Josephine H. Blackman who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the fourth day of August, A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. MCINTIRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this seventeenth day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

F. M. ESTY, Asst. Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Albert W. Walker, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself the trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are hereby required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

GEORGE L. HOLMES, Executor.

Address of Agent is Vermont St., Newton, Mass.

June 28th, 1906.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, ss.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Margaret M. Hovey late of Newton in said County, deceased:

WHEREAS, Henry H. Dodge administrator of the will annexed to said Court, has presented to said Court his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the order named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, the whole of a certain parcel of the real estate of said deceased for the payment of debts, legacies and charges of administration, and for other reasons set forth in said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County, on the twenty-fourth day of July, A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in said County, on the twenty-fourth day of July, A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

Witness, CHARLES J. MCINTIRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of June in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

W. E. ROGERS, Register.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, ss.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Peter Martin late of Newton in said County, deceased:

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by George J. Martin and Rose Elizabeth Dunphy who pray that

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

Published every Friday at 10 Centre Place, - Newton, Mass.

Entered as second-class matter.

$2.00 per Year. Single Copies, 5 cents.
By mail free of postage.
All money sent at sender's risk.
All checks, drafts, and money orders
should be made payable to

NEWTON GRAPHIC PUBLISHING CO.,
J. C. BRIMBLECOM, Treas.

TELEPHONE NO. 77-3.

The Graphic is printed and mailed
Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News-stands in the Newtons, and at the South Union Station, Boston.

All communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

Notices of all local entertainments
to which admission is charged must be paid for at regular rates, 25 cents per line in the reading matter, or $1.00 per line in the advertising columns.

Notwithstanding the sugar coat of a playground with which the new school house site at Nonantum was painted, the fact remains that this Crescent street
lot is about the worst location in the entire village for school purposes. The land on Crescent street is too low for such a building and the higher land at the rear has been used for stable and even worse purposes for many years. In addition a building on this higher land will come close up to the building lots on Watertown street, with the possibility of the rear view of business blocks and tenement houses in the future. The offer of land far a playground adjoining the proposed school is most generous, of course, and yet we have heard rumors that the donor would have been willing to have given land adjoining other sites, notably on the Bemis estate, with equal readiness. It seems a great pity that such an improvement as a new school building will make to Nonantum, is to have its beauty hidden in a backyard lot.

We noticed a public spirited citizen
the other evening at midnight, indistrictly engaged in killing the brown tailed moths fluttering around the electric lights. Brookline has started a crusade in this direction by placing sticky paper on its electric light poles for the purpose of catching these moths. The idea is worthy of consideration by our moth department.

The County Commissioners are busily engaged in making the apportionment of representatives of the County. It is rumored that Newton and Weston will be made a joint district with three representatives. There are plenty of arguments to justify the demand that Newton be given three representatives by itself but the Commissioners have many things to consider in making this apportionment.

The session of the aldermen on Monday evening was notable from the fact that gifts of land for athletic purposes on the Clafin estate and adjoining the proposed school lot on Crescent street for playground purposes were made to the city. Our public spirited citizens are coming to the front.

The revocation of the sixth class liquor license of a man now confined in the House of Correction for violation of its provisions, should have occurred some weeks ago. The delay was entirely unnecessary from a commonsense point of view.

A reduction of over $30,000 in our state and metropolitan taxes for the current year seems to indicate that the tax rate will be materially reduced.

More Automobilists Fined.

In the municipal court Monday morning two automobilists were arraigned on charges of over-speeding their machines on River street. The police testified that Louis S. Hart of Waltham sent his auto 16 miles an hour, exceeding the limit set for River street by four miles an hour. Hart told Judge Kennedy that he simply started up his machine to get past an electric car before the latter started. He was fined $5.
Lester E. Blake was charged with making 22 1/2 miles an hour on the same thoroughfare. He told the court that he did not believe his machine could make that speed as it had not recently been in good repair. He paid $10.

Mothers' Rest.

Services at the Mothers' Rest corner
High street and Greendale avenue, Highlandville, will be conducted on Sunday, July 22nd at 4 P. M. by Mr. E.
Clifford Potter. There will be special music. All friends are cordially invited to help with the singing.

Crosby's Restaurant, 19 School street, Boston, is a good place to dine at.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

For a mid-summer meeting of the board of aldermen, that of Monday night was sufficiently interesting to satisfy the most critical spectator. Rarely has so much important business been transacted at one meeting as on Monday night. The important question as to the site for the new school building at Nonantum was settled by the purchase of about 2 acres of land on Crescent street and in rear of Watertown street from the Stearns estate and two smaller owners for the sum of $8000. This matter was clinched by the letter of ex-mayor Weed offering the city in behalf of two unknown donors some 50,000 square feet of land on Crescent street adjoining the proposed school lot, to be used as a playground, and an offer to defray the expense of covering the brook which crosses the land so given.

It is needless to say that these offers were accepted and incidentally the ammunition of those opposed to this school lot was drawn before it could be fired.
Orders were adopted authorizing the preparation of plans for the new school at Nonantum to be of twelve rooms and a hall, and for the new school at Newton Highlands which will be ten rooms without a hall.

The board met at 7:45 o'clock, with President Carter in the chair and Aldermen Bowen, Day, Ellis, and Webster being the only members absent.

Hearings were held on petition of the Telephone Company to locate 4 poles on Groveland street at which no one appeared.

At the hearing on the petition of Andrew Davis to locate an 8 horse power gas engine on Church and Oakland streets, opposition was made by Mrs.
A. V. Harrington who objected to the noise of the engine, and to the noise of the saw which it was to operate. Mrs.
Godendorf of Church street said her husband worked nights at the state prison and wanted to sleep in the daytime. She was afraid of the noise of the engine. Mrs. Ashley of Oakland street said the noise would be a serious objection. A long remonstrance was filed against granting the petition. Mr. Davis the petitioner told a straightforward story saying that he did not intend to create any nuisance in the neighborhood, as the engine would be placed in the cellar and its exhaust muffled into the chimney. It would not be run constantly and there would be no smoke or other nuisance. This building has always been used as a carpenter shop and if it is not used by him the owner intends to make it into a three tenement flat. He will remove the old shed at the back and the engine will be fully 100 feet from the nearest building. The hearing was closed and later in the evening the petition was granted.

Mr. John E. Lockett objected to the location of one pole on Highland avenue, saying that the person whose residence the Gas Company desired to reach had authorized him to object for him as well. This petition was subsequently refused.

Mr. A. S. Kilburn objected to poles on Waltham street as desired by the Gas Light Company, saying that the street was beautiful with its trees and poles were not desired. This petition was also refused.

Messrs. L. E. Luellan, G. L. Sleeper,
W. E. Brown and Joseph Congdon appeared in favor of taking land for sewers in Rokeby Road, Pontiac Road, Carlton Road, and Waban avenue, saying that new houses were being erected on their land and sewers were desired before they were finished. The hearing was closed.

The bond of Charles Scipione as a constable with individual securities was received and later the board accepted the report of the finance committee recommending that such bonds should be given by some Surety Company rather than by individuals.

The following offer of land for playground was referred to the Committee on Public Works and subsequently, on their favorable report it was accepted:

Boston, July 14, 1906.

Albert P. Carter, Esq.,
President of the Board of Aldermen,
Newton, Mass.

Dear Mr. Carter:

A gentleman, who has been following closely the discussion in your Board of the proposed sites for the new school house in Nonantum, is greatly interested in play grounds. He examined for himself the two sites proposed, and was convinced that if the so called Stearns land on Crescent Street was chosen, by acquiring the adjoining vacant land on the west across the brook between Crescent and Allison Streets, sufficient land would then be available to make an excellent play ground in connection with the school house lot. At his request I have obtained options on this land which has an area of about 5000 square feet, and in his behalf I now propose to deed the same to the City provided the City will accept the land for a playground in connection with the school house lot and provided also the City will cover the channel of the brook and grade the land to conform to the grade of Crescent Street and the Stearns land and thus adopt it for use as a playground.

Mr. Farnham has been kind enough to make an estimate of the work required on the brook and grading the land to meet these conditions, and I annex his communication. When his letter was written, however, he understood that the lot in question extended back from Crescent Street to the existing fence only. The lot which it is proposed to give to the City extends however, as far back as Allison Street, or about thirty-three and one half feet more, adding to this extent to his estimate of the cost of improving the brook.

Another gentleman learning of this proposition and feeling also a keen interest in providing a suitable playground in connection with this school site has requested me to say that he will be responsible for the necessary cost of taking care of the brook channel if the other gentleman's offer is accepted.

I regret that I cannot disclose to you the names of either of these gentlemen.
In fact neither of them knows the name of the other and neither of them is a resident of Nonantum or has any personal interest whatever in the improvement of this land or its vicinity. I wish to disclaim any credit whatever in obtaining these offers. The proposition in both instances came unsolicited. I am glad, however, to share in a project so commendable to the extent of being the bearer of this gift to the City. I am confident that the genuine and generous public spirit which these gentlemen have shown in this matter will be a source of pride to every citizen of Newton and will prove a stimulus to the already thoroughly aroused sense of civic obligation and interest in the welfare of the whole community.

As these options are for a short period only, I trust that your Board may act on this matter at the meeting Monday evening.

Very truly yours,

Alonso R. Weed.

Petition of John Dolan to remove a building from the Hospital grounds to Washington street, Lower Falls, was received and granted subject to approval of the Street Commissioner, Inspector of wires and the Public Buildings Commissioner. Hearings were ordered on Sept. 10th on petitions of the Telephone Company for poles on Needham street, Newton Street Railway Company to alter its tracks in Nonantum square, and of W. L. Grant to keep gas-olene at garage on Melrose street, Auburndale.

On petition of E. H. Tilton et al for concrete sidewalks and edgestones on Sumner street, under the betterment act, a hearing was assigned for Sept.
10th.

Petitions of D. A. Hayes, J. F. Reagan, Curtis Co. for wagons and permits to transport liquor, of Martin J. Moran for a minors license and of Clarence S.
Brewster to be a weigher of coal, hay and grain, and measurer of wood and bark were granted. Petition of D.
E. Baker to move a building to Bailey place and remonstrance of Higgins & Nickerson thereto were referred to the Committee on Licenses. On report of this committee petitions of W. Howard Mayer, Timothy Scanlon, John Muse, and W. H. Ryan to transport liquor were refused.

The Public Works Committee reported favorably on purchasing the Stearns land on Crescent street for $8000 for school purposes, recommending $500 for plans for a 12 room building on Crescent street recommending rental of the West Newton Unitarian Church for the Pierce kindergarten at $700 a year, recommending acceptance of gift of Clafin land and for $500 for payment of taxes and for grading; favorable to taking land for sewer in Champa avenue, favorable to sewer in Pulsifer street and favorable to acceptance of playground on Crescent street and orders for these several matters were severally adopted that for Champa avenue being in form of a hearing on Sept. 10th. Reports from the Finance Committee approving of these recommendations were received. This Committee also reported in favor of granting $500 for Office expense Treasury
Dept., $25 for Office expenses Charity Dept. and $15 for supplies for Milk Inspector, recommending the adoption of schedules of assessment for street watering and for suppression of the gypsy and brown tail moth, and on several orders changing the form of temporary loans made by the city, and orders for the same were also adopted. Alderman Beck voted against making assessments for moth work, stating that the whole affair was more or less of a humbug, and the assessments nothing but blackmail. The same committee also recommended an appropriation of $1000 for a branch library at Newtonville.

On recommendation of the Committee on Public Franchises the Telephone Company was granted leave to withdraw on its petition for poles on Crystal street, and the license petitions of John Stevenson, Michael Quinn, D. F.
Kearney and A. L. Moriarty were also refused. The request of J. Klegman to transfer his junk license from Pine street to 356 Watertown street was also disapproved. The same Committee reported in favor of revoking the 6th Class liquor license of Alex. Fox, convicted of selling liquor to an intoxicated person, and that action was unanimously taken. A wagon license was granted C.
H. Keefe on favorable report of this committee.

In addition to the orders previously mentioned these orders were also adopted. Assigning hearing on Sept. 10 for discontinuing slopes on Church street;
instructing City Treasurer not to incur further obligation under order authorizing issue of temporary loans; rescinding order authorizing issue of $100,000 in temporary loans, authorizing issue of $355,000 in temporary loans in new form, and altering location of Union street.

And at 10:14 P. M. the board adjournd to Sept. 10th.

Vermont's Many Attractions for City People in Summer.

"I believe that in the economy of this universe God has much intended all of us city and town workers should have a period of beautiful rest in the country among the trees and flowers and the thousand and one attractions that a man meets when away from brick and mortar, as he intended that the flowers and the trees and the birds and the running brooks and good fishing should be scattered promiscuously through this broad land of ours, with an invitation to man to go forth and enjoy them." So wrote Phillips Brooks, and he must have had Vermont in mind, for nowhere can one find so much nature to enjoy as in the beautiful Green Mountain State.

Within its boundaries are hundreds of lovely valleys and lakes and pretty villages tucked in among the green hills —"beautiful to go to, hard to leave, living in happy memory for many a day when left."

The northwestern counties of the state, which border on picturesque Lake Champlain and including some charming mountain scenery have a most enviable and firmly established reputation, as a glorious summering section. The country lying along the banks of the Missisquoi River is charmingly pastoral and numerous streams are distributed over the territory, all tributary to the Missisquoi and Lamoille Rivers, which form its principal water courses. There are several inland lakes or ponds, and these bodies of water, with Lake Champlain on the west, give a pleasing variety to the scenery, and afford ample opportunity for fishing, boating and yachting.
In all directions, as one travels through this portion of Vermont, over the Central Vermont route, there can be seen pleasantly situated, commodious and attractive farm houses in the midst of green meadows and well-tilled fields. A stay in one of these homes is a pleasure, indeed, and when once experienced,
leaves a longing for a repetition.

Of Lake Champlain W. H. H. Murray wrote: "Having seen most of the localities of the Continent noted for their beauty, I can but declare that I know no other spot, where for loveliness of appearance, majesty of scenery, and varied resources of entertainment,
that can compare with Lake Champlain." Nature has signalized, and history has emphasized it with charms and attractions that challenge the attention, and invite the presence of all who love the one or are impressed with the other.

To the yachtsman Champlain affords opportunities for pleasure navigation and amateur seamanship, as ample as sound or ocean coast supply; while to the canoeist or campist, it extends, in its bays and rivers, its islands and shores its golden beaches, and hold promontories, ideal conditions and recreation and enjoyment, and the health that comes to those who love outdoor life and world.

Indeed this whole section of Vermont possessing wonderfully pleasing scenery in itself, surrounded by the most charming beauties of nature and containing superior advantages and facilities for water and railway transportation, is, all in all, a most desirable home for every true seeker of genuine rest and recreation.

Tennis Week at Longwood.

The tournament for the Eastern Doubles Championship and the Sixteenth Annual Longwood Singles will take place on the grounds of the Longwood Cricket Club, July 23 to July 28 inclusive.

Messrs. W. A. Larned, W. J. Clothier,
R. D. Little, F. B. Alexander and H. H.
Hackett, G. L. Wrenn, Jr., and R. Fincke,
E. B. Dewhurst, T. R. Pell, H. Torrence,
Robert LeRoy, and many other prominent players are expected to take part.

The presence of so many strong players will result in interesting matches throughout the week. Matches will occur both mornings and afternoons.

Subscriptions for reserved transfer-able tickets to the grand stand, including admission for the week, at $2.50 each, will be received by A. M. Lyman, Treasurer, Room 802 Pemberton Building, Boston (telephone, Haymarket 1338).
Applications will be filled in the order of receipt. Reserved seats for the week or for any one morning or afternoon including admission, at $1.00, may be obtained either at Wright & Ditson's, 344 Washington Street, or at the Club grounds, on and after Monday, July 23.
Subscribers to tickets for the week will have preference in allotment of seats.
Admission, 50 cents.

The Longwood Cricket Club, located at the corner of Brookline and Longwood Avenues, Boston, may be reached in fifteen minutes by electric cars from Park St. Subway, via Ipswich Street and Brookline Avenue, or by the Brookline branch of the Boston & Albany Railroad to Longwood Station.

Overcome by Heat.

The first case of heat prostration in this city was reported Tuesday night. It was shortly before midnight that Joseph Lopes, 28 years old, was overcome by the heat while near his home on Langley road, Newton Centre. He was attended by Dr. Andrews and removed to the Newton hospital. He soon recovered.

BRAISED LIVER.

Calves' liver is much more delicate than beef liver, but whichever you have onk it well in cold water, remove muscle or veins, pour boiling water over it and let stand five minutes. Drain and skewer into shape. Now if you are skilled in the use of the larding needle you can sew in little match-like strips cut from salt pork near the rind where it is firm. Or you can lay very thin strips of pork or bacon over the top to season it.

Fry a medium sized onion in a tablespoon of pork fat, season with a level teaspoon each of salt and poultry seasoning, one-quarter level teaspoon of pepper and pour in one cup of boiling water. Place the liver in a pan or dish that can be covered tightly, pour the seasoning over and add enough more boiling water to half fill the dish; cover and bake two hours, or until tender. Once in fifteen minutes, uncover and baste unless the dish and cover fit so closely as to prevent evaporation of the liquid. Thicken the liquid in the dish with the proportion of a level tablespoon of flour to each cup of liquid, cook five minutes or more and strain on to the platter. Garnish liver with lemon and parsley; serve hot.

SANITARY CLEANSING—Essential to Good Housekeeping.

The most inexpensive
article for cleaning and disinfecting where absolute cleanliness and purity are desired and where troublesome places are to be kept clean, sweet and wholesome. Use freely about
all sources of decaying
matter and offensive odors. Keep drainage pipes clean, clear and disinfected. Look for above Trade-Mark on all packages. At all dealers. 10c, 25c, 50c, $1.

A FEELING OF SECURITY

Whether at home or abroad, there's a feeling of security when you have your valuables stored in the vaults of

The First National Bank of West Newton

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES COST ONLY FIVE DOLLARS FOR ONE YEAR

THERE ARE MANY ADVANTAGES IN HAVING
YOUR MORTGAGE HELD BY A BANK

Money to Loan

On Real Estate in Newton

West Newton Savings Bank.

Office Hours, 8:30 to 12 and 1 to 3.
Saturday 8:30 to 12.

Applications for Loans
by mail on request.

WE WILL SAVE YOU MONEY ON YOUR Oculist's Prescriptions

GET OUR ESTIMATE BEFORE ORDERING YOUR GLASSES

OUR SPECIALTY is Accurate Lens Grinding
and Frame Fitting
THOS. W. SPENCER CO., Opticians. 2 PARK SQUARE, BOSTON

=COMFORT=

CAN BE HAD THIS SUMMER
BY USING A

Gas Range

QUICK, CLEAN
COOL
ECONOMICAL

NEWTON & WATERTOWN GAS LIGHT CO.

DIED.

HOLLAND—At Newton Upper Falls,
July 16, George Holland, aged 44 years.

HEALY—At Newton Lower Falls, July 15, Mrs. Mary Healy, aged 66, widow of Jeremiah Healy.

RICE—At Newton Centre, July 13, Marshall O. Rice, aged 64, son of Marshall S. Rice.

NICHOLS—At Newton Centre, July 13, Dennis Nichols, aged 77 years, 8 months, 17 days.

HUTHINSON—At Newton, July 16,
Harold Hutchinson, aged 35 years, son of Winfield S. Hutchinson.

HUTHINSON—At Newton, on Sunday, July 15th, at midnight, Harold Hutchinson of Newton, Harvard 1893, aged 35.

MARRIED.

FITZGIBBONS—BARRY—At West
Newton, July 15, by Rev. Fr. Charles J. Gullivan, Miss Nora Barry and Mr.
Patrick Fitzgibbons, both of West
Newton.

WASHBURN—JOHNSON—At West
Newton, July 18, by Rev. Lee C. Parish, Miss Amy B. Johnson of West Newton and Mr. Edwin A. Washburn of Malden.

PRESCOTT—BENNETT—In Newton, July 17, by Rev. Geo. S. Butters, D. D., Charles A. Prescott and Eliza
J. Bennett, both of Fitchburg.

MACMURPHY—PULLEN—At Newtonville, July 14, by Rev. Jay T. Stocking, Miss Mabel L. Pullen of Newton-ville and Mr. Jerome C. MacMurphy of Oak Park, Ill.

DEVERIX—POWERS—At Watertown
July 15, by Rev. Fr. P. J. Crayton, Miss Agnes V. Powers of Watertown and Mr. William M. Deverix of Newton.

PRESCOTT—BENNETT—At Newton
July 17, by Rev. George S. Butters,
Miss Eliza J. Bennett and Mr. Charles
A. Prescott, both of Fitchburg.

Removal Sale

Great Reduction in Prices on Entire Stock of Pictures

BIGELOW & JORDAN

11 Bromfield St., Boston

KEEP COOL and SAVE FUEL By Using

Hathaway's Celebrated Cream Bread.

Home made bread is sometimes not up to the mark, but Hathaway's is always the same uniformly good bread that for years has pleased the housekeepers of this district.

You can get a fresh loaf any time at your grocer's. Price 10c. Try our Winner Bread for 5c.

C. F. HATHAWAY & SON

CAMBRIDGE AND WALTHAM

ASK YOUR GROCER

Newtonville.

—4 nice rooms, $10; 460 Watertown st.

—Mr. Everett Blake is visiting relatives at Portland, Me.

—Mr. J. P. Wescott of Court street is passing a few weeks at Portland, Me.

—Ida M. Wallace was registered at the Summit House, Mt. Washington, last Tuesday.

—Mr. A. T. Sisson of Edinboro circle is enjoying a two weeks' fishing trip at Tim pond, Maine.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. Newton N. 112-3.

—Mrs. F. C. Shepard and family of Highland avenue are passing several weeks at Gloucester.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Eaves of Lowell avenue are passing a few weeks in East Jeffery, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Crary of Foster street have closed their house for a few weeks and gone to Gloucester.

—Miss Gertrude M. Partridge of Austin street is spending a few weeks with a party of friends at Bailey's Island, Me.

—Mrs. S. A. Watson of Highland avenue has gone to Squirrel Island, Me., where she will remain for a few weeks.

—Mrs. E. M. Bass and family of Central avenue have gone to Antrim, N. H., where they will pass the next few weeks.

—Daniels & Howlett Co., Morse Building, Newtonville, painting, decorating, hardwood finishing and wall papers.

—Mrs. M. A. Ellis of Highland avenue is registered at one of the East Gloucester summer hotels for a few weeks.

—Mr. R. H. Pierce and family of Walnut street have gone to South Dartmouth, where they will pass the next few weeks.

—Mrs. C. W. Selleck of Otis place has gone to Fordham, N. Y., where she will be the guest of friends for a few weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Blake of Walnut street have taken a cottage at South Dartmouth for the remainder of the summer.

—Mrs. L. B. Kent of Grove Hill has gone to West Hartford, Ct., where she will be the guest of friends for the next few weeks.

—Mrs. A. P. Walker of Birch Hill road has gone to the Walpole Inn, Walpole, N. H., where she will remain the next months.

—Miss Olive Lockett of Highland avenue has gone to Marblehead, where she is registered at the Rockmere inn for a few weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Carter of Highland avenue have taken a cottage at Standish Shore, South Duxbury, for a couple of months.

—Mr. T. C. Pray, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pray of Kirkstall road, is camping with a party of friends at Lakeport, N. H., for a few weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Norman and family have closed their house on Lowell avenue and gone to Allerton for the rest of the vacation season.

—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Mills have been passing a ten day's vacation with a party of friends in Maine. They will return tomorrow. During Mr. Mills' absence his office here has been in charge of Mr. Lunt of Newburyport.

—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Green of Watertown street will next week leave for Bristol, Me., where they will spend the month of August.

—Mrs. G. W. Morse and family of Central avenue have gone to the Katahdin Iron Works, Maine, where they will spend a few weeks camping.

—Rev. John Goddard, pastor of the Church of the New Jerusalem, with his family, has gone to Monument Beach on the Cape for a month's stay.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Howe of Washington street have gone to their camp at Riche River, Me., where they will pass the next few weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Douglas and family of California street are pleasantly located at North Scituate Beach for the remainder of the summer.

—Miss Crawford of East Orange, N. J., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Albert E. Vose of Cabot street. Mrs. Vose is also entertaining Miss Ruth Payne of New York city.

—Miss Louise F. Thayer of New York who is visiting friends at Auburndale during the summer, will be the substitute organist during the next few months at St. John's church.

—Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Heath and family have closed their Highland avenue residence and gone to their summer cottage at Hyannisport, where they will be situated the rest of the season.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Bird and family of Austin street closed their Newtonville house on Wednesday and went to Truro, Cape Cod, where they have taken a cottage until early autumn.

—Miss Cora Davis, the well known singer who formerly lived in this village but who is now a resident of New York, who has been spending a few weeks with friends on Prescott street, has gone to Meredith, N. H., to visit her parents.

West Newton.

—Chief of Police Frederick M. Mitchell was a guest of friends at Bass Point Wednesday.

—Miss Mary Higgins of Elm street is expected home in a few days from a visit to Foxboro.

—Mr. Lawrence Bond sailed yesterday for Liverpool and will return on the same steamer, the Cymric.

—The Misses Alice and Susie MacBride of Cherry street are spending the week at South Portland, Me.

—Mr. George A. Walton of Chestnut street has returned from a week's stay with relatives at New Haven, Conn.

—Miss Caroline Danforth and Miss Clara Bruce have returned from a visit to Dr. Rand's at her camp in Bolton, Mass.

—Miss Ida Gammons returned this week to her duties in the office of City Clerk Kingsbury after a visit with relatives in Vermont.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Saunders and family have moved from Newtonville to River street, this village, where they will make their permanent home.

—Mr. C. F. Eddy of Cherry street spent a few days this week with his family, who are located at Middleboro for the remainder of the summer.

—At his home on Austin street, Mr. B. P. Shattuck is recovering from a broken leg sustained in an automobile accident early this month while riding in his touring car in Dedham.

—Alderman George H. Ellis who is attending the annual meeting of the United Typothetae in Buffalo has been re-elected president of that body.

—Miss Grace Preston left early this week for a trip of several weeks through the Berkshires. She will be accompanied by Miss Marion Peabody of Duxbury.

—Mr. Edward Gately, who recently returned from the Georgetown university, has gone to Old Orchard, Me., where he will spend the rest of the month.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Howard of Waltham street, who are passing a few days in Wolfville, Nova Scotia, will soon leave that place for a visit at their former home in Belfast, Me.

—In a club team match between teams 1 and 2 played Saturday afternoon on the Brae Burn Country club course, team 2 was the winner by a score of 5 to 2. Team 2 outclasses its opponent almost from the start. The winning team comprised Messrs H. I. Ordway, A. J. George, N. E. Paine, G. H. Converse, S. G. Warren, W. H. Burr, S. A. Shannan. Each player scored one point each, with the exception of Mr. Converse. The losing team comprised Messrs Dwight Chester, F. H. Bailey, H. C. O'Brien, J. L. Kendrick, P. W. Pope, Freedom Hutchinson and F. P. Hitchens. The points were made by Mr. Kendrick and Mr. Hitchens, each scoring one each. These team matches will be continued at intervals throughout the summer.

Run Away.

A horse attached to an express wagon owned by Higgins & Nickerson became frightened while standing on Washington street, just west of Newtonville sq. Wednesday afternoon, and ran away. The wagon was overturned near Walnut street but after spilling the contents righted again. The horse continued down Washington street at a fast speed and turned the corner into Central avenue. The wagon was sent onto the sidewalk and narrowly missed crashing into the window of the bicycle store of F. J. Read. It finally brought up against a large tree at the edge of the sidewalk. The harness gave away and the horse ran free down Central avenue until he winded himself. The wagon was considerably strained and smashed. There were a number of persons on Washington street at the time of the runaway, but luckily no one was run down.

Newton Savings Bank.

The Trustees of this institution held their regular quarterly meeting on July seventeenth that day being the first Tuesday after the Tenth.

President Charles T. Pulsifer presided and the usual routine of business was transacted. A semi-annual dividend at the rate of three and one-half per cent (3 1/2 per cent) per annum was declared on deposits as of July tenth entitled thereto, said dividend being credited to all accounts as a deposit made on July tenth. During the last twelve months deposits have increased by $102,280.84, so that the amount due on July ninth to 15,715 depositors was $6,129,118.58. Undivided Earnings and Surplus $307,230.12, the total $6,436,348.70, being invested in mortgages, personal loans, City and Railroad Bonds and other Savings Bank securities.

City Hall Notes.

According to the annual report of the board of assessors rendered Wednesday this city has 6540 men eligible for military service. This is a substantial increase over last year, it is stated. The assessors consider this an excellent showing, considering that the entire population of the city is estimated at around 40,000.

Mr. Frank M. Grant, for sometime a clerk in the office of Col. Kingsbury, has been appointed and qualified as Assistant City Clerk.

Miss Lucy Jennison of the City Engineer's office is spending her vacation at Green Harbor, Mass.

Mr. Edwin M. Fowle of the charity department has returned from a few days' visit at North Scituate Beach.

Col. Isaac F. Kingsbury spent a few days early this week with his son at Hartford, Conn.

Officials are much exercised over the new eight hour law which expressly prohibits more than 48 hours labor in each week by city laborers, workmen and mechanics, under penalty of a $50 fine. Existing methods of work will have to be carefully rearranged.

CLAFLIN GUARD NOTES.

Last Monday night was devoted mainly to Guard Duty, and much improvement was made in that line. The men are showing great aptitude for the work and there is no doubt but what they will make a creditable showing.

The men are working hard on qualifications and by the time camp comes around most of the company will have qualified as marksmen of merit. The competition for the gold medal given to the man with the highest average score at the end of the season, is leading some of the boys a merry chase to keep it in sight.

Capt. Guilford has sent in his requisition for a number of new uniforms and parts such as fatigue caps, campaign hats, etc., if it is a possible thing, and it is quite probable, the Claflin Guard will turn out a clean snappy looking lot of soldiers for the 1906 camp.

Norumbega Park.

Norumbega Park was the first out door amusement resort in this part of the country to appreciate the immense attractiveness of a well selected exhibit of wild and domestic animals and starting with its first season ten years ago the management had the most complete zoological collection in New England and each year has so added, and extended the territory in the park given over to this feature of its attractions that it continues to hold that pre-eminent position among all New England parks.

Tremont Theatre—With seats selling four weeks in advance and a steady demand for them, there is no indication at this time that the run of Harry Bulger in "The Man From Now," the musical novelty which Henry W. Savage offers at the Tremont Theatre, will be brought to an end much before the last day of August. The company will give the sixty third performance at the Tremont next Monday and the entire engagement has been one long round of successes from the very start on the afternoon of Memorial Day. Messrs. Bangs, Bryan and Klein provided exceedingly well when they provided Mr. Bulger with such a humorous character as Steve Waffles has proven to be. The wit in the lines provided by Mr. Bangs and Mr. Bryan, together with the great store of native humor Mr. Bulger has always possessed, makes sure the success of the entire production. Mr. Bulger's two great song hits, "There Isn't Anything that Can't be Cured" and "College Chums", are alone worth the price of admission, but when taken with the remaining dozen of popular airs, which are being whistled and sung all over this section of New England, they make the entertainment one of the most fascinating ever offered in Boston.

Clubs and Lodges.

The members of Nonantum lodge, I. O. O. F., have elected James F. Young, noble grand and High A. McArthur, vice grand, for the ensuing year. The past grand, Messrs. Bumpus, Vose, Miller and Goodwin, were chosen representatives to the grand lodge.

Police Paragraphs.

Daniel Hoar of Newton Centre, who was arrested Wednesday on a default warrant, was Thursday morning charged in the municipal court with having violated the terms of his probation. He was sentenced to the state farm. Appealing, he was held in $300 for the superior court.

Michael Tredden of Pine street, West Newton, appeared in the municipal court Thursday morning to answer to a charge of non-support of his wife, Mary E. Tredden. He told Judge Kennedy that he had a job working on a farm at $18 a month. Upon condition that he pay his wife $3 Saturday and $5 every two weeks thereafter the case was continued to August 9.

Mrs. Mary Heath of Watertown st., West Newton, called upon the police Thursday to drive a stray horse out of her garden. The animal wandered up Watertown street and did considerable damage to the garden stuff growing beside Mrs. Heath's home.

When J. H. Brown of 15 Shaw street, West Newton, returned home Wednesday after several days' absence he found that his house had been entered and ransacked although nothing of consequence was missing. Thursday morning he went to his stable to get his automobile when he found two little colored boys climbing up through the scuttle. He gathered them in and took them to police headquarters. The boys said they were George Nickson, 9 years old, of Virginia road, and Clifford Phippen, 6, of Cherry street. The lads said they had gone into the stable to find a baseball. They were given a talking to and taken home.

Breaks Leg By Fall.

As Mrs. Margaret Matthews, 42 years old, living at 75 Mechanic street, Newton Upper Falls, was alighting from the 5:53 train arriving at the Eliot station yesterday afternoon she slipped and fell to the platform. She was taken into the station, where she was attended by Dr. Thompson. Later she was removed to the Newton hospital in the police ambulance, where it was found that she had sustained a broken leg.

Drug Clerk Charged.

Joseph Civiletti, 24 years old, living at 111 Boston avenue, West Medford, was arraigned in the municipal court Thursday on a charge of assault. The complainant was Mrs. Paulina Capoli, an Italian woman who lives on Cook street, Nonantum.

Civiletti is employed as a drug clerk by P. E. J. Lacroix at his store, 302 Watertown street, Nonantum. The woman alleged that the assault occurred in a back room of the store, where she had gone to make a purchase.

By mutual agreement the case was continued by Judge Kennedy until next Tuesday. The defendant's counsel failed to appear on time, and the government wished more time to prepare its case. Civiletti was released on bail.

WM. H. COLGAN

HIGH GRADE

Electrical Construction

ELECTRIC REPAIRS OF ALL KINDS

Tel. West Newton 310

THE ENGLISH TEA ROOM

160 B TREMONT STREET, BOSTON

An attractive Lunch Room for ladies and gentlemen where home cooking will be daintily served from 11 to 3. Afternoon Tea 3:30 to 5:30

Darius Cobb's Prophecy is Being Fulfilled.

At the hearing on the petition of the Boston and Worcester Electric Road for a franchise from the Newton Board. Mr. Cobb stated that as a citizen he favored it, but as an artist he objected, for if a franchise were granted, in ten years all of his sketching grounds in the Parker, Boylston and Dedham street region would be occupied by dwellings, churches and schoolhouses, whereby he would lose in art though the city might rake in taxes. The prophecy is being fulfilled, as this land, a mile square, has been surveyed and planned for residences, to be built in a style which shall continue into this beautiful portion of Newton the charming residence development characteristic of Parker street between Newton Centre and Boylston Street Boulevard. This beautiful street forms the main approach to the Walnut Hill district now being developed.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Wants.

SEAMSTRESS, experienced and reliable. Would like to make engagements by the day to sew at $1.50 per day and car fares for the month of July. Address Miss M. T. Donahue, 388 Washington St., Newton, Mass.

A PHYSICIAN would like a room for an office in Newtonville. Address A. J. Carroll, 388 Washington St., Newton, Mass.

To Let.

TO LET—In Newtonville. Steam-heated apartment of four rooms and bath in brick block, opposite Depot; rent $25.00 per month; also, one store in block, rent $20.00 per month. Apply to R. C. Bridgman, 416 Newtonville Ave., Newtonville, Mass.

For Sale.

AUTOMOBILE FOR SALE—A Stanley Surrey No. 14. Inquire at 27 Walnut St., Newtonville.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK

A Meeting of the Corporation of the Newton Savings Bank to consider whether article five, section three of the By-laws shall be amended by striking out the word "two" and substituting therefor the word "four", will be held at the Banking House of the Newton Savings Bank, on Tuesday, the 31st day of July, 1906, at 4 o'clock P. M.

WM. F. HARBACH,

Clerk of the Corporation.

Newton, July 20th, 1906.

List Your Property

WITH

ALVORD BROS.

79 Milk Street, Boston.

Phone, Main 1801.

67 Union Street, Newton Centre.

Phone, Newton So. 181-2.

78 Washington Street, Newtonville.

Phone, Newton No. 345.

SPECIAL

July Sale

OF

BRASS and IRON

BEDS

$35—2 in. post Brass Beds

$25.00

$8.00—Bowfoot Brass and Iron Beds

$5.98

Plimpton Hervey Co.

Complete Housefurnishers

81 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON

Near Haymarket Square

NORUMBEGA

The Famous Best Trolley Ride in Asburndale New England

Opens Daily at 10 A. M.

"Nature's Own Most Beautiful Resort"

Grand Covered OPEN AIR THEATRE World's Wonder

Seating 3,000. Alt. at 330. Eve. at 8:05

OPERA, MUSICAL COMEDY, VAUDEVILLE

Be Sure to Visit the Animal Nursery—Baby Monkey, Baby Beaver, Baby Deer, Baby Porcupine and Baby Wolves.

Among the New Features this season, The Chariot Landing with New Launch Service for trips down the river.

Zoological Garden, Restaurant, Chairol, and Hosts of New Amusements, Caneing and Boating. Telephone 27-5 Newton West to have seats reserved at the theatre.

FOLLOW THE FLAG MARKED "N"

MOON

(Continued from Page 2.)

throw you something. It's a letter. You need not deliver it unless—unless something happens."

Scarcely waiting to finish his sentence, Hutton's arm swung back, and a chunk of lead with a sheet of note paper wrapped tightly about it landed upon the deck at Mortimer's feet.

"Goodby, old fellow," cried the tall figure upon the torpedo boat's bridge.

"Goodby, Ned, old chap!" answered Mortimer, gulping something hard down his throat at the same time. "Good luck to you!" he added as an afterthought. But even before he spoke at all in reply the little vessel had started onward, and the searchlight following forward once again left her in impenetrable obscurity.

Some hours later there was a quick glow in the distant sky, followed by the dull roar of an explosion that promised much. It certainly came from the direction in which the enemy's fleet lay. Soon after the sound of brisk cannonading was distinctly audible. In a short time this also ceased, and save for the never resting flashes from the huge reflectors nothing again disturbed the sullen quiet of the night.

The morning sun came up behind a bank of clouds, casting its glinting beam from one foam topped wave to another. The great opaque masses, tossing and wallowing about upon the surface, once again became visible to the eye in all their uncanny detail of guns and turrets. Far down on the horizon the hulls of the enemy's fleet were now distinctly visible.

But of the little torpedo boat Midget there was not the slightest sign.

"It's horribly like chess," remarked the executive officer to Captain Beresford as they stood upon the flying bridge together. "Of course any player would sacrifice a pawn in order to take one of his opponent's castles. I presume we may be considered as having won in this first move!"

"How so?" interrogated the commander eagerly.

"The Midget has certainly blown up one of their very biggest battleships," replied the other, taking the glass down from his eyes as he spoke. "But, upon the other hand, their destroyers have undoubtedly made short work of her before she could get away."

Both men were silent for a time.

"Good!" ejaculated the captain at last in a particularly mild mannered and satisfied tone. "Unless I am greatly mistaken the 'make ready' signal is going up on the flagship!"

"Aye, aye, sir," reported the grizzled old quartermaster. "There it is!"

"Clear ship for action!" bellowed the captain.

At these few words, passed on by the boatswain and his mates from deck to deck and from division to division to the preliminary overture of their shrill whistles, the men swarmed like working bees all over the huge fighting machine. The Rhode Island, in common with the rest of the fleet, was stripped down to her metal skin, ready to grapple with the foe. Down in her bowels the whole force of engineers and firemen were hard at it, the smoke belched from the towering stacks in mighty volume, and the roar of steam escaping from the safety valves showed that even the boilers were a sharer in the general excitement of the situation.

"Sound general quarters!"

To the call of bugle and rattle of drum every single soul on board, even including Obadiah Todds, the worker on cloth and buttons, went to the particular station assigned them. Officers and men entered the big turrets, manned guns of the secondary battery, clambered up into the fighting tops or joined the powder division below decks. The engineers and firemen had their own special lines of effort to follow out. Not a single idler could be found among the hundreds who composed the crew of the big fighting ship. Of what purely commercial or municipal institution could such a thing be said?

"Cast loose and provide!" exultantly cried the commander, for even such things as micrometer scales and cubes of smokeless powder have not been sufficient to destroy the ancient lust of battle when the breath of the enemy is in the air.

With this third and final order, before commencing action the crew stripped to the waist and went seriously to work. The huge shackles and clamps which hold the big masses of metal rigid in a seaway were thrown off and each gun duly loaded with the particular variety of ammunition for which it had an appetite. This latter fodder was already being delivered from the magazines below by the peripling and blasphemous powder division.

Up in the armor inclosed conning tower of the Rhode Island sat Lieutenant Beresford, surrounded with speaking tubes, push buttons and various other more or less intricate signaling apparatus. With him was Lieutenant Mortimer. Both men had unlighted cigars tightly clenched between their teeth, and the captain had removed linen collar and necktie, at the same time carefully buttoning up his uniform coat.

"We ought to fetch in between those two biggest fellows," remarked the younger officer in a peculiarly sweet tone of voice. "The one on the starboard is just about our size, but the other ship looks rather larger."

"So she is," assented the skipper grimly. "According to reports, she must be a first class battleship, although they have nominally rated her as a second. She is one-third again our tonnage and throws very nearly twice the weight of broadside metal."

"Did you notice that Todds, the master tailor, had put on his bullet proof coat?" observed Mortimer, with a broad grin.

"No," laughed Beresford. "Where is his station?"

"At one of the secondary gun tugs," replied Mortimer.

"He must be 'loony' on the subject," said the skipper. "It's the safest place on the whole ship."

While this little conversation was proceeding the commander never ceased watching his own deck, the other vessels and the enemy's fleet from the various silts and eyeholes of the conning tower. At frequent intervals he also had occasion to manipulate some one or other of his various instruments.

"Ah, ha! They're opening up in regular order," he muttered as a puff of smoke followed by a very fair report came from the headmost of the enemy's ships.

A small black object hurtled across the water, cutting the top of the waves in its progress and slinking in a white smother of foam near at hand.

"Trying distance with their six inch rifles," ironically observed the youthful officer. "I should call it not much over two miles."

Both fleets were now rushing toward one another as fast as their mighty engines could take them, and the fighting soon became general. The main fighting line of each, composed of the battleships and heavier armored cruisers, moved forward in regular column of attack. Upon meeting they would pass between one another's intervals and exchange volleys from their huge broadside and turret rifles at murderously short range. The lighter craft of either side, such as unprotected cruisers and commerce destroyers, hovered upon the flanks, ready to participate in the easy victories of a rout or to engage in a duel with such of their own class as might offer.

"The big fellow is swinging his fore turret around to train on us," remarked Mortimer quietly.

With a roar like that of a lion when about to jump at his prey, Lieutenant Beresford slammed down hard on a lever and shouted a dozen orders through as many speaking tubes. Almost instantaneously the whole fabric quivered as the ship increased her already high rate of speed, and fairly leaped ahead of her comrades.

"Are you ready there, Brownson?" called the captain through the tube that led to the forward main battery.

"Yes, sir," came back the reply. "But the vernier!"

"D—n the vernier!" was shouted through the tube. "You don't need any finder at this range. Let them!"

But the rest of his speech was lost in a roar as if a whole magazine had exploded; the ship reeled and staggered like a sore stricken man, and two cigars with their ends bitten off lay rolling from side to side, unnoticed, upon the floor of the conning tower.

"A lucky shot indeed! They've spoiled the working of our main battery in great shape!" howled Beresford, with bloodshot eyes and lips foaming in rage. "Let her go, Brownson!" he yelled again.

Scarcely were the words well out of his mouth before the ship again reeled, only this time it was in recoil from her own discharge.

"Turn about is fair play, my bullies!" laughed Beresford discordantly. "That shot must have found its way somehow to her very vitals. Looks as if her machinery had suffered, the way her steam is blowing off."

In half a minute the action had become general. The reports from the mighty ten and twelve inch rifles, the concussion of which often bursts blood vessels in strong men's heads, were roaring and resounding upon every hand. The by no means insignificant secondary batteries served to fill in the gaps, and the crackle and rattle from the small arms were completely indistinguishable. Now were to be seen the fell results of scientific warfare.

A huge battleship of the enemy blew up, scattering death and destruction among friend and foe alike within her compass, and one of the American armored cruisers went down beneath the concentrated fire of two black monsters, with her guns still being served and Old Glory floating defiantly at the masthead. The air was poisoned with the dust and fumes from the various chemical explosives, and the soot and smoke from the overtaxed boilers lay like a pall over the scene of carnage.

There was a slight lull after the fleets had so passed through one another and were rounding up, preparatory to repeating the maneuver. Not a single one of the surviving ships had come out of the first attack unscathed. Their superstructures were practically demolished, and great rents and gaping holes were visible everywhere, in unprotected surface and armor plating alike. Moreover, several of them were floating bulks with both engines and guns smashed out of all usefulness, and the few left alive upon them unable to do more than hope for the chance of rescue before they were swallowed up by the remorseless sea.

But there were still left a number of ships upon either side with the more important engines intact and many of their great guns capable even yet of surpassing their previous performance. These ships, reckless and ugly, with human blood pouring from their scuppers and madmen at their helms, were now bearing down upon one another.

Among those of them flying American colors was the Rhode Island.

"Great Caesar's ghost!" howled Lieutenant Beresford in wild desperation. "What's the use of fighting expensive battles with cheap stuff? Here we are just at the second waltz and not a decent rifle on board. Those cursed castles in the carriages must have been full of air bubbles. Contract work! Ugh! What do we have dockyards and government machine shops for anyway? They'll save a few dollars and lose all before they finish! Morty, my boy, and his voice softened noticeably. "I'm going to ram that big fellow who knocked our rifles to pieces. He seems to be unmanageable and can hardly get away from us, but his guns are as bitter as ever. It's a case of must. One of us will surely have to go to the bottom inside of three minutes. The speaking tubes are knocked sillywise. Steam I must have, and I want you to see that I get it!"

Below deck the young lieutenant found a startling contrast to the scene of riot and confusion above. The various mechanics were stoically performing their prosaic duties just as if they were on voyage, several others were dodging hither and thither with their long necked cans among the ponderously moving pieces of machinery, and the chief himself, with his gold braided coat thrown to one side, was carefully wiping off a brass mounted reversing lever with a bunch of fresh waste.

"We're all right here so far, Mortimer," he chuckled in reply to the young officer's hurried explanation of the coming move, "but the boilers don't seem to be making steam as they ought."

Without waiting for more the lieutenant darted toward the manhole from which an iron ladder descended to the furnace room still farther down. He reached it just as his ship received another discharge from the enemy's big guns, and the shock threw him the whole way to the floor beneath. Half stunned, he lay in a dark corner, utterly unable to move or speak for several minutes.

Upon either hand were rows of ruddy furnace doors. All about lay coal, cinders, grate bars, rakes, buckets, shovels and even men—if any reliance could be placed upon the light furnished by the few electric bulbs which still remained intact.

"Ain't ye ashamed of yerselves, ye lazy scuts!" a tall Irishman was shouting. This forceful speaker was naked to the waist, with whatever was the natural tint of his skin completely disguised in a mixture of coal, ashes and perspiration, but nevertheless in strange incongruity he had the remains of a red flannel shirt wrapped tightly around his neck. Without pause he continued: "Thyrin' to stale up on deck it is ye're after, win ye ought to know that it's nather the captain in his cudgy hole, nor the gunners in their change boxes, nor yit the engineers wid their gould lace caps, that be the rule inside of a fightin' ship-o'-war in these days. Come out o' that, Dutchy Brown, and throw the stuff into number noine. Begorry, she nades it bad enough. Fur the love of hivin', byes, kape out of me way and moind your fires like decent min."

All the while he was thus addressing them he kept whirling a huge rake around his head, and several quiet bodies lying near seemed to show that he was as fluent with actions as with words.

"Git out d' way, Patsey!"

"To — wid de foires!"

"The ship's a-sinkin'!"

"We're not going to stay here and be drowned like rats in a hole!"

These and many another like comment the mutinous firemen were shouting. But they could not seem to outargue the swinging bar of steel which defended the only available means of exit.

"Stoke up!" continued the red neck clothed giant, whom one of the others had addressed as Patsey. "It's sthame and not cowards this ship nades. Stoke up," he repeated in furious tones, "or I'll brain ye one by one. Falx, ye'll drown anyway, above or below, if the ship goes down, so ye moight as well run your chance here and save me usin' up my strength in puttin' the bit of stale on ye. Stoke up, byes! It's better to die workin' than— Whist! Who's callin' me?"

"Patsey!" once again feebly ejaculated the sadly battered Mortimer.

"Howly mither! 'Tis one of the officers makin' a social call on the loikes of us!" cried the big stoker.

"Would yer bush, byes, while I converse wid him."

So saying and still keeping a watchful eye upon the little knot of badly stamped coal heavers, Patsey came and stooped down alongside of the prostrate lieutenant.

"Roight ye are, sir," he replied to the hurried whispering of Mortimer. "It's yerself that!"

The rest of his sentence was lost in another lurch of the badly mauled ship, accompanied by the reverberations of the heavy cannonading, increased a thousandfold by the conductivity of the steel decks overhead.

"Niver mind the coal, byes!" shouted the giant exuberantly, yet making no move toward relinquishing his formidable weapon. "In wid the murgancy sthuff! And may the saints in hivin' help the man that gets to worruk lust of all!" he added piously.

Partly from habit, a little by reason of shame, but mostly through the desire of evading the certainty of Patsey's terrible blows, the stokers now stuffed their furnaces with that mysterious compound of cotton waste, oil, keshin, and what not, known as "emergency fuel." Its effect was at once apparent. The steam gauges fairly leaped, while the intensely hot flames belched outward in spite of latched doors and licked the metal ceilings for half their breadth.

Once again the ship staggered beneath the shock of the enemy's cannonade.

"What's the matter wid our gunners?" suddenly demanded one of the most unruly workers. "They've scarcely fired at all, and we've been takin' rounds by the hundred!"

"It's disabled 'all our poppers be darlint," cried Patsey joyously. "so we are goin' to ram the bloody old!"

With a howl like a pack of hungry wolves, the firemen rushed in a body for the ladder of exit.

"Khun fur all yer worth, byes," commented Patsey, half under his breath, as he leaned upon his weapon and made no further effort toward restraining them. "It's little I care now that the sthame be up, fur if I don't sink us—bad cess to her!—we'll do the thrick fur her, and it'll be more by the same token if we don't both of us go to the bottom anyhow. Howly murther—that Iver I should!"

With the sound of rending plates and crashing superstructures, the ship heeled far over to port, then righted and commenced to roll regularly from side to side. Stokers, Patsey, the injured lieutenant and all the debris of the furnace room were thrown in a single heap with small regard for their personal convenience.

Up in his conning tower Lieutenant Beresford looked mournfully out through the eye slits.

"It seems cold blooded work, but then they would play ducks and drakes with my rifles," he murmured as he noted the huge rent in the opposing battleship's side, with the water pouring into it like a mill sluice. Then he dashed hastily back through the overlapping passageway that led out of his safe nook and gave the order, "All hands to save life!"

But without boats, life buoys or even ropes this matter was not capable of being conducted very satisfactorily.

"Enemy's flagship has hauled down ensign, and the others are following her lead, sir," reported one of the petty officers.

Not till that instant did Beresford notice the complete cessation of the cannonading. The battle was over, and the American fleet had won the day!

Far different from the trimly painted and polished, spick and span craft which had sailed away from port so proudly and defiantly some few short weeks ago were the cluster of battered and shattered steel hulks tossing and wallowing about in the heavy sea. But the saddest scenes of all were within their ruined casemates and—had best not be described.

"Hello!" remarked Hughes as he picked his way among the dead and wounded. "What on earth has this man got around him?"

"It's Obadiah Todds, sir," replied the orderly, bringing his hand to the salute. "It was his own invention. A bullet proof coat, sir."

"Eh?" snuffed the surgeon grimly. "And a spent piece of shot has ricocheted from the deck and driven some of the body armor into his vitals. If he had only been stripped like the rest it would have been a simple contusion. As it is, the man is practically as dead as a doornail."

Upon the return to port of the victorious American fleet a number of the seamen and marines were made blind drunk by well meaning but rather too enthusiastic civilians. Incidentally this resulted in the dishonorable discharge from the United States service of a red neckerchiefed stoker named Patsey.

Gowns Suits Skirts

Cleansed or Dyed

Refinished Properly
Replained Like New
New Goods Plaited

Carpets Dyed Solid Colors

Many Wilton and Axminster Carpets become faded when very little worn. We have made a great success of dyeing them in Reds, Greens, Browns and solid colors.

Also PORTIERES DRAPERIES FURNITURE COVERINGS &c
Lace Curtains Cleansed Blankets Cleansed and Rebound

Turkish Rugs Cleansed in the Right Way
Cloves Real Laces Ostrich Plumes and Tips Cleansed or Dyed as desired

LEWANDOS

CLEANSERS DYERS LAUNDERERS

17 Temple Place BOSTON 284 Boylston Street

Cambridge 1274 Massachusetts Avenue Roxbury 2206 Washington Street

Watertown 1 Galen Street (Delivery in the Newtons)

TELEPHONES 585 586 587 Oxford Connect all Offices

BUNDLES CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED IN BOSTON AND SUBURBS

WOODLAND PARK HOTEL

AUBURNDALE, MASS.

Rooms singly or en suite, with or without private bath.

Special Rates for the Winter Months.

FREDERICK WILKEY, Proprietor.

BOWN, NORRIS & CO.

HOUSE PAINTERS, DECORATORS AND PAPER HANGERS

Shop, 245 Washington St., Nonantum Block, Newton, Mass.

JOBBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO. Post Office Box 49.

Shop Tel. 175-3 Newton North. Residence Tel. 86-3 Newton North.

Partridge

Photographer and... Frame Maker

Boston and Vicinity. Newtonville Studio, Opposite Depot

BOSTON, 30 Huntington Ave. Tel. to all studios.

BROOKLINE, 27 Harvard Street. Newtonville Tel. No. 283-2 Newton North.

ROXBURY, 2832 Washington Street.

YOU CAN Kill all Your Water Bugs and Roaches IF YOU USE

BARNARD'S EXTERMINATOR.

SOLD EVERYWHERE AND WARRANTED. SENT BY MAIL FOR 50 CENTS.

BARNARD & CO., 7 Temple Place, BOSTON.

Real Estate and Insurance

FOR CHOICE BUILDING LOTS

—ON—

FARLOW HILL

AND ELKEMERE IN

THE NEWTONS.

APPLY TO

W. S. & F. EDMANDS,

429 Centre St., Newton. Bray's Bl'k. Newton Cor

178 Devonshire Street Boston.

NEWTONVILLE

REAL ESTATE

We Make a Specialty of

NEWTONVILLE PROPERTY

Fire Insurance

Turner & Williams

Opp. Depot NEWTONVILLE

Established 1857. Telephone 2957.

EDWARD F. BARNES,

Real Estate Agent and Broker.

Expert Appraiser, Notary Public

MONEY TO LOAN ON MORTGAGES

Insurance Agent and Auctioneer Member of the Real Estate Exchange.

31 State St., Boston. Brackett's Block, Newton.

REAL ESTATE

ROBINSON

NOTARY PUBLIC MORTGAGES INSURANCE

343A Centre St. (Opposite State St.) AUBURNDALE, MASS.

Physicians

CLARA D. WHITMAN REED, M. D.

Residence and Office, 140 Church St., Newton, opp. Farlow Park.

Hours—Until 9 A. M. 1 to 3 and 7 P. M.

Telephone 46.

Advertise in The Graphic

Clifford Bailey Buried.

In the presence of many of his former friends, including a large delegation of schoolmates of the Mason grammar school, Clifford Bailey, the 14-year old son of Patrolman and Mrs. H. A. Bailey of Newton Centre, was laid at rest Sunday afternoon. The funeral was held at the family home on Warren street.

The boy met death by drowning on the Thursday previous while bathing with a party of boy friends at Hampton Beach, N. H., where he had gone for a fortnight's vacation unaccompanied by any relative. Although his body was quickly recovered and every effort was made to save his life the attempts proved unsuccessful. The boy's father a well known patrolman connected with police division 4 of this city, left immediately for Hampton Beach and took charge of the remains.

The funeral took place at 2 o'clock. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Birney, pastor of the Newton Centre Methodist Episcopal church, assisted by Rev. Thomas L. Cole, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church of Newton Lower Falls. Rev. Mr. Birney spoke at length on the good qualities of the young man and of the esteem in which he was held by his many Newton Centre friends. The boy was graduated only last month from the Mason grammar school with a remarkably good record in his studies and was to enter the high school in the autumn.

Selections were rendered by the boy's choir of St. Paul's Episcopal church of Brockton, of which he had been a member for some time. The casket was literally buried with floral tributes, which included offerings from former schoolmates and from members of the choir of the Brockton church. The bearers were former schoolmates and included Leslie Woodman, Frederick Gardner, Gordon Adams and Peter Perkins.

The burial was in Newton Cemetery and a large number of friends accompanied the remains to the grave.

Rates May Increase.

Insurance Commissioner Frederick L. Cutting, who resides at Newton Centre and is well known in this city, makes some interesting statements in his 51st annual report, which he has just issued. Because of the recent troubles in the general insurance business this report is of unusual interest, and it will doubtless receive most serious consideration throughout the state if not among insurance men all over the country.

Commissioner Cutting declares his belief that the indications point to an advance in insurance rates rather than any immediate reduction. "And should this occur," says Commissioner Cutting, "Boston should turn back to 1872 and recall that millions that had been collected in premiums in other cities were then transferred to this city with our entire approbation. It is now our turn to help others. Sound fire insurance cannot be furnished without ample premiums. A company that is not good for its contracts in San Francisco is not likely to be good for them in New York or Boston."

As an indication that fire insurance companies which have been able to "pass muster" under the Massachusetts laws and do business in this state are almost bound to be responsible and "good," it is pointed out in the report that "so far as yet appears only one company of all those doing business in Massachusetts will be unable to protect its policy holders in San Francisco to the full extent that it will be called upon to give protection." The exception is the Traders of Chicago.

The department rules that the marine fire insurance companies cannot in this state engage in the business of insuring the owners of automobiles from losses incurred through the damage done by their machines in collisions.

Up to June 12 of this year 15 companies have been admitted to do business here. They have a total capital of $3,900,000. And to companies, having a combined capital of $2,650,000, have quit the field.

Not So Handsome Then.

Concerning Congressman Weeks and Mr. Henry M. Whitney, the "Scribbler," one of the brightest contributors to the Stoughton Record, has the following to say:

"I note by the Boston papers that Henry M. Whitney is being urged to run for Congress in this district against Congressman Weeks. I'd rather like to have Mr. Whitney stand in the gap on this occasion. He might not look as handsome the second week in November as he does now, but he certainly would know a whole lot more and appreciate the hold Capt. Weeks has on the voters of his district. By all means let us have a chance at Brother Whitney. His candidacy would add to the local gayety immensely and incidentally make us sit up and take notice."

Children Are Rescued.

After Mr. and Mrs. Michael Shanahan, who live at the corner of Cherry and Derby streets, West Newton, had put the seven little Shanahans to bed Friday and were themselves preparing to retire about 10 o'clock, they noticed the strong odor of smoke in their bedroom. Upon investigation they found the attic all ablaze.

Mr. Shanahan got a bucket of water and threw it on the flames but his efforts to check the fire were unsuccessful. The smoke choked him so that he could do nothing more toward extinguishing it. With his wife he ran back to the second floor and they began carrying the children out of doors. They got four of them out safely.

In the meantime John W. Conroy, a neighbor, saw the flames and sent in an alarm from box 341. When the department arrived it was found that there were still three children inside the house. Patrolmen David Neagle and Timothy Cronin, accompanied by John Burns, a civilian, rushed into the house and made their way through the smoke to the bed rooms on the second floor. Each took one of the little Shanahans, securely wrapped them in blankets and carried them out without an accident. When they brought the children out the crowd gave them a lusty cheer.

The fire burned up through the roof. The damage amounted to about $1000, and was covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have been started by rats and matches. Mr. Shanahan, the occupant, is a well known milk dealer, who moved recently from Newtonville to West Newton.

THEATRES

Keith's Theatre.—In addition to featuring its two special trade marks, so as to speak, "the model playhouse of the country," and "one of the sights of the city," the management of Keith's direct special attention to the fact that many of the summer vaudeville programs are fully as strong in every department as those offered in the winter season, in fact, owing to the great availability of material, many of them are better balanced. The show announced for the week of July 23 is an excellent one being well balanced in all departments. Toby Claude who appeared last season in "Fantana" and who has been prominent in many of the big musical comedies for several seasons, will be one of the principals entertainers on the bill. It will be her debut at Keith's although she has appeared with big success in other theatres of the Keith circuit. The surrounding program includes Zazelle and Vernon, in their pantomimical sketch, "The Elopement"; Jack Norworth, in his "college boy" monologue; Coakley and McBride, popular black-face comedians and dancers; Selbini and Grovini, skilful acrobats and bicycle riders; Anderson and Goines, "real coon" comedians, singers and dancers; Delton Brothers, acrobats and balancers; Harry Burgoyne, pleasing English coster comedian; Wiora trio, of Hungarian dancers, and Delmore and Darrell, in a comedy singing specialty. The Fadettes will make their usual change of selections of popular music and an entire new list of comedy and interesting motion pictures will be exhibited in the kinetograph.

Castle Square Theatre.—It is safe to say that Gounod's "Faust" is the best known and most popular of all grand opera. During its half century of existence it has been sung in every land where music is appreciated, and there is scarcely a theatre in any part of Europe or America that has not at one time or another resounded to its strains. All the great prima donnas have sung the role of the wronged Marguerite, and the opera has helped to make the reputations of Melba, Emma Eames, Calve and many other gifted singers.

"Faust" is to be given at the Castle Square Theatre next Monday for the seventh week of the summer opera season, and its great popularity is assurance of a continuation of the enormous audiences that have greeted "The Mikado," "Il Trovatore," "The Bohemian Girl" and the other recent productions. It received many thousands of votes in the recent contest, standing almost at the head of the list. For the part of Marguerite, Mme. Helene Noldi, a gifted soprano, has been secured, and she is bound to become one of the most popular singers ever heard on the Boston stage. The title role will be sung by George Tallman and Valentine by Harry Luckstone.

Wheel Crushed His Hand.

A driver of a grain wagon met with a peculiar accident while on Center street near Vernon shortly after 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, as a result of which he had to be removed to the Newton hospital.

Luke Fitzpatrick of Newton Lower Falls was driving a heavy wagon owned by Charles H. Spring of that place when he lost his balance and fell from the seat. Striking on his side he shoved out one arm to save himself and one of the wheels passed over the hand, crushing it badly. He was taken to the Newton hospital by the police ambulance. It was found that several bones were broken. It is expected that by the quick work in assistance rendered the injured man it will be possible to save the hand from amputation. Mr. Fitzpatrick is 40 years old. He lives with his family on Walnut street on the Wellesley side of the Charles river.

BENEATH THE GILDED DOME.

To the Editor of the Graphic:

The passing of Gethroism is the absorbing reflection to the observer of State House affairs, as the session of 1906 closed with the spectacular events of the ten days before prorogation.

What Gethro was guilty of, or the method of dealing with that unhappy young man, are questions of minor importance when compared with what might be termed Gethroism in legislation on Beacon Hill. The investigation was a very expensive affair and the cost to the Commonwealth was little short of unwarranted, unless the state shall be permanently benefitted in the character of representation in the general court. That which stands for Gethroism, by no means originated with the career in the legislature of the Boston representative. His expulsion from the House that June afternoon was, let us hope, the fatal stab at a system of long standing on Beacon Hill which can only be revised by the grossest negligence upon the part of those who may from time to time shape the course of legislative procedure from session to session and are guardians of methods and practices promoting legislation. It would be useless to contend that there can be no centralization of authority and influence in legislative methods as well as in legislation. Few are ignorant of the fact that the chances of success or failure of measures are largely dependent upon the endorsement of presiding officers and chairmen of committees. Such control should be as apparent in the realm of methods promoting legislation, even to the very outposts of law making, for it is at these points that the mischief often commences. An instance in point that might be mentioned, is the very bill that threw Gethro out of court. The Bucket Shop bill, so called, was a measure, the merits of which were beyond question, but from its inception it was marked for slaughter and its career is therefore an effectual and telling illustration of the issue which is here contended for. Every method, good, bad and indifferent, known to the art of law making, was applied to the Bucket Shop bill and it, as well as Gethro, was made the scapegoat to carry sins "into a land not inhabited."

James Creelman says that no law can pass the national house without the consent of Speaker Cannon, so absolute is his influence, and he also says that the speaker's room in the National Capitol is the political nerve centre of the country. What Cannon and his room are to the country at large, Speaker Cole and the rules committee room are to Massachusetts. The little room in the State House known as the Speaker's Room, where his committee on rules conducted the recent investigation, is really the nerve centre of the Commonwealth, as truly as is the room in Washington where one of the most remarkable men in the country is "at home."

Now, when Mr. Cole and his committee on rules made the momentous report which led to the expulsion of Gethro it set a new pace to affairs on Beacon Hill. In a degree, at least, old things will pass away and all things will become new. The unwarranted license enjoyed by certain representatives of the press and the lobby, will hereafter be curtailed to a considerable extent. These conditions will be but the natural outcome of the investigation and with the advent of this new order of things will disappear that which was termed in the outset of this article, Gethroism.

EDGAR J. BLISS.

Came Here to be Married.

Newton seems to be rapidly becoming a veritable Gretna Green this summer for young people who wish to slip away to some place where they can be quietly married without endangering themselves to a pelting with old footwear and bad rice.

Another couple from out of the state came to this city a few days ago and were married. The ceremony became known by a return of the marriage license Monday morning. The groom was Mr. Frederick H. Rice, 29 years old, employed in Rutland, Vt., and born in Hoosick Falls, N. Y., a son of Frederick H. Rice of that place. The bride was Miss Maude L. Farrington, aged 30, a native of Saranac, N. Y., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Farrington of that place. For several years she had made her home in Rutland, Vt.

The ceremony was performed at Newtonville, on Thursday of last week, by Rev. Jay T. Stocking, pastor of the Central Congregational church.

VINELAND UNFERMENTED GRAPE JUICE

A Life Giving Drink.

25 and 45c.

G. P. ATKINS,

Centre Street Newton.

Members of the Master Builders' Association, 105 Devonshire Street. (Established 1838.) (Incorporated 1894.) (Connected by Telephone.)

JOHN FARQUHAR'S SONS, INCORPORATED.

Roofers and Metal Workers.

Dealers in All Roofing Materials. Slate, Copper, Tin, Tile, and Composition Roofing; Skylights, Cornices, Gutters, Conductors, etc.

Special attention given to repairs of all kinds of Roofing.

Office, 20 and 22 East Street, Boston, Mass.

Wharf, 60-72 Washington Ave., Boston, Mass.

Directors: Samuel Farquhar, Pres.; Joseph Farquhar, Treas. and Supt.; Frank C. Farquhar, Sec'y.; Rollin Farquhar.

MADISON BUNKER, D. V. S.

Veterinary Surgeon.

Residence, 281 Park Street NEWTON, MASS.

Telephone Connection.

A. PHILIP LARSON.

Horse Shoer.

Carriage Smith and Wheelwright

Carriage Painting.

Satisfaction guaranteed and work done promptly 386 Watertown Street, Newton.

GEO. F. THOMAS, M. D.

SPECIALIST OF LOWELL, MASS., desires to inform sufferers from Piles that they may secure immediate relief and permanent cure by his specially devised painless treatment in which he is eminently successful. Results sure in every case, without use of surgeon's knife. His cures stayed cured, no matter how severe or long standing. Consultation and examination free.

Hotel Pelham, BOSTON

74 Boylston Street.

Office Hours: 1 to 5 daily, except Sundays

HARRIS E. JOHONNOT,

Electrician and Contractor,

390 Centre St., Newton.

Telephones: Office, 323-5; Residence, 226-4; Newton

GEO. W. BUSH

FUNERAL and FURNISHING

Undertaker

COFFINS, CASKETS, ROBES,

and every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand.

Elmwood Street, Newton

FRANCIS MURDOCK,

Insurance Agent,

Bank Building, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT

placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies

Sole Agent for Newton of the

Middlesex Mutual of Concord, Mass

ROBERT F. CRANITCH

(Successor to L. H. Cranitch)

House, Sign, and Ornamental Painter

Paper Hangings in Great Variety.

Work promptly done.

Walnut St., - Newtonville.

Second door from Central Block.

$30,000 TO LOAN

On first mortgages only. Boston and suburbs, dwelling houses preferred. Interest usually 5 per cent. easiest and best way to pay for your home: is your mortgage due or soon to become due? a $3000 loan requires $2.50 per month, $3 being credit on loan. call for circulars. MERCHANTS' CO-OPERATIVE BANK, 18 MILK STREET, Boston.

DO NOT

the burglaries which are happening all the time suggest anything to you? Burglary, theft and larceny insurance the only protection. HINCKLEY & WOODS, Insurance of all kinds, 32 Kilby Street, Boston. Telephone Main 186 and 187.

UP IN VERMONT

That's the place for a real vacation

Lakeside camps, farm and village homes, $1 to $10 a week, first class hotels in Green Mountains and on shores of Lake Champlain. Fishing, yachting, automobile driving, pure air, pure water, delightful scenery.

This region is reached via White River Junction gateway and Central Vermont Railway by three fast trains daily, including "New England States Limited," the crack daytime train between Boston and Montreal.

Booklets and information: T. M. HANLEY, N. E. P. A., 300 Washington St., Boston.

P. P. ADAMS' BIG DEPT. STOREMid-Summer Bargain*CARNIVAL

In Every Section of this Store are Values worthy of the name "Bargain"—Goods that are most wanted, in fact indispensable for two whole months. A most important Sale with all the Summer ahead of you—A Sale you shouldn't overlook—Bargains that need little comment.

Wash Goods, Domestics, Etc.

750 yds. Colored Batiste.....4½¢ yd.
950 yds. Fast Color Dress Gingham—value 8c6¼¢ yd.
60 yds. Floral Batiste—worth 10c.....6¼¢ yd.
7½ yds. New Plaid Gingham—styles for Fall—you can have them now12½¢ yd.
1100 yds. 39 in. Brown Cotton, worth more..7¢ yd.
60 doz. 42x36 or 45x36 Pillow Cases.....10¢
60 doz. Turkish Towels—hemmed or fringed—double warp.....12½¢ ea.

Hosiery and Underwear

Ladies' Embroidered Tan Hose, 25c.....19¢ pr.
Misses' Ribbed White Hose—value 25c, 5 to 9½15¢ pr.
Misses' Black Lace Hose—entire stock of 25c, at12½¢ pr.
150 doz. Ladies' Ribbed Vests—every conceivable style12¼¢ ea.

Trunks, Suit Cases, Hammocks

Children's Small Suit Cases.....98¢
Also desirable to carry books, magazines, etc.
Bamboo Suit Cases—very light and durable, $1.98, $2.50
Imitation Alligator and Walrus Suit Cases—arrived only today—hence at.....$2.25
Trunks$2.49 to $7.98
Our leader at$4.98
Hammocks98¢ to $6.00
Our special, the Palmer, at.....$1.98

Ladies' Long Mitts

Ladies' Long Silk Mitts—Black and White.$1.25
Black and White Lace Lisle75¢ pr.

Every Item Advertised Must Represent Many Others Not Advertised.

Your wants may not be advertised but they can be filled at this sale—and at a Saving. Come and see for yourself. Money refunded if not satisfied.

Bring in your Legal Stamp Books, we give $2.50 in mdse. or $2 in cash for full books of Legal Stamps.

Store will close at 1 o'clock P.M. Tuesdays during July and August. Double Stamps all day Monday and Tuesday until 1 P.M.

P. P. ADAMS' BIG DEPT. STORE

133 to 139 MOODY STREET WALTHAM, MASS.

UP IN VERMONT

That's the place for a real vacation

Lakeside camps, farm and village homes, $1 to $10 a week, first class hotels in Green Mountains and on shores of Lake Champlain. Fishing, yachting, automobile driving, pure air, pure water, delightful scenery.

This region is reached via White River Junction gateway and Central Vermont Railway by three fast trains daily, including "New England States Limited," the crack daytime train between Boston and Montreal.

Booklets and information: T. M. HANLEY, N. E. P. A., 300 Washington St., Boston.

HOW'S THIS?

Let us help you ease up on the trials and vexations of a hot baking day by supplying your table with CREAMALT BREAD, the oval loaf. Just think how this would lighten your burden when baking comes round, and besides, you will like CREAMALT, it is really delicious. Fresh every day at your grocer's.

GEO. G. FOX CO.

BOSTON

Newton Centre.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. 112-3. Leave calls at Rhodes' Drug store. Tel. Newton S. 237-3.

—Mrs. Guy Lamkin and Miss Charlotte Lamkin will remain at Craigville until next month.

—Mr. Warren F. Ellis of Maple park is home from a fortnight's visit with relatives in Nova Scotia.

—Mr. W. C. Brooks Jr. was a passenger on the steamer Cymric, which sailed yesterday for Liverpool.

—Mr. H. C. Durkee of Rutland, Vt., is visiting his cousin, Mr. S. K. Chamberlain of Sumner street.

—Miss Gertrude E. MacIntosh is spending her vacation at her home in Great Village, Nova Scotia.

—Miss Helen Duncan is visiting relatives in Rutland, Vt., for a fortnight, having left here Tuesday.

—Mrs. Deborah Sampson of Chesley road is with friends on Commonwealth avenue for the rest of the summer.

—Mr. Eugene W. Pratt of Trowbridge street spent a few days this week with his family at North Weymouth.

—Miss Gerry of the office force of G. W. Thompson is spending a two weeks' vacation in New Hampshire visiting various resorts.

—Miss Sadie Wilson, a teacher in the public schools at Edgewood, R. I., is passing a few weeks with her father on Pleasant street.

—Mrs. A. A. Cranston, mother of Mrs. S. K. Chamberlain of Sumner street, is visiting her son, Dr. E. A. Cranston at Paris, Me.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Tilton of Chesley road will leave next week for a resort near Portland, where they will remain until the early autumn.

—Mr. Morton Knapp and Mr. Sidney S. Caine have returned from North Woodstock, N. H., where they have been spending a two weeks vacation.

—Miss Grace Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gordon of Gibbs street is visiting Mrs. S. S. Widger and family at their summer home at Clifton.

—Miss Priscilla Ordway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert I. Ordway of Gibbs street, has returned from a week's visit at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Widger of this place at Clifton.

—Mrs. A. Dudley Dowd and family of Berwick road will remain the rest of the summer at their country home at Craigville. Mr. Dowd will pass part of each week in Newton Centre and Boston attending to business affairs.

—Mrs. James Cartwright, aged 84 years, mother of Mrs. George H. Morgan of Everett street, fractured her hip by falling only a few feet at her home in Wellesley last Friday morning. She was removed to the Newton hospital.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ward of Crescent avenue returned home early this week from a stay of several months in Europe, during which they traveled over a large section of the continent and visited many of the historical spots.

—Mr. William Lind is to have a two story frame dwelling built for his own occupancy on Parker street during the next few months. The house will be 29 by 23 feet in size, and the estimated cost is $2500. A permit to build has just been granted.

—Mr. C. H. Hamel is to have work started at once on a two story frame residence on Parker street. The structure will be 27 by 32 feet in size. The estimated cost is $3800. The contract for building has been given to Mr. W. B. McMullen.

—While riding his bicycle on Center street early Tuesday Harry French, a 14-year old boy, collided with a telephone pole while going down hill and was thrown. He sustained numerous bruises to his hands and body and the bicycle was badly damaged.

—Alderman and Mrs. Edward B. Bowen of Sumner street, who sailed last week for Europe, took along their large touring car. They will spend a large part of their stay abroad this summer touring over the continent. Mr. Bowen is an expert automobilist.

—Rev. Morgan Millar, formerly pastor of the Unitarian church, is expected to pass part of August with the summer colony at East Gloucester. Rev. Mr. Millar has for several years been a member of the Newton colony at that popular resort, among whom are Mr. Herbert D. Ward and Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward of Dudley street.

Newton Highlands

—Mrs. W. B. Page is at Franklin, N. H.

—Mrs. Shreeve of Forest street has been visiting at Dedham, Mass.

—Mr. R. F. Butler of Walnut street spent Tuesday at Newport, R. I.

—Mrs. E. V. Swail of Walnut street is visiting relatives in Nova Scotia.

—Mrs. C. A. MacCallon and children are visiting friends in Nova Scotia.

—Dr. Guiler has been at Fair Haven, Mass., for a few days the past week.

—Mrs. J. E. Dodge of Bowdoin street left Wednesday for Rockland, Maine.

—Miss F. Cahill, bookkeeper at Moulton & Sons is taking a two weeks vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Clark of Allerton road have returned from the Isles of Shoals.

—Mrs. Howard and daughter of Walnut street are at Winthrop, Mass., for the summer.

—Mr. W. J. Cozens and family now occupy the house recently purchased by them on Chester street.

—The Emond family of Hartford street returned this week from several weeks visit in the west.

—The Eddy family of Lake avenue left Saturday morning for a few weeks visit with friends in New York.

—Mr. Samuel Moulton returned this week from Plymouth, N. H., where he has been spending his vacation.

—Mrs. E. H. Greenwood has returned from a two months' visit with friends in New York state and Connecticut.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Wood of Hyde street left this week for Maine where they will spend their vacation.

—Mrs. J. S. Sedgwick of Floral street has returned from a months' visit at New London, Conn., and Palmer, Mass.

—Mr. Wm. D. Hoffman and family of Erie avenue are spending their vacation at Silver Beach, North Falmouth, Mass.

—Mr. H. L. Lamphier and family have returned from a months trip to Atlantic City, N. J., and Chicago, Illinois.

—Mrs. Geo. H. Woolley and family are at the Mountain View House, Franconia, N. H., for the remainder of the season.

—Mrs. T. W. Carter and children left Monday for New Brunswick for a few weeks vacation. Mr. Carter hopes to join them about August first.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. 112-3. Leave calls with H. S. Hiltz, Eliot station. Tel. Newton S. 212-40.

—Mr. D. S. Farnham of Newton Centre has bought the Hyde house on Allerton road occupied for a number of years by Mr. W. J. Hardwick and family. Mr. Farnham will make some alterations and improve the property.

—Mrs. W. G. Kerr and daughter of Lake avenue are spending their vacation on the Maine coast. Mr. George Kerr is camping in the Maine woods, and later his brother Mr. Will Kerr will go to the seashore for a few weeks outing.

—Mr. Charles F. Gilman was in charge of the American Whist Congress held last week at the Somerset, Boston, and received many congratulations on his management of the affair. A substantial purse was presented to him Saturday night by the whist enthusiasts.

Waban.

—Miss Leslie Knott's guest, Miss Farquharson departs today after a weeks visit.

—Mr. John H. Robinson of Windsor road returned from a short stay at Nantucket, Mass., on Tuesday.

—Mr. Howard W. Lamkin, Chestnut street is staying with Rev. Wm. H. Williams at Hingham, Mass.

—Mrs. Louise Roscoe of Chestnut street went on Monday to Newcastle, N. H., for a few weeks' stay.

—Mr. Richard Wight of E. W. Conant Co. is spending his vacation at Peak's Island in Casco Bay.

—Miss Silyl F. Stone, Neholiden road, returned this week from an outing at Monhegan and Murray Hill, Me.

—The birth of a baby daughter to Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Barnard of Woodward street last Thursday, is announced.

—Mr. Harry Preston, the jovial letter carrier is at Cataumet, passing his two weeks vacation. Mr. Charles Gormley is his substitute here.

—Mrs. Wm. H. Gould of Beacon street went Tuesday to her summer cottage at Murray Hill, East Boothbay.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. 112-3. Leave calls at Rhodes' Drug store. Tel. Newton S. 237-3.

—A committee composed of Messrs H. Stewart Bosson, H. R. Lane and E. H. Robinson has been appointed to have charge of the Waban Tennis Courts Club's dramatics to be given sometime in the winter.

—Prof. F. W. Pane of New Hampshire with an associate has purchased of Wm. C. Strong a considerable amount of land on Moffat road beyond the E. W. Conant place, with the intention of building several large greenhouses and carrying on the business of flower raising scientifically. He has also bought the two houses further on behind the Van Norman estate.

Nonantum.

—Alderman and Mrs. W. J. Doherty are receiving congratulations on the birth, last Monday, of a boy.

Upper Falls.

—Miss Alberta Grover of Eliot street is spending her vacation at Deer-ing, Me.

—Miss May Wilde of Oak street, who has been at Old Orchard, Maine, has returned home.

—Mr. J. D. Coward entertained at his home on High street, Mr. S. B. Jones of Philadelphia.

—Professor Perrin, of Waban, will fill Rev. Dr. Scott's place on Sunday, at the Wade schoolhouse.

—Mrs. Easterbrook and daughter of Rockland place, have returned from their visit the past week at Weymouth, Mass.

—Mr. John Martin, of Chestnut street, has purchased the house now building on Champa avenue, and will make it into two tenements.

—Mrs. O. Q. Chaffin of Kansas City, Kansas, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sweet of Oak street, has returned to her home.

—Master Walter Sweet, is spending his vacation at Hopkinton. The Misses Maud and Esther Lincoln, of Hopkinton, nieces of Mr. and Mrs. Sweet are visiting them at Oak street.

—Mrs. John Meskill who has been at the Newton hospital for the past three weeks, has returned to her father's home Mr. Billings of High street. Her friends will be glad to hear that she is well again.

—The friends of Master Elwin McKenzie, who was injured by the explosion of some cannon crackers, in his vest pocket, on the morning of the 4th, are glad to hear that he is getting along nicely.

—A very pleasant event of the past week was the annual lawn party of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Veteran Firemen, which was held at the residence of the president, Mrs. A. J. Grover on Eliot street, on Thursday, July 11th.

—Last Friday evening the Sunday school of St. Mary's church gave their graduating exercises in the church yard which was tastefully decorated with Japanese lanterns, etc. A very large number of children and parents attended.

Fitzgibbons - Barry.

The wedding of Mr. Patrick Fitzgibbons of Waltham street, West Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzgibbons of that place, and Miss Nora Barry, also of West Newton, took place Sunday.

The ceremony took place at the parochial residence of St. Bernard's church, and was performed by Rev. Fr. Charles J. Galligan. After a brief trip to various places of interest about eastern Massachusetts Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgibbons will make their home at West Newton.

Washburn - Johnson.

Rev. Lee C. Parish was the officiating clergyman at the wedding of Miss Amy B. Johnson of 163 Hicks street, West Newton, and Mr. Edwin A. Washburn of Mill street, Malden, Wednesday. The ceremony was witnessed by a few friends and relatives. After a tour Mr. and Mrs. Washburn will make their home in Malden.

Deverix - Powers.

Mr. William M. Deverix, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Deverix of Newton, and Miss Agnes V. Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Powers of Watertown were married Sunday. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few immediate friends and relatives by Rev. Fr. P. J. Crayton of Watertown.

MacMurphy - Pullen.

Miss Mahel I. Pullen, who has made her home for sometime at 80 Highland avenue, Newtonville, and Mr. Jerome C. MacMurphy of Oak Park, Ill., were united in marriage Saturday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Jay T. Stocking, pastor of the Central Congregational church, and was witnessed by only a few immediate friends of the couple.

PEARMAN & BROOKS

Members of the Boston and New York Stock Exchanges

Stock and Bond Brokers.

Orders by Mail Promptly Executed
Correspondence Solicited
STOCK EXCHANGE BUILDING
SUMNER B' PEARMAIN

Prescott - Bennett.

Another wedding in Newton of two out of town young people took place Tuesday. The groom was Mr. Charles A. Prescott, aged 27, who is employed as a machinist in Fitchburg and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Prescott of that city. The bride was Miss Eliza A. Bennett, 27 years old, a daughter of Samuel Bennett of Chittichampston Eng. but who has for sometime made her home in Fitchburg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George S. Butters, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at his home, 30 Wesley street.

Mr. Nichols Dead.

Mr. Demius S. Nichols, an old resident of Newton Highlands, died at the home of his sister in Newton Centre, Friday night, after several weeks' illness, aged 77 years.

Mr. Nichols was well known in Newton Highlands, having been flagman at the Cook street crossing for the Boston & Albany Railroad Company for twenty years.

He was a Boston veteran fireman and until the last few years attended most of their meetings and entertainments. The funeral services took place Monday from his late home.

Mrs. Mary Healy Dead.

At her home at 646 Grove street, Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Mary Healy, aged 66, widow of Jeremiah Healy, died Sunday. Death came suddenly and Dr. George L. West, medical examiner, was called in to make an examination. He pronounced death due to natural causes.

Mrs. Healy was born in County Cork, Ireland, and came to Newton Lower Falls many years ago. She is survived by a son, Mr. Timothy Healy of that village. The burial was in Calvary cemetery the funeral services.

Mrs. Beers Dead.

Mrs. Catherine Beers, aged 84 years, died after a long illness on Wednesday morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. C. S. Robinson of Walnut street, Newton Highlands. Prayers were held at her late home Thursday afternoon, Rev. J. E. Charlton officiating, and the body was taken to Ware, Mass., for interment.

M. O. Rice Dead.

After a lingering illness lasting several weeks, during which death was almost momentarily expected, Mr. Marshall O. Rice, aged 64, for years one of the best known residents of Newton Centre, died late last Friday night.

Mr. Rice was for many years in the wholesale clothing business on Arch street, Boston. He was widely known in the trade, and throughout the New-tons he also enjoyed a wide acquaintance having lived in this city all his life.

He was born in Newton Centre and has practically always made his home on the old Rice homestead at 1104 Center street, near Gibbs street and nearly opposite the magnificent First Congregational church, which he had attended for many years. The homestead has for years been one of the landmarks of Newton Centre.

Mr. Rice was a son of the late Marshall S. Rice, an old-time schoolmaster and for 27 years town clerk of Newton before this place became a city. Besides a widow he leaves a daughter and two sons. These are Mrs. Rebecca Barker of Dayton, O., Mr. George Rice of Denver, Col., and Mr. William H. Rice of this city. The latter had for a number of years been associated with his father in the wholesale clothing business.

Two sisters also survive. They are Mrs. Alvah H. Hovey of Newton Centre, widow of Rev. Dr. Hovey, who was for a number of years the president of the Newton Theological Institution and was widely known, and Mrs. Carpenter, a widely known missionary worker in Burmah and Japan. Mrs. Carpenter left Burmah a number of weeks ago and started for her home when she learned of the critical illness of her brother. The principal cause of death was enlargement of the heart.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon beginning at 3 o'clock. A large number of friends in this and surrounding cities, including many former business associates, gathered to pay their last tributes to Mr. Rice. The service took place in the old homestead, and the casket was literally buried with floral offerings. A large number of these came from business friends all over New England, and the flowers filled several rooms of the spacious house.

The service was conducted by Rev. Edward McArthur Noyes, pastor of the First Congregational church. Rev. Mr. Noyes spoke at length upon the good qualities of the late Mr. Rice and paid him a high tribute. The remains were taken to the Newton Cemetery for burial in the family lot.

George Holland Dead.

Mr. George Holland, aged 44, died at his late home, 21 Abbott street, Newton Upper Falls, Sunday, after an illness of about seven months. He was a son of John Holland, and for a number of years had been employed as a machinist in one of the shops at the Upper Falls. He was well known in that village. The funeral was held Thursday morning, requiem mass being celebrated at St. Mary's church by Rev. Fr. Timothy J. Danahy. There were many floral offerings from his former fellow workmen. The burial was in St. Mary's church cemetery at Needham.

Harold Hutchinson.

Mr. Harold Hutchinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield S. Hutchinson, died at the home of his parents, 44 Billings park, Newton last Sunday at midnight after a long illness, extending over many years. Mr. Hutchinson was a native of Brunswick, Me., and was 35 years of age. He was a graduate of Harvard, '93 and of the Harvard Law School, but failing health prevented the practice of his profession. He was married and leaves a widow. Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon, Rev. Andrew Hahn officiating. The Mendelssohn quartet sang, "Passing Out of the Shadow", "Blessed Isle of Somewhere" and "God be with You till we meet again." The burial was at Brunswick, Me.

A Mountain Climb.

Mr. Winthrop L. Carter of West Newton, Mass., and Mr. Heathcote M. Woolsey of New Haven reached the Summit House before breakfast Monday morning, having passed the night at Camp Crawford on Mount Jefferson. They regretted much to find that this once beautiful spot has suffered through the clearing of the forest, two large trees having fallen on the kitchen roof and crushed it in. The path is also in very bad condition. Their rest was disturbed by hedgehogs, four of which they killed in the course of the night. After their pleasant walk over the range to the Summit they went down by the Mount Pleasant path, arranging by long distance telephone to meet Mr. J. R. Carter's brake on the state road and to return to the Mount Washington and Jefferson Highlands.

Mr. Carter, with Mr. S. R. Overall of St. Louis, made a spring trip from Portland to the mountains and walked up the track from the Base on Sunday, May 6. While resting in the old house near the Gulf a furious snowstorm came up and they wisely started to go down. But the storm broke before they had gone far and they turned around and made the top without difficulty. The view was magnificent, the Northern Peaks resembling Swiss summits in their wintry garb. A snow drift in front of the hotel enabled them to walk to the eaves of the house. Going down they found the snow too deep to walk on alongside of Jacob's Ladder and had all the excitement they wanted in getting down the icy trestle.

During Monday's walk over the range Mr. Woolsey was interested in making comparisons with other mountains which he had climbed both in this country and abroad. The highest peak he has climbed is the Gros Glockner, the highest peak in the Austrian Tyrol, about 14,000 feet. Mr. Carter climbed Mount McDonald in the Selkirk, near Banff, two years ago.—Among the Clouds, Mt. Washington.

New Bug Causes Trouble.

Residents of wards 1 and 7 complain that in the last few days they have had rather unusual experiences with a new kind of bug, the exact nature of which is as yet unknown. The bug is apparently a strenuous rival of the erstwhile famous kissing bug, for it has a preference of attacking persons upon their lips. The bug works nights and as yet has gone little toward making persons uncomfortable in the day time.

One of its victims is Mrs. Frank Hill of Morse street, who was bitten on the lower lip sometime Wednesday night. The following morning her lip was badly swollen and very painful. She was attended by a local physician, who was mystified over the affliction.

Several residents here say that the mysterious bug comes into their houses nights regardless of screens. A few have tried an experiment of putting a small quantity of kerosene on their screens, it having been said that this would drive the annoying bugs away. The experiment has so far been a failure, however.

No visits of the bugs have been reported as yet in other parts of the city. Residents who have been stung by the pest hope that it will not prove a successor of the painful kissing bug of a few years ago, or of the more recent brown tail and gypsy moths.

The readers of the Graphic, have, no doubt, noticed that Burdett College of Business and Shorthand, 18 Boylston St., Boston, has the "growing habit."

We understand that this College is no longer able to prepare a sufficient number of students to answer the demand made upon it for employees by business men. People know that Burdett College is original in methods, aggressive in spirit and phenomenally successful. It teaches its pupils to earn a good living, finds employment for them and presents each graduate with a Free Life Membership in its Situation Department.

Very likely these things account to a considerable degree for the remarkable success of Burdett College, but students of human nature will perhaps attribute its marvellous growth to the kindly spirit which pervades it, and which strives to serve the interest of each pupil. The Secretary of the College is justly proud that the registration of students for the fall term, which commences on Tuesday, September 4th, began as early as Easter.

The cost per term at Burdett College is $37.50. As a dividend-paying investment it is hard to find one which will equal this for a young person. In fact, a sum of money which on interest in a bank will not yield $10 per year will if invested at Burdett College, bring a return in weekly salary equal to the interest on thousands of dollars. Newton people are greatly interested in anything which concerns practical education, and as the years go by Burdett College will enjoy an increasing patronage from this vicinity.

WARD'S WRITING PAPER AND ENVELOPES BLANK BOOKS LEATHER GOODS SAMUEL WARD CO. 67-69 Franklin St., BOSTON

BURGLARS Are Busy INSURE AGAINST LOSS AND DAMAGE $7.50 for $1000 Rowe & Porter 12 Central Street, BOSTON, Tel. Main 1321-2

Henry F. Cate, Successor to STEPHEN F. CATE, Undertaker. ALSO Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable Washington and Chestnut Streets, West Newton.

WE WANT YOU TO DO Business WITH US Baker & Humphrey (Successors to Henry N. Baker) ALL KINDS OF INSURANCE 12 PEARL STREET, BOSTON Telephone: Main 3843 Newton No. 192-2

P. E. WALTNER & CO. Tailors Franklin Bldg., 17 Milk Street Near Washington BOSTON

New Spring Styles Low Prices Large Assortment P. E. Waltner for the last several years head cutter for W. C. Brooks.

RUSSIAN IMPORTING COMPANY are showing a handsome line of articles suitable for Wedding Gifts, not only in copper, brass, bronze and silver, but also an unusual assortment of hand-made drawn work linen, which is not to be duplicated in this country.

355-357 Boylston St. Boston, Tel. 2481-4 Back Bay

KRANICH & BACH PIANOS took gold medal at Mechanics' Fair in Boston in 1897 and '98 on their unequalled uprights and grands. Finest tone and best in wear. Also the first class H. W. Berry and the Keller & Sons, special bargains on slightly used Kranch & Bachs. Also second hand pianos at low prices. Also the finest Small Miniature Kranch & Bach (Grand, Terms easy and prices reasonable. H. W. BERRY, No. 64 Washington street, Boston.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXXIV.—NO. 44.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1906.

TERMS, $2.00 A YEAR.

A HIGH GRADE GENUINE

CIDER VINEGAR

Telephone 777, Richmond

HAYNES-PIPER CO. INC., 17 Lewis Wharf, BOSTON, MASS.

of known purity, made exclusively by us, and in the largest and most modern cider and vinegar plant in New England.
New England Agents for "Duffy's 1842" Apple Juice sold in pints and quarts by the Best Grocers.

JOHN ALDEN FLOUR

INSPIRES CONFIDENCE THE MOMENT YOU SEE THE PACKAGE—IT LOOKS JUST RIGHT. INSIDE THE BARREL OR SACK YOU WILL FIND A SPECIAL LINING AND INSIDE THIS, JOHN ALDEN FLOUR LOOKING EVEN BETTER THAN ITS PROTECTIVE COVERS.
IT IS YOUR DUTY TO YOURSELF TO ASK YOUR GROCER FOR THIS FLOUR.

Back Bay Veterinary Hospital

332 NEWBURY ST., BOSTON

THE BEST ORDERED AND EQUIPPED HOSPITAL FOR ANIMALS IN BOSTON

Operations a Specialty

Outside calls given prompt attention. Animals boarded during the summer months.

JAMES WILLIAM TOBIN, M. D. V.

Successor to LYMAN & LYMAN

Telephones: Hospital, 2200 Back Bay

Residence, 2747-3 Back Bay
163 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston

FERGUSON'S WHITE SEAL BREAD
A Triumph in Modern Bread Making
Made of the finest flour and pure, rich milk, in a modern, sanitary bakery. You will notice The Real Old Home Flavor
J. G. & B. S.
FERGUSON
853 to 869 ALBANY ST. BOSTON

NATIONAL HORSE & CARRIAGE MART

JUNCTION 6th, MAIN AND HARVARD STS. CAMBRIDGEPORT

HORSES and PONIES For Sale or Exchange
FINE CARRIAGES, HARNESS and SADDLERY For Horses and Ponies at Prices Never Before Quoted for the Quality

PONY TEAMS a SPECIALTY

All Newton Cars by Harvard Square pass Mart

MOSES COLMAN & SON

Tel. 1803-3 Cambridge

A. B. Turner & Co.

INVESTMENT BONDS.

Real Estate Mortgages Placed.

24 MILK STREET, BOSTON.

HALL CLOCKS PRATT

53 Franklin Street, Boston

Brookline Riding Academy

VILLAGE SQUARE, BROOKLINE

Tel. 1270 Brookline

Open from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. for

Riding and Leaping Lessons and Military Drill

Ladies Taught Either on

Side Saddle or Cross Saddle

First-class saddle horses to let by the hour, day and month; horses boarded and trained.
R. CLASEN, Proprietor.
G. LEGRADY, Instructor.

ANTIQUE FURNITURE

Old China, Engravings, Books, Etc.

Bought for Cash

OLD CURIOSITY SHOP

526 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge.
Telephone 951-2. L. LEMON.

Boston Safe Deposit Trust Company

—AND—
Trust Company

87 Milk Street - Boston

This Company has been in active business for over thirty years, and offers you every facility for the transaction of your banking business.

It will receive your bank account subject to check and pay you interest.

It will assume the care of your property, collecting dividends, interest and every class of income.

It is authorized by law to act under Trusts of every description.

During your life it will serve you as Agent or Attorney in any business affairs, and at your decease will act as Executor and Trustee of your estate.

Inquiries will receive careful attention.

HOT

Have you found the present hot weather uncomfortable?

All indications point to

HOTTER

Weather for August. Be prepared. Secure an

ELECTRIC FAN

For your home and laugh at Old Sol's attempts to make you uncomfortable.

Electrical Dept.

N. & W. Gas Light Co.

Mud Guards, Hoods, Gasoline Tanks and all Sheet Metal Work used in connection with Automobiles.

Promptness with reasonable prices guaranteed.

E. B. BADGER & SONS CO.

83-75 Pitts St., Boston, Mass.

MISS MacCONNELL

(Formerly with Madame May & Co.)

ELECTRO TONIC FACE TREATMENT.

Manicuring, Chiropody, Shampooing.

Moles, Warts and superfluous hair removed.

Parlor: Newton Bank Building, Room M.

Tel. 848-2.

'KRAKAUER.'

A Piano with a Human Voice.

"BEHNING."

Model's of the Piano Makers' Art.

LINCOLN & PARKER.

211 Tremont Street, up one flight, opp. Hotel Touraine, Boston.

Newton.

—Miss Lillie Banks leaves tomorrow for East Andover, N. H.

—Mr. George Simmons will occupy the Weston house, 20 Marlboro street next week.

—Hot water and steam pipe work by Gallagher Bros., Plumbers, 411 Centre st. Telephone 494-2 North.

—Miss Eunice Miller will in the autumn begin her new duties as a Latin teacher in the High school at Revere.

—Michael B. Collins of Chapel street, clerk in the postoffice, is enjoying his annual two weeks' vacation at Newport, R. I.

—Dr. Reid will leave for his summer vacation August 4th, going first to the mountains and later into the woods of Maine.

—Supt. J. Isaac Farwell returned Monday to his duties at the local post-office after a pleasant vacation spent with relatives in Connecticut.

—Mrs. Samuel B. Whittemore of Washington street is sojourning in Marshfield. She will remain in that historical old town until the early autumn.

—Mr. John O'Connor has bought the dwelling at 17 Emerson street from Mr. Edward L. Esterbrook. The dwelling is assessed for $2100 and the land for $600.

—Mr. James E. Clark has started work on his new house on Lombard street. The Goodman house has been moved to another site on Lombard street.

—Mr. Waldo A. Learned of Morse street has been passing a few days this week at Brant Rock as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Hubbard and family of Hollis street.

—Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. and Mrs. Loring L. Marshall on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Marshall caused by the premature birth of a child last week. The child lived but a day.

—Marie Darcy, the 9-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius B. Darcy, died Friday at the family house, 74 Gardner street. The burial took place Sunday in St. Patrick's cemetery at Watertown.

—Mr. Charles Pike, for many years a resident of Boyd street, died Wednesday at the home of relatives on Morse street after a lingering illness. The primary cause of death was bright's disease, from which he had suffered for several years. For many years Mr. Pike was a well known carpenter and builder in this city. He enjoyed a wide acquaintance in Newton and was well liked. The funeral services will take place today.

FOR SALE NEWTON

NEWTON $11,000.

Beautiful corner estate within 4 minutes of street and electric. On one of the best streets in Newton. Contains 10 rooms with bath, furnace and laundry. Price $11,000.

NEWTON $8000.

Double house with 10 rooms to each side. Bath, set-tubs and hardwood floors. Hot-water heater. In first-class location and convenient to everything. Photo. at office. Price $8000.

NEWTON $6000.

Attractive house of 8 rooms with all improvements. 2 minutes to street. All location. Land and house cost $6500. Will sell for $6000.

NEWTON $3500.

Cottage house of 8 rooms with all improvements in a good and convenient location. Has been recently painted on the outside and put in first-class condition. Will sell for $3500.

I also HAVE A FEW EXCEPTIONAL BARGAINS IN SINGLE AND DOUBLE HOUSES. YOU SHOULD SEE MY LIST. IF YOU WISH TO LOCATE IN THE NEWTONS.

TO LET IN NEWTON.

Beautiful 8 room suite, hot-water heat, $45, 2 nine room single houses, $35 each, 8 room single house $30, modern 6 room house, $28, 7 room cottage for $25. All the above are in good locations and contain all improvements. Several others for rent.

JOHN T. BURNS

363 Centre St., Newton, Mass.

TELEPHONE

REES & BERNIER

Have Opened a New Store at

400 Centre St., Newton

where they will carry a full line of PROVISIONS, MEATS, FISH, OYSTERS, FRUIT, VEGETABLES and GROCERIES

With years of experience in the provision business in Newton, the firm can give their customers the best goods, the best service and the most reasonable prices in the city.

FOR

BROWN TAIL MOTH ITCH

Carbonol diluted with water allays the irritation and cures the eruption caused by the Brown Tail Moth.

Ask Your Druggist for It.

25c., 50c., 75c. per bottle, $1.50 per gal.

PENSIONS

SPANISH WAR VETERANS

Who have incurred disease or injury in the service and line of duty, and the widows of the same who have died as a result of disease or injury incurred in the service should call or write to ELMER C. HICKMAN, authorized Pension Agent, 37 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.

Newton.

—Anything in the carpenter line by McLean. Tel. 384-4 N. tf

—Insurance of all kinds. Phone 3172 Main. Hugh Campbell, Newton. tf

—Miss Mary Childs of Richardson street is visiting friends at Westford, Mass.

—Miss Rodden of Centre and Boyd streets is passing several weeks at Brant Rock.

—Mr. H. J. Marshman of the Free Library leaves tomorrow on his annual vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Heard were at the Summit House, Mt. Washington, Monday.

—Mrs. Robert Leighton of Marlboro is visiting Miss Frances Small for several weeks.

—Master Everett Leach of Channing street is visiting relatives at Green Harbor Beach.

—Get your trunks repaired at John A. Masons, 312 Washington St., Tel. 187-2 North.

—Miss MacConnell will close her parlor during the month of August and will reopen Sept. 1st.

—Mr. George G. Collins of Amherst is visiting his cousin, Mr. Myron F. Arnold, for several weeks.

—Miss Gladys Wood of Maple avenue leaves Monday for a few weeks' stay with friends in New York.

—Lieut. Charles T. Leeds, U. S. A., has gone to New Mexico for the purpose of regaining his health.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. Kempton Dean of Pearl street left Saturday for a fortnight's fishing trip in Maine.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Harwood and family of Waverley avenue are at Marblehead Neck for the summer.

—Mrs. Holland and Miss Katharine Keaveney of Johnstown, N. Y., are visiting relatives on Thornton street.

—Mr. James H. Lamont left Wednesday for Old Orchard, where he will be the guest of relatives for a fortnight.

—Mrs. H. Sparks Johnson, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hadden, leaves next Tuesday for her home in California.

—Mr. Melbourne E. Wood, who is connected with the Cohen Typewriter Agency of New York City, is visiting his parents on Maple avenue.

—Mrs. F. E. Bowen and Mrs. J. W. Brigham of Elmhurst road left the first of this week for Plymouth, N. H., where they will spend the next four weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Green of Morse street left Saturday afternoon for Thomaston, Me., where they will be the guests of relatives for a fortnight.

—Mr. and Mrs. Amos F. Adams and family this week closed their Park avenue residence and went to Edgartown for the remainder of the summer months.

—Percy J. Byron, a 30-year old man living in Watertown but who formerly resided in a Nonantum square apartment house, created considerable excitement in Nonantum square Monday night. He persisted in yelling that detectives were chasing him and were trying to take his life. He was finally arrested by Patrolman Coady and locked up in station 3, Washington street. Here it was feared that the man had become ill so he was transferred to police headquarters in case a physician's services were deemed necessary. The following morning Byron appeared in court and arraigned on a charge of drunkenness. He was sentenced to two months in the house of correction.

Business Locals.

We have ideas in decoration that are at once novel and artistic and will cost no more than the commonplace. Hough & Jones Co., Newton. Painting, Decorating and Upholstering.

SHORT & GRAHAM Undertakers

431 CENTRE STREET

NEWTON

Tel. Newton No. 105-1

Competent person in attendance day and night. Lady Assistant.

BURGLARS IN NEWTON

but the worst of all—the "sneak thief."

If you want any

PEACE OF MIND

while away this summer, with your house closed, or at home with your windows and doors open, do not fail to ask us about Burglary Insurance.

We will write policy for one or two months if desired.

Baker & Humphrey

12 PEARL STREET, BOSTON

Telephone: Main 3843

Newton No. 182-2

Newton.

—Mrs. John Flood and Miss Flood are at Nantucket.

—Mr. Alexander Boyce has returned from a brief visit at Northfield.

—Special sale. Legs of lamb, 13c. F. M. Dutch, 245 Washington street.

—Miss Ethel Graham of the Oliver is visiting Judge Hemenway of Hopkinton.

—Mr. Frederick Maguire of Charlesbank road leaves this week for Lake Winnetka, where he will be a member of the Y. M. C. A. camp for a few weeks.

—Hon. Henry E. Bothfield and family of Hunnewell avenue are at their summer home in Sherborn, Mass., on a farm which Mr. Bothfield has recently purchased.

—Mrs. John Van Buskirk has presented an oil portrait of Dr. Henry J. Bigelow to the Public Library. It was painted by her father, the late L. S. Holman.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lawrence of Newtonville avenue have gone to their summer residence at Brant Rock for the remainder of the season. They are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. George Barber, also of Newtonville avenue.

—Mr. George O. Almy of Jefferson street returned early this week from Green Harbor, where he has been passing his vacation. Mrs. Almy and a number of friends whom she has been entertaining will return the middle of the week.

Police Paragraphs.

Inspector Frank B. Fletcher and Sergt. Bernard F. Burke were called to Riverside Tuesday evening to investigate a charge that tramps were sleeping in the empty railroad cars on the siding at Riverside. They found no one in the cars, but there was evidence that tramps had occupied them.

Dusky little George Washington Nixon, 9 years old, the hero among the colored lads of West Newton of many a runaway and other escapades, got into more trouble Tuesday night. As a result of his latest escapade little George will probably have his career cut short tomorrow, for his mother says she is going to have him sent away to some place where he will have to follow more conventional habits.

Tuesday George ran away from home after going nearly a week without creating any excitement. That evening he was found on the Wauwinet farm, the estate of Mr. George H. Ellis at Commonwealth avenue and Valentine street, West Newton. The police went after him with the patrol wagon. George smiled from ear to ear when he alighted in front of police headquarters half an hour later amid a big crowd of children standing about with their eyes and mouth wide open in wonderment.

He was taken into police headquarters and given a talking to. His mother, who lives at 131 Hicks street, West Newton, brought him to court Wednesday morning and asked to have him sent away for being a stubborn child. She says she has had nothing but trouble on his account ever since he has been big enough to waddle out of the front gate.

It was only last week that a resident of West Newton brought George and another little colored lad into the police station, after having caught them climbing up through the scuttle into his barn. He had just come home from a vacation and had found his cellar ransacked. Going into the barn to look at his automobile he found the youngsters just poking their heads up through the scuttle. George got a good shaking and a scolding for that escapade. He was good for almost a week afterward and his mother began to have better hopes for him. But the little fellow could not live without excitement. According to his mother this latest escapade will be his last for a long time.

It was a pathetic sight late Tuesday night when white haired John J. Mee, 59 years old, was brought into police headquarters and given lodging after having been found wandering about Newton Highlands. Several persons who saw him wandering about the Highlands during the evening sent word that the man was probably insane, but judging from the manner in which he answered questions put to him by the police there will be considerable difficulty in proving the man insane, if that charge is ever held against him.

He said he had started from Whitman to Ayer Junction, where he was to secure employment at $2.50 per day in a hotel. At Whitman he had been working for some time in a shoe factory. His sole possessions were a little bottle of fresh water, some luncheon, a towel and two or three toilet articles. He was making the trip over the road on foot. He said he didn't think the walk anything extraordinary, for he was used to outdoor exercise.

He was given a comfortable bed and the next morning he was given a hot breakfast. Wednesday he was in court for vagrancy and was given until August 9 to get out of the city.

—Crosby's Restaurant, 19 School street, Boston, is a good place to dine. tf

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

Published every Friday at 10 Centre Place, - Newton, Mass.

Entered as second-class matter.

$2.00 per Year. Single Copies, 5 cents.
— By mail, free of postage.All money sent at sender's risk.
All checks, drafts, and money orders
should be made payable to

NEWTON GRAPHIC PUBLISHING CO.,

J. C. BRIMBLECOM, Treas.

TELEPHONE NO. 77-3.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed
Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News-stands in the Newton, and at the South Union Station, Boston.All communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.Notices of all local entertainments
to which admission is charged must be paid for at regular rates, 25 cents per line
in the reading matter, or $1.00 per inch in
the advertising columns.

In the apportionment of representatives to the cities and towns of Middlesex County, now under consideration by the County Commissioners, the tentative plans call for such an outrageous discrimination against this city, that active measures should be taken by our political leaders to protect our interests in this direction. At the last apportionment in 1896, Newton received two representatives, and nearly a thousand legal voters were thereby unrepresented. At that time, the average for the county was 2331, Newton with 5617 voters was awarded two representatives. The present year the average for the county is 2844, and on the face of the census returns, Newton is entitled to 2 11-14 representatives. This is the largest proportion of any claimant for an extra man, and taken in connection with the large number unrepresented during the past ten years, our claim for three men is a strong one. Besides these considerations, Newton pays 2 per cent of the state tax, on which basis it should have five representatives. It pays 11 per cent of the county tax, another basis for five men. In addition Newton pays more money pro rata for metropolitan assessments than any other municipality in the county. We have, therefore, strong claims to at least three representatives, and the County commissioners have admitted that claim to the writer. But Cambridge comes in with a claim for an extra man and rumor says that the Commissioners have allowed that city eight representatives, although it is over 700 short of the average necessary for that number. The Commissioners plan to allow Newton three representatives, with the addition of the town of Weston. We have nothing but good words for the town of Weston, but Newton is clearly entitled to three men by itself, as much so as Cambridge and possibly more. But the real "nigger in the wood pile" which prevents Newton from obtaining its rights, is the attitude of the Commissioners towards the small towns in the upper end of our senatorial district. Ashland, Sherborn, Hopkinton and Holliston, now constitute a representative district, with a constituency of 2097 voters, over 700 short of the present average number in the county. These towns are separated from the rest of the county by the present single representative districts of Natick, with 2621 and Framingham with 2827, both of sufficient size to warrant a continuance of their present representation. North of Natick and Framingham is the town of Wayland with 619 voters. This town the Commissioners propose to place in the Concord district, making it much larger than the average of 2844, and to continue the Ashland district as it is, although it is so much smaller than the remainder of the county districts. The obvious thing to do, is to make a double district of Ashland, Holliston, Hopkinton, Sherborn, Wayland and either Natick or Framingham, and place Weston in the Concord district in place of Wayland. This arrangement will equalize the districts in point of legal voters and allow Newton its three representatives to which it is clearly entitled. The County Commissioners, however, are lacking backbone to disturb the present one man districts of Natick and Framingham, and therefore propose to make the unequal apportionment outlined above rather than do the fair and the right thing by Newton and the remainder of the County. Because neither Natick or Framingham desire a double district, is no reason for discriminating against Newton, and the all over the city. The formal hearing on the apportionment takes place on August 7th at 10 A. M. at East Cambridge but it is not necessary to wait until that time to prove to the County Commissioners that Newton does not propose to be ignored nor counted out in the present apportionment.

Newton Republicans have an opportunity to show their party spirit, by answering the call of the National Congressional Committee of which Congressman Weeks is a member of the Executive Committee, by sending in a dollar towards the expense of the coming campaign. Everyone who disapproves of the former campaign contributions from insurance companies and the large corporations, owe it to themselves and the party, to supply the necessary sinews of war.

We are not unappreciative of the public spirit and generosity which prompted the gift of a playground for the "backyard" school at Nonantum, and for covering the brook and expense of grading. It is most gratifying to our sense of civic pride that there is sufficient interest in municipal affairs among our wealthy men, to broach such matters for the public weal. The unknown donors are as grateful for the gift and for the public spirit which lies behind it.

There seems to be room for improvement in the way in which our new branch libraries are managed prior to their formal acceptance by the city. That at Nonantum, for instance, is now being paid for from private subscription, the funds being handled by city officials acting as private citizens. The proper course would be to deposit the subscriptions in the city treasury, and then treat the branch as a public institution.

Among the names mentioned for representation in this fall are the present representative, John F. Lothrop, Mr. William F. Garcelon, ex-alderman Oliver M. Fisher and Alderman Elias B. Bishop. With opportunity for three men, Newton will be adequately represented whoever is chosen.

With John B. Moran as a candidate of the Democratic party for governor, the Democratic vote in Newton would be on a par with that for Bryan in 1896. Success to his campaign for the nomination.

The tax rates from our sister cities and towns, all point towards a lower rate of assessment, and it does not take much of a prophet to figure out a large decrease over the $18 rate of last year.

The weather man has been the cause of considerable profanity of late.

Whist.

Four trump hands are proverbially critical and to their mismanagement may be attributed a large share of the heavy losses recorded in every compass game. Many a player on finding himself the fortunate possessor of four trumps including a couple of honors immediately sets about building air-castles and if in addition he can count among his resources a plain suit that does not require much establishing and a probable reentry card the air-castle is as good as built; off he goes on the trump attack only to find four trumps in one hand against him and have his reentry card drawn and a suit established against him. The prospect is not as rosy as it was and his whist faculties are taxed to the utmost. Whether the battle goes for or against him depends on his ability to keep his trumps intact and get the first force on the opposing four trump hand. When these situations arise many players either do not recognize them as critical or lack the nerve to adopt the necessary protective tactics or else flatter themselves that they will find the other nine trumps equally divided. This last fallacy was exploded long ago, but few players seem to know that if the deal is against them and they hold four trumps their opponents will hold seventy-six hands containing four or more trumps in every one hundred deals while their partner will hold four trumps only twenty-six times in one hundred deals. If your partner is the dealer he will hold four trumps with you fifty times in one hundred deals, and there will be fifty-two four trump hands against you in every one hundred deals. If you are the dealer and hold four trumps every player at the table will hold four trumps with you thirty-three times in one hundred deals. Only eleven times in one hundred will you find the remaining nine trumps equally divided, you being the dealer. These figures hold of course only at the beginning of a deal; after every trick, especially after every round of trumps they are subject to correction, but for all that they emphasize sufficiently the need of the greatest care in the majority of cases. It is a simple matter to keep your trumps together on doubtful tricks, but when winning cards loom up against you when whist perception is called for backed up by a steady nerve. Refusing to over-trump your right hand adversary will often save a great suit in a critical situation. Keeping command of trumps in these situations is often of vital importance, but it is surprising to see how often this precaution is disregarded.

An interesting hand of this class came up at the American Whist Club recently; the club 3 was turned west and north held—Clubs A, J, 9, 4, diamonds K, Q, J, 10, 6, spades A, 5, hearts K, 2.

North led the 4 of trumps. East played the 2, and South won with the K. West playing the 3. South returned the 6 of trumps, covered by the 7, and North finessed the J, losing to the lone queen. East now led the spade Q and all followed suit, North winning with the ace. What would you lead now? This is one of the cases where the command of trumps is apt to be very valuable. One rash player led the ace of trumps here, and then the diamonds, losing to West's ace; West now drew the last trump; the king of spades was then led, followed by a low heart, North's king falling to the ace in East's hand; then followed a procession of spades and hearts. At another table a very sound player keeps command of trumps, leading the diamonds at trick No. 3, saving two tricks; West winning with the ace, follows with the king of spades and a low heart as before; East now comes with the jack of spades, on which South plays the 9, West discarding. What should North play? North perceives that South can ruff the next spade and having a good discard in the 2 of hearts, his opponents' suit, he keeps his trumps together; this saves two more tricks. Students are not to suppose, however, that refusing to take a force or to over-trump can be indulged in successfully on the guessing plan. Wait until your perception teaches you that the situation calls for exception play, then meet it.

POPULAR VACATION COUNTRY

Green Mountains and Lake Champlain Offer Many Attractions.

Among the green mountains of Vermont and on the picturesque shores of Lake Champlain are to be found many delightful places for passing a summer vacation. There are cosy camps on pond and lake shore, comfortable farm and village homes and good hotels, $4 to $6 a week, and besides the beautiful scenery which is everywhere to be enjoyed in Vermont there are the purest ozone and the purest water, and splendid opportunities for yachting, driving, automobilism and the best of fishing in mountain brooks and in Champlain and numerous other lakes and ponds. This region is reached by White River Junction gateway by 3 fast through trains over the Central Vermont railway line including the crack day time express between Boston and Montreal, the "New England States Limited", and is pictured and described entertainingly in booklet, "Boston and Montreal" sent for 2 cent stamp enclosed to T. H. Hanley, N. E. P. A., 360 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Tramp Driven Out.

Satisfied that the three recent breaks in the Newton Lower Falls railroad station and that at the Wellesley Farms station were committed by a gang of tramps having headquarters near Wellesley Farms, Chief of Police Kingsbury and Patrolman James R. Wright of that town Saturday afternoon raided the camp. The tramps had evidently become suspicious that they were to be rounded up, for when the police arrived they found the tramps had just departed. The camp was situated very near the point where the boundary lines of Newton, Weston and Wellesley meet. It became known to the Wellesley police Saturday that tramps had returned to the shanty about a half a mile east of the Wellesley Farms railroad station, after an absence of nearly a year.

The police found cooking utensils, bedding, clothing and household utensils in the shanty constructed of railroad sleepers and discarded iron "sideboards" from gravel cars. A stove had been fashioned from old sheet iron and a pipe run up through a corner of the roof. Several newspapers of recent date and numerous other articles were found within the little shanty, which was hidden from view of the railroad tracks a short distance away by a boulder. This was the same place in which a gang of tramps had its headquarters about a year ago and after numerous robberies of henyards had been committed in Wellesley, Newton and Weston the place was raided by the police of the two last named places. The raid was made late at night and the six or eight occupants of the shanty escaped in the nick of time to escape the police. In former years the place has also been a headquarters for tramps who have committed many depredations in this vicinity.

Shuker - Eastwood

The quiet wedding early this week in Boston of Mr. William Shuker of Newton Upper Falls, the 22-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samson Shuker, and Miss Susie M. Eastwood, the 19-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Eastwood of Needham became known for the first time among their friends in this city Wednesday.

The young people had been keeping company for some time. So far as was known by their friends no arrangements for an early wedding had been made. Monday the young people slipped away to Boston and were quietly married by P. A. Adamian, a justice of the peace. The groom was born in Congelton, Cheshire, Eng. For sometime he has been employed at the Upper Falls as a machinist and is well known there. Miss Eastwood has for several years been employed in a Boston business house. The couple will make their future home in Newton Upper Falls.

DIED.

MARTELL—At Aylesford, Nova Scotia, July 19th, Rev. Anthony Martell, in the 88th year of his age.

NASH—At Newton, July 20, William Nash, aged 86 years, 10 months, 15 days.

BEERS—At Newton Highlands, July 18, Mrs. Lucy C. Beers, aged 84 years, 3 months, 23 days.

AMERICAN LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY

53 STATE STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

CAPITAL $1,000,000
SURPLUS EARNINGS $1,700,000

TRANSACTS A GENERAL BANKING AND TRUST COMPANY BUSINESS

INTEREST ALLOWED ON DEPOSITS SUBJECT TO CHECK. SPECIAL RATES ON TIME DEPOSITS

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

C. F. Adams, ad
F. Lothrop Ames
Hobart Ames
Edwin F. Atkins
Frederick Ayer
Charles S. Bird
George W. BrownA. G. Bullock
Samuel Carr
Gilmer Clapp
Gordon Dexter
William R. Driver
F. C. Dumaine
Eugene N. FossWilliam A. Gaston
Elmer P. Howe
N. W. Jordan
David P. Kimball
John Lawrence
Lester Leland
S. E. PeabodyFrancis Peabody, Jr.
Royal Robbins
P. L. Saltonstall
R. Paul Snelling
Frank W. Stearns
Eugene V. R. Thayer
Charles W. WhittierN. W. JORDAN, President
CHARLES L. BURRILL, Vice President
JAMES H. PERKINS, Vice PresidentEDWARD A. COFFIN, Treasurer
CHARLES H. BOWEN, Secretary
GEORGE W. AURYANSEN, Asst. Sec'y

AUTOMOBILE GARAGE

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT

Repairs on Steam, Gasolene and Electric Carriages

Agents for YALE and NORTHERN

FRED J. READ, Washington Street, Newtonville

Tel. 479-6 Newton

THOMAS W. LAWSON

with his usual shrewdness, has installed a

"WINCHESTER"

heater in each of his numerous buildings on his estate "DREAMWOLD," Egypt, Mass. If Mr. Lawson and his architects, are satisfied with the merits of the "WINCHESTER" heater, do you not consider it worth specifying on either your steam or hot water heating contracts? Samples may be seen at our office.

Smith & Thayer Co.

234-236 Congress Street,
BOSTON, MASS.GEO. W. MILLS,
Undertaker18 years experience Highest References
Clafin Bldg., 817-819 Washington St., Newtonville
Telephones, Office 112-3. Residence 178-5 N.N.GEO. H. GREGG & SON, UndertakersEstablished 1865
ALL THE NEWTONS
Masson Building, 298 Walnut St., Newtonville
Telephone Newton North, 64-23-4.J. S. Waterman & Sons, FUNERAL UNDERTAKERS
and EMBALMERS.2986 and 2988 Washington Street.
Adjoining Dudley Street Terminal.
All modern improvements under one roof, including offices, sales room, morgue, dressing rooms and chapel.
Tel. Roxbury 72 or 73.Established in 1848 by Franklin Smith
A. L. EASTMAN
UNDERTAKER261 Tremont St., cor. Seaver Place, Boston
Only the Best Appointments.
Embalmers and Assistants in attendance day and night. Telephone 680 Oxford.

ORIENTAL TEA COMPANY.

Sole Importers of Oriental Male Berry Java (best coffee known). Teas and Coffee to suit every purse and every taste retailed at wholesale prices. Goods always uniform, always pure. Extra choice goods a specialty. Sign of the Big Tea Kettle, Seaville Sq., Boston

COMFORT?

You can't be comfortable if you're thirsty. So indulge in a glass of our wholesome and delicious Soda Water occasionally. The comfort received is worth the trouble of going for it.

Always cold at

ARTHUR HUDSON

265 Washington Street, - Newton
Nonantum Square

Hathaway Drop Instep Shoe

The most desirable shoe for persons troubled with their feet. Dues away with all plates. Send for Catalogue A.

F. E. HATHAWAY & SON

52 Merchants Row, near Faneuil Hall, Boston

Schools and Teachers.

L. EDWIN CHASE
TEACHER OF
Violin and Mandolin

BEST METHODS

47 Richardson St., Newton

A. H. HANDLEY
Music FOR ALL OCCASIONS23 Richardson Street
NEWTON

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Albert W. Roberts late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

MARY E. ROBERTS, Adm.

Address Room 5, 30 Court St., Boston, Mass.

June 20th, 1906.

Have you seen our cool and comfortable

Rockers and Piazza Chairs which we have placed on Special Sale this week? They are real summer chairs, the kind that make you enjoy sitting out in the open air. Then there are the Swings which make the young people happy, and the old people young. All these, together with a variety of Crex Rugs are

ON SALE AT ROCK-BOTTOM PRICES.

Call on us, and you'll enjoy your summer ever so much more.
BEMIS & JEWETT
NEWTON CENTRE and NEEDHAM

FOUR FAST TRAINS

TO NEW YORK

NEW YORK

VIA

Boston & Albany R. R.

"Springfield Line"

Lv. SOUTH STATION as follows:

9:15 a.m. "DAY EXPRESS." Buffet

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Due

New York 3:15 p.m.

12 O'CLOCK "LIMITED." Pullman

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

to New York, without change. Dining

Car Springfield to New York. Due

New York 9:30 p.m.

11:15 p.m. "NIGHT EXPRESS." New

Parlor Cars and Day Coaches. Boston

GARDEN HOSE

Auburndale.

—Dr. C. P. Hutchinson has returned home.

—Mr. H. A. Preston will return Monday from a fortnight's vacation.

—Mr. George Brewster of Auburndale avenue is passing a few weeks at Penicquit, Me.

—Miss Marie Fleming left Wednesday for Nova Scotia, where she will visit relatives for a month.

—Mr. Stephen B. Smith of Auburndale avenue returned the latter part of this week from a vacation trip.

—Mr. George E. Keyes is expected home in a few days from a brief vacation spent at Bustin Island, Maine.

—Mr. George Lothrop returned Tuesday to Foxboro after passing a week here as a guest of Mr. Harry Kemble.

—Mrs. John M. Burr and Master John Burr, Jr., of Auburn street have gone to Nantucket, where they will pass 10 days.

—Mr. Hugh Hallowood of Freeman street is passing a fortnight visiting friends in New York city and New Jersey.

—The leader of the prayer meeting at the Auburndale Congregational church this evening will be Mr. Chauncey B. Conn.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Newell and family of Vista avenue have returned home from several weeks spent at Fishers' Island, N. Y.

—Miss Anna M. Pond of Lexington street is passing a few weeks visiting various shore resorts, having left Auburndale this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Willis F. Hadlock returned to their home on Lexington street Wednesday after passing a fortnight at Nantucket, Long Island.

—Mr. E. J. Spurr of Evergreen avenue this week closed his residence and left for a trip of six weeks, during which he will visit various resorts.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Newell left Tuesday for Patterson, N. J., where they will be the guests of relatives for a few weeks. Later they will visit Atlantic City.

—Mr. Lawrence Goode left Wednesday for Templeton, Mass., where he will be the guest of relatives for about ten days. Later he will visit friends in Holliston.

—Mr. and Mrs. Willmond K. Chandler have closed their residence on Maple street and gone to Heron Island, Me., where they will pass the rest of the summer.

—Mr. Elwood C. Barker of Aspen avenue left this week for a fortnight's vacation, which he will spend in visiting various summer resorts in eastern Massachusetts.

—Mrs. Fred Kinsman and family of Lexington street closed their home here early this week and left for Nova Scotia, where they will remain as guests of friends until October.

—Rev. Thomas W. Bishop, Mr. J. O. Bishop and Miss Jane Bishop closed their residence on Woodland road Tuesday and left town for a month, which they will spend visiting various vacation points.

—Mr. Roswell S. Douglass of Grove street returned early this week from Ocean Grove, N. J., where he has been located for a few weeks. With his family he will pass the remainder of the season at Plymouth.

—Rev. Frank C. Haddock of Central street left this week for Mere Point, Maine, where he joined his family at their summer home on one of the small islands off the coast. They will remain there until the early autumn.

—Master Archie Dwyer was thrown from his bicycle on Commonwealth avenue, near Lexington street, late Monday afternoon and considerably bruised about the face and hands. He was coasting down the slight incline at the time and in an effort to turn out for an automobile he turned too sharply to one side and lost his balance. He will quickly recover from the bruises it is believed.

—The sermon at the morning service in the Congregational church Sunday was preached by Rev. C. H. Williams of New London, Conn. Despite the fact that the vacation season has sent many of the regular congregation out of town for the summer there was a good sized congregation present at the service. In the evening a union meeting was held. There was a Christian Endeavor service lasting 15 minutes, which was followed by a brief address by Rev. Mr. Williams. The meeting of the Friendly class held at noon was led by Mr. Kelly.

—Mr. Harold Page of Weston, is being employed this summer by Tree Warden Fletcher M. Abbott of Wellesley in the work of exterminating the brown tail and gypsy moth pests in that town. Just at present most of the work is being done about the Wellesley Farms district.

—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Plummer have gone to their summer home on Cape Cod for the remainder of the season.

—Mr. and Mrs. Andreas R. Johnson and family, who have resided on Ash street for several years, will soon move to Medway, where they will make their future home. Mrs. Johnson is at present visiting friends in New Hampshire for a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are well known and popular here and they will be greatly missed.

—Auburndale qualified as a summer resort Sunday, when the largest number of canoeists of any day this year visited the Charles river. The day was too warm for swift paddling and hundreds of vari-colored craft floated idle in the stream or lay beneath the overhanging shade trees along the banks. The officers of the Metropolitan park station here were kept busy throughout the day and it was greatly due to their efforts that not one accident occurred. This was considered by the canoeists who have patronized the river for many years as a remarkable feature. The number of automobilists who visited Auburndale during the day was also much larger from all appearances than on any previous day in over a twelve-month.

Newtonville.

—Mr. Morton Cole is visiting relatives in Pawtucket this week.

—Miss Carrie G. Williams has returned from a visit with friends at Marshfield Hills.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Payne of Cabot street are passing a few weeks at The Weirs, N. H.

—Miss Caroline Jones of Turner street is expected home the middle of next week from Chatham, where she has been spending a month.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Washburn and family of Lowell avenue are pleasantly located in a cottage at Payne's Landing, Maine, for the remainder of the season.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allen have closed their Crafts street house and gone to Kennerly, Nantasket Beach, where they have taken a cottage for the next month.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rolfe and family of Clyde street have gone to Greenwich, Mass., where they will be registered at the Quabbin Inn for the next few weeks.

—Dr. and Mrs. William T. White, who were recently married, will be "at home" to what many friends at their new home on Walnut street after next Wednesday.

—Rev. Albert L. Squier and Mrs. Squier returned this week from a month's vacation. Part of the time they were pleasantly situated at Marshfield and part at Onset.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Walton and family of Lowell avenue have closed their Newtonville house and taken a cottage at Beverly for the remainder of the vacation season.

—Mrs. Marcus Morton and family have gone to Brunswick, Me., where they will pass the next few weeks. Mr. Morton will remain in this city to attend to his business affairs.

—Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wheeler left Tuesday for Atlantic City, where they will pass the next three weeks. Before returning they will make a brief visit with Mrs. Wheeler's sister, Mrs. George R. Allen, in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hagar are again occupying their farm at Marshfield Hills after passing a few weeks at their Newtonville house. During their stay here their country home was occupied by Rev. and Mrs. Babcock and Miss Babcock of Scituate Harbor.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Stevens and family have closed their residence on Birch Hill road and gone to their summer residence at Hyannis, where they will pass the remainder of the summer.

—Miss E. L. Scott of Austin street is visiting friends at Marion for several weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Barrett left this week for Saratoga Springs, N. Y., where they will be the guests for several weeks of Mrs. Barrett's mother. Mrs. Barrett and children, accompanied by Miss Addie Leavitt, returned recently from Hampton Beach, N. H., after a sojourn of several weeks at that resort.

Police Paragraphs

James E. Hotin, a Cambridge printer, was arraigned in the municipal court Tuesday morning on a charge of having committed assault and battery upon a companion while at the house at 6 Faxon street, Nonantum, Monday night. He was fined $15. After a long search the man was arrested shortly after 6 Tuesday morning by patrolman J. D. Ryan.

Drug Clerk Acquitted

After a lengthy trial in the police court Tuesday morning, Joseph R. Civiletti, 24, living at 111 Boston avenue, West Medford, was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery on Mrs. Paulina Capoli, an Italian woman who lives on Cook street, Nonantum.

Civiletti is employed as a drug clerk by P. E. J. Lacroix in his store, 302 Watertown street, Nonantum. The case was continued from July 19 by mutual consent. Civiletti was represented by counsel, and entered a plea of not guilty.

Mrs. Capoli alleged that the clerk invited her into a back room of the drug store when she went there to buy some condensed milk. The assault then occurred, she asserted.

Civiletti denied that he had placed his hands upon the woman. He asserted that she came into a little passageway between the front and back rooms of the store when he went in back to get some fruit juice for making sodas. He asked her to step outside and she became angry, according to the testimony. Mr. Lacroix testified that he had known the defendant nearly three months and knew him to be faithful and of good character.

Dr. Ernest A. Mayall offered the same testimony. An Italian physician living on North square, Boston, testified he had known the defendant in Italy and knew him to be of good character. In summing his argument Civiletti's lawyer said that the young man was a student in the college of Pharmacy and was making every effort to get ahead.

Fake Inspector

A fake telephone inspector is believed to again be working in this city. Tuesday a man called at the home of Alan Bigelow at 394 Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, and represented himself as coming from the telephone company. He said he wanted a key to the house on Old Orchard road, Chestnut Hill, which is owned by a brother of Mr. Bigelow, claiming that he was sent to do some repairing to the telephone wires there.

Investigation showed that the telephone company had sent no employee to the house. The man is described as about 25 years old, of medium build, having a dark complexion and hair, smooth face and wearing a cap but no coat. It is believed that he represented himself as a telephone inspector at other houses in that aristocratic suburb.

The services at the Mothers' Rest Home will be conducted on Sunday July 28th, at 4 P. M. by the Rev. L. J. Birney. There will also be special music. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Collided With Wagon

While riding a bicycle on Washington street, near Lowell avenue, Newtonville, Tuesday afternoon, Richard A. Ait, 15 years old, living at 67 River street, West Newton, collided with an express wagon. The wagon went over the boy's arm and legs, but it is believed that he will escape any serious injury. He was taken to his home. The wagon was owned by John Beal, and was driven by James Tharner.

Short Weight

It being alleged that they had given short cakes of ice to patrons living on the south side of this city, five ice-men employed by the Crystal Lake Ice Company were Wednesday afternoon summoned to appear in the municipal court to answer to these charges. The first cases are scheduled to come up today, and it is expected that the others will be heard tomorrow.

News of the serving of the summons spread quickly and created a great sensation, especially in the villages on the south side of the city. The development of the cases will be watched with much interest by many residents.

The men are William Cameron, Silas D. Haines, James E. Sample, Truman Carroll and John C. Robb, all of Newton Centre. The men have been employed as drivers of ice wagons on the south side of this city for sometime by George D. Miller, proprietor of the Crystal Lake Ice Company.

Several weeks ago complaints came to Chief of Police Frederic M. Mitchell from several families in Newton Centre, Newton Highlands and Newton Upper Falls that ice-men were giving them short weight cakes. Chief Mitchell detailed Patrolmen E. P. O'Halloran and H. W. Marriner on the case. For more than a fortnight these patrolmen have visited many houses on the south side of the city and weighed cakes of ice within a few moments after they had been delivered. It is said that numerous cases were found where the cakes were only slightly under weight, and that it was not until last Thursday that the first serious instances of alleged delivering short weight cakes came to the notice of the patrolmen.

It is stated that the most conspicuous cases of giving short weights were found in Newton Centre, Newton Highlands and Upper Falls. William Cameron is charged with having made two deliveries of ice which fell considerably short of what the purchasers believed they were receiving. It is charged that on Thursday last he delivered to Jeremiah J. Mahoney, 192 Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls, a cake of ice said to weigh 50 pounds, but which, it is alleged, weighed only 34 pounds. On the same day, it is charged, he delivered a cake of ice to Mrs. James E. Trowbridge, 45 Winter street, that village, stating that it weighed 65 pounds when in reality, it is alleged, it weighed but 48.

Silas D. Haines is charged with having carried a cake weighing 44 pounds to the house of Arthur W. Tarbell, 15 Standish street, Newton Highlands, Thursday, and with having stated that it tipped the scales at 60 pounds. Bernard Billings, a Newton Upper Falls druggist, is said to have received ice weighing 30 pounds from James E. Sample on Thursday, and the ice man is alleged to have told him it weighed 35.

Truman Carroll and John C. Robb are charged with having given short weight cakes last Saturday. Carroll is said to have carried a cake weighing 76 pounds to the house of Mrs. Charles G. Wetherbee, Newton Highlands, after having represented that he had sold her 100 pounds. Robb, it is alleged, sold 100 pounds to John L. Palmer, Newton Centre, and delivered only 88 pounds.

The price of ice in this city this season is 35 cents per 100 pounds, while for 25 cents a 60-pound cake is given.

Clubs and Lodges

District Deputy Grand Master Charles H. Bacon and suite installed the officers of Waban lodge 156, I. O. O. F., Wednesday evening, as follows: Mr. H. W. Forbes, noble grand; Mr. Fred B. Woodside, vice grand; Mr. A. G. Libby, financial secretary.

District Deputy Grand Master Charles F. Dow of Centre street, Newton, Tuesday evening installed the new officers of Cambridge lodge 13, I. O. O. F., in that city. A delegation of Odd Fellows from the various lodges in this city attended.

Metropolitan Water.

With more than a normal rainfall in June and aided by generous showers this month the Wachusett reservoir has filled at a rate entirely unexpected, and a week ago was more than half full. The water was 27 1-2 ft. below the mark at which it will stand when the reservoir is full, but the attainments of the past few weeks have been most gratifying to the engineers and to the Metropolitan district consumers of Nashua river aqua.

The great Wachusett reservoir today contained 34, 436, 200,000 gallons, which is more than one half of the capacity of the basin estimated at close to 65,000,000 gallons. The supply in storage has been a few million gallons greater than that, but since Wednesday of this week the draft and evaporation and all losses combined have been greater than the inflow, there being a loss instead of a gain for the first time in fully two months.

Elevation 367.75 was reached on Wednesday, and today's figure was 367.72, a loss of .03 of an inch, counting many gallons of water, however, at the present height of the reservoir.

The Metropolitan water district never had such a generous supply of water in storage as at the present. Not only has a new mark been established in the Wachusett reservoir but the other nine basins of the mammoth system are filled full and the total quantity now available for use is estimated at 50,000,000 gallons, or approximately 16,000,000,000 gallons in basins other than the Wachusett. And even that total is 15,000,000,000 gallons less than the capacity of the local reservoir. Figuring the supply as above estimated, it is further claimed that there is now sufficient in storage to stand a 14-months' drought, which is quite a different proposition than that of not so many months ago when the consumption was taking about every gallon of supply.

The increase in the amount stored in the basins of the whole system is shown as follows:

January 1, 1900, 6,248,400,000 gallons; Jan. 1, 1901, 8,839,100,000; Jan. 1, 1902, 13,840,100,000; Jan. 1, 1903, 11,857,100,000; Jan. 1, 1904, 13,136,000,000; Jan. 1, 1905, 15,638,100,000; Jan. 1, 1906, 28,071,900,000; July 1, 1906, 48,950,000,000; July 1, 1906, 49,700,000,000.

The Metropolitan water district is now using daily 118,876,000 gallons, or an average consumption per individual of 130 gallons, which is about 90 gallons per person more than is used by takers from the Wekepeke supply and represents a huge waste. This year's average consumption shows an increase of one gallon per person, last year's figure being 129 gallons. The chief waste is in the city of Boston where the average consumption is the most unreasonable total of 151 gallons, while in Milton the average is down to 46 gallons.—Clinton Courant.

Legal Notices

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Arnold Scott of Newton in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth, George D. Scott of New York in the State of New York: and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Fanny C. Coburn of said Newton, to register and confirm her title in the following described land with the buildings thereon situate in said Newton house:

A certain parcel of land comprising lots numbered nine (9), twenty three (23), twenty four (24) and twenty five (25) on a plan of Woodland Vale, in Newton, belonging to William Kendrick, made by Alexander Wadsworth in June 1845, and recorded with Middlesex S. D. Dist. Deeds, Book of Plans 1B Plan 52, said lots beginning on Park Street at a corner of land formerly of Dana, now of Scott, and running south on said Park Street and then East on Franklin Street, formerly Elliot Street, in curving lines, one hundred and eight and 3-10 (108 3-10) feet, three hundred and ten and 6-10 (310 6-10) feet, one hundred and fifty and 6-10 (150 6-10) feet, and thirty five (35) feet 40 Waverly Avenue, thence North on said Waverly Avenue two hundred and sixteen (216) feet to land formerly of Dana, now of Scott, thence West on said land of Scott four hundred and twenty one (421) feet and nine (9) inches to the point of beginning; said lot nine (9) containing 26,675 square feet, said lot twenty three (23) containing 17,500 square feet, said lot twenty four (24) containing 23,325 square feet, and said lot twenty five (25) containing 23,025 square feet, be the same more or less.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in said County of Suffolk, on the sixth day of August A. D. 1906, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, LEONARD A. JONES, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this ninth day of July in the year nineteen hundred and six.

Attest with Seal of said Court, CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

[SEAL.]

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Henry A. Barker to Nathan L. Eaton, guardian of Mary E. Howes, dated September 5, 1894, and recorded with Middlesex S. D. Dist. Deeds, Book 2308, Page 415, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises hereinafter described, on Monday, the thirteenth day of August, A. D. 1906, at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: all that parcel of land, with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Newton in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, called West Newton and bounded: Beginning at the Northwest corner of the granted premises on the Eastern side of Prospect Street at a point one hundred and fifty-six and 1-2 feet Southerly from the corner of Washington Street; thence Easterly at right angles to the line of Prospect Street one hundred feet by land of said Barker to a corner, thence Southerly by said Barker's land sixty-five feet; thence Westerly by land of Ridgway one hundred feet to Prospect Street; thence Northerly by said street five feet to the point begun at. Containing sixty-five hundred square feet of land.

Said premises are to be sold subject to unpaid taxes and assessments. If any of said hundred dollars ($200) will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

EMILY J. TAITER, Assignee and present holder of said mortgage.

Lawrence Bond, attorney, 1040 Old South Building, Boston, July 16, 1906.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by George L. Forristall and Garaphella Forristall his wife, in her own right, to the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, Trustee under the will of Thomas Nickerson, said mortgage deed being dated March 1, 1902, and recorded with Middlesex S. D. Dist. Deeds, Book 2481, Page 573, will be sold at public auction upon the premises hereinafter described, on Monday, the sixth day of August, 1906, at four o'clock in the afternoon, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and therein described as follows, namely:

A certain parcel of real estate situated in that part of Newton, Massachusetts, called Newton Centre and being lots numbered one (1) and two (2) on plan showing land and buildings, Newton, by G. S. Davis and G. E. Evans, dated November 9, 1885, duly recorded with Middlesex S. D. Dist. Deeds and bounded Westerly by Morseland Avenue (formerly Water Street) one hundred and fifty six and 7-10 (156 7-10) feet; Southwesterly by the curve at the junction of said Avenue and Ward Street thirty and 97-100 (30 97) feet; Southerly by Ward Street in three courses as shown on said plan sixty and 8-10 (60 8-10) feet; six and 45-100 (6 45) feet; and eighty nine (89) feet; Easterly by lot three (3) on said plan one hundred and forty four and 3-10 (144 3-10) feet; North by land of Morse one hundred and seventy four 82-100 (174 82) feet, containing 25,940 square feet. Being the same premises conveyed to said Garaphella Forristall by deed of William F. Harbuck, dated March 14, 1901, recorded with Middlesex S. D. Dist. Deeds, Book 2379, page 386. This conveyance is made subject to the restrictions therein mentioned or referred to.

Said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions above referred to, and to any and all tax titles, unpaid taxes and assessments. $200 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Further terms and conditions of sale will be found in the mortgage deed. By CHARLES E. ROGERSON, Trustee under the will of Thomas Nickerson. Mortgagee and present holder of said mortgage. July 11, 1906.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned has been duly appointed executor of the will of Freeman A. Walker, late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, intestate, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to John Lodge, Executor, at 142 Court St., Boston, Mass. July 8th, 1906.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by George L. Forristall and Garaphella Forristall his wife, in her own right, to the Newton Savings Bank, dated September 23rd, 1897, and recorded with Middlesex S. D. Dist. Deeds Book 2507, Page 5, for breach of the condition therein contained and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises, on Monday, the thirteenth day of August, 1906, at four o'clock in the afternoon all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:—

All that lot of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Newton in the County of Middlesex, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, called Newton Highlands, and bounded as follows, viz:—

Easterly by Bowdoin Street, Seventy-five (75) feet; Southerly by land now or late of Endicott, One hundred and thirty (130) feet; Westerly by land now or late of Crafts about Seventy-five (75) feet; and Northerly by a line distant Seventy-five (75) feet southerly from Forest Street and parallel with said Street, One hundred and thirty (130) feet. Containing 9750 square feet.

Being the same premises conveyed to said Garaphella Forristall by deed of Edmund H. Tarbell, dated May 21st, 1895, and duly recorded Book 2370, Page 315, and said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions therein contained.

Said premises will be sold subject also to any outstanding tax titles of record, and to any unpaid taxes and assessments.

$5000 time and place of sale.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK, Mortgagee.

By ADOLPHUS J. BLANCHARD, Treasurer.

Boston, July 18, 1906.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Sarah H. Hovey, Ella F. Sanborn, Walter L. Sanborn and Edward R. Benton all of Newton in the County of Middlesex; John T. Sanderson of Boston in the County of Suffolk; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by George M. Weed of said Newton, to register and confirm his title in the following described land, with the buildings thereon, being a certain parcel of land situate near Langley Road, formerly called Station Street, in that part of said Newton called Newton Centre, bounded:

Beginning at the Southeast corner of the premises at land now or late of Benton, thence running by said land of Benton Southwesterly fifty and 18-100 (50 18-100) feet to land now or late of Scott; thence running and running Northwesterly on said Scott's land twenty seven (27) feet; thence turning at an angle of 148 degrees 38 minutes and running Northwesterly to land now or late of John H. Sanborn thirty four and 65-100 (34 65) feet; thence turning at an angle of 68 degrees 13 minutes and running Northwesterly on land now or late of Elizabeth A. Clark ninety four and 14-100 (94 14) feet to land now or late of Fay; thence turning and running Southerly by said Fay's land fifty four and 81-100 (54 81) feet to the point of beginning.

The petitioner claims a right to pass and repass to and from said Station Street over a strip of land now or late of Elizabeth A. Clark twenty feet wide, bounded as follows:—Southerly by said Fay's land and the land above described two hundred ten and 8-10 (210 8-10) feet; Westerly by said Scott's land; Northwesterly by other land of said Elizabeth A. Clark by a line parallel to and distant twenty (20) feet from said Fay's land; and the land first above described; and Easterly by said Station Street.

And the Petitioner also claims an easement in said last described strip of land as aforesaid as appurtenant to the first above described parcel of land.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in said County of Suffolk, on the sixth day of August A. D. 1906, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, LEONARD A. JONES, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of July in the year nineteen hundred and six.

Attest with Seal of said Court, CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX. ss.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Margaret B. Blackfan late of Newton in said County, devd. sed.

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Josephine H. Blackfan who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the fourth day of September, A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. MCLESTER, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this seventh day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

F. M. ESTY, Asst. Register.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the undersigned has been duly appointed administrators of the estate of John T. Lodge late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, intestate, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to John Lodge, Administrator, at 142 Court St., Boston, Mass. July 8th, 1906.

Enjoyable Lawn Party

Nearly 300 patrons from all over the city gathered Friday evening at the home of Miss Mollie Morrissey, Boyd street, when one of the most elaborate lawn parties held in Newton this season took place. A substantial sum was raised in aid of the annual carnival which will be held for the benefit of the Working Boys' Home on the Newton A. A. grounds at Newton Centre, August 4.

The grounds about the residence were handsomely decorated with Japanese lanterns and the national colors. The program consisted of whist playing on the broad lawns, followed by musical numbers and refreshments. The musical program was contributed by Miss Mary V. Donovan, Miss Reid, Mr. Kyrion Monaghan, Mr. Fred Ellis of the Cambridgeport gymnasium, Mr. David O'Connor of Cambridge, Mr. John O'Neil, Mr. Morris Burns and others. Informal refreshments were served throughout the evening.

Much credit for the success of the affair was due to the committee of arrangements, which comprised Miss Julia Enegess, Mrs. James Burns, Miss Catherine Flood, Miss Mary V. Donovan, Miss Catherine Crannith, Miss Josephine H. Stuart, Miss Katherine O'Neil and Miss Louise Gillhouley.

Mrs. Henry Dead

Mrs. Helen J. Henry, the widow of the late John Q. Henry, and a well known resident of this city for the past 55 years, died at her summer home at Clifton, Mass., last Monday, after a brief illness of but a few days, of heart trouble. Mrs. Henry was the daughter of Nathaniel P. and Phebe Bancroft Smith, and was 71 years of age. She is survived by three daughters, Maude, Harriet, Elizabeth and one son, Waldo.

Funeral services were held at her late residence on Sargent street yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson of Channing church officiating. There was singing by a male quartet and the interment was at Newton cemetery.

Mrs. Lucy C. Beers Dead.

The funeral of Mrs. Lucy C. Beers, who died at the age of 84 years, took place last Friday afternoon at the home of her son, Mr. Henry A. Spear, Walnut street, Newton Highlands. The remains were taken to the Oak Grove cemetery at Ware for interment. There were many floral offerings.

Mrs. Beers died as a result of a complication of diseases and old age. She was born in Bakersfield, N. H., a daughter of Cyrus Barnes. She was married to Johnathan W. Beers, who died a few years ago. For some time she had made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Spear.

Death of Mr. William Nash.

While sitting in a chair at his home, 23A Pearl street, this city, July 20th, William Nash, aged 87, died suddenly from heart trouble. He was a former shoe manufacturer, having been in business in a number of different places throughout the south and east in former years, and at one time was widely known among the wholesale trade.

In recent years Mr. Nash gained considerable prominence in this vicinity as a landscape artist of much ability. He took great delight in painting sketches of the picturesque scenery about Newton and vicinity and many of these sketches he presented to friends. He had made his home in this city about a score of years.

He is survived by a wife, three daughters and two sons. These are Mrs. Marie A. Moore, who is now traveling in Europe; Mrs. Wallace T. Grow of this city, Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Nashville, Tenn., Charles S. Nash of Newtonville and William Nash of Lynn.

The funeral took place Monday at his late home on Pearl street the services being conducted by Rev. Andrew Hahn. Cremation followed at Mt. Auburn.

City Hall Notes.

While visiting the scene of construction of the new railroad between Needham and West Roxbury, Mr. J. Clifton Whitney, the water commissioner, picked up an excellent specimen of fossil moss a few days ago. Commissioner Whitney brought a large specimen home and it has in the last few days attracted much attention about City Hall.

Miss Lucy Jennison of City Engineer Farnham's office force has been enjoying a few weeks' vacation with relatives at Green Harbor Beach.

A slight break in a water main at Chestnut Hill early Monday caused many residents of that place and Newton Centre to become alarmed over small particles of sand in the water. The break was quickly located and after a delay of only a few hours was repaired. As soon as the break was mended the water became all right again.

City Clerk Kingsbury leaves today for a vacation to be enjoyed at North Perry, Me.

Dr. F. G. Curtis of the Board of Health has returned from a visit at Prout's Neck, Me.

About Town

The elm beetle is making havoc of many fine trees.

Its a great pity that the dam at the Boylston street bridge was not placed a trifle higher up stream. The fall of water could then have been seen from the bridge. As it is now, the beauty of the fall is missed unless one leans away over the parapet.

The children's gardens in the Newton Centre playground are making a fine showing of flower and vegetable.

The beauties of Mr. Henry B. Day's beautiful estate are appreciated by many travellers on Commonwealth avenue.

The Players are contemplating a fine program when they are installed in their new playhouse at West Newton.

The lowering of Paul brook Newton Centre will throw open some highly desirable land for building purposes.

There is considerable grumbling on the South side over the delays in placing the new bridges in position.

Congressman Weeks is to one of the spellbinders for the Republican party this fall. Quite a change from the time when Captain Weeks was said to be a "good looking but not a good speaker."

There is not much sympathy expressed for the young lady who sues an ex-elderman for $40,000 damages, for injuries caused by her own lack of presence of mind.

Waban has the concrete sidewalk fever.

A terse illustration of the scant number of residents left in the Newtons during the vacation season was made by a certain clergyman living on the south side of the city several days ago. Speaking of the size of the congregation at the service at one of the local churches over which he presided last Sunday, he asserted that there were fully six persons in the congregation.

Baby's Smile Did It.

A winsome baby was the cause of a reconciliation between man and wife in the Dorchester municipal court Tuesday, when John R. Manning of West Newton was being tried on the charges of drunkenness and carrying a loaded revolver.

Mrs. Manning has not been living with her husband for some time, but she appeared in court Tuesday morning, anxious to know what disposition would be made of him. At first she ignored her husband, who sat only a few feet from her, but when the baby's bright eye fell upon his father, the ice commenced to break.

The couple moved nearer together and the baby with wild delight began to pull his father's hair and otherwise showing his affection. The father soon responded to the child's attentions, and it was not long before husband and wife were again on speaking terms, and had formed a reconciliation.

The court meanwhile found Manning guilty of carrying a loaded revolver and he was sentenced to ten months in the house of correction. The charge of drunkenness was placed on file. Manning claimed that he carried the revolver to protect himself against tramps, he being a brakeman on the New York Central railroad.

Thomas J. Lyons, a well-known West Newton man, was present and told the court of Manning's good character. When the court learned of the reconciliation of Manning and his wife the latter were called into consultation in Judge Churchill's private office. The judge reconsidered the sentence and held Manning in $300 to keep the peace for six months.

Lawn Party

The Lawn Party to be held on the Cedar street athletic grounds, Newton Centre, on Saturday, August fourth, is arousing no little enthusiasm. This annual event conducted in the interests of the Working Boys' Home Industrial Home, Newton Highlands, attracts thousands of people and abounds in attractions and amusements. A continuous list of attractions has been arranged and they will begin at one o'clock.

At two o'clock there will be athletic games for boys and suitable prizes are to be awarded.

One of the principal attractions will be the base ball game between the Waretowns and the recently organized Newton Upper Falls team. This team is made up of nearly all the former players of the All-Newton nine. Five games had been arranged between these two teams but rain prevented them from playing. This then will be their first game of the season and owing to the intense rivalry existing, the services of Tom McCarty, formerly of the Boston Americans, have been secured as umpire.

There will also be a Gaelic Foot Ball game in the early evening.

In addition to the Punch and Judy shows there is to be a Baby show for which prizes in gold will be awarded the prettiest boy and the prettiest girl under two years of age. This no doubt will prove to be a very pleasing feature. In the evening a vaudeville performance has been arranged by Mr. James R. Condrin of West Newton. Four performances will be given and new talent will be presented in every performance.

Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston has accepted an invitation to be present and will address the gathering. As this is the first occasion that the Mayor has visited this city many are most anxious to meet the official who is making Boston "bigger, better and busier." Owing to the fact that Mayor Warren goes on his vacation early in the week it will be impossible for him to attend but he will be represented by Aldermen Doherty and White.

Death of Mrs. George F. Stone.

Mrs. Roxanna C. Stone, the wife of Mr. George F. Stone died Wednesday at her home in Redlands, Cal. Mrs. Stone was born in Newton, the daughter of Deacon Asa Cook and lived all her life, until ten years ago, at Chestnut Hill. For the past decade the family has resided at Redlands where Mr. Stone is largely interested in orange growing. Mrs. Stone is survived by her husband and a son, Mr. George R. Stone. The body will be brought to Newton for burial.

Y. M. C. A.

About 30 boys from the association have been at Camp Becket this summer. All report a good time.

An elegant silver cup was offered to the association scoring the most number of points in an athletic meet. Newton won the cup this year making 26 points. Holyoke second with 19 points. The point winners for Newton were W. Moore 1st in 25 yds. dash, 50 yds. dash and high jump; W. Barrows 2nd in running broad jump and high jump; Harold Moore 2nd in base ball throw and 3rd in high jump; S. Hill 3rd in 50 yds. dash.

The base ball team plays Revere Saturday afternoon at Cabot park at 3 P.M.

There are several positions open for young men and boys. The general secretary will be glad to talk with young men or boys wanting work for the summer or permanent positions.

Attempted Kidnapping Defeated

An attempted kidnapping of a 5-year old boy in West Newton created a sensation among the residents of Cherry street Tuesday. After having taken one of his little daughters away from her grandparents under sensational circumstances, James Pendergast of Boston late Tuesday afternoon made an unsuccessful attempt to spirit away his 5-year old boy.

Pendergast enlisted the services of several score children living in the vicinity of Cherry street by promising to give the one who notified him when the lad came out of the house a crisp $2 bill. The little fellow's grandmother was notified of the attempt to carry away the boy after Pendergast had been driving around West Newton in a hack for several hours. She frustrated the plan and got the lad safely housed at her home, 338 Cherry street.

About 10 years ago Pendergast was married to Mary, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick D. Donahue of West Newton. They lived happily for a number of years and three children were born to them. They are Alice, aged 9; Catherine, 7, and Francis, 5. About three years ago the couple separated. Mrs. Pendergast coming to live with her parents at West Newton and Pendergast going to Boston, where he secured employment as a barber at a well known Back Bay hotel.

Mrs. Pendergast and the children lived happily with the little ones' grandparents. Mrs. Pendergast secured employment in a mill at Newton Lower Falls, earning enough to support herself and the little ones. A sad blow came to the family last spring, when on the night of May 18, Mrs. Pendergast dropped dead while running to a fire at Auburndale. Suspicious circumstances were at first believed to be connected with the untimely death, but when Medical Examiner West made an examination he pronounced death due to natural causes.

Since then the three grandchildren have made their home with the grandparents, who have been greatly devoted to them.

On a recent Sunday, Mr. Pendergast came to this city and in company with a woman unknown to the Donahues visited their house on Cherry street. According to Mrs. Donahue they talked over the financial arrangements for supporting the children. As the visitors left the house Mr. Pendergast invited Catherine, the younger girl, down the street to have some candy, Mrs. Donahue said this morning. The girl failed to return. By supper time Mr. and Mrs. Donahue became alarmed and enquiry among neighbors brought out the fact that the girl had been seen riding toward Boston on an electric car in company with a man and a woman. She was crying bitterly.

"Last Sunday Pendergast came to our home and admitted that he had taken the girl," said Mrs. Donahue this morning. "He said that he was going to have the little boy too, and said that the only way to get him was to kidnap him," added Mrs. Donahue.

Tuesday Pendergast in company with a woman arrived the middle of the forenoon at West Newton. They spent the afternoon and early evening riding about the streets of that vicinity in a hack. Upon promise that the one first discovering little Francis Pendergast should receive a $2 bill, many children lined Cherry, River and other streets ready to carry the news of the lad's appearance to his father.

Finally the lad was located in the yard of a house a considerable distance away in company with his older sister Alice. The girl started on a run across lots home and arrived with her dress torn and hands scratched as a result of having climbed fences and pushed her way through briar patches.

The boy was hustled into the hack. The horse was whipped up and driven toward Washington street. A stop was made to fix some part of the outfit, when a married woman, who lives down stairs in the house occupied by the Donahues and the Pendergast children, espied the lad in the bottom of the hack. She spread the word among the children to get the little fellow out of the vehicle, according to the story told by Mrs. Donahue. This was done so quickly that effort to again get possession of the lad was fruitless. In the meantime word had been sent to the little chap's grandmother, notifying her of what was taking place. She hurried out and brought him into the house. Today aged Mrs. Donahue kept a close watch of the two grandchildren who are still in her charge. She said that no future attempt to kidnap the children would be successful if she could prevent it.

The Donahues are well known among the residents of West Newton, having made their home in that place for many years. The attempted spiriting away of the little grandson caused great excitement among the neighbors.

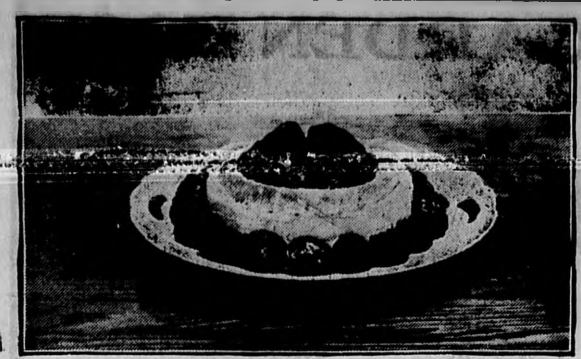

A Pleasant Outing.

A few years ago you wandered out from the hustle and bustle of the city and found a spot whence some cool road goes winding between the hills. You watch a team come laboring along and hear the crackling of the old farm wagon. You go back there today and sit by the same old road, and whizz—biff, an electric car rushes by. This is the day of development and it was never more fully realized than on Monday last when about 100 members of the Suburban Press association and their ladies were taken from Hampton depot to Hampton Beach and Canobie Lake park, a distance of 60 miles across the state of New Hampshire, as guests of the New Hampshire Electric Railways.

The party left Boston on the 8.50 A.M. train over the Eastern division of the Boston & Maine railroad, having been provided with a special car through the generosity of D. J. Flanders, General Passenger Agent of the road.

They were met at the Hampton depot by Superintendent C. P. Hayden who escorted them in special cars through the delightful town of Hampton with its gray old colonial mansions on either side of broad thoroughfares shaded by giant oaks, and along a level stretch of meadow land where every member of the party enjoyed the free sweep of the bracing and healthgiving air from the sea, to Hampton Beach, one of the most famous resorts on the New England coast, affording a wide sweeping ocean view over the smooth, stoneless sand. Here the party received the glad hand from their old friend, Robert H. Derrah, the advertising agent of the company who in turn presented them to Col. W. H. Phinney, manager of the large Casino theatre, two hotels, many up-to-date cottages, and the numerous attractions at the Beach. Col. Phinney proved himself a prince of entertainers. His experience at the Beach has afforded him ample opportunity to study the wants of his patrons and all can rest assured they will be served to the Queen's taste. No time was lost, for in his genial, off-hand way, he led the party to the spacious dining room where a most appetizing luncheon was served; after which they were all free to mingle with the crowd of bathers, stroll along the shore, witness the attractive show or listen to the fine selections of the band. At 2.15 the specials were again taken for a trip along the shore, over the famous mile long pile bridge, separating old ocean from the wavering salt marshes, then westward past model farms, fine country homes, hills, valley, orchards, meadows dotted with grazing cattle and pretty inland villages with ever changing variety of scenery, so diversified as to be a source of constant delight arriving at Canobie Lake park at 2.45 P. M.

This is without exception one of the most picturesque, spacious and natural pleasure resorts in all New England, the beauty of the place being much improved by artistic flower beds, long reaches of lawn and fine rolled walks. Each member of the party was furnished with a badge by Mr. Williams, Superintendent of the Park, entitling them to all the privileges of the place, such as the roller coaster, merry-go-round, circle swing, box ball, dancing, the laughing gallery, etc. A sail around the fringed shore of the delightful lake in one of the many steam launches was very much enjoyed by the ladies, and on the return dinner was served in the large restaurant laid out in the form of a St. George Cross, and under the able management of Messrs. Graves & Ramsdell who also manage the Canobie Lake Hotel, a new

PRUNES IN RICE BORDER.

Sprinkle one cup of rice slowly into two quarts of salted boiling water and cook rapidly until the grains will mash easily between the thumb and finger. The time of cooking will depend on the age of the rice as when old it takes longer; twenty minutes to half an hour should be allowed. Drain and press into a buttered border mold.

Wash one and one-half pounds of the best prunes, then soak in water to cover for two or three hours. Cook gently in the same water until the skin may be pierced easily, but not until the prunes fall to pieces. When about half done add one and one-half cups of sugar. If the prunes are put directly into rapidly boiling water the skin will remain tough even after the pulp is over cooked.

Turn the mold onto a large plate while the rice is warm, or it may be prepared beforehand and then set in a pan of boiling water to heat through. Fill the center of the mold with prunes and arrange a row round the base. Serve with cream or with a sauce made from the syrup drained from the prunes and flavored with lemon. This is a comparatively inexpensive dessert and a healthful change from rich pastries or steamed puddings which are often used too exclusively even by the most thoughtful housekeepers.

SANITARY CLEANSING—Essential to Good Housekeeping.

CABOT'S
Sulpho-Naphthol
LIQUID CLEANLINESS. TRADE MARK

The most inexpensive article for cleaning and disinfecting where absolute cleanliness and purity are desired and where troublesome places are to be kept clean, sweet and wholesome. Use freely about all sources of decaying matter and offensive odors. Keep drainage pipes clean, clear and disinfected. Look for above Trade-Mark on all packages. At all dealers. 10c. 25c. 50c. $1.

A FEELING OF SECURITY

Whether at home or abroad, there's a feeling of security when you have your valuables stored in the vaults of

The First National Bank of West Newton
SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES COST ONLY FIVE DOLLARS FOR ONE YEAR

THERE ARE MANY ADVANTAGES IN HAVING YOUR MORTGAGE HELD BY A BANK

Money to Loan

On Real Estate in Newton

West Newton Savings Bank.

Office Hours, 8.30 to 12 and 1 to 3. Applications for Loans by mail on request.
Saturday 8.30 to 12.

Tired Eyes Indicate Eye Strain

Our Glasses Will Give Instant Relief
(NO FEE FOR EXAMINING)

THOS. W. SPENCER CO., Opticians, - - 2 PARK SQUARE, BOSTON

HOT WATER AT A MOMENTS NOTICE—NO DELAY. OCCUPIES But LITTLE SPACE. WATER HEATED QUICKLY ON WASH-DAYS.

BATH IS ALWAYS READY.

NO TIRESOME WAITING FOR DISH-WATER.

GAS WATER HEATERS—Cool, Clean, Economical.

NEWTON & WATERTOWN GAS LIGHT COMPANY.

homelike house with some thirty rooms furnished and equipped with all the modern appliances and an ideal place to spend a day, week or month. After dinner, a general inspection of the park was made by the entire delegation. It is claimed that Canobie Lake park has more picnic and organization outings than any other pleasure resort, and there is no wonder, for the grounds are laid out with the necessary requirements, having a private grove with a large shelter tent, and a great ball ground all for the free and exclusive use of those who desire seclusion, besides the numerous attractions.

Late in the afternoon the specials were again taken for a ride through the primrose forest to Lawrence, giving the party a good view of the great Salem race track. At Lawrence a special car was attached to the 6.20 train for Boston for the benefit of the editors, and in this way completed the most enjoyable outing in the history of the association. —Franklin Sentinel.

Removal Sale

Great Reduction in Prices on Entire Stock of Pictures

BIGELOW & JORDAN
11 Bromfield St., Boston

Many a Woman Has Learned the Secret

Of easing up the baking day by letting the bakeries of C. F. Hathaway & Son furnish her table with the most perfect bread that can be imagined—that's Hathaway's Celebrated Cream Bread.

Fresh morning and night at the grocer's. Price 10c.

Try Winner Bread at 5c the loaf.

C. F. HATHAWAY & SON
CAMBRIDGE AND WALTHAM

ASK YOUR GROCER

Newtonville.

—Mr. T. Wm. Wadman has leased the house 62 Court street.

—Miss M. F. Sherwood is occupying the house, 249 Crafts street.

—The Fessenden school is erecting a new dormitory on Albemarle road.

—Mr. Seth G. Thompson has returned from a visit with friends in New York city.

—Miss Carrie Smith of Newtonville avenue is at North Scituate Beach for a month.

—Mr. J. D. Downs has moved his family to Worcester, where he has accepted a position.

—Mrs. George T. Mosher of Mill street is spending a few weeks at Duxbury Beach.

—Miss Florence M. B. Sylvester of Bowers street is spending several weeks at Bristol, Me.

—Miss Harriet Gilmore of Clyde street is visiting friends at Brant Rock for several weeks.

—Misses undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. Newton N. 112-3.

—Mr. Arthur E. Loring returned Wednesday from a ten days' visit with relatives in Colossus.

—Miss Emma Sibley of Austin street is at North Chatham, Mass., while Miss Leonora Sibley is at North Sandwich.

—Daniels & Howlett Co., Morse Building, Newtonville, painting, decorating, hardwood finishing and wall papers.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles McMann have moved from Cabot street to the house at the corner of Clyde and Cabot streets.

—Miss Helen Marshall is soon expected home from Bar Harbor, where she has been passing a few weeks with friends.

—Patrolmen William Kiley and Daniel McLaughlin of this village have returned from an enjoyable vacation at Freeport, Me.

—Mrs. Sarah Cook of Elm place has moved to Walnut terrace. The house she formerly occupied has been purchased by Mr. Stevens.

—Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. G. Green of Watertown street closed their home this week and went to Bristol, Me., where they will spend a month.

—Dr. Baker has returned from a week's yachting cruise, having been the guest of Mr. Arthur F. Luke of New York, on the famous "Corona."

—Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Darlington, who have resided on Washington street for several years, have moved to Durham, where they will make their permanent home.

—Mr. William Stickney and Miss Crofts of the office force of H. W. Bates of Walnut street are spending vacations of a fortnight each visiting various vacation points of interest hereabouts.

—Mrs. Prescott and family of Watertown street has gone to her summer home in Camden, Me., where she will pass the remainder of the season. Mr. Prescott will spend each Sunday there.

—Mr. Irving E. Jones of 17 Bowers street was somewhat astonished Thursday evening when a large number of his friends gave him a surprise party and presented him with a handsome ring in honor of his birthday.

Newtonville.

Special sale. Legs of lamb, 15c. F. M. Dutch, 246 Washington St., Newton.

—Mrs. Mary Oliver and her daughter, Miss Alice Oliver, of New York, are spending a few more weeks here as guests of Mrs. Oliver's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Pickens of Nevada street.

—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Mills returned Saturday afternoon from an enjoyable ten days' stay in Maine. Mr. Lunt, who had charge of Mr. Mills' business during his absence, returned to his home in Newburyport.

—For the convenience of the people, who shut up their homes for a month or two, Baker & Humphrey have decided to write burglary insurance policies for the length of time they are away. Write or telephone them about it.

—Complaint has been made to the police by numerous residents of Crafts street in the last few days that boys are in the habit of tramping down gardens and stealing fruit from the yards bordering on that thoroughfare.

—Mrs. W. H. Towne of this village, who has been spending several weeks at West Paris, Me., Monday morning landed the largest square tail trout caught in that vicinity this season. Mrs. Towne is receiving many compliments among the summer colony at that place for her skill.

—While visiting at Chestnut Hill Saturday Mr. E. S. George found a valuable bundle of papers belonging to Charles Field of Waban Hill road, that place. Mr. George had them returned to Mr. Field. The latter had instituted a search for the package as its contents were valuable.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gregory of Walnut street have returned from a trip to Maine, in course of which they were entertained at their camp on Lake Umbagog, near Augusta, by Mr. Clarence B. Burleigh, son of Congressman and Ex-Governor Edwin C. Burleigh, and Editor of the Kennebec Journal.

—It is expected by some of the most sanguine members of the Newtonville Improvement Association that by the time the vacationists return to Newtonville early in September a branch of the Newton Free Library will have been established in this village. The members of the association have for several months been working on a plan to open a branch here.

West Newton.

—Miss Allen has been visiting friends at Hotel Appledore, Isles of Shoals.

—Mr. George Monks has returned from a vacation spent at Swampscott.

Special sale. Legs of lamb, 15c. F. M. Dutch, 246 Washington St., Newton.

—Mrs. George D. Davis of Temple street is passing a few weeks at Lincoln, Me.

—Mr. George A. Walton of Chestnut street is at Castine, Me., for a few weeks.

—The Veteran Firemen are making preparation to enter the fall tournaments.

—Mrs. Ellen F. Wright is spending several days in Springfield as the guest of relatives.

—Mrs. A. M. Baker of Cherry street is visiting friends at Nantasket Beach for several weeks.

West Newton.

—The Misses Allen have joined their mother at their summer home in Lincoln, Maine, this week.

—Miss Lucy Allen has just returned from five weeks of delightful visits in Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

—Mr. Waldo L. Plimpton has returned to his home on Chestnut street after a visit with friends at Savannah, Ga.

—Miss Eva Sanderson of Davis avenue is passing a few weeks visiting various summer places throughout Vermont.

—Mr. Charles R. Watson of Arlington has been passing a few days this week here as a guest of his uncle, Mr. George Mason.

—Mr. Arthur F. Luke's schooner yacht, "Corona" is entered for the races for the King's cup at Newport on August 8th.

—Mrs. Ella Mason, matron at police headquarters, has returned from an enjoyable visit with friends at Bar Harbor, Me.

—Mr. Alfred M. Russell will return to his duties at the board of health office next Wednesday after a fortnight's vacation at Cottage City.

—Miss Jennie Hurd of Prospect street is expected home early next week from Hillsboro, N. H., where she has been spending a few weeks as a guest of friends.

—Rev. Julian C. Jaynes will return from his summer home at Malpique, Prince Edward Island, in time to preach at the morning service at the Congregational church here Sunday.

—Mr. Francis W. Sprague 2d, clerk of the local police court, is home from an enjoyable vacation spent at Barnstable. Mrs. Sprague and family will remain at that resort for several more weeks.

—The condition of Miss Mary V. Healy, the West Newton young woman who was knocked down by an automobile on Washington street several weeks ago, remains serious at the Newton hospital. It is feared that Miss Healy will not be able to return home for many more weeks.

—Residents living in the vicinity of Adams avenue complain that boys passing through that thoroughfare on the way to a swimming pool here have developed a habit of insulting the residents. A complaint was a few days ago made to the police. Chief Mitchell delegated several patrolmen to watch for the offenders. It is proposed to make an example of those who are caught.

Two Newton Men Killed

Two Newton men were killed and one seriously injured in the collapse of the Amnden building while in process of construction at South Framingham Monday afternoon.

Those who were killed included Dennis O'Driscoll of Newton Highlands and Patrick Prendergast of Newton Lower Falls. Both these men were employed as plasterers inside the building, the work on which was being rushed along as rapidly as possible. It was many hours before their bodies were finally recovered.

Of the two men Mr. O'Driscoll was perhaps the better known. For nearly a score of years he had made his home in Newton Highlands, in recent years occupying the house at the corner of Centre and Walnut streets adjoining the stable of Henry A. Spear. Mr. O'Driscoll was known as a steady and industrious workman and was well liked by many friends in and about the Highlands. He is survived by a wife and eight children. The funeral took place Wednesday morning at St. Mary's church, Newton Upper Falls. Requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Timothy J. Danahy. There were many floral offerings, including a set piece from local union 51 of Framingham.

James Prendergast of Newton Lower Falls district for quite a number of years and was well known there. For a number of years he had made his home on Cedar street, Wellesley Hills.

James Prendergast of Newton Lower Falls was badly injured by being hit by falling timbers and iron work.

A large number of persons from this city went to South Framingham on Monday and the following days to watch the work of searching the ruins.

The funeral of Mr. Prendergast took place yesterday morning at St. John's church, Newton Lower Falls. Many friends living in the Lower Falls and in Wellesley attended. Requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Patrick H. Callanan. Among the floral offerings was a bouquet sent by the members of local union 51 of South Framingham. The burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Numerous complaints had come before a certain public official in regard to the quality of food served public institution, and he determined to investigate. Making his way to the building about dinner-time, he encountered two men carrying a huge, steaming boiler. "Put that kettle down!" he ordered, and the men obeyed. "Get me a spoon!" he next commanded. The man was about to say something, but was ordered to keep silent. "Take off the lid!" was the next command. "I'm going to taste it." The two men, cowed by the brusqueness, watched him gulp down a good mouthful. "Do you mean to say that you call this soup?" the official demanded. "Why, it tastes to me more like dirty water." "So it is, sir," replied one of the men, respectfully. "We were scrubbing the floors."—Exchange.

Elm Tree Beetles.

The work of exterminating the elm tree beetle from trees all over the city will from now on keep a large gang of workmen busy. In the last week or two these pests have appeared in large quantities and have begun to do considerable damage to trees. It is feared by many residents that they will become as troublesome as have been the brown tail and gypsy moths in the last few years. The elm tree beetles have now got a foothold in nearly every section of many villaged Newton. The brown tail and gypsy moths have been pretty thoroughly exterminated and effort is now being made to stamp out the elm tree beetles before they spread any more.

The Weymouth Gazette of last week in a mid-summer article on the political outlook in this district, largely commends Congressman Weeks, who "was elected to follow a very strong man," for his efficient work, as no man has ever gone from Massachusetts who has come so well to the front in the first half of his first term.

Pat was invited to a wedding and arrived faultlessly attired in evening dress, a white chrysanthemum in his buttonhole. The guests assembled were suddenly startled by hearing a commotion. Rushing into the hall, they were startled to behold Pat tumbling down the stairs, completely disheveled. "Why, what's the matter?" exclaimed the host. "Shure, and I wint upstairs; and, whin I wint inter the room, I seed a swell young dandy wid a white carnationary-mum in his buttonhole and kid gloves on his hands, an' I sez to him, 'Who's you?' 'Shure,' he sez, 'an I'm the best man.' And, begorry, he is."—Ladies' Home Journal.

How He Remembered It.

When they met on Chestnut street after some months in which they hadn't seen each other the one chap told the other he had taken a little house in Germantown and was there with his lar, penates and coal bin. "Come up and see me some evening—any evening. We're rarely out, you know, and then, we have a telephone, so you can let us know when you're coming."

"I suppose your name is in the telephone directory?" queried the other. "Well, no, not yet, as we've just got the telephone, but our number is—really it's funny, but just this minute I can't—it's something like— Ding it all, it's strange I forget that number, for just on purpose I multiplied it by two and divided the result by four, so as to enable me to remember it, and I can't recall the first thing about it. Ever know the like? I'll write you the number."—Philadelphia Record.

Clothes and Conduct.

Every man and every woman feels the influence of clothes and appearance upon conduct. You have heard of the lonely man in the Australian bush who always put on evening dress for dinner so that he might remember he was a gentleman. Addison could not write his best unless he was well dressed. Put a naughty girl into her best Sunday clothes, and she will behave quite nicely; put a blackguard into khaki, and he will be a hero; put an omnibus conductor into uniform, and he will live up to his clothes. Indeed, in a millennium of free clothes of the latest fashion we shall all be archangels.—London Chronicle.

Diagnosis of Headache.

"There are more than fifty kinds of headache," said a physician, "and sufferers from the more common forms may cure themselves by locating the cause and treating themselves accordingly. The more frequent forms are a dull pain across the forehead, due to dyspepsia; a pain in the back of the head, due to the liver; a bursting pain in both temples, due to malnutrition; an ache on the top of the head, as though a weight pressed on the skull, due to overwork; an ache between the brows just above the base of the nose, due to eye strain."

Stale Brains.

Of course there is no future for stale brains or for a man who stands still and ceases to grow. He is old who thinks he is old and useless who thinks he is useless. When a man has ceased to grow he begins to die, and many people are half dead at fifty, not because of their age, but because of their mental attitude, because of the way they face life.—Success Magazine.

The Homecoming Over.

"No one comes to see me," said she wearily. "Like they did before I was married."

"Speaking of that fact," said he, "I used to call on you seven evenings in the week at that time. But I am as bad off as you—I now have nowhere to go."

Too Much Lovity.

Kilduff—For a bill collector young Dunn displays considerable ill timed lovity. Skildmore—In what way? Kilduff—When he comes after an account he says cheerfully, "Did you want to see me today?"

A Rule For the Day.

Give us to awake with smiles; give us to labor smiling. As the sun brightens the world, so let our loving kindness make bright this house of our habitation.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Only as a Last Resource.

Luck is a good enough thing to trust to after you've done everything else to invite success.—Kansas City Times.

WM. H. COLCAN

HIGH GRADE

Electrical Construction

ELECTRIC REPAIRS OF ALL KINDS

Tel. West Newton 310

THE ENGLISH TEA ROOM

160 B TREMONT STREET, BOSTON

An attractive Lunch Room for ladies and gentlemen where home cooking will be daintily served from 11 to 3. Afternoon Tea 3.30 to 5.30

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Wants.

SEAMSTRESS, experienced and reliable, would like to make engagements by the day to sew at $1.50 per day and car fares. Address Miss M. T. Donahue, 23 Union St., Brighton, Mass.

To Let.

TO LET—In Newtonville. Steam-heated apartment of four rooms and bath, in brick block, opposite Depot; rent $25.00 per month; also one store in block, rent $20.00 per month. Apply to R. C. Bridgman, 418 Newtonville Ave., Newtonville, Mass.

For Sale.

AUTOMOBILE FOR SALE—A Stanley Surry '04. Inquire at 57 Walnut St., Newtonville.

Miscellaneous.

LOST—Lady's gold open face watch, Newton roads, 18th July. Owner's monogram R. C. P. on case and black ribbon fob attached with gold locket. Kindly phone Newton North 530 or Milton 286.

NORUMBEGA

The Famous Resort at Auburndale, Mass. Best Trolley Ride in New England

Opens Daily at 10 A. M. "Nature's Own Most Beautiful Resort"

Grand OPEN AIR THEATRE. World's Covered Seating 3,000. Att. at 3.30. Eve. at 5.05. OPERA, MUSICAL COMEDY, VAUDEVILLE

Be Sure to Visit the Animal Nursery—Baby Monkey, Baby Beaver, Baby Deer, Baby Porcupine and Baby Wolves.

Among the New Features this season, The Chateau Landing with New Launch Service for trips down the river. Zoological Garden, Restaurant, Chateau, and Hosts of New Amusements, Canoeing and Boating. Telephone 227-5 Newton West to have seats reserved at the theatre. FOLLOW THE FLAG MARKED "N"

DIED.

STONE—At Redlands, Cal., July 25. Roxanna C., wife of George F. Stone.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK

A Meeting of the Corporation of the Newton Savings Bank to consider whether article five, section three of the By-laws shall be amended by striking out the word "two" and substituting therefor the word "four", will be held at the Banking House of the Newton Savings Bank, on Tuesday, the 31st day of July, 1906, at 4 o'clock P. M.

WM. F. HARBACH,

Clerk of the Corporation.

Newton, July 20th, 1906.

List Your Property

ALVORD BROS.

79 Milk Street, Boston.
Phone, Main 1904.
67 Union Street, Newton Centre.
Phone, Newton 50, 181-2.
78 Washington Street, Newtonville.
Phone, Newton No. 348

SPECIAL July Sale OF BRASS and IRON BEDS

$35—2 in. post. Brass Beds

'25.00

$5.00—Bowfoot Brass and Iron Beds

'5.98

Plimpton Hervey Co.

Complete Housefurnishers

21 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON
Near Haymarket Square

Boston Elevated Railway Co.

SURFACE LINES.

Subject to change without notice. WATERTOWN SQ. TO SUBWAY—6.04 a. m., and intervals of 15 and 30 minutes to 11.37 p. m. SUNDAY—8.04 a. m., and intervals of 15 and 30 minutes to 11.37 p. m.

NEWTON AND WATERTOWN TO ADAMS SQ. (Via Mr. Auburn)—5.23 a. m., and intervals of 8, 15 and 30 minutes to 11.16 p. m. SUNDAY—6.32 a. m. and intervals of 15 and 30 minutes to 11.16 p. m.

WATERTOWN SQ. TO SUBWAY. (Via North Beacon St. and Commonwealth Ave.)—5.37, 5.52 a. m. and intervals of 8 and 15 minutes to 11.07 p. m. SUNDAY—6.52 a. m. and intervals every 15 minutes to 11.07 p. m.

NIGHT AND EARLY MORNING SERVICE—12.13, 12.42, 1.30, 2.30, 3.30, 4.30 (5.30, 6.30 Sunday) a. m. Return leave Adams square 12.35, 1.35, 2.35, 3.35, 4.35 (5.35, 6.35 Sunday) a. m.

Elevated trains run between Sullivan Square and Dudley street via the subway from 5.30 a. m. to 12.12 night.

C. S. SERGEANT, Vice-Pres.
July 14, 1906.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, ss. To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Abram Otis Swain late of Newton in said County deceased, I, the undersigned, a Justice of the Peace in and for said County of Middlesex, do hereby give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court.

Witness my hand and seal of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of July, in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

F. M. ESTY, Asst. Register.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Amos C. Judkins late of Newton in the County of Middlesex, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are hereby required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to MARY F. JUDKINS, Executrix.

(Address) Newtonville, Mass. July 25th, 1906.

MOON

AUTOMOBILES, being the latest cars on the market, embody the best features of other cars and eliminate their objectionable qualities.

35 H. P.—5 Passengers—$3000

You cannot be sure that you are getting the best car on the market for $3000 until you have examined the Moon.

PROMPT DELIVERY GUARANTEED

WRITE OR TELEPHONE FOR DEMONSTRATION

BOSTON MECHANICAL CO.

Tel. 2820 Os. 20 Park Square Motor Mart BOSTON, MASS
H. E. WHITING, Mgr.

Wanted—A Simpler System of Taxation.

The finances of the Metropolitan district are in such a hopeless tangle that no municipality can tell a year in advance how much it will be called upon to pay as its share of the Metropolitan taxes.

The Selectmen made in their report last year what had every appearance of being an authoritative estimate of the amount of the Metropolitan Park tax this year. As it was, they doubtless came as near to a correct guess as any one could have. Their estimate was about $5000 short of the mark.

It ought to be possible to predict correctly within $1000 the amount of such a tax, and it would be if the allotment of these metropolitan park, water and sewer taxes was not attended with so needless an amount of complexity.

The confusion, instead of becoming less every year, is gradually growing more. And the reason is because so many academic discriminations and subtleties have been infused into the State's treatment of the Metropolitan finances, owing to a false idea of fairness and justice which leads not one of the municipalities to feel that it is safe from being imposed upon to gratify whims similar to those embodied in the apportionment of 1900.

The park apportionment of 1905 was much simpler, but we need to get nearer still to simplicity by the passage of permanent legislation which will establish a system the working of which every one will be able to understand in all its details.

The betterment idea is at the root of the whole evil. The notice that improvements should be paid for by the towns and cities which benefit directly is on its surface very simple, as well as very just, but a little experience has shown that in actual practice this principle of assessment is neither simple nor just, except under extraordinary conditions.

If the improvements are not for the benefit of the whole Metropolitan district, they should not be paid for out of the Metropolitan taxes as is the custom, but should be a matter for adjustment between the municipalities involved, and no other municipality should be bothered by having a minute share of the expense foisted into its contribution to the district.

The fact that the cost of improvements directly benefiting certain towns and cities is levied in part, at least, upon the district at large, except in rare cases, shows that such improvements are regarded, properly, as metropolitan improvements for which the whole public is indebted.

Take the case of the Wellington bridge. Half the cost is placed on Somerville and Medford, because they benefit directly. It is a principle with which we are all familiar—of which the sewer assessment is a well known example. But its application may result in absurdities. Somerville may be supposed to benefit more from the construction of such a bridge than Boston. If so, then the side of Somerville toward the bridge receives more benefit than that most remote; then again, a special class of citizens living on the side toward the bridge uses it, and they alone should be taxed; to follow out the principle further would be simply to attain to the absurdity of taxing a small group of individuals, merchants or manufacturers operating many vehicles, for nearly the whole cost of a bridge, and such a method of taxation would be not only absurd, but would be a departure from that equitable distribution of taxes which economists describe as that toward which modern communities have been tending ever since the abolition of bridge tolls and similar obsolete eccentricities of taxation.

If all these improvements which are looked upon as affecting, even infinitesimally, the Metropolitan district, were simply grouped together and their cost settled upon the district as a whole, the result would be vastly more equitable, and each municipality could figure out its share of the metropolitan debt on the basis of its own valuation, without having to contend with visionary, hair-splitting factors. If there are any improvements which benefit only two or three municipalities then such improvements should be paid wholly by such municipalities and should not be the business of the district. The confusion that results from mixing up the betterment assessment method with the even distribution method of taxation should be entirely eliminated—one method should be applied at a time, not both at once.—Brookline Chronicle.

To Republicans.

We are anxious to have every Republican in close touch, and working in harmony with the Republican National Congressional Committee in favor of the election of a Republican Congress.

The Congressional campaign must be based on the administrative and legislative record of the party, and, that being so, Theodore Roosevelt's personality must be a central figure and his achievements a central thought in the campaign.

We desire to maintain the work of this campaign with popular subscriptions of One Dollar each from Republicans. To each subscriber we will send the Republican National Campaign Text Book and all documents issued by the Committee.

Help us achieve a great victory.

James S. Sherman, Chairman.
P. O. Box 2063, New York.

Real Estate.

Through the office of John T. Burns, 364 Centre street, Newton, the M. A. Greene estate on 4 Copley street, corner of Hunnewell avenue, Newton, has been sold to Otis W. Holmes of Newton. The property is assessed for $6000 of which $2500 is on the land. Mr. Holmes will occupy the house and is making extensive repairs.

Mr. Alfred Handley of Newton has purchased the James Steven's estate at 105 Oakleigh Road, Newton. The ten room house and 9000 square feet of land are assessed for $6300, $2000 of which is on the land. Deeds were passed through the office of John T. Burns, Newton.

The double frame dwelling situated at 18-20 Maple street, Watertown has been sold to Arthur Willson of Watertown, the grantor being Mr. J. N. Brewer of New York. The transfer was made by John T. Burns, Newton. Mr. Willson buys for investment. The property is taxed for $500.

Through the office of John T. Burns, Newton, the estate on 12 Waban street, Newton, was sold to Mr. Nelson Tyrell of Boston. Mr. Tyrell will occupy the house. Mr. W. H. H. Jackson of Boston was the grantor. The property consists of a 15 room frame dwelling and 12,000 square feet of land.

The estate situated at No. 51 Jefferson street, Newton, has been purchased by Mr. A. D. Howlett of Newton. Miss Nellie Cole was the grantor. The property is assessed for $4500 of which $1600 is on the land. John T. Burns, Newton, was the agent in this transaction.

The Catherine Coffee estate, 88 Summer street, Watertown, has been sold to Mr. Thomas Coffee of Watertown. The deed was passed through the office of John T. Burns, Newton. Mr. Coffee will occupy the house and make extensive improvements.

Autoists Narrowly Escaped.

Six persons on an automobile trip from New York to Boston narrowly escaped going over the bridge at the Lower Falls into the Charles river Sunday afternoon. Their big touring car went short up against an iron post a few feet from the edge of the bridge, but luckily the post was strong enough to hold the machine. The occupants of the car were given a bad fright and according to eye witnesses one of them fainted.

The big touring car was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Wyant, Mrs. Wyant's two sisters, Misses Annie and Helen Young, H. O. Johnson, all of New York city, and a chauffeur. It was shortly after 4 o'clock that the car came down the Lower Falls hill from the direction of Wellesley Hills after having started from New York early in the day. The hill is fairly steep and the big machine sped along at a fair rate of speed. Coming down the left hand side of the thoroughfare and crossing the Lower Falls branch of the Boston & Albany railroad, which at this point is even with the grade of the street, the chauffeur swung the machine across the electric car tracks toward the right hand side of the street.

Misjudging the distance slightly the chauffeur drove the machine a little too far to the right. It crashed into the slender iron post at the edge of the bridge. The post was bent slightly and the right hand forward axle of the automobile was wrenched. Bystanders feared for a few moments that the big car and its six occupants would go over the bridge into the river, a drop of about a dozen feet. The water is deep at this side of the bridge, a new dam having been built here about two years ago.

It was with much relief to the occupants of the touring car and to the bystanders that the chauffeur finally shut off the power and stopped the machine from forcing itself harder and harder against the slender post. Frightened by the narrow escape one of the women fainted, but was quickly revived.

After making minor repairs the machine was able to proceed. One of the men climbed into the front seat beside the chauffeur and the others got into the four broad seats side by side in back. The automobile started away to finish its run to Boston at a much less speed than that at which it came down the hill.

Residents of the Lower Falls say that they have long expected that some automobilist would come to grief by running into this post. For some unaccountable reason a large percentage of the autoists going eastward cross the electric car tracks just before reaching the bridge. Many of these have narrowly escaped hitting the little iron post at the edge of the bridge.

Base Ball.

Local baseball teams are invited to send to the GRAPHIC as early in the week as possible scores of their games played both in this city and abroad, together with any comment upon the teams or players of interest to the local baseball enthusiasts.

THEATRES

Keith's Theatre.—The vaudeville program announced for Keith's for the week of July 30 is another "all variety" one, that is there is not a single sketch in the entire four hours and a half of its length, just the sort of light summer entertainment that never fails to appeal to amusement seekers at this time of the year. The principal entertainer on the bill will be Harry Davenport, an actor too well-known to need any extended introduction to the theatregoing public. His last appearance in Boston was as one of the principals with "It Happened in Nordland". Mr. Davenport will present his famous vocal specialties which he calls "English Types", including "Our Bazaar", made famous by Albert Chevalier, and "A Peaceful Man", two of the most artistic bits in the varieties.

The surrounding show includes what has become to be the usual enough European attractions and many other acts making their first appearance. The list includes the George B. Reno troupe of clever comedy acrobats; Jordan and Harvey, mirth-provoking Hebrew comedians and parody singers; Sisters Rap-Po, noted Siberian dancers; Stinson and Merton, eccentric conversational comedians; Sadi Alfarabi, skilful European equilibrist; Jean Ardelle and her "Inky Dinks", in an eccentric vocal and dancing specialty; Myers and Rosa, skilful disc manipulators, and Marion and Deane, pleasing singers and dancers. The Fadettes woman's orchestra will begin the ninth consecutive week of their summer engagement with an entire new program of selections, and an entire new list of comedy and interesting motion pictures will be exhibited in the kinetograph.

Castle Square Theatre.—Once more, and for the fourth time during this summer season, there is to be a Gilbert and Sullivan comic opera at the Castle Square. So popular have been the revivals of "The Mikado," "Pinafore" and "Iolanthe" that the management has wisely selected "The Pirates of Penzance" for next week's offering. This opera is one of the liveliest and most melodious of all Gilbert and Sullivan's many works, and its merry tale of the pirate crew that has its haunt off the shores of Cornwall is set to the most delightful of Sir Arthur Sullivan's clever music. The story is taken by Mr. Gilbert from one of his deliciously comic "Bab Ballads" and it is full of the characteristic touches of humor that have made his reputation. In the opinion of many "The Pirates of Penzance" is one of the most piquant and picturesque comic operas of its genuinely mirthful kind.

Miss Mary Carrington, who created so pleasant an impression in "Carmen" and "Pinafore" a few weeks ago, will return to the Castle Square to sing the role of Mabel in "The Pirates of Penzance." Mr. Thayer, Mr. Shields, Mr. Tallman, Miss Ladd and the other popular members of the company will also be in the cast.

Norumbega Park.

Norumbega Park.—Norumbega Park is a children's paradise in the morning more than at any other time of the day or evening because the large crowds do not begin to assemble there until the middle of the afternoon when it is about time for the commencement of the afternoon vaudeville in the grand covered open air theatre. Consequently they have the park much to themselves in the morning hours and it is a delightful sight to see the little folks with their mother, or nurses, or governesses or maids romping about the grounds gazing big eyed at the strange wild animals in the zoological garden, the pranks of the apes in the monkey house, riding the merry go round, investigating the wonders of the chalet, flying in the swing court, and in fact taking in all the attractions of this picturesque resort.

Even in its first season, however, the management at Norumbega inaugurated that plan so much approved by all zoologists of placing the animals in the open in natural enclosures where they might have ample room to wander about and exercise and at the same time to be displayed to the best advantage. At the present time this park has without question the best zoological collection in New England and in many respects, outside of New York zoos, or the government zoological garden at Washington it is the best in the country. There are over one hundred animals, many of them rare species, and for variety it is especially noteworthy. There are lions, pumas, lynx, beaver, otter, muskrat, wild cat, jaguars, civets, wolves, many species of deer, elk, buffalo, camel, bears, and a wonderful monkey house with species representing nearly every clime of the world. The space devoted to the animals has been increased each year until now the zoological garden is over four times its former size. The boating and canoeing on the Charles is one of the attractive features of a visit to this resort and the Norumbega boat house has the reputation of having the best canoe livery on this beautiful river. The mysterious chalet is filled with many interesting features including the Japanese village with the rolling hills and the various industries of these clever people who manufacture many of the articles which they have on exhibition. The launches which have been installed this season at the foot of the north slope with the new landing are affording much enjoyment to visitors who do not care to risk their safety to a row boat or canoe.

In comparing their daily attendance with those of corresponding days last season the management was surprised to find that notwithstanding the long stretches of rainy weather this summer, the aggregate attendance at Norumbega Park up to the present time is considerably ahead of last summer. This is largely accounted for by the fact that the public fully appreciates that even if the rain is threatening or it is actually showering they will be fully protected in the grand covered open air theatre and they may witness the performances with as much comfort as though in a city theatre.

Only the very best artists are presented in these high class vaudeville programmes for which Norumbega is justly famous and musical comedies and light operas are occasionally introduced but vaudeville programmes are the most popular with the regular patrons of this resort on the banks of the Charles.

Origin of 23.

Patsy Morison, who claims to have been a one-time jockey on the famous Sheephead Bay race track, is said to have originated the now famous slang phrase of "twenty three."

"You see, there is room for just twenty-two horses on the Sheephead track," he said. "When one more is entered it has to go behind all the others and gets a handicap that way. They generally figure to put the horse behind that hasn't any chance anyway. I started things by yelling out 'Twenty-three for you!' every time any old skin and bones got out on the track. The other jockeys took it up, and it wasn't long till everybody was on."

Newton Club.

Now that the popular promenade concerts of the Newton Club have been concluded for the present season the program at that club will be very quiet until autumn. Owing to the success this year of the outdoor promenade concerts many of the members are in favor of holding a sort of post-series later in the summer, as there are many members who are called back to Newton occasionally by their business. The committee of arrangements is receiving much praise for the success of the series just closed.

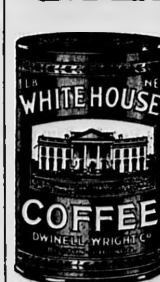

MLLE. CAROLINE

Before sailing, is having a

Reduction Sale

TRIMMED MILLINERY
486 BOYLSTON STREET, BOSTON
In the Block of Brunswick Hotel

WHITE HOUSE COFFEE

comes very, very close to the perfection of the ladies of the land. It's a substantial support and solace for the strenuous days of household drudgery; a panacea for the fatigues of society; a dainty delight in the privacy of the boudoir. It's wholesome and healthful and vivifying. White House Coffee is truly the very finest Coffee the World provides. Sold in the United States, Ontario, Bermuda and far-off Yokohama. If you have trouble to get it, write us. Sold in 1, 2, and 3 lb. cans, never in bulk.

DWINELL-WRIGHT COMPANY
Principal Coffee Roasters
Boston—Chicago

Banks

NEWTON NATIONAL BANK,

WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON.
SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES TO LET.
Coupon Rooms for Customers Use.
STORAGE FOR VALUABLES in trunks, boxes or packages; and for Pictures, Bibles, Brac, valuable Furniture and Personal effects.
FRANCIS MURDOCK, President.
B. F. Bacon, J. W. Bacon, VICE-PRESIDENT. CASHIER

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK.

INCORPORATED 1881.
Business Hours, 9 to 3, Saturdays 9 to 1.
Total Deposits last Quarter's Statement
July 9th, $6,129,118.58.

Quarter Days the TENTH of January, April, July and October. Dividends declared the Tuesday following January 1st and July 10th, are payable on or after the 17th.

TRUSTEES:
John Ward, Samuel M. Jackson, Warren P. Tyler, Francis Murdock, Charles T. Puffer, William C. Strong, Eugene Whiting, B. Franklin Bacon, Samuel Farquhar, G. Fred Simpson, Edmund T. Wiewall, Thomas W. Proctor, William F. Bacon, Bernard Early, Henry E. Rothfield and William F. Harbach.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT:
Charles T. Puffer, Francis Murdock, Samuel M. Jackson.

The board meets every Tuesday afternoon to consider applications for loans that have been received at the Bank.
CHARLES T. PUFFER, President
ADOLPHUS J. BLANCHARD, Treasurer

Gowns Suits Skirts

Cleansed or Dyed

AND Refinished Properly

Replanted Like New
New Goods Planted

Carpets Dyed Solid Colors

Many Wilton and Axminster Carpets become faded when very little worn. We have made a great success of dyeing them in Reds, Greens, Browns and solid colors.

Also PORTIERES DRAPERIES FURNITURE COVERINGS & Lace Curtains Cleansed Blankets Cleansed and Rebound Turkish Rugs Cleansed in the Right Way
Cloves Real Laces Ostrich Plumes and Tips Cleansed or Dyed, as desired

LEWANDOS

CLEANSERS DYERS LAUNDERERS
17 Temple Place BOSTON 284 Boylston Street
Cambridge 1274 Massachusetts Avenue Roxbury 2206 Washington Street
Watertown 1 Galen Street (Delivery in the Newtons)

TELEPHONES { 555 556 557 Oxford } Connect all Offices
{ 72 Newton North }
BUNDLES CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED IN BOSTON AND SUBURBS

WOODLAND PARK HOTEL

AUBURNDALE, MASS.

Rooms singly or en suite, with or without private bath.

Special Rates for the Winter Months.

FREDERICK WILKEY, Proprietor.

BOWN, NORRIS & CO.

HOUSE PAINTERS, DECORATORS AND PAPER HANGERS

Shop, 245 Washington St., Nonantum Block, Newton, Mass.
JOBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO. Post Office Box 49.
Shop Tel. 173-3 Newton North. Residence Tel. 86-3 Newton North

Partridge

Photographer and...
Frame Maker

Boston and Vicinity.

BOSTON, 30 Huntington Ave.
BROOKLINE, 27 Harvard Street.
ROXBURY, 2832 Washington Street.

Newtonville Studio, Opposite Depot

Tel. to all studios.
Newtonville Tel. No. 283-2 Newton North.

DEATH

It Will Kill all Your Bugs. We WARRANT it. Sold Everywhere. We Mail it for 50 Cents.
BARNARD & CO.,
7 Temple Place, Boston.

Real Estate and Insurance

FOR CHOICE BUILDING LOTS

FARLOW HILL

AND ELSEWHERE IN THE NEWTONS.

APPLY TO
W. S. & F. EDMANDS,
429 Centre St., Newton. Gray's Bldg. Newton City
178 Devonshire Street Boston.

NEWTONVILLE

REAL ESTATE

We Make a Specialty of
NEWTONVILLE PROPERTY

Fire Insurance

Turner & Williams

Opp. Depot NEWTONVILLE

Established 1857. Telephone 2957.

EDWARD F. BARNES,

Real Estate Agent and Broker.

Expert Appraiser, Notary Public

MONEY TO LOAN ON MORTGAGES

Insurance Agent and Auctioneer Member of the Real Estate Exchange.

31 State St., Boston. Brackett's Block, Newton.

REAL ESTATE ROBINSON

NOTARY PUBLIC MORTGAGES INSURANCE
341 Beacon St., AUBURNDALE, MASS.

Physicians
CLARA D. WHITMAN REED, M. D.
Residence and Office, 140 Church St., Newton, opp. Farlow Park.
Hours—Until 9 A. M. 1 to 3 and 7 P. M.
Telephone 64.

Lawyers.

LAW OFFICE.

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM.
WINFIELD S. SLOCUM,
City Solicitor of Newton.
Rooms 1103, 1104 Carney Bldg.,
43 Tremont St., BOSTON, MASS.
Residence, Newtonville.

JOHN IRVING, FLORIST

Cut Flowers, House Plants, Funeral Designs
Flowers for Weddings and Parties.
Pearl St. Newton
Telephone Connection

Pomroy Home for Orphan Girls

24 HOVEY ST., NEWTON

Depends entirely upon public support
Invites inspection
Solicits contributions of money, food, clothing

CHARLES A. HASKELL, Newton, President
OLIVER M. FISHER, Newton, Treasurer

Dentists.

DR. S. F. CHASE, DENTIST

Dennison Building, Washington Street, corner Walnut, Newtonville.
Careful and thorough operating in all its branches.
NEW METHOD FOR ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

James Paxton & Co.,

CONFECTIONERS and...
CATERERS.

338 Centre St., Newton
ELIOT BLOCK.

Telephone, Newton North 88.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES—The office hours of the Secretary of the Associated Charities are from 9 to 10 every week day and Tuesday and Friday 10 to 12 A. M.
M. A. Martin, Secretary. Office Newtonville Square.

FASHIONS IN MEN'S COLLARS

The High Turnover By Far The Most Popular.

The advantages of the high turned over collar are so great that the fashion has become universal here, although it was laughed at more than fifteen years ago, when these collars were first brought to this country. They came to us from England, although they originated in Paris.

Men's fashions may originate in France, as more than one of them commonly attributed to English taste has done, but none of these modes has ever gained popularity in other Continental countries until it has been approved in London. Anglomaniac is rampant on the Continent when it comes to the question of fashion for men.

So the belated London indorsement of the turned down collar established it in favor throughout the whole well dressed world. It made a smart mode out of a very grotesque extravagance. The original French collars were very high and the part that turned over in front not more than an inch deep. Under this the scarf was tied. London haberdashers made the turnover of the collar as deep as the band, and the result was the style that has been universally accepted for the last fifteen years and is as popular today as it ever was.

The perfect fit in a collar of this kind sits up well on the shirt band, whether the collar is high or low, keeps close together as to the front edges and does not bulge out when a four-in-hand is tied under it. Such good examples of the style are not always easy to find. But there are some that fill these requirements.

Few makers in New York have sold for several years past a collar that never fails to look as it should in case the wearer knows how to put it on properly. The present style does not favor a very high collar, two and a half inches being the extreme. The lowest collar is two inches, while the average is two and a quarter inches high, or "deep," as the London makers say.

Sometimes these turned over standing collars are made up in a double thickness of linen. They are more expensive in this style, costing $6 a dozen. The double ply linen does not wear so well. The laundresses are not always careful, and turning a collar without the proper attention to it will put an end to it in a very short time. But the heavier collars look much better.

The question of the high or low collar depends on one very simple factor—the length of a man's neck. For a man of average length of neck a collar not more than two inches and a quarter high is the most modish. Thin, long necked men—especially when they are very young—look best in a collar a quarter of an inch higher.

It is a peculiarity of these high standing collars that elderly men can wear them without appearing to want to look young.

Fat men wearing these collars with a four-in-hand tie and a shirt with stripes running up and down will find that they look slimmer in outline.

It is the desire to wear this collar as much as possible that makes it appear at very formal full dress occasions, when it is really inappropriate. But men wear it to dinners and dances of the most formal character, just as they wear it with a silk hat and frock coat.

Men who know best how to wear these collars always buy them a quarter of a size larger than they usually buy a collar. This difference in size makes it possible to pull them together in such a way that they close in a straight line down the front.

"But it deprives Americans of one great pleasure," said the representative of a London firm who is now in New York for orders, "for they are not able to enjoy the sensation of suffocation that every good American expects to feel when he is dressed up. The average American likes to pull his collar so tight that his eyes pop out. Then he has the sensation of being dressed up as he should be. That is a wholly national peculiarity. Englishmen at all times wear their collars loose."

"That is one reason that makes the fashion of wearing the shirt on the collar comparatively unpopular here. It is impossible to pull the collar so tight then. In England well dressed men never think of having a shirt made without the collar attached. They would as soon think of buttoning on their cuffs. Of course, it is possible to wear a shirt of this kind only once. But that makes no difference to a man who wants to dress himself well. In Paris, where the King of England has his shirts made to this day, no shirt maker would think of leaving collars off a shirt."

"Abroad collars are worn on shirts primarily because they are supposed to fit so much better for that reason. They not only look better, but they feel much more comfortable. Americans, on the other hand, argue that they do not have collars on their shirts because they do not feel close and tight enough. It is a strange national taste."

The only kind of a shirt with the collar attached that is often worn here is the white dress shirt. These collars are nearly always of styles really intended for dress and not the high turned over collar, which is of all kinds the most difficult to make fit when on a shirt, in spite of the London opinion to the contrary.

Particular men wear for dress a high, plain standing collar. The ends are somewhat pointed and project in front, although not in a way to form what used to be called a "poke." For good style this collar should not be more than two and a half inches high. The slight incline at the top helps to keep the tie in place. Usually these collars are cut lower in the back than in front.

The next most appropriate collar is one with the turned down points, which should be avoided by fat men, as the V shaped cut in front tends to make them look stouter than ever. The best style in these collars is high with a broad turnover. The style is especially becoming to thin faced men.

These three styles of collars are the only kind that any well dressed man would think of wearing, and the high turnover collar might be called the only one that the average well dressed young man troubles himself about in any way.

Literary Notes

As an earnest that there is to be no cessation of its campaign against child slavery, the Woman's Home Companion prints prominently in its August number the "Anti Child Labor Creed"—nine curt paragraphs clearly defining the faith and purpose of those who are fighting against the abuses of child labor. But that this serious purpose has not caused any neglect of entertaining features is shown by a collection of lively stories such as "The Spurs of Jealousy," by Rafael Sabatini; "A Lover's Pilgrimage," by Richard Le Gallienne; "The Wage of Sin," by Ellis Parker Butler, and "Al and the Buzzard Perplexed," by Clouesley Johns. "The Preserving and Canning of Fruits," "Fashionable Mid-Summer Clothes," and "Cool Cushions for Summer Use" are among the practical articles on household affairs. Anna Steese Richardson gives valuable advice with needed facts and figures to country girls who have decided upon city careers; Marion Harland, considering the question, "Are New York Club Women Shallow?" makes some pointed remarks; Adelia Belle Beard describes original sea-beach games, and, in good time for the circus season, Claire Wallace Flynn tells of the merry little woman who attends to the "Dressmaking for the Circus Animals."

A really notable series of articles begins in the August McClure's under the title "The Story of Montana." The history of that remarkable commonwealth, with its picturesque early mining days, when the road-agents held sway and robbed and murdered wholesales the miners and settlers, and the conflict of more recent days between the two great copper kings, William A. Clark and Marcus Daly, which was fought in business and politics, chiefly within its borders, furnish the author, C. P. Connolly, himself quite an early Montana settler, with the material for a stirring and absorbing article. This historical series represents a new departure in magazine editing and adds one more to the important lines of thought in which McClure's has been the pioneer.

Carl Schurz's reminiscences continue with a chapter on impressions of Rachel, the great French actress; Burton J. Hendrick gives a fifth installment of "The Story of Life-Insurance" which discloses the iniquities of the Tontine policy that Henry B. Hyde developed.

Rudyard Kipling tells in his "Robin Goodfellow" series an interesting tale of the iron-founders in the Weald of Kent, Hal o' the Draft, Sebastian Cabot and the great pirate Sir Andrew Barton. "Cancer—Can It Be Cured?" by C. W. Saleeby, M. D., F. R. S., is an important contribution to curative science, detailing the experiments made by a Dr. John Beard in the treatment of cancer by trypsin, an extract of the pancreas. The stories are especially good: a powerful one by Jack London, based on the actual facts of the hanging of a man by a woman in Alaska, called "The Unexpected"; an amusing, yet thought-compelling one about New York shop-girls, by O. Henry, entitled "The Trimmed Lamp"; an East Side school episode "A Soul Above Buttons," by Myra Kelly; a comedy of a Rocky Mountain mining town, "The Lady Peddler and the Diplomats," by Mrs. Wilson Woodrow; a psychological comedy, "Mrs. Archer's Feelings," by Abby Meguire Roach; "Archie's Baby," by Viola Roseboro; "Casablanca," by Montague Glass. Andre Castaigne illustrates the Kipling stories, Frederic Dorr Steele draws Miss Kelley's amusing East Side infants, N. G. Wyeth has a frontispiece in color symbolizing the "Reign of the Road-Agents" in "The Story of Montana," and Blumenshien furnishes four remarkable pictures reproduced in color for Jack London's impressive tale.

The August number of Suburban Life is an all-around, practical number. The leading article is by Miss Henrietta Sowle, in which she talks of the familiar, well-loved beauties of country roads. "Where the Wild Fruits Grow and When They Ripen," by Mrs. Maude Gridley Peterson, also has the August flavor. Among the practical articles is one on the greenhouse for the suburban home, by L. W. C. Tutthill, and one on well made walks and driveways, by Herbert J. Kellaway, the landscape architect. "August In the Country" is a series of beautiful, full-page illustrations. "Sowing Vegetable Seeds in August" and "Flowers for August Sowing" are short and suggestive articles on the possibilities of August seed-sowing. The regular departments are full of suggestions for the practical home maker. "The Peony—A Glorious Flower Which Blooms for Everybody" and "Growing Flowers to Sell" are of timely suggestiveness. Professor Maynard, in his "Weeds Which Are Used for Greens," takes up a subject which will interest the housewife on the lookout for fresh ideas.

Hon. J. W. Weeks Interviewed

Congressman John W. Weeks said in an interview with the Boston News Bureau, reviewing the work of the last session of Congress—

"It is impossible for any man to determine at this early date the effect of all of the important legislation of the past session of Congress, which has so materially increased the federal power over business affairs, but in my judgment it will be in the end largely beneficial."

"The important legislation which has been enacted outside of appropriation bills has been almost entirely in the direction of extending federal authority."

"Take for instance the pure food bill. There has been agitation for pure food legislation for nearly twenty years. There have been bills for this purpose before Congress nearly every year during this time, but no law has been enacted until this year. In enacting this law it has been the purpose of Congress not in any way to determine what the public shall eat or drink, but they shall know what they eat and drink."

"Regarding the meat inspection legislation, my contention is that the government should have nothing to do with the conduct of business in a commodity which is not interstate in character, but as it is almost impossible to determine where a product will be sold, the government has assumed the necessity for the inspection of all meats and meat products and has appropriated $3,000,000 as an annual expenditure to provide for this inspection."

"There is no question but that the agitation over this meat question has materially injured at least for the time being, our domestic and foreign trade, and I believe it will take a long time for this trade to recover from the blow which it has received. Possibly the remedies might have been applied with less publicity and without so seriously injuring the business. The legislation, as a whole, however, will be beneficial to the people, but in justice to the packers it must be said that their industry in this country, from the evidence which has come before Congress, is conducted in a more cleanly manner than the packing industries in any foreign country."

"The legislation which has attracted most attention of course is the rate bill, and the debate on this question will go down into history as one of the great debates of Congress, especially in the Senate, where it was discussed for several weeks. I believe that there were legal arguments made on this question which will stand the test of time as being sound and illuminating and, incidentally, it can be stated that the Senate of the United States, as constituted today, is in my opinion, one of the strongest legislative bodies that ever sat in the halls of Congress."

"While I believe, and have always believed in a wise regulation of corporations, there were some omissions from and sections in the rate bill, as it passed the House, which seemed so contrary to good policy that I voted against the bill."

"I did not believe that public necessity demanded urgency in the matter of rate regulation and this contention is fully confirmed by the acts of the Attorney-General during the past six months, for he has obtained 26 indictments or convictions against large corporations for giving and receiving rebates. There was power enough in the Elkins law as it stood to accomplish many results which the present bill is expected to achieve."

"Viewed as a whole, the legislation of the past Congress should materially benefit the people at large, radical though it has been in many instances, but it is needless to say that succeeding sessions of Congress cannot go on enacting such radical legislation without injuring business in many instances where there should be no disturbance, and so I believe that for some time to come the legislation enacted at this session should be digested and its effects studied so that the business interests of the country will not feel that at every session of Congress legislation vitally affecting trade and commerce is going to be enacted."

—Crosby's Restaurant, 19 School street, Boston, is a good place to dine. If

VINELAND UNFERMENTED GRAPE JUICE

A Life Giving Drink.

25 and 45c.

G. P. ATKINS,

Centre Street

Newton.

Members of the Master Builders' Association.
105 Devonshire Street.
(Established 1836. (Incorporated 1894.)
(Connected by Telephone.)

JOHN FARQUHAR'S SONS,

INCORPORATED.

Roofers and Metal Workers.

Dealers in All Roofing Materials.

Slates, Copper, Tin, Tile, and Composition
Roofing, Skylights, Cornices, Gutters,
Conductors, etc.

Special attention given to repairs of all kinds of Roofing.

Office, 20 and 22 East Street, Boston, Mass.

Wharf, 60-72 Washington Ave., Boston, Mass.
Directors: Samuel Farquhar, Pres.; Joseph
Farquhar, Treas. and Supt.; Frank C. Far-quhar, Sec'y.; Rollin Farquhar.

MADISON BUNKER, D. V. S.

Veterinary Surgeon.

Residence, 28 Park Street

NEWTON, MASS.

Telephone Connection.

A. PHILIP LARSON.

Horse Shoer.

Carriage Smith and Wheelwright

Carriage Painting.

Satisfaction guaranteed and work done

promptly 386 Watertown Street, Newton.

GEO. F. THOMAS, M. D.

SPECIALIST OF LOWELL, MASS., describes to inform sufferers from Piles that they may secure immediate relief and permanent cure by his specially devised painless treatment in which he is eminently successful. Results sure in every case, without use of surgeon's knife. His cures stayed cured, no matter how severe or long standing. Consultation and examination
free.

Hotel Pelham, BOSTON

74 Boylston Street.

Office Hours: 1 to 5 daily, except Sundays

HARRIS E. JOHONNOT,

Electrician and Contractor,

390 Centre St., Newton.

Telephones: Office 33-5, Residence 22-4 Newton

GEO. W. BUSH

FUNERAL and FURNISHING

Undertaker

COFFINS, CASKETS, ROBES,

and every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand.

Elmwood Street, Newton

FRANCIS MURDOCK,

Insurance Agent,

Bank Building, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT

placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies

Sole Agent for Newton of the

Middlesex Mutual of Concord, Mass

ROBERT F. CRANITCH

(Successor to L. H. Cranitch)

House, Sign, and Ornamental Painter

Paper Hangings in Great Variety.

Work promptly done.

Walnut St., - Newtonville.

Second door from Central Block.

$30,000 TO LOAN

On first mortgages only. Boston and suburbs. Dwelling houses preferred. Interest usually 5 per cent.; easiest and best way to pay for your house. Is your mortgage due or soon to become due? A $3000 loan requires $27.50 per month. $15 being credit on loan.
Call for circulars. MERRICK'S CO-OPER-ATIVE BANK, 19 Milk Street, Boston.

DO NOT

the burglaries which

are happening all the

time suggest anything

to you? Burglary, theft

and larceny insurance

the only protection. HICKLEY &

WOODS, Insurance of all kinds, 30 Kibby

Street, Boston. Telephone Main 1467 and 408.

UP IN VERMONT

That's the place

for a real vacation

Lakeside camps, farm and village homes,

$10 to $100 a week. First class hotels in Green

Mountains and on shores of Lake Umbagog.

Fishing, yachting, automobile driving.

Pure air, pure water, delightful scenery.

This region is reached via White River

Junction gateway and Central Vermont Railway by three fast trains daily, including

New England States Limited, the crack

daytime train between Boston and Montreal

Booklets and information T. H. HANLEY,
R. E. P. A., 300 Washington St., Boston.

P. P. ADAMS' BIG DEPT. STORE

Mid-Summer Bargain
— CARNIVAL —

In Every Section of this Store are Values worthy of the name "Bargain"—Goods that are most wanted, in fact indispensable for two whole months. A most important sale with all the Summer ahead of you—A Sale you shouldn't overlook—Bargains that need little comment.

Wash Goods, Domestic, Etc.

750 yds. Colored Batiste.....41¢ yd.
950 yds. Fast Color Dress Ginghams—value
8c6¼¢ yd.
60 yds. Floral Batiste—worth 10c.....8¼¢ yd.
70 yds. New Plaid Ginghams—styles for Fall—you can have them now12½¢ yd.
1100 yds. 39 in. Brown Cotton, worth more.....7¢ yd.
60 doz. 42x36 or 45x36 Pillow Cases.....10¢
60 doz. Turkish Towels—hemmed or fringed—double warp.....12½¢ ea.

Hosiery and Underwear

Ladies' Embroidered Tan Hose, 25c.....19¢ pr.
Misses' Ribbed White Hose—value 25c, 5 to 9½15¢ pr.
Misses' Black Lace Hose—entire stock of 25c, at12½¢ pr.
150 doz. Ladies' Ribbed Vests—every conceivable style12¼¢ ea.

Trunks, Suit Cases, Hammocks

Children's Small Suit Cases.....98¢
Also desirable to carry books, magazines, etc.
Bamboo Suit Cases—very light and durable,
$1.98, $2.50
Imitation Alligator and Walrus Suit Cases —arrived only today—hence at.....$2.25
Trunks$2.49 to $7.98
Our leader at$4.98
Hammocks98¢ to $6.00
Our special, the Palmer, at.....$1.98

Ladies' Long Mitts

Ladies' Long Silk Mitts—Black and White.....$1.25
Black and White Lace Lisle75¢ pr.

Every Item Advertised Must Represent Many Others Not Advertised.
Your wants may not be advertised but they can be filled at this sale—and at a Saving.
Come and see for yourself. Money refunded if not satisfied.
Bring in your Legal Stamp Books, we give $2.50 in mdse. or $2 in cash for full books of Legal Stamps.

Store will close at 1 o'clock P.M. Tuesdays during July and August. Double Stamps all day Monday and Tuesday until 1 P.M.

P. P. ADAMS' BIG DEPT. STORE

133 to 139 MOODY STREET WALTHAM, MASS.

Try CREAMALT BREAD
—the oval loaf—and then decide whether it pays to bake during the hot days of summer.
10c a loaf at all grocers.

GEO. G. FOX CO.
BOSTON

Newton Centre.

—Mr. John Temperley is spending a week sightseeing in New York.

—The new bridge over Glen avenue will be put in place next Sunday.

—The Allen Hubbard house on Montvale Crescent is nearly completed.

—Mr. George F. Richardson of Marshall street is ill with typhoid fever.

—Mr. Walter E. Guilford was confined a few days this week by illness.

—Mary E. Cumming has started the cellar for two houses on Wachusett road.

—Mr. Hugh Newcomb of Dedham street is home from a visit with relatives in Nova Scotia.

—Mr. Thomas E. Lees will soon leave for Norwell, where he will spend a few weeks' vacation.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. Newton N. 112-3.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Newell of Wilk low terrace are expected home next week from Medway.

—Mrs. Guy Lamkin will return Wednesday from Craigville, where she has been passing a month.

—Miss Mabel Harrington is visiting friends in Spencer for a fortnight, having left Newton Centre on Wednesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Banks and family, formerly of Bridgeport, Conn., are now settled in their new home on Langley road.

—Mr. and Mrs. James E. Coveney and family this week went to Swampscott, where they have taken a cottage for a few weeks.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Woolway of Centre street will leave in a few days for a fortnight's camping on the bank of the Kennebec river below Bath, Me.

—The union service of the Methodist, Baptist and Congregational societies held Sunday in the Methodist Episcopal church was in charge of Rev. L. J. Birney.

—The north wall on the railroad work, including the north abutments to the Centre street, Cypress street, Institution avenue and Langley road bridges has been finished.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Tilton closed their house on Chesley road this week and went to a resort near Portland, Me., where they will remain until September. They were accompanied by Mrs. Tilton's sister, Miss Dorothy Sampson.

—Mr. Arthur Washburn of Birmingham, Ala., who formerly resided in this village for several years and who has been passing a week or two here renewing old acquaintances, has gone to his old home in New Hampshire for a few weeks.

—Mr. E. Clifford Potter had charge of the services Sunday afternoon at the new home of the Mothers' Rest at Highlandville. A number of Newton Centre women interested in the work attended the services. It is planned to have services at the home every Sunday afternoon hereafter.

Complaint was made to the police yesterday that boys have developed a habit of riding bicycles on the sidewalks on Summer street and the thoroughfares in that vicinity. It is stated that a few days ago a woman was run into while wheeling a baby carriage on Summer street. Although she was not injured she was considerably frightened.

—Mr. Herbert J. Kellaway has an article on landscape gardening in the August issue of Suburban Life. Mr. Kellaway is a resident of Irving street. He is well known in this ward as a leader of the recent movement to have a promenade walk built along the edge of Crystal Lake from Newton Centre to Newton Highlands.

—Mr. Harry Messenger, 40 years of age, a teamster living on Walnut street, fell while near his home here Saturday morning and seriously injured his hip. He was attended by Dr. Paul and City Physician Utley who ordered his removal to the hospital in the police ambulance. At the hospital it is believed that he will recover in a few weeks.

—Mr. Walter Brooks and Mr. Herbert S. Butler of the office force at the postoffice here left Monday for Gorham, N. H., for a fortnight's vacation. They will tramp over both the northern and southern peaks of the Presidential range and numerous other places in that vicinity. Both Mr. Brooks and Mr. Butler are expert mountain climbers and in previous summers have had much experience along this line.

Newton Centre.

—Mrs. Alden Speare of Centre street is visiting her son, Mr. Lewis R. Speare, at the Burgess Farm, Meredith, N. H., for several weeks.

—Prof. Charles R. Brown and family of Parker street are occupying their cottage at Webster Lake, Franklin, N. H., for the remainder of the summer.

—Miss Gray of Gibbs street is expected home the first of next week from Deerfield, N. H., where she has been spending a couple of weeks with friends.

—Mr. Philip Daniels and family have closed their residence on Ripley street and gone to their summer home at Marshfield, where they will pass the rest of the season.

—In the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday there will be but one service, and this will be a union service of the Methodist, Baptist and Congregational societies. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Mr. Birney.

—Mr. Nelson C. Morton of Centre street, who is well known as a grandson of the late Rev. Dr. S. F. Smith, author of "America," has an article in the current number of the Coming Day, a temperance publication, on "The Man Who Dares," being an interesting sketch of District Attorney John B. Moran of Boston. Mr. Morton resides in one section of the old Smith homestead here.

Newton Highlands

—George Kerr has returned from Maine.

—Dr. C. H. Newhall is in Portland, Me., this week.

—Where is the new drinking fountain to be located and when?

—Miss Bacall of Forest street will spend the summer at North Scituate.

—Miss Cahill, bookkeeper at Moulton & Sons, is taking a two weeks' vacation.

—A concrete walk and surface drain have been constructed on Allerton road.

—Mr. H. B. Walker of Hillside road has returned from a two weeks' vacation.

—Mr. E. E. Hoxie has gone to New York and Hartford, Conn., for a few weeks.

—Mr. F. Recht of Lincoln street has returned home from a business trip in the West.

—The finishing touches to the Walnut street bridge approaches will be given next week.

—Miss Anna Miller of Duncklee street has been spending a few weeks at Onset, Mass.

—Mr. Charles Ferguson of Eliot street is able to be out again after several weeks' illness.

—Mr. T. P. Curtis and family of Lake avenue are at Foxcroft, Maine, for a few weeks.

—Miss G. R. Barrows of Woodward street is spending her vacation at Greenville, Maine.

—Mrs. F. E. Keiser of Lakewood road left Monday for a short stay at Old Orchard, Maine.

—Mrs. Arthur S. Darling of Duncklee street has returned from several weeks' visit in Maine.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Tobin of Floral street are entertaining relatives from Chicago, Illinois, this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. A. O'Connor of Erie avenue are spending their vacation at North Haven, Maine.

—Dr. John G. Schroeder has purchased the Pennell house, 305 Lake avenue for his own occupancy.

—Mr. Frank W. Dorr and family of Lake avenue left this week for Cotuit, where they will spend their vacation.

—The last of the Boylston street trestle was taken down on Saturday, and the second railway track is being laid down.

—Quite a number of people from this place visited the ruins of the Amundsen building at South Framingham this week.

—Mr. W. G. Huntley now occupies the Perkins house on Lake avenue recently purchased and improved by Mr. Huntley.

—The citizens in the vicinity of Hyde street are anxiously awaiting news of the new Hyde street bridge even if it is only a temporary affair.

—Miss Helen I. Boyd was registered yesterday at the Summit House, Mt. Washington.

—The engagement is announced of Mr. E. O. Achorn of this village to Miss Alice G. Morse, daughter of Mr. Robert M. Morse of Boston.

—Mr. H. M. Biscoe and family of Lake avenue have returned from North Woodstock, N. H., where they have been spending their vacation.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. 112-3. Leave calls at Rhodes' Drug store. Tel. Newton S. 237-3.

—The Newton & Boston Street Railway Co. are connecting their tracks on Elliot street with the Boylston street tracks of the Boston & Worcester Co.

—The Rhodes family of Bowdoin street returned Monday from a trip to Maine. They visited at Popham Beach and other points on the Kennebec river.

—Would it not improve the looks of the square if the portion of fence and sidewalk on Walnut street adjoining the station grounds were removed. They are not needed there now.

—Miss Bertha Converse is accompanying Senator and Mrs. M. E. Converse of Winchendon on an automobile tour through the White Mountains. They were registered at the Summit House last week Thursday.

—The morning trains between 8 and 9 o'clock last Friday were delayed on account of 5 or 6 dump cars leaving the track at the switch east of the Langley road crossing, Newton Centre. Nobody was injured but several of the cars were demolished.

—Mr. Dennis Driscoll, a mason, living on Centre street, this village, was killed by the falling walls of the Amundsen building at South Framingham last Monday which was in process of construction and in which Mr. Driscoll was at work. He was an old resident of Newton Highlands and leaves a wife and several children.

Upper Falls.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Perkins have moved into Prospect block.

—Mr. Joseph Temperley and daughter are in New Jersey on a vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson of Chestnut street sailed for England this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Alec Dresser of High street are at Raymond, Me., for a few weeks.

—Mr. Ryder, the postman, and family of Pettee street are at Provincetown on a vacation.

—Mr. Richard Sullivan of Elliot street has taken a position with a brokerage firm in Boston.

—Rev. Dr. Hildreth will supply Dr. Scott's place at the Wade schoolhouse on next Sunday.

—Mr. William Dyson and family of Pennsylvania avenue are spending a few weeks at Ipswich.

—The engagement is announced of Mr. Hubert Hall of Champa avenue and Miss Dennis of North Beverly.

—Mr. Johnnot and daughter of High street are passing the week at Wells Beach, Me., the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Locke.

—Mrs. Mary A. Dresser of Waban is staying with Mrs. Dr. Hildreth of High street while Mr. and Mrs. Alec Dresser are at Raymond.

—Mr. Ahern of Highlandville had an epileptic fit on the electric car near Prospect block on Thursday. Doctors were promptly at hand and he was soon able to be taken to his home.

—Mr. George Holland of Abbott street died on Tuesday after a long illness. He was 44 years old. Funeral services were held in St. Mary's church. He was buried in the Needham cemetery.

—Mr. Halliday and family of Chilton place went to Crystal Falls, R. I., last week to visit Mrs. Halliday's mother, Mrs. D. R. Goldsmith. Mr. Halliday has returned. Mrs. Halliday and sons will remain for a few weeks.

—Mr. C. H. Bakeman, the news dealer, of Chestnut street is at the hospital in Boston for treatment of his eyes. Some months ago he was there and had a successful operation on one eye, now he goes to have an operation on the other.

Lower Falls.

—Mr. Philip Whitney has moved to New Haven, Conn.

—Mr. James McCourt has been spending a few days in Plymouth.

—Mr. Arthur Buell is spending a week at Centre Harbor, N. H.

—Mrs. Mary B. Coleman is visiting relatives in Worcester this week.

—Mrs. Charles H. Jones is home from a fortnight's stay at East Northfield.

—Mrs. C. H. Jones of Glen road is entertaining Miss Ruth Weatherbee.

—Mr. Clifton Jennings left Friday for his bungalow at Bank Village, N. H.

—Mrs. Edward Whitney has returned from a week's stay at Popham Beach.

—Mrs. W. B. Saunders and family are visiting in Nova Scotia for a few weeks.

—Mrs. Thomas L. Cole has been visiting friends at Hyannisport for a week.

—Miss Mary Exley is spending a few weeks' vacation with her parents on Glen road.

—Mr. W. D. Reed has been entertaining for several days Mr. John Whalen of New York.

—Mr. Thomas C. Cole has been entertaining for a few days Mr. Laurence Watts of Lexington.

—The family of Mr. John Andrews of Oxbow road left Friday for Dark Harbor, where they will spend several weeks.

—Miss Eleanor Wells is home from an enjoyable vacation spent at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Curtis at Blue Hill, Me.

—Mr. James F. Cain has gone to Scituate, where he will spend the next two months near the country estate of Thomas W. Lawson at Dreamworld.

—As delegates from the local auxiliary of the A. O. H., Mrs. F. Purcell, Miss Rose Leon, Miss Katherine Purcell and Miss Annie Leon have been spending a week at Saratoga, N. Y. They had a most enjoyable trip.

Waban.

—Concrete walks will be laid on Windsor road next week.

—Mr. E. T. Kellaway moves into his new house on Wyman street next week.

—Mr. F. H. Wood of Pine Ridge road is entertaining his mother this summer.

—Mr. Howard W. Lamkin is spending the rest of his vacation at Bayville, Me.

—Mr. Theodore Wood returned to New Bedford Sunday after a week's stay with his family on Pine Ridge road.

—Mr. John Preston True of Windsor road is spending two weeks in Bethel, Me.

—Mrs. Harry Walker and daughter returned last week from a short stay at the shore.

—Mr. Ralph Horn of Philadelphia is the guest this week of Miss Bertha Cook of Beacon street.

—Miss Irine Davidson of Plainfield street has been confined to the house for several days by illness.

—Mr. Clinton M. Hill of Windsor road sailed Thursday for a vacation in England and on the continent.

—Miss Kathrine Kimball of Woodward street returned last week from a two weeks' trip to Nova Scotia.

—Miss Barbara Farrington of Crofton Road celebrated her seventh birthday on Friday by giving a party to several little friends.

—Mr. Amasa C. Gould of Beacon street spent over Sunday at his family's summer home at Murray Hill, East Boothbay, Me.

—Mr. J. C. Buffum and daughter, Elizabeth have returned from a short visit at the Angier's summer residence at Marion, Mass.

—Mills undertaking rooms, 817-819 Washington street, Newtonville. Tel. 112-3. Leave calls with H. S. Hiltz, Eliot station. Tel. Newton S. 212-40.

—Concrete walks are being laid on Beacon street to beyond Nehalem road.

—Mr. W. H. Gould has given a foot of land adjoining his estate to widen the sidewalk.

—At last reports, the Elizabeth Palmer on which Miss Jessie Gould of Beacon street is sailing, had not reached her destination, Newport News, being delayed by light wind and fog.

Nonantum.

—Mr. William Lowry has been spending several days at Northfield.

—Miss Grace Hudson of Bridge street is spending the summer in England.

—Mrs. James Galway of Galway street returned this week from Narragansett Pier.

—Mr. William O'Brien has gone to Rockport harbor for the remainder of the summer.

—Mr. Thorwald Johnson is home from a fortnight's vacation spent in Portland, Me.

—Mr. Frank Halfrey of Faxon street returned this week from a vacation spent at various resorts.

—The interior of the clubhouse of the Nonantum Boys' Club has been brightened by a new coat of paint.

—The young people of the Bible study class of the North church discontinued its meetings Sunday until September.

—Alterations are being made to a number of the buildings of the Nonantum Worsted Company on Chapel street.

—Miss Martha Audsley and Olive Forknall have returned from a few weeks spent with friends in Harpswell, Me.

—Patrolman Purcell was called to the house of Patrick Brennan, Saturday, to shoot a fox terrier dog belonging to Mr. Brennan, which had become diseased.

—The old wooden Mahoney block at the corner of Watertown and Chapel streets has been moved to make room for the new brick block which will be built there at once. The new structure will be one of the handsomest buildings in that vicinity.

—While attempting to alight from an electric car near her home on Watertown street Saturday evening, Miss Annie Manning slipped and fell. She sustained several minor cuts and bruises. She was able to proceed home unattended. Her injuries will not be serious.

—A master stroke of success has been scored by Burdett College of Business and Shorthand, 18 Boylston St., Boston, during the past year, and more than ever the name "Burdett" stands for the open door of opportunity for ambitious young men and women. Parents feel secure in choosing this school as the best one for their sons and daughters to attend, because President Burdett has solved the problem of giving high grade instruction at the reasonable cost of $37.50 per term.

PEARMAN & BROOKS

Members of the Boston and New York Stock Exchanges

Stock and Bond Brokers.

Orders by Mail Promptly Executed
Correspondence Solicited

STOCK EXCHANGE BUILDING
SUMNER B. PEARMAN

Good Bonds and Mortgages on hand for immediate delivery

53 STATE ST., BOSTON
L. LORING BROOKS

Goods Delivered Free of Charge at Residences in Newton

PRAY'S

Carpetings, Rugs, Draperies, Furniture

Combined with the largest stock of

Carpets, Rugs and Draperies

in New England, we are showing a new and comprehensive stock of

FURNITURE

You are assured harmony in furnishing, definite idea of total expense and lowest prices.

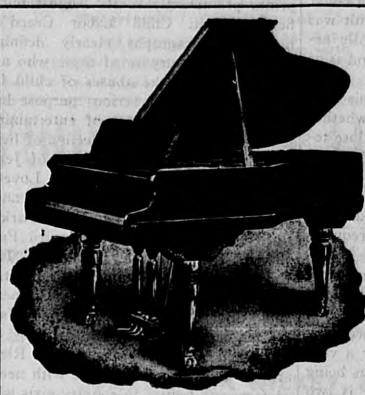

Everything for Interior Decoration Can Be Selected Under Our Roof.

In the Centre of BOSTON'S Shopping District.

JOHN H. PRAY & SONS CO., WASHINGTON ST., Opp. Boylston St.

One Block from Hotel Touraine.

Represented in Newton by Mr. E. E. STILES.

Established in 1849

EMERSON

SHORT GRAND

is as small as is consistent with perfect tone production

TO

is not sacrificed to

SIZE

Over 86,000 Sold!

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO CALL AND EXAMINE THIS INSTRUMENT AT OUR

Warerooms, 38 Huntington Avenue

BOSTON

Geo. L. Schirmer & Co., Agts.

BURGLARS

Are Busy
INSURE AGAINST LOSS AND DAMAGE
$7.50 for $1000

Rowe & Porter
12 Central Street,
BOSTON,
Tel. Main 1321-2

WARD'S

WRITING PAPER
AND ENVELOPES
BLANK BOOKS
LEATHER GOODS

SAMUEL WARD CO.
57-63 Franklin St., BOSTON

KRANICH & BACH PIANOS took gold medal at Mechanics' Fair in Boston in 1897 '98 and '99 on their unequalled upright and grand. Finest tone and best to wear. Also the first class H. W. Berry and fine Keller & Sons. Special bargains on slightly used Kranich & Bachs. Also second hand pianos at low prices. Also the finest Small Miniature Kranich & Bach Grand. Terms easy and prices reasonable. H. W. BERRY, No. 648 Washington street, Boston.

Telephone Connection

Henry F. Cate,

Successor to STEPHEN F. CATE.

Undertaker.

— ALSO —

Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable

Washington and Chestnut Streets,
West Newton.

are showing a handsome line of articles suitable for Wedding Gifts, not only in copper, brass, bronze, and silver, but also in unusual assortment of hand-made drawn work linen, which is not to be duplicated in this country.

355-357 Boylston St. Boston,
Tel. 2481-4 Back Bay

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PROBATE COURT.

MIDDLESEX, ss.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Louise Barnes late of Newton in said County, deceased, I do hereby certify that a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to William M. Noble of Newton in said County, or to some other suitable person.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the fourth day of September A. D. 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper published in Newton the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing post paid a copy of this citation to the heirs-at-law and next of kin of said deceased seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. McINTYRE, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twenty-fourth day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and six.

F. M. ESTY, Asst. Register.

KITCHEN AND HAND SOAP.

The Best. Cleans and Polishes Copper Brass Tin. Unequalled. Cleans and Restores all kinds of Paint.

For removing Tar, Pitch, Varnish, Axle Grease, Paint, Blacking and all impurities from the hands it is unequalled, leaving the skin soft, white and smooth. BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. FOR SALE BY ALL GROCERS. Chas. F. Bates & Co., Boston, Prop'rs.